LOCAL SOLDIERS LEAVE FOR HOME

Co. K Broke Camp at Noon and Will Arrive Here Late Today.

AN EVENTFUL OUTING

Captain Peterson Speaks Commendably of His Charges' Work—Many Visitors at Sea Girt Yesterday—Camp Inspected By Mayor Stewart

(From Staff Correspondent.)

Sea Girt, Aug. 1.—Brown and happy, and in splendid health after a week in the open, the members of Company K, Second regiment, left here early this afternoon for Plainfield, where they will arrive in ample time for dinner. It was not without a feeling of regret that most of the officers and men broke camp, for although they have had a strenuous week, they have enjoyed it in spite of hard marches, downpours of rain, and an occasional hot sun.

Captain Charles A. Peterson is delighted with the way in which his men have gone through the week. When seen by a Daily Press reporter he said that even on the practise hike and maneuvre, which kept them out of camp for nearly forty-eight hours, they had been remarkably fortunate. "I don't think we have two men in the entire company, and there are nearly fifty of us here, who have sore feet, and the only injury received during the seven days was to one man who dislocated his shoulder and had it immediately thrown back into place, continuing his work without a minutes leave."

Company K has occupied what is known as the "right of the line" in the entire regiment, during the week. That makes them the first company behind the band during all marching maneuvres. This is because of the fact that Captain Peterson is the senior captain in the battalion, which is commanded by the senior major in the regiment, William B. Martin, who at one time was in command of Company K.

Yesterday afternoon the Plainfielders who were here for Governor Fielder's reception visited the boys, and were pleasantly received by the officers and men. Mayor Percy H. Stewart was met by Captain Peterson, and taken into the tents, being shown the way in which the citizen soldiers live, and he expressed a lively interest in the work being done.

In addition to the visitors here yesterday who were mentioned in the Daily Press of last night the spectators included John F. Zerega, Archibald Cox and James McCann.

COMMISSIONER BEALS WILL TALK TO CHILDREN

The meeting of the Netherwood Fresh Air Home, tomorrow afternoon, will be of special interest to the young men and boys, not only of the Home, but of the city. The speaker will be Allen E. Beals, Scout Commissioner of the American Boy Scouts of this city. He is very much interested in all work for boys and has had a great and varied experience with the problem of the boy, and no doubt his talk to the children at the Home will be along these lines. The special music will be given by the children's choir, under the direction of Mrs. William Hadley, and this has been one of the special features which the Plainfield people so much enjoy.

The meetings on Tuesday and Friday evenings will be under the dirtction of Mrs. Robert Love, on Tuesday, and the Epworth League of the First Methodist church, will be in charge Friday evening. On Sunday next the speaker will be H. W. Hermann, of this city. It has been very encouraging to the committee in charge to note the frequent visits to the Home of many strangers, and to these and all who may be interested the committee and Miss Curry extends a very cordial invitation to attend the meetings and inspect the Home.

FORD COMPANY WILL MAKE REBATE TO RETAIL BUYERS

Providing that 300,000 or more Ford automobiles are disposed of between today and August 1, 1915, the Detroit concern proposed to return a rebate of from $40 to $60 to each of the retail purchasers in addition to the cut in price announced at this period of the year.

An output of 300,000 Ford cars at this period of the year is not an abnormal one as evidenced by the fact that during the past twelve months 221,888 cars have been sold by the firm and at considerable higher prices.

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE ENJOY BAND CONCERT

Weekly Entertainment in West End Proves a Strong Attraction.

Fully two thousand people attended the second of the series of band concerts by the Dutch Arms Band of this city under the auspices of the West End Civic Association, last night, at Monroe avenue and West Fifth street. The interesting program was enjoyed. The band, which was under the direction of E. D. Young, the leader, consisted of thirty-five pieces and rendered classic and popular music.

The feature of the evening was the rendering of "In the Shadow of the Pines." One half of the band sang this song and it was accompanied by the other half on the instruments. The crowd was an enthusiastic one and several encores were given during the evening. These concerts, which have just been inaugurated by the West End Civic Association, have proved very successful and there will be another one next Friday night. The following numbers were rendered last night.

March, Waldmer; Reverie, Wayside Chapel; I'm on My Way to Mandalay, In the Shadow of the Pines, with male chorus; march, Washington Post; Mazurka, The Lily; march, Billboard; C'est si leger l'Amour; march, Royal Ensign; serenade, Midnight Moonbeams, This is the Life, Colonel Miner's March, Columbia the Gem of the Ocean.

SUFFRAGISTS INAUGURATE STREET MEETINGS TONIGHT

The Equal Suffrage League, of Plainfield and North Plainfield is planning a series of street meetings to be held Saturday evenings in August. Speaking will begin at 8 o'clock from an automobile stationed at Park avenue and Second street. Well-known speakers have been engaged. The speaker tonight will be Mrs. Helen Hay Greeley, who has addressed large outdoor meetings in New York city and in many of the cities of New Jersey.

Mrs. Greeley is a graduate of Vassar. She is a charming young woman with convincing arguments at her command and is especially well fitted to answer questions, owing to her thorough knowledge of the suffrage situation. Together with the State of New York on the one hand and Pennsylvania on the other, New Jersey will be called upon to decide the question of "votes for women" in 1915. Voters should be interested in this question which will come up for their decision in about a year hence.

PLAINFIELDERS FOUND DESTITUTE AT ERIE, PA.

The Misses Helen and Ernestine Herold Victims of Wunderlust.

The Misses Helen and Ernestine Herold, who claim this city as their home, and that they conducted a boardinghouse on Watchung avenue up to about three weeks ago, were picked up by the police of Erie, Pa., on the streets of that city, yesterday afternoon, without means and destitute. They informed Police Chief William F. Delzel, that they were granddaughters of Mrs. Samuel Ayers, of 22 Harmony street, the borough, and he immediately informed Chief Marshal Weiss, of North Plainfield, of the facts, and requested him to look into the matter.

It was learned, this morning, by a representative of the Daily Press, that the grandfather of the two young women on the paternal side lives on East Front street, but because of internal family trouble would not take steps to bring the young women back to this city. Just what will be done by Mrs. Ayers could not be learned and the young women are being held at Erie pending action by local relatives.

MARSHAL ARRESTS FORMER MARSHAL

Smith and Smalley Appear In Counter Roles Before Recorder Campbell.

I. V. Smalley, Dunellen street commissioner and special marshal, who divides the remainder of his time between his trucking business in Dunellen, was hailed before Recorder David S. Campbell in the court at that place, last night, to answer to charges of operating nine express wagons under three licenses. The complaint was made against him by Clifford Smith, proprietor of Smith's Auto Express Company, another Dunellen transportation concern.

The case last night grew out of one pressed against Smith last Wednesday morning, when the special marshal hailed him to court to answer to a charge of running two auto trucks with one license. When ordered to pay $2.25 for a second license after the hearing, Smith, with fire in his eye, exclaimed: "I do not mind taking out a license for every truck in my possession if my competitors are obliged to do likewise." This resulted in Smith's appearance last night, against Smalley and the former was represented by V. W. Nash, Jr., of this city. After warning Smalley against using more than three licensed wagons the court dismissed the charge, last night.

BOROUGH FAMILY IN MANASQUAN FIRE

Among the many families living in the bungalows that were burned to the ground along the beach at Manasquan, Thursday night, was that of Dyckman W. Winckler, of 69 Grandview avenue. The flames, which are thought to have been of incendiary origin, were discovered in the middle of the night during a howling so'easter and nine families were turned out into the open.

The Wincklers were in the midst of the burned colony and escaped without injury, although they suffered considerably from exposure. Blankets and other equipment from the State National Guard camp at Sea Girt were turned over to the homeless families. Many of the victims escaped burning by leaving from the second story windows, but few injuries were reported owing to the low construction of the bungalows.

DISMANTLING PLANT.

Buildings owned by the Spicer Manufacturing Company on West Fourth street are being razed in connection with the concern's proposed removal to South Plainfield. The power house, which is of the portable variety, has been taken down and several large pieces of machinery have been removed. It is expected that the entire plant will be transferred by September 1.

ALLEGED DESERTER GIVES HIMSELF UP

Walter Ulmer Walks Into Police Headquarters and Is Locked In a Cell.

Walter Ulmer, formerly of this city, was taken to Elizabeth this morning, by Sergeant Maurice Higgins to face an indictment charging him with wife desertion. He was arraigned in the local police court on a similar charge several months ago and at that time was placed on parole to furnish a stipulated sum each week for the maintenance of a wife and three children.

Shortly after being let go by the court he fled to Pennsylvania, where he has been a fugitive from justice since the Union county indictment was found against him on this charge. His failure to get work in that State led him to return to Plainfield last night, and finding that he was wanted by the local authorities concluded it best to give himself up. He walked into the police station last night and was remanded to a cell until this morning. He is represented by Robert Newton Crane.

The Ulmer family has become a public charge since the disappearance of the father and the wife is dying from tuberculosis. Ulmer was formerly employed as a painter in this city.

LOCAL YOUTHS IN SCRAP FOR PADDLE

Plainfield Youths Engage In Fistic Encounter With Hungarian Youths.

An international miniature warfare on the banks of the historic Passaic was staged late yesterday afternoon, when a group of Plainfield and New York youths were making preparations to break camp after a week with Jupiter Pluvius and his sprinklers. Alleged to have stolen a paddle from one David Berse, of this city, a member of the Hungarian encampment by the name of Jake Mantel took the opportunity offered to display his pugilistic prowess and proceeded to convince the Plainfielders that anything found in his possession was his personal property.

The fracas was carried to the center of the town of Summit and the encounter resolved itself into a free-for-all warfare with the Plainfield and New York fighters on one side and the Hungarian warriors on the other.

Missles began flying in all directions and the campers hailing from the Queen City and Metropolis finally got possession of the coveted paddle. After the prize had been successfully landed the factions split and it is said that the Hungarian crew had warrants sworn out for the opposing aggregation. Those from this city in the camp were "Murphy" Berse, David Berse, Ralph Berse, John Everly and Harry Ball.

King George, Kaiser Wilhelm and Czar in Communication This Morning--United States is Well Prepared for Struggle, as Crops Are Big and No Foreign Panics Can Affect This Country--Fighting Between Servia and Austria Continues.

London, Aug. 1.—(Central News Cable)—A little hope of a settlement was reviewed early this morning when a special edition of the "Times" announced that King George, Kaiser Wilhelm and the Czar had exchanged messages following which the German ambassador, at St. Petersburg, was said to have shown a more modified attitude. There is an impression in St. Petersburg that Germany is ready to persuade Austria to resume conversations in a final attempt to bring about a peaceful solution. The Times correspondent at St. Petersburg says however that Russia is determined to continue her military measures in order to prevent possible misunderstandings.

It was officially announced today that King George this morning, forwarded a special message to Czar Nicholas of Russia but its text could not be learned.

So grave is the situation considered by the British Cabinet ministers that they were in frequent communication throughout the night. Premier Asquith was summoned by King George to Buckingham Palace at two o'clock this morning, but beyond the knowledge that the summons was of great urgency in connection with the situation, nothing leaked out. A Cabinet meeting was called for 11 a. m. today.

The British admiralty in answer to inquiries said, that it had no knowledge of the reported detention of the Steamship Empress, of Asia, at Hong Kong.

The British and German fleets are manoeuvering not far apart off the Norwegian coast, according to a despatch from Copenhagen to the Daily Telegraph. The despatch says that the Danish Government newspaper, "Politiken," today says that the British torpedo boat destroyer fleet is patrolling the coast of Norway as far as Kap Stat. Eight more British destroyers are anchored in the North sea outside of Bergen.

King George received in private audience last night, Field Marshal Lord Kitchener.

The Times publishes a despatch from Paris saying that the German authorities seized the locomotive of a train of the Eastern Railway Company, of France, at Amanbillers, on the frontier, and forced the crew to walk back.

New York, Aug. 1.—The World situation is one of panic; a state of uneasing terror but whether the sound and fury of military and naval preparations abroad is the mere prelude to an unimaginable general European conflict or not, and it still seems improbable there is no occasion for panic or unreasonable terror in this country. While the mobs in European capitals are shouting war, the course of events will be shaped by the anxious deliberations of probably not more than half a dozen men upon whom the sense of their tremendous responsibility to the world become more apparent every day, before a fateful decision is reached and the great Powers become involved. Although the preparations for a possible general conflict already made entail an enormous cost, this expense is a mere speck compared to the awful loss in blood and money that would result fro a general war in Europe. At no time in the history of this country have we disclosed a stronger position in a period of threatened world-wide calamity. Our indicated crop of wheat alone is 170,000,000 bushels, larger than in any previous year in our history. Our financial resources are great and it was only a sense of precaution that carried the vote in the conference to close the New York Stock Exchange.

New York, Aug. 1.—Contrary to reports, officials of the Hamburg American Steamship line, state that they were enabled late Friday to get in communication, by wireless, with the commander of their steamer, President Grant, when she was miles off the Ambrose channel lightship, and have received a reply from him that he will immediately reverse his course to the westward and return to New York. He is expected to reach here this afternoon.

The North German Llyod Steamship Company's agents here announced today that a cable from the home office in Bremen, received this morning directed that four steamers on their way to European ports or in British territory be recalled to United States ports. They are the Willhad, now at Montreal, ordered to proceed to Boston and remain there; the Neckar, which sailed from Galveston on July 29, for Bremen, ordered to put in at Baltimore or New York; the Friederick Der Grosse, which sailed from Baltimore, for Bremen on July 29, ordered to return to Baltimore or New York; the Grosse Kurfurst which sailed from New York for Bremen on July 30, ordered to return to New York Wireless messages to the four steamers were sent from the New York office this morning.

Paris, Aug. 1—The German ambassador was present at a conference of French Government officials, this morning. He will have another meeting with the officials this afternoon.

The French Cabinet deliberated until early today discussing the crisis. President Poincare signed three decrees, the first extending until August 31 the terms for the payment of obligations becoming due within that time. The second prohibiting the export of grain and other products of the soil, and the third abolishing duties on the importation of farinaceous products.

M. Pichon publishes an article in the "Petit Journal," this morning, in which he states that Germany's recent declarations and especially those of yesterday, leave no doubt of the latter country's attitude regarding the situation and it was perfectly evident that the Kaiser wants war.

Berlin, Aug. 1.—The North German Gazette, the official organ of the government says, that after the Russian emperor had given the order for mobolization of the entire Russian army and fleet, Emperor William sent a final telegram to Emperor Nicholas in which he made it clear that his responsibility for the security of the German Empire compelled him to adopt defensive measures. The German emperor continued that he had gone to the utmost limits in his efforts to preserve the world's peace and that the peace of Europe could still be maintained if Russia would cease to threaten Germany and Austria Hungary.

The naval commanders at the Berlin station have ordered the complete closure of Kiel harbor by day as well as by night.

Official orders were today given to all shipowners to communicate with their ships now on the high seas instructing them to call the nearest port where orders will be given them how and where to proceed. No ships are permitted to leave Hamburg.

London, Aug. 1 (Central News)—The financial district was less deserted than usual today on a bank holiday, although offices were not open formally. Brokers welcomed the holiday respite. There were few

Mr. Voorhees, who had gotten the affair up and arranged for a social hour after the match, having induced a number of the young women of the town to provide refreshments, was very much put out. Mr. Voorhees said that they could have easily procured a bowler to fill in if they had wanted to come.

POSTPONE VISIT.

Mrs. George Lee, of Grove street, has been obliged to indefinitely postpone the two months' visit that she had planned at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Doerr, of Brooklyn, on account of Mrs Doerr's husband, who is a New York policeman, having been injured as a result of stopping a runaway horse on Wednesday night in front of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. Doerr was standing at his post on Firty-eighth street and Broadway, when a runaway horse attached to a milk wagon came dashing down Broadway. He tried to stop the horse, but was brushed aside, narrowly escaping being run down by a motor car. He hired a taxi and set out in pursuit. The runaway swerved into Thirty-fourth street and the small amount of traffic enabled Doerr to catch up in the taxicab. He had just leaped from the running board when the horses's foot slipped and it fell into a large excavation. Doerr was pinned underneath the horse and was taken to Bellevue Hospital suffering with internal injuries and a fractured arm.

TROLLEY SERVICE HELD UP.

The westbound trolley tracks of the Public Service Railway was blocked for about half an hour in the borough, this morning, by one of I. V. Smalley's trucks. While backing out of the driveway of George Zink's bakery with a load of ice cream tubs one of the wheels of the wagon came off letting it down with the front end in the gutter and the rear across the tracks.

TENDERED SURPRISE PARTY.

Mrs. Albert N. Randolph, of Washington avenue, was tendered a surprise party last evening. The members of the party made such noise in coming up on the porch that Mrs. Randolph, fearing that they were inebriants, would not open the door until their identity had been revealed by the turning on of the porch light. The evening was spent in playing games after which refreshments which had been brought by the party were served. The party was gotten up by Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Runyon.

Joseph Medio, who boards at the Mansion House on Washington avenue, was arrested by Marshal Patrick Tarpey at 10 o'clock on Wednesday night for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk opposite the railroad park. In addition to the main offense he was charged with having no light. When arraigned before Recorder David S. Campbell, in the borough hall, last evening, he was fined $2, which was paid.

MASTER BUILDERS' ASS'N ENTERTAINED

Banquet Given at Reform Hall Following Quarterly Session.

The forty-fourth quarterly conference of the State Master Builders' Association closed late Thursday afternoon, at Reform Hall, after much routine business had been transacted. After the disposition of the business, B. S. Nash, an illustrator on one of the New York papers, addressed the gathering, outlining the methods used in illustrating the daily publication in a way that should prove educational as well as interesting to the average reader. Among the local men attending the conference and the banquet given to the visiting delegates at the conclusion of the session were Councilmen C. C. Graves and John H. Cose, Building Inspector T. O. Doane and Plumbing Inspector William Addis, who is connected with the work of the Board of Health.

The banquet tendered the out-of-town delegates to the conference was held in the rooms of Reform Hall, and was in charge of the Woman's Relief Auxiliary Corps, of the G. A. R. During the evening the delegates visited the picture show at Proctor's theatre on West Front street.

ALL GERMAN LINERS ORDERED HELD IN N. Y.

Sailing Dates of Big Ships Are Canceled.

New York, Aug. 1.—On orders from the German government big liners in the transatlantic service were held at their ports and others were recalled by wireless. They will not attempt to cross until released by the kaiser's government. About 4,500 passengers who planned to sail from New York within the next few days were affected by these orders. The steamship lines chiefly hit are the North German Lloyd and the Hamburg-American.

The Vaterland, largest of the ocean liners, which was to leave New York today, had her sailing orders canceled. At the same time it was announced that the German government was holding the Imperator, second largest liner, at Hamburg and that her sailing for New York today had been canceled. The Hamburg-American liner Amerika, due to sail from Boston today, was also held in port.

So strict were the orders received by cable from the German government that the Hamburg-American line was obliged to recall the President Grant, which had slipped out of New York before the war situation in Europe became so menacing. The President Grant sailed Thursday for Cherbourg. She was reached by wireless, and the recall orders given. The liner will be back in this port.

The North German Lloyd line announced the cancellation of all sailing orders from both sides of the Atlantic. The orders will affect the Prinzess Irene, due to sail for Gibraltar today, and the Kronprinz Wilhelm, which was to sail next Tuesday.

The Kronprinzessin Cecilie of the North German Lloyd line got away from New York four days ago with $10,000,000 in gold for German bankers. In view of the fact that President Grant had been hurriedly recalled here by wireless the line officials were asked if efforts would be made to recall the Kronprinzessen Cecilie. It was said that the liner was now nearly at her destination and would reach port before any serious developments in the war situation were expected, so that no efforts would be made to recall her here.

KAISER IS FORCED TO MOBILIZE HIS ARMY; DESPERATE BATTLE ON German Squadron Stops All Vessels.

BLOW UP BIG BRIDGE

Drastic Act of Czar's Troops Startles Europe.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED.

Steamship Communication Between St. Petersburg and England Stopped—Russian Spy Arrested.

Copenhagen, Aug. 1.—A German squadron cruising off Langeland in the Great belt is stopping all vessels to investigate their nationality and the destination of their cargoes. German torpedo boats have been observed near Giedeser and in the Cattegat, and German warships are patrolling between Sweden and Jutland.

A big Russian squadron has been seen outside the Danish island of Bornholm, in the Baltic.

The German torpedo boat destroyers steamed close to the fortress at Middlefrund, a few miles from Copenhagen. The warships retired only after being commanded to do so by the commandant of the fortress, who threatened a recourse to force if they did not leave.

British warships also were seen today in Danish waters.

A German naval fleet was reported off the south of Holland.

London, Aug. 1.—A Central News dispatch from Berlin says the Russian troops blew up the frontier railroad bridge of the Warsaw-Vienna railroad.

Langy, France, Aug. 1.—A supposed attempt to blow up the Chalifert tunnel of the Eastern railroad was made. Three persons in an automobile, with a loaded case seemingly containing explosives, approached the sentinel and paid no attention to his challenge. He fired and they turned and fled.

Allenstein, German, Aug. 1.—A Russian spy was arrested here. He is said to belong to the St. Petersburg military intelligence department.

That Russia, Germany and Austria already are at war is indicated by dispatches.

Russia made a hostile move against Austria by blowing up the frontier bridge on the Warsaw-Vienna railroad.

Private unverified dispatches received in New York by Rauyond, Pynchon & Co., report that Russia is invading Austria.

Germany isolated herself by cutting all wire communication and railroad traffic at her borders, giving color to the belief that she is even now mobilizing and perhaps already has struck at Russia.

Complete mobilization ordered by Holland and Switzerland to preserve neutrality seemed to confirm this belief.

At the expiration of Germany's twenty-four hour ultimatum to Russia the German ambassador had audience with the Russian czar, who later called a war council.

Germany Declares Martial Law.

Martial law was declared throughout Germany.

Diplomatic dispatches from Berlin to Washington stated that Germany regards a general European conflict as certain.

All traffic between New York and Germany ports was canceled by the North German Lloyd and Hamburg-American steamship lines.

The world's financial operations were almost wholly suspended. All the leading stock exchanges of Great Britan and the United States closed.

Bankers called on the British premier to suspend the bank act.

Germany military movements along the French frontier were so threatening that French troops were sent to the outposts.

Austrian and Servian armies continue to give battle in Servia.

Servians assert that they are holding the Austrians in check, although heavy losses are reported on both sides.

Before Germany prepared for mobilization her ambassador at St. Petersburg asked the Russian foreign minister if Russia would stop mobilization provided Austria promised to retain no Servian territory. The Russian statement said "No."

When the German ambassador asked under what conditions Russia would demobilize, the Russian minister replied that such questions could only be asked by Austria, whose acts caused Russia to mobilize.

Stock exchanges throughout Great Britain were the first to close. The New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Columbus and New Orleans cotton exchanges followed suit swiftly.

William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, announced that the United States government would issue $50,000,000 in currency if necessary.

Nish, Aug. 1.—A statement issued by the war office today said that the Austrians failed in an effort to force the pass which commands the approach to the Morava valley.

Fighting of the most desperate nature continued, with heavy casualties on both sides, the statment said.

The Servian war office declared two Austrian divisions had also failed to force the Kovatsch defile after an all day fight on the banks of the Drina river.

The desperate fighting going on near the pass to the Morava valley to the south of Belgrade is likely to culminate in the first big and decisive battle of the war at Kragouvevatz.

London, Aug. 1.—A thrilling battle, during which an Austrian aeroplane fitted with a searchlight flew over the Servian position and made it possible for the Austrian machine guns to inflict terrible slaughter, was reported in a Reuter dispatch from Semlin.

The Servians moved out under cover of darkness in an attempt to complete the destruction of the railroad bridge over the Save river. The Austrian aeroplane was then sent aloft and, after sweeping the Servian shore with the searchlight, located the enemy's forces. They withdrew in face of the machine gun fire.

Berlin, Aug. 1.—The kaiser issued a decree declaring a state of war. The following statement was issued:

"In conformity with paragraph 68 of the constitution of the German empire, Bavaria being excluded, the kaiser has issued a decree declaring a state of war. A similar decree for Bavaria will be issued."

The kaiser's announcement was taken by some as a declaration of war. This was an error, as it was simply a declaration of martial law.

The declaration of a state of war, however, practically places all Germany under military control and is regarded as a preliminary step to a declaration of war against Russia.

Orders to practically all ships in the German reserve navy, including liners capable of conversion into war vessels, directing them to remain in port was issued.

Heavy purchasing for the German army sent the price of food staples soaring to 75 per cent. The exportation of foodstuffs has been prohibited.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 1.—An apparently authentic report in circulation here says that an order has been issued for a general mobilization of all Russian troops in the districts west of the Urals. All officers and reservists of the entire Russian navy have been ordered to the colors.

Paris, Aug. 1.—The minister of marine formally took over the French transatlantic liner La Provence "for the service of the state." The vessel, one of the French reserve naval fleet, will be armed at once.

London, Aug. 1.—A censored dispatch from Vienna says:

"Hope of localizing the war has been given up in all quarters."

Much significance is attached to the fact that the censor passed this message.

England Waiting.

London, Aug. 1.—Official England is in momentary expectation of a formal declaration of war by Germany against Russia. Semiofficial information received here states that Germany has been officially declared "in a state of war."

The latest move places all railroads, telegraph lines, channels of communication and transportation directly under the army.

The German war department has now superseded all civil authority throughout the empire, and, while no formal announcement of the fact has yet been made to the powers, it is generally believed here that the German mobilization is already secretly under way.

Admission was made at the foreign office that the czar has ordered a general mobilization of all the armies of European Russia. Commanders of all Russian ports on the Black sea and the Baltic have been ordered to seize all coal and oil fuel supplies and to furnish no foreign merchantmen with more than enough fuel to reach the nearest foreign port.

Asquith's Grave Anouncement.

Premier Asquith, after a lengthy conference with the king at Buckingham palace, proceeded to the house of commons and in an extremely grave tone of voice informed parliament that it was with regret that he had no good news to impart. The premier stated that the mobilization of all European Russia had been followed by the decree of martial law throughout the German empire.

King George canceled all engagements and remained at Buckingham palace awaiting the outcome of the war crisis.

Faint Glimmer of Hope.

Some belief that a general war would be averted was raised when it was officially announced that conversations had been resumed between the Russian and Austro-Hungarian governments.

These conversations are being carried on in St. Petersburg and Vienna simultaneously, and the fact aroused another flicker of hope in London that the opportunity for mutual explanation may form a starting point toward an improvement in the situation.

Cable communication between Berlin and London has been seriously interfered with and all incoming dispatches bear evidence of the most rigid censorship.

Austria has four invading armies, numbering all about 500,000 men. Two of these armies have already been engaged in fierce fighting with the Servians. Both sides have won victories, but the Servians have everywhere fallen back, evidently with the intention of concentrating their forces.

The main Austrian advance has followed the valley of the river Morava. Servians were encountered in strength at Semendria, on the Servian side of the Danube, and a fierce conflict waged there for two days, developing at times into a terrible artillery duel.

The Austrians finally advanced, but were driven back. The Servians held their ground until nightfall and then retired. Both sides are reported to have suffered heavily.

Austrian Women Eager.

Vienna, Aug. 1.—The tension in Vienna was greater than at any time since the start of the international crisis, although nothing definite has occurred to change the situation for the worse. The Neue Frie Presse insists that Russia must cease to procrastinate and say distinctly and unreservedly what she intends to do.

Popular enthusiasm in connection with the war against Servia showed no sign of abatement. An appeal for Red Cross nurses met with an immediate response from 1,000 women and girls belonging to all classes of society, who called at the hospitals and registered their names. Archduchess Maria Theresa applied to Emperor Francis Joseph for permission to be enrolled as a Red Cross nurse. Vienna was overflowing with people who had deserted the summer resorts and were hastening to their homes.

The report received here that Belgrade has been captured naturally caused great excitement and rejoicing. The cafes, restaurants and other resorts soon became deserted. The citizens marched through the streets in great numbers, singing the national airs and cheering Emperor Francis Joseph.

THE PSYCHOLOGICAL BUSINESS DEPRESSION.

Psychology, or mental attitude, makes the world and our lives either joyous or sad, according to the psychology that is within us, or to put this thought in the words of a common expression, "It is all in the head." At present we business men are laboring along through a period of what is called "hard times" and we are informed by highest authority that this depression in the business world is only psychological.

This information comes to us very much as would the information that if we fell in the water we would get wet—we all know it—we all are so sure of it, and it is so deeply impressed in our minds that to be told such a simple truth seems unnecessary and a waste of time—we all realize that fear is "psychological"—we all realize that lack of confidence is "psychological"—we all realize that where these two psychological conditions meet together in the mind of a business man that that man is in no condition to do business, and we all realize that when no business activity exists hard times do exist—these things we all know without any information, but what we want to know and what we want information on is WHY?—and HOW?—why this condition exists and how to remedy it.

It seems pretty clear to some of us that the underlying and fundamental cause is the pernicious activity of politicians—and before we go further we will state that the word politician as here used will mean one who knows only the business of getting votes, the business of soft and pleasing words, the business of officeholding, and the business of accumulating from books and hearsay, a fine talking, a knowledge of real business and everything else to get him into the office—in trying to run, through legislation and regulation, that which is entirely dependent on supply and demand—on individual effort and endeavor—on mechanical skill and development—on corporate enterprise and power—and more and greater than all, on the confidence of the American people in their power to succeed with honor and integrity. By so doing these politicians have so robbed the people for the time being of that confidence and faith in themselves and in their ability to do business honestly and successfully, that they have simply quit all activity.

It is quite a blow to be told that you are dishonest. It is quite a blow after years of successful and honest business to be told you are going to be regulated and supervised and your money will go here or there, as is thought wise by the politicians. It is quite a blow to be put indiscriminately in a class with and convicted together with a comparative few business pirates who have been run down and whose sentence you are invited to share. This would seem to answer the psychological—WHY?

The—HOW?—it seems can be best answered by asking ourselves what would happen to us given that we were suffering with an acute case of appendicitis, coupled with a weak heart, and in our helpless condition we were taken to a butcher as being the only person who haad a knife with which to operate, and then ask ourselves what the difference in our feelinggs and chances would be were we on our way to a surgeon in whom we had every confidence and whose record for saving such cases was 100%. Our answer, of course, would be that we would have no confidence in the butcher, except in his ability to cut indiscriminately and that we would probably die, while with our confidence and the surgeon's skill we would recover and be better than ever; we would say give us a butcher when we need a butcher and a doctor when we need a doctor—which, of course, would be the right answer to that question and it also answers the—HOW?. Give us business men where we need business men and not some other.

August 23—Last day for filing Congressional petitions.

August 28—Last day for filing county petitions.

September 8—First registry day. Also last day for filing petitions to fill vacancies in all offices except Governor and Congress.

September 29—State convention of each party at Trenton and date on which county committees meet and organize.

October 20—Last registry day for municipalities over 5,000.

November 3—Election Day.

Referring to the shrievalty contest in Union county. The Passaic Valley News in its current issue, says: A few years ago Dr. Lawrence, of Summit filled the office. Then Mr. Kirkland of Elizabeth was elected to it. After him came Wright, of Rahway. It would now seem to be the turn of Plainfield to provide a candidate. John H. Cose, of that city, an able business man and a lifelong Republican, loyal and progressive, is a candidate, and is receiving many signatures to his petition. He would seem to be the logical candidate, so far as locality is concerned, while as for strength at the polls, he is fully the peer of any man in the county. We cordially commend Mr. Cose's candidicy to the favorabl econsideration of our constituency."

William T. Stuchell, Republican candidate for the Congressional nomination; Sheriff W. H. Wright, candidate for the county clerkship, and George C. Otto, of Elizabeth, who seeks the shrievalty nomination, will be the principal speakers at a meeting of the East Linden Republican Club to be held August 7 at 8 o'clock in Venna Hall, Linden. This will be the first meeting held by the club since its reorganization.

The Mayoralty situation in Plainfield does not seem to be clearing. Mayor Stewart's candidacy for State Senator promises to leave the Democrats in a predicament, while ex-Mayor Moy's candidacy for the same office on the Progressive ticket removes him as an aspirant for Mayor.

Sheriff William H. Wright, who is a candidate for the primary nomination for county clerk, and Rev. William T. Stuchell, who seeks the nomination for Congress on the Republican ticket, were in Plainfield last night calling on friends in the interest of their campaigns. Mr. Stuchell will come to Plainfield, August 7, when he will arrange for a public meeting to be held soon, although his opponents are not willing to concede his nomination or election, they admit that he is conducting a lively campaign.

Hebrew voters throughout Union county have taken steps to have the date for primary day changed this year for the reason that it falls on the Jewish holiday when members of that faith are not allowed to sign their names. They claim that it would prove a hardship to them for they would not be permitted by their faith to engage in the primary. Petitions are to be circulated asking for a change of the date, but whether this can be done is not known at present. It is said that primary day has been changed twice in New York State because it happened to fall on the Jewish holiday.

RUNAWAY PONY CAUSES EXCITEMENT AT WATCHUNG

The Misses Grace Titus and Edna Bartells and Arthur Nash and Harry Rogers, of Watchung, while driving down the mountain road from Rev. Dr. C. A. Eaton's farm, yesterday afternoon, had a narrow escape from serious injury. They were riding in a pony cart and the Shetland pony being driven by one of the quartet became frightened and ran away.

In an attempt to stop the pony in its wild run, the animal was run into a high bank alongside the road with the result that the cart upset, the young people being thrown out and the pony landed on his back. Neighbors attracted by the excitement assisted the young people and straightened out the tangled mixup The occupants of the car escaped with a few bruises and scratches.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS

Fifty-seven gallons of flies were caught in twenty-four days by the St. Louis Board of Health in twenty-four traps set at street corners, and the campaign is continuing, with much gratification expressed on the part of the officials and the public. Yet in the fifty-seven gallons there were less than 6,000,000 flies, according to the best estimate that could be made by the health officer. But even considering the other millions left uncaptured, it was worth while, for all kinds of disease carriers were found in the traps, including the small green fly that carries infantile paralysis after feeding on the bodies of "limberneck" chickens. Doubtless a few "fly fountains" would not be considered ornamental if established in Centre Market, but still they would look real nice to the patrons of that cozy mart of trade.—Newark Evening News.

NATIONS MARKING TIME

outward signs of a crisis. The run for gold on the Bank of England continued today. There was a long line outside of the issuing department of the bank.

It is officially announced that the conference consisting of the premier, the chancellor of the exchequer and representatives of the Bank of England and other great banks decided that the situation did not at the present time justify any emergency action to increase the supply of legal tender. If future events necessitate it the treasury will take immediate action.

A representative of a large international bank here, today, said that he doubted the wisdom of deferring the suspension of the bank act and the issuance of soverign notes. Bankers and the Government are waiting until Tuesday morning, hoping that the war cloud will clear.

The National Penny Bank, limited, today suspended payment. The institution was unable to realize on securities. The bank is a small one and was established in 1875.

Nish, Servia, Aug. 1 (Central News).—An official report issued by the War Office states that the Austrian forces yesterday continued to bombard Belgrade and made repeated but ineffectual attempts to cross the Danube. The report adds that fierce fighting has taken place at Foca and Selitza, between the Fourth Servian Division and two Austrian divisions. After making a desperate resistance the Servian forces retired, leaving behind a number of dead and the Austrians advanced into Servian territory. The Franco-Servian Bank has opened a branch at Nish and is giving gold for notes at the rate of 30 per cent. of the face value of notes. Food is at famine prices. The Servians destroyed all railway bridges at Belgrade.

Washington, Aug. 1.—The White House today heard that the German Ambassador had left St. Petersburg. The war situation from news received here today is regarded by the administration as entirely grave.

Representative Underwood went to see the President at 12:30 today to discuss possible legislation for the protection of American shipping. Mr. Underwood has been making a study of the situation since yesterday and it is anticipated that the most liberal measures will be adopted by Congress, providing for the registration of foreign ships in order that American commerce will not be hampered.

Amsterdam, Aug. 1 (By Central News).—It was reported here from authentic sources that Germany is proceeding to mobilize her army to the fullest extent and the utmost activity prevails in official quarters. Owing to the fear of capture no German ships will be permitted to leave Rottedam, several of them which were to leave with a heavy list of passengers having to discharge their loads and prepare to lay in the harbor for an indefinite time.

London, Aug. 1.—A despatch from Tokio to the Times quotes the Japanese foreign Minister, Takaaki Kato, as saying: "If hostilities unfortunately are open between Great Britain and the other powers, we are ready to do what devolves upon us in virtue of our alliance."

New York, Aug. 1.—A cable from Broomhall this morning said that the London and Liverpool grain markets would be open on Monday, a bank holiday, but that trading in future would not be permitted. Gold to the amount of $600,000 was engaged at the Sub-Treasury this morning for shipment to London. $1,450,000 was engaged for shipment to Canada.

Philadelphia, Aug. 1.—Another $10,000,000 gold, all in new coin, has been shipped from the Philadelphia mint to the New York Sub-Treasury, making $20,000,000 sent there in 48 hours. The shipments were made by Parcel Post.

New York, Aug. 1.—A despatch from Cape Town says, the German consul with his entire staff left today for England on board the German Steamship Saxony. The officers of the Consular General has been closed.

Melbourne, Australia, Aug. 1.—The leave of all officers and men attached to the war ships of the Australian squadrian was stopped today and the government authorities made preparations for defence. The annual practise cruise has been suspended.

New York, Aug. 1.—The Cunard Liner Saxonia, due to sail at noon today for Mediterranean ports and Austria Hungaria was held in port here pending orders from the home office in Liverpool.

Berlin, Aug. 1.—The Imperial Bank, of Germany, today advanced its rate of discount, 1 per cent. to 6 per cent.

Amsterdam, Aug. 1.—The Bank of Netherlands today advanced its minimum rate of discount from 4 1-2 to 6 per cent.

London, Aug. 1.—The Bank of England rate today advanced its minimum rate of discount 2 per cent. to 10 per cent.

EXPECT MC REYNOLDS TO BE PLACED ON SUPREME BENCH

Washington, Aug. 1.—The nomination of Attorney-General M. C. Reynolds to the vacancy on the United States Supreme Court bench, was forecast today when a Cabinet member obtained a poll of the Senate on the possibilities of his confirmation. T. W. Gregory, Assistant Attorney-General, in charge of the New Haven prosecutions, is said to be slated to succeed McReynolds.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

At the morning service of the Netherwood Reformed church, Mrs. Ralston will tell about the Mountaineers of Kentucky. Mrs. Ralston was a member of the Women's Board and as Field Secretary for the Kentucky work is well acquainted with the life of the Mountaineers. The evening service will be another of the delightful out-of-door hours. It will be held on the church lawn while the orchestra will lead the singing. Mr. Ralston will have charge, and will speak on the subject "Caught Among the Thorns." Everybody is invited to both services.

EXPECT RATE DECISION TODAY.

Washington, Aug. 1.—The rate decision by the I. C. C. in the case of the eastern railroads will be issued at 3 o'clock this afternoon, or as soon thereafter as possible.

TEMPERATURE REPORT.

The temperature report from The State Trust Company today is as follows: 9 a. m., 72 degrees; 11 a. m., 80 degrees; 12:30 p. m., 84 degrees.

VISIONS IN THE EYES.

Why It Does Not Appear Absolutely Dark When You Wink.

When a person winks his eyes he momentarily covers the entire eyeballs and everything therefore should turn absolutely black and be in total darkness for the instant. As a matter of fact, he certainly is in total darkness, but he is unconscious of same.

The reason he is unconscious is that the eye is incapable of removing a certain view from itself until an eighth of a second has elapsed. So the view seen just before the ball goes into eclipse continues to be seen for an eighth of a second. But as the eye is not covered by the lid as long as this, a new view arrives to supplement the old view before the old one has vanished. Thus the darkness is not noticed, although there is no doubt that it exists.

This same peculiarity of the eye enables moving pictures to have their being. It also is the reason why a lighted torch whirled rapidly around shows a path instead of a sequence of torches. Also why a rapidly rotating wheel does not show its spokes. If a snapshot be taken of such a wheel it does show the spokes, however, and proves the above fact of persistence. Or if the wheel be viewed by a lightning flash it shows them.—New York World.

He Escaped.

He was standing at the counter of a gun store waiting for a clerk when an acquaintance came in. He was one of those communicative acquaintances who catch the victims by the buttonhole and talk and talk and say things over and over. Presently the clerk came up.

"Do you keep the Maxim silencer?" asked the waiting man.

"Yes, sir."

"Is it any good—will it stop the noise?"

"It will."

"Have you one for a large bore?"

"We have them for all sizes."

"Will they work on a repeater?"

"They'll work on anything."

"Then put one on Bill here and charge it to me."

And in the moment of mystified silence that followed the rude man made his escape.—Indianapolis News.

Tongue Charms.

The tongues of animals have been and still are in some parts of the world favorite amulets. A tongue cut from a living fox is said to ward off disease of all kinds, but as the person carrying one will surely die if he happens to meet a fox at any crossroads the charm is seldom used. The tongue of the vulture plucked out with iron and hung about a man's neck in a new cloth will bring him what he desires, and some East Indians believe that if they do not bite off the tip of the tongue of any wild animal they kill they will not have good luck in hunting.—London Tit-Bits.

Thoroughly Equipped.

Small Girl—Please, Mrs. Jones, mother wants to know if she can borrow a dozen eggs. She wants to put them under a hen. Mrs. Jones—So you have got a hen, have you, my dear? I didn't know your mother kept hens. Small Girl—No, she doesn't; but Mrs. Smith is going to lend us a hen that is going to set, and mother thought if you'd lend us the eggs we could find the nest ourselves.—Pearson's Weekly.

Not Her Fault.

"It is the duty of every man and woman to be married at the age of twenty-two," said the lecturer.

"Well," said a woman of thirty, with some asperity, "you needn't tell me that. Talk to the men."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Liberty.

Liberty is the right to do what the law allows, and if a citizen could do what the law forbids it would be no longer liberty because others would have the same power.—Montesquieu.

—You find the "short road" to employment when you tell what you can do—interestingly, frankly—in a want ad.

PLAINFIELD TEAM AFTER ANOTHER

Local Coppers Will Go to New Brunswick Monday and Meet Their Brothers There.

Nothing but a victory will satisfy the local cops when they meet the New Brunswick policemen at that place next Monday afternoon. The trip will be made by automobile and the Plainfielders are going after their opponents just like they did the last time and make this score worse than in the first game. The Brunswick men are also confident and there is bound to be some disappointment in one of these places Monday night.

The cops' victory over the doctors, Thursday, was well earned and the winners had to play some ball in order to win. The Middlesex bluecoats have not played a game since they were so unmercifully trounced by the locals in seven innings and they are trying to get back in trim in a few days. It can't be done, because the local ball tossers are "vets" at the game now, and should have an easy time with their opponents. The regular team will be used with Fritts on the mound. The home team will have the same players that appeared here with the exception of the shortstop and possibly a new pitcher.

PLAINFIELD A. A. WILL PLAY THE MEADOWBROOKS

The Plainfield A. A. baseball team will journey to Newark, tomorrow, and play the Meadowbrook A. C. nine of that place, on the Newark league grounds. The Newark aggregation has a fine reputation all over that city and has defeated some of the fastest amateur teams of that vicinity. The locals lost a hard game at Newark last Sunday after playing ten innings and are going into this game to win. The regular lineup will be used with Maiden on the mound and Moulton behind the bat.

BASEBALL NOTES

The Montreal Royals have been playing a much better brand of ball since Dan Howley took charge of the team.

Lee Magee, of the Cardinals, is having the best season in stick work he has had since coming into the National League.

If the Pirates had gone on strike and taken with them their brother Feds, how happy the Pittsburg fans would be today.

Fred Clauss, a brother of Bert Clauss, the southpaw pitcher with Detroit last season, has been added to the New Haven club's roster.

Fred Trautman, a pitcher on the Appleton team of the Wisconsin-Illinois League, has pitched 46 consecutive innings of shut-out baseball.

First Baseman Hoblitzel's bunting and base running have been a big factor in the sensational climb of the Boston Red Sox up the pennant ladder.

Jake Boutes, one time Boston Brave, is playing a star game at third base and also with the war club, for the Bridgeport team of the Eastern association.

Clemson college boasts of a pitcher who can twirl equally well with either hand. Wonder "how well" this ambidextrous fellow can pitch with either hand.

Monte Cross, who is now officiating as an umpire in the Federal League is laid up in a Philadelphia hospital as a result of stopping a batted ball with his ankle.

A peculiar thing about the Cleveland Naps is their ability to dig up fellows who can hit. But no matter how strong these fellows are with the willow the Naps never get anywhere.

In blanking the Pirates three times straight the Braves have established a season's record. So far this season no other major league team has shut out the same opponents three times in a row.

St. Joseph, Denver, Sioux City and Lincoln are staging a great race for the Western League pennant. The four teams have been jammed together so closely at times that a postage stamp would cover the whole bunch.

Larry Chappell has notified the White Sox management that it will be immpossible for him to play this season. Chappell has been laid up since last March with a severe attack of blood poisoning.

Nearly all arrangements have been completed for the all-star baseball tour to the Pacific coast this fall. The tour will start from Cincinnati on Oct. 18. The team will go by way of Omaha, Denver and Salt Lake City, reaching San Francisco Nov. 1.

WITH THE BOXERS

Joe Rivers says he is anxious to meet the winner of the Leach Cross-Johnny Tillman bout. Joe only recently passed up a chance to meet Cross.

Charley White, the Chicago lightweight who has made $25,000 in the ring, figures he will add several thousand more to his pile before he retires from the game.

Willie Ritchie, former champion lightweight, has returned from England with the tidy sum of $29,500 in his kick, this being his share of the returns from the bout with Freddie Welsh.

ROD AND REEL

Greenwood Lake is a fine place for bass and pickerel but very few fishermen that visit that place know where to go and therefore do not get good results. The best place to go for bass is at West Arm, or Birch Cove, and the best time to fish is early in the morning or late in the afternoon when it is cool. Live frogs are proving the best bait for bass and a piece of pork rind will make the pickerel bite. One man that lives there has had fine results and the fish are exceptionally large.

Two fishermen went to Plum Island for eels and made a catch of the slippery variety that tipped the scales at twenty pounds. Some of them weighed more than two pounds apiece.

Channel bass are reported as being the best biters at Corson's Inlet now. Large catches of these are being made daily.

A boatload of anglers went out from Sheepshead Bay yesterday and made large catches of bluefish and fluke. The fluke weighed from one to three pounds apiece. On their way to the fluke grounds, a school of blues was sighted off the gas tank, at Rockaway, and the squids were gotten out. The blues weighed from four to seven pounds apiece.

Despite the bad weather of the last few days, record catches of weakfish have been made at Morgan Station. One man caught ninety-four which is considered the season's highest mark.

Black bass and perch are plentiful in Weequahic Park Lake at the present time and many fishermen are taking them out of the water in large numbers. The fish are good scale tippers also.

The Long Branch fishing pier is very popular and is always crowded with weakfish hunters. These fish are biting well as are the fluke.

Anglers who would like to have one or two days' good weakfishing on Barnegat Bay should go to Waretown, which is below Forked River and directly opposite the Barnegat Inlet, where they are catching the big weakfish, also bluefish. A good place to stop is the Bay View Hotel, situated right on the bay, where boats and guides can be hired.

MRS. S. F. WEAVER LOSES IN WOODMERE TOURNEY

Mrs. S. F. Weaver, formerly of Central avenue, and holder of the national indoor doubles title with Miss Clare Cassell, of Montclair, was defeated in the third round of the women's single tournament at the annual meet of the Woodmere Club, of Long Island. She was defeated yesterday by Miss Erna Marcus, of the Woodmere Tennis Club, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-4. The first set, the former local player was off her game and her opponent had no trouble in taking the set.

The second, however, was different and it was only after hard work that she was overcome, six games to four. Mrs. Weaver's defeat was a big surprise to all the spectators, as she was the favorite before the match. Mrs. Weaver drew a bye in the first round and did not have to play. In the second round she won her match by default.

CUBS RALLY IN NINTH AND BEAT IRONSIDES

In the hardest contested game of the Parker Field Senior League so far this season, the Ironsides went down to defeat before the Cubs yesterday afternoon by the score of 3 to 1. The game was close throughout and the Ironsides were leading up to the eighth inning when the Cubs tied the score by hitting Lawton safely.

The Ironsides scored in the fifth inning by bunching hits off Brown but he was effective after that.

In the frame with the score tied the Cubs rallied and rapped two runs across the plate, winning the game. The score by innings:

JERSEY STREAMS WILL BE STOCKED

State Board Will Place 250,000 Brook and Rainbow Trout In All State Streams.

Trenton, Aug. 1—Within the next few weeks the State Board of Fish and Game Commissioners will stock the streams of the State with 250,000 brook trout and rainbow trout. These trout are now in pools at the State hatchery in North Jersey, where they have been raised to an average size of from six to fifteen inches.

Because of the fact that the fish are so large the distribution will extend over a period of three months, as it is impossible to place many of the fish in a single can and on this account the delivery to the points of stocking will, if necessary, take some time. The deliveries will be made in the State's auto truck.

President Napier, of the Commission, today received word from United States Fish Commissioner H. M. Smith that the Federal bureau is continuing its efforts to increase the supply of lobsters along the New Jersey coast.

A few days ago 10 male lobsters and the same number of females were forwarded from the Federal station at Boothbay Harbor, Me., and have just been planted in the vicinity of the big jetties at Cape May. The Federal bureau will continue making annual shipments of lobsters for deposit off Cape May until some tangible results are obtained.

MARTIN HAD BIG DAY AT THE BAT

Local Boy Gets Three Safeties In Game Against the Cubs Yesterday.

Although Jack Martin was off his game in the double header with the Chicago Cubs last Thursday and made four errors without a safe hit, he did the "come-back" stunt yesterday and helped his teammates wallop the Cubs by a score of eight to one. Jack had a busy day and he accepted all the chances that came his way and threw out several of the club runners at first. In the box score he was credited with two runs, three hits, four putouts and three assists. A goose-egg was placed in the error column beside his name. He was also credited with one stolen base and figured in a double play.

In the third round Martin made his first single and scored when Becker lifted one over the fence for a trip. With one on base in the next inning Jack's single helped materially in scoring another run. Martin received much applause for the way in which he handled a hard ball hit by Goode in the ninth and although the runner arrived safe at first Jack's play held him there. Seven chances in one game is a pretty good day's work, especially for a shortstop, and the local boy picked easy and hard ones up alike.

FLEMINGTON FAIR OPENS NEXT WEEK

Two Local Horses Entered In the Races That Will Be Attraction Next Week.

The annual Flemington fair will open at that place next Tuesday and continue until Saturday, one week from today. The races will start then and the entries show that they will be the best that have been held. Several local men will enter horses in the races and there are entries listed from Somerville and Westfield.

There will be a 2:28 trot for amateur drivers Saturday, which will be open only to residents of Hunterdon and adjoining counties. The purse will be $200. The other races for the closing day will be 2:30 trot under saddle, quick-hitch race, trot and pace, mule race, trot and pace, bull race, five-eighths mile, three-quarter mile and half-mile running races. The indications are that there will be a large number of runners, which classes do not close until the afternoon before the races. A number of horses from Newark and vicinity are entered in the various classes.

Thomas Brantingham and R. L. Guttridge, of this city, have entered their horses and F. D. Irving, of Westfield also has a horse in the 2:16 pace event. Jacob Klotz, of Somerville, has one entry in the 2:30 trot and one in the 2:24 trot. Brantingham's entry is in the 2:13 pace event and Guttridge has entered his animal in the 2:30 trot.

SAURER TEAM WILL PLAY SEWAREN TEAM TOMORROW

The Saurer baseball team will play its first Sunday game tomorrow afternoon at Woodland Park when it will meet the strong Sewaren A. C. nine. The local team will have practically the same lineup as has been playing with the Sunday team all season but Martin will cover the second sack. Dixon will do the pitching and Conshay, the Saurers regular slabsmen who will pitch today, will play right field tomorrow. Wilson will appear in left field. Mullin, Grimes, Jeager, Alberts and Garretson will appear in their regular positions.

The Sewaren aggregation is considered to be a very fast team and will give the locals a good run for the game. The game will start at 3:30.

EDDIE WON THIS RACE.

E. Stranahan won the barrel race at the Wayside Park athletic meet last Thursday, and not J. Stranahan, as was published in this paper last night.

News of Interest in Building World

NETHERWOOD FLOCK PLAN FINE EDIFICE

Bids For New Building Are Now Being Received By Committee.

Plans for the proposed new edifice for the Netherwood Reformed church are now out and bids are being received. It is expected that the new house of worship will be completed by the time winter sets in, that the increased work of this progressive East End church may go forward smoothly during the entire season.

The Netherwood Reformed church was organized about five years ago, at which time the present portable building was erected at the present location. While the body started with a small congregation, the numbers increased with the influx of the population throughout this section of the city. Rev. Royal A. Stout, at that time a student at the New Brunswick Theological Seminary, acted as supply for some time, and was afterward called as pastor at the time of his graduation. Rev. Stout left his local charge the first of September, when he went to Philadelphia to accept a call to the Green Hill Presbyterian church.

Rev. C. W. F. Attlee, of this city, occupied the pulpit for several months as stated supply, the present pastor succeeding him the first of June. Rev. Ralston came to this city from New York State, where he served for several years. The congregation has continuously grown from its first inception, both the Sunday-school and the church showing the results of hard work on the part of the members during the course of the past five years.

The contracts for the work on the new building will be awarded as soon as the bids are all in, in order that the work on the actual construction may be started as soon as possible. The designs call for a modern building, and for the many improvements that many of the churches of today feel to be necessities. The present portable building will be sold, the receipts to be applied to the fund for the new building.

The accompanying cuts show the present church, the interior of the edifice and the parsonage, which are located on Leland avenue.

New York Telephone Co. to Ask for Ordinance So That It Can Give That Section Best Possible Service.

Preparations for building operations on a large scale are now well under way at South Plainfield, and before another month passes, it is expected that the building boom will be on in full force. There are at present ten dwellings in the course of construction on the south side of the Lehigh tracks, while three houses are going up on the north side of the railroad. William Hamilton has plans and specifications for six additional structures on the north side in the hands of local contractors for estimates and bids. Work on these dwellings will be started in the near future.

In speaking of the situation at the village, Mr. Hamilton said to a representative of the Daily Press, "If holders of real estate in South Plainfield had received advanced information to the effect that the Spicer Manufacturing Company was about to shift practically the entire force to this place, we would have sufficient time to prepare for the conditions which naturally have followed. The town today is in a situation that few towns of the State are in, namely, a greater demand than houses. From present indications, there should be from 150 to 200 dwellings erected in South Plainfield within the course of the next six months to meet the demands which are sure to be made when the additions to the Spicer plant are completed.

"When the conditions at the shop get into running order, fully 500 men will be employed, a fair portion of whom will want to occupy homes near at hand to their work. It is expected that the Lehigh will increase the size of their freight yard at this point in the near future, making the village a central freight transfer point, handling goods for Perth Amboy, Newark, and New York. The railroad force here at the present time are about half in number to the regular force, due to the hard times, but when industrial conditions improve, another influx of population will undoubtedly follow."

With the building outlook at South Plainfield exceptionaly good as it is, the Building Editor has been able to confirm the report that the Willowcraft Company, manufacturers of willow furniture, at present located at 202 East Sixty-Fifth street, New York, has purchased a tract of land on the South side of the Lehigh tracks, across the road from the Spicer plant. It is planned by this concern to erect a three story hollow tile structure which will have a frontage of 120 feet along the railroad, and a width of thirty-four feet. The land was purchased from the Merchants and Traders Realty Company, who have a tract on the south side of the railroad, a fair portion of which has been cut into building lots, and several new streets recently put through. W. H. Cium, of this city, is the architect of the proposed building and has secured several bids on the work of construction which have been submitted to the company for approval. It is expected that work on this building will be started within the course of a few weeks.

Another realty transfer which adds considerably to the interest in the development of South Plainfield, is the sale of what is known as the old David Blackford tract, along the Lehigh Railroad. It is reported by those in a position to know, that this parcel of property has been sold to a recently formed concern who are to engage in the manufacture of an improved patented type of universal joints as used in the construction of automobiles. An effort has been made by the Building Editor to secure a statement from those interested in the new concern, but they could not see their way clear to make any public statement of their plans to build at present.

In anticipation of a realty and building boom in Piscataway Township, of which South Plainfield is a part, the New York Telephone Company has filed an application with the Township Committee for a local ordinance. Under the present system, the company is often delayed in its plans when extending their service to various parts of the township; especially when applications for telephone service made to the company between meetings of the Committee. An ordinance granted the telephone concern at this time would greatly aid it in keeping South Plainfield abreast of the times in having this modern convenience placed at the disposal of its citizens, and under conditions which would permit the installation of 'phones within a reasonable time, which is an impossibility at present. This condition is due to the fact that the company must make application to the Township Committee for a permit to cover the erection of additional poles whenever the service is being extended through new territory or through a street heretofore uncovered by telephone service. It is expected that the Committee will act favorably upon this matter at its next meeting.

CONDITIONS THROUGH COUNTY ARE FIRM

Ten Contracts Awarded Calling For Expenditure of $53,918.

Building operations throughout the county are holding firm, and the conditions are somewhat brighter than what was anticipated at the outset of the season. While no part of the county is enjoying what might be termed a "boom," the building trades are enjoying sufficient activity to keep them above what the general money market would seem to justify. During the week ending last Saturday, ten building contracts were filed with the county clerk at Elizabeth, call for the expenditure in the neighborhood of $53,918, the amount including $27,350 for the new edifice of the Roselle Methodist church.

One of the most encouraging features of the county movement was the permit issued last week to the Singer Manufacturing Company of the down-town section of Elizabeth which calls for extensions to the plants of the sewing machine concern, the cost of which will be in the the county clerk at Elizabeth, calling vicinity of $8,000. The foundry of this plant is to be changed from a onestory to a threestory building with an aggregate cost of $5,000. The remaining $3,000 is to go for the erection of a sub-power house. With this concern adding to its floor space, it would appear to indicate that the industrial world is looking for better times in the immediate future.

Building contracts filed with the county clerk from this end of the county are as follows:

Maud A. Huntsman with Wm. H. Pangborn's Son, mason work new building, Plainfield, $3,048.

Mary De Giovanne with Alfred Johnson, alterations to building, Richmond street, Plainfield, $2,825.

Leander B. Faber with J. J. Masterson, painting work new buildings, Westfield, $1,100.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS UNDERWAY AT HEADQUARTERS

Fire headquarters on East Second street are undergoing extensive repairs at present with a new cement floor throughout the entire building, being the feature of the improvements. The floor will have a foundation of hollow tile. The contract was awarded to Captain W. C. Smith. While the alterations are going on, the engines are located under a temporary covering in the yard of the house. The doorways of the building were recently remodeled for the purpose of accommodating the large type of engine recently purchased from the Nott Company.

BUILDING ACTIVITIES SHOW LITTLE CHANGE

Only Four Permits Issued By Inspector Doane This Week.

Building activities in this city received little encouragement this week from the office of Inspector T. O. Doane, but four permits having been granted only one of which calls for any large expenditure of money. One dwelling, two garages, and one tank for the storage of volatile liquids are covered by the permits.

In speaking of the local building situation with a Daily Press representative, yesterday, Inspector Doane stated that several plans for buildings of goodly proportions had been submitted to him, but he was not in a position to make any of the details public at present. Several local contractors are kept busy making estimates and bids on proposed buildings about the city, and still retain their optimistic mood. The local situation in the building trades lines is eased somewhat by the building operations which are being planned for South Plainfield, and are noted in another column. Taking all things into consideration, the local situation is far from being as discouraging as it might be, or as bad as in other parts of the State. The permits issued during the past week are as noted below.

George W. Cole is to erect a frame dwelling in the First Ward on East Front street near Leland avenue, at a cost of $5,000. The structure will have a frontage of thirty-three feet, and a depth of forty feet, being two and a half stories in heighth. The exterior walls of the first floor will be of eight inch hollow tile, brick foundations, and a shingled roof. A modern hot-water heating system is to be installed. The architecture will be in keeping with the other modern dwellings of that section of the city, which has been steadily growing in population during the past five to eight years. George H. Fisher, Jr. of Manson place, is the architect, while the general contract has been awarded to Joseph Nathanson.

Carlton avenue of the Second Ward, has a corner on the garages for which permits have been issued during the past week. J. B. Groendyke, of 716 Carlton avenue, is to erect a cement hollow block garage in the rear of his residence at a cost of $250. The structure will be 12 by 19 feet. George Meissner has the mason contract, and J. W. Carver, the contract for the carpentry work. J. Eleustes, of 715 Carlton avenue will erect a 12 by 18 foot frame garage on his property at a cost of $200. Charles MacDonald has the contract.

Dr. Frank T. Clawson is to install a tank for the storage of volatile liquid at 672 West Seventh street at a cost of $30.

IN THE SUBURBS

Harry Leake, of South Bound Brook, has broken ground for a new house at Middlesex Borough.

The residence of Gerome S. Dumont, of Penfield place Dunellen, has been sold to Meyer Hecht, of New York city.

Plans are being made by the developers of Equator Park for the erection of several dwellings on this tract in the near future, and many houses will be started before fall sets in.

Samuel M. Titus, the Dunellen contractor, has been awarded the contract for the erection of a dwelling on Dunellen avenue, Equator Park.

Norman Voght has purchased a plot on Culhane place from the Dunellen Home and Investment Company, and will erect a dwelling in the course of the near future.

Two painting contracts have been awarded in Dunellen during the past week, one going to Fred Kirchner for the new Boice dwelling on Culhane place, and the other for the decorating of the house Dr. Thomas H. Platt is having erected on First street, the latter being awarded to Fulton Brothers.

WAR CAUSES FAILURE OF FOUR FIRMS

All Markets Are Ordered Closed.

AFFAIRS AT ACUTE STAGE

Bankers In Paris When Business Is Suspended.

OUTCOME IS CONJECTURAL

Cotton's Worst Day Since 1904; Closing Causes Consternation In Financial Circles.

New York, Aug. 1.—Consternation reigns throughout the financial district and what the outcome of the closing of the Stock Exchange will be is a matter for conjecture. Four big firms have already failed and many more are expected to follow. Despite the disquieting reports bankers continue to remain optimistic and contend that American holdings are sound.

The cotton market is bordering on a panic. Excitement is intense. Never before has such scenes been witnessed during the trading.

An idea of the state of the market during the short trading period is given by the December prices. December opened at 11 cents after closing at 11.45 cents. It jumped to 11.50 and then broke to 9.60 and finally closed at 10.80 cents.

The firms that suspended business are S. H. P. Pell & Co., Homer, Howe & Co., Frederickson & Co., and Flower & Co.

It was pointed out that the exchange considered the Pell failure the biggest crash since Sully went under in 1904. Theodore Price, speaking for the firm, stated that a big amount is involved, and the firm will have nothing to say until an intelligent statement can be issued.

Break Follows Failure.

Announcement of the Pell failure was followed by a sharp break in the market and scenes never before witnessed in the history of the exchange. The firm did an extensive business and had contracts widely scattered.

As a direct result of the European war situation the firm of Flower & Co., stockbrokers, at 49 Broadway, assigned for the benefit of creditors.

This statement was made by one in authority, but who asked that his name be withheld:

"The firm of Flower & Co. has been doing practically no business for the last two years and was trying to go out of business in a quiet, orderly way. The firm was not doing one-tenth of the business it did when Governor Flower was at the head of it and a power in Wall street."

The financial stress occasioned by the war cloud is said to have had the effect of merely hurrying the "retirement."

No definite information as to the assets and liabilities of the concern could be obtained, but a statement issued by Frederick S. Flower, the senior member of the firm, discloses that the company had been liquidating recently with a view to retiring from business and that the difficulties confronting it now are only temporary.

In accordance with a resolution of the board of governors of the exchange a committee of five was appointed to look after the delivery of stocks.

The board of governors felt that it was inadvisable to subject the market here, which despite the flood of selling orders has maintained a relatively strong position, to the inevitable avalanche of selling orders from all over the world.

Clearing House Statement.

The following statement was issued at the clearing house:

"There was a meeting of the clearing house committee this morning in view of the closing of the New York Stock Exchange.

"It was the opinion of the committee that the business and financial condition of New York and the entire country was sound, but that the situation in Europe justified extreme prudence and self control on the part of the United States.

"That the closing of the stock exchange was a wise precaution by reason of the disposition of all of Europe to make it the market for whatever it wished to sell.

"That in this country there was no occasion for any serious interruption of the regular course of business, either financial or mercantile."

"Reviewing the several series of experiments described in detail, and keeping carefully in mind the conditions under which Natural Ice is formed, cut, harvested, stored, delivered and finally consumed, certain conclusions appear to be justified concerning ice as a vehicle of disease, and these conclusions are, on the whole, decidedly reassuring."

ANTI-SUFFRAGE

Conducted by Plainfield Branch New Jersey Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

Washington, D. C., Thursday—Suffragists have a new way today to raise money which may furnish husbands of women who are working for the "cause" a new excuse to get out nights. The latest scheme and reversal excuse for suffrage is "let the 'kitty' pay for the campaign."

Mere man would never have thought of this, of course, and it was not until Mrs. Medill McCormick, chairman of the special campaign committee of the National Suffrage Association, announced that she had received $18, the first contribution toward the proposed $50,000 fund for campaign expenses, that the scheme became known. The sender of the first contribution is anonymous, but admitted in the letter which accompanied the donation that the money came as the suffrage "rake off" from a quiet game of poker played recently. The contribution was accepted.

Perhaps this method of getting money for the campaign may not become popular, but broadminded Suffragists admit that if they are given their share of al the "kitties" in every poker game played in the country, they will not have to rely on "sacrifice day," August 15, to swell their funds. In fact, they believed that the fund would be more than raised if this idea was carried out throughout the country. The letter which accompanied the $18 reads:

"The $18 I contribute is a vicarious sacrifice on the part of several gentlemen whose judgment of 5 cards was faulty. They did not know they were contributing to the cause, and I am simply Fortune's intermediary in passing their donation to you. I shall try to get up another game August 15, and if the goddess of luck hits in I hope to induce them to make further addition to the fund.

"ACE FULL."

—New Yark Evening Telegram.

The above is intensely interesting since one of the sins to be wiped out by female legislation is gambling.

Consistency would, we might suppose, have forced the return of funds from such a source, but the dictates of expediency are much more in evidence in the suffrage campaign, than those of consistency.

The occurrence was reported in several of the daily papers, and up to this date has passed uncontradicted.

It represents, however, a mild inconsistency compared to that of putting young girls—all pretty, well dressed girls—in the lower business section of New York last summer to sell pencils marked, of course, "Votes for Women."

Many of these girls asked the men purchasing the pencils, to give their name to the cause by writing with the new pencil in a little book she carried for the purpose.

Suffragists gain recruits among young girls, by filling their minds with the wickedness of all men towards women and girls, accompanied, of course, by the theory that women's votes are going to legislate away all the sins of mankind, womankind presumably having none—save those into which they are forced by men.

These girls are put in the street to peddle pencils to men, to sell all suffrage issues of the newspapers, and during Mrs. Pankhurst's visit—to sell the indescribably low paper issued by the Pankhurst's, and indorsed in this country by Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont and the other Suffragists who engineered that dreadful old woman's visit.

Girls and boys stood outside of Carnegie Hall during Mrs. Pankhurst's lecture, selling "The Suffragette" and Sylvia Pankhurst's equally vile book, until the authorities dispersed the young people and confiscated the literature.

How much of its contents they may have absorbed—through youthful innocent curiosity—is easily imagined.

This was another money making enterprise, however, this time to swell the funds of Militancy in Great Britain.

Now a new money making scheme comes to light, this time to swell the bank account of a "disinterested reformer" through the exploitation of vice in the lowest forms.

Miss Inez Milholland is to sue the firm which produced these enticing exhibitions of vice for $1,000 for her "services" in endorsing them, and using every effort to force the courts to permit their production, to be witnessed by the youth of both sexes, on the pretense that the only sure method of teaching them to avoid sin, is to permit them to witness it.

It is to be hoped that the suffrage brain will never evolve the idea that to avoid the use of dynamite, young people must witness a few persons blown to atoms by a Blackhander.

In the New York American of Dec. 31, 1913, Rev. Charles A. Eaton, of Watchung, pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist church, New York, says:

"I considering the uncensored moving picture shows which expose the youth of our city to the pernicious and unlicensed portrayal of vice in its worst form as one of the greatest evils of our present day.

"I am surprised to see that Mrs. Belmont, Mrs. Catt, Mrs. Milholland-Boissevan and other women have leagued themselves behind this vile portrayal of life—are its sponsers, as it were. What are these women thinking about? They talk about the lessons that the poor, strange immigrant girl, coming here without knowing the language and the people, can learn in seeing what may happen through white slavery.

"Why do not these women who are striving—so they claim—to uplift and protect innocent, ignorant immigrant girls go down to the Immigration Bureau and to Ellis Island and become personally responsible for these girls as they enter our port? Why don't they become the 'big sister' or the 'big mother' to these girls. Then they would be doing a work that would actually count instead of fostering and building up, through their approbation, one of the worst and most vicious ways of leading girls and boys away from living right."

Now, Dr. Eaton and others to whom this advocacy by the women he names has been heretofore inexplicable, are answered regarding one of the most prominent, most radical and most intellectual of them all.

When Miss Alberta Hill was questioned regarding her father's disapproval of the interview with Charles Murphy, she said: "Poor father, he doesn't understand at all that politics is impersonal."

Another member of the interviewing party, said: "We went to the man who could teach us the most about politics."

Truly, it might appear that Miss Milholland was anxious to prove them both wrong, for surely her methods have not proved impersonal, and when letters to the editors are cited as "professional services" in an effort to demand $1,000, she can give the Tammany chief points in the game of politics, though she may experience some difficulty in collecting her graft.

A man writing in the Evening Sun says: "How can our organized Suffragists expect us to believe that all their promises to clean the 'filthy political pool' are sincere when their preliminary campaigns they attempt to play 'practical politics' in as uncreditable ways, as do our least admired politicians, and when in their thoughtless eagerness and self-confidence, they are thus led to become the unconscious advocates of municipal or Federal corruption?"

Some Cookery Suggestions

NOW FOR FRUIT PUDDINGS.

IF you eat pudding in the summer choose a fruit one, for thus you will combine the agreeable qualities of the pudding with the wholesome ones of the fruit. There are so many fruits now to be obtained that one may enjoy a great variety of these desserts. A few of them are suggested here:

Two Simple Desserts.

Fruit Puddings.—Take one cupful finely chopped suet, one cupful molasses, one cupful sour milk, one teaspoonful soda, one teaspoonful cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful cloves, one-half teaspoonful salt, a cupful raisins, seeded and chopped; three-quarters cupful currants, two and three-quarter cupfuls flour. Add molasses and sour milk to suet; add two cupfuls flour mixed and sifted with soda, salt and spices. Add fruit mixed with remaining flour. Turn into buttered mold, cover and steam four hours.

Orange Pudding.—Slice up about five oranges and cover with sugar. Boil one pint of milk, mix thoroughly one heaping tablespoonful of cornstarch and three tablespoonfuls of sugar; then add the beaten yolks of three eggs. Stir this mixture into the boiling milk until it thickens. Let cool before pouring over the oranges; then stir oranges and custard all together. Frost with whites of the eggs beaten stiff and browned lightly in the oven.

Batter Pudding.

Blueberry Pudding With Sauce.—Take a pint of blueberries, put on the stove and let them boil. Then make the following batter: Beat two eggs to a froth and add gradually one-half cupful of sugar, beat until light colored; then add two tablespoonfuls cold water and a few drops of lemon extract, and lastly mix in lightly three-quarters cupful of flour, one-half teaspoonful salt and three level teaspoonfuls baking powder. Turn into the berries, cover and cook for about three-quarters of an hour. Serve with sauce.

Steamed Apricot Pudding.—Take a heaping cupful of flour and add to it a heaping teaspoonful of baking powder and half a teaspoonful of salt. Sift twice after mixing and then chop two tablespoonfuls of lard into it and make into dough with a cupful of milk. Drain the juice from stewed or canned apricots and save it for sauce. Use the apricot halves as layers for the pudding, buttering the mold first and putting an inch deep layer of dough in the bottom. Alternate the layers of dough with the apricots until all are used; then cover closely and steam for three hours. For the sauce strain and heat the apricot liquor, thicken butter and flour by cooking and stirring into a cream and add this roux to the sirup, cooking the whole one minute. Now add a heaping spoonful of sugar and cook for three minutes longer, when the sauce is ready to serve.

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

An excellent model for the softly colored, sheer blouses that are so much favored this season is shown in number 7715. It has a full length raglan sleeve, inset vest and a Robespierre collar; this collar may be wired high in back or turned down as illustrated. With many of our little bolero coats which cut away so sharply in front, it is necessary that an appropriate blouse to be worn or the effect of our costume is lost. These blouses need not necessarily be elaborate, as a touch of embroidery on collar, cuffs or vest and the fineness of the material itself gives the required note. This design may be made in size 36 with 3¼ yards of 36-inch material. The pattern is cut in six sizes, 32 to 42.

This is a Perfect Pattern.

Be sure to give right size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust for dimensions.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — How the Doggies Found Their Bark.

The Boat Floated Past the Hill.

"TELL us a different story tonight, daddy," begged Jack.

"How different?" asked daddy as the children settled in his lap for the evening story.

"Oh, one that will be real funny!" replied Jack.

"I might tell you how the doggies got their bark," said daddy.

"Oh, didn't they always have a bark?" cried the children.

Daddy held up a warning finger. "Remember, this is to be what you wanted, a funny story. Well, to begin with, dogs used to whistle, something like mockingbirds, and they were very playful.

"One day two men began chasing them, and they began to run.

"While the men were chasing them very hard and the dogs were playfully dodging them great drops of rain began to fall.

"And then sheets of rain came down, and the lightning flashed, and the thunder roared, and there was an awful time. Then the two men began running toward a great big boatlike thing that looked very queer because boats do look queer on dry land.

"The men kept running toward this boat, and now the dogs chased after them instead of the men chasing the dogs. But the men were running swiftly as though they were frightened, and when they arrived at the boat they opened the door, ran in and slammed the great door closed, right in the noses of the poor scared doggies.

"They shivered and whined and whistled, but there was really no use of their doing that. Then the rain came down in such torrents that the pup dogs ran up on a high hill to keep from being drowned.

"Then wonder of wonders! The big boat began floating and floated right past the tall hill where the poor doggies were whimpering, and they jumped off the top of the hill right onto the top of the boat, which was roofed over like a house.

"And there the poor little things remained for forty days and forty long dark nights, and all this time they didn't have anything to eat only what a dove brought them from the inside of the great boat.

"But after awhile the rain stopped, and the big boat settled upon the tiptop of a high mountain, and then the poor little doggies crawled off the roof down where all the other animals were. They didn't run away now when the two men who had chased them picked them up and fed them with warm milk.

"Then the poor little things tried to whistle their thanks. They tried and tried, but they could only say"—

"'Bowwow, bowwow!'" shouted Jack and Evelyn, laughing merrily at daddy's story.

A HEAVY BURDEN.

A Bad Back Makes Life Miserable For Many Plainfield People.

A bad back is a heavy burden.

A burden at night when bedtime comes,

Just as bothersome in the morning.

Ever try Doan's Kidney Pills for it?

Know they are for kidney backache—and for other kidney ills?

If you don't, some Plainfield people do.

Read a case of it:

Mrs. Anthony Wahl, R. F. D. No. 1, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I had such distressing pains in my back that I could hardly stand and it was out of the question for me to stoop. I was all crippled up and I knew perfectly well that my kidneys were the cause of the trouble. A neighbor recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to me and on her suggestion, I used them. They gave me almost immediate relief and three boxes changed me from a chronic sufferer to a healthy woman. I still take Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally, when a cold settles on my kidneys and they act as a preventive of any serious trouble. You may publish this account of my experience for the benefit of other kidney sufferers."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Wahl had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

...CLERK'S ...FFICE IMPORTANT

...Legal Documents Are Supervised and Filed Each Day.

No one would think of a properly organized institution being without a secretary to record its proceedings, keep its minutes and look after other details of the organization's business. Although it is not generally considered as such, that is the function of the county clerk and for that reason the office is one of the most important in the county. In his office all the court records and minutes are filed and kept, in addition to all building contracts, tax releases, naturalization papers, etc.

That these records should be correct is patent for there is no telling when some resident of the county will be greatly affected either in person or property by any error in them. This is particularly true in case any legal action, either civil or criminal is brought against him, or if he should desire to transfer his property and was unable to give a clear title because of a mistake in the records.

As the business of the county has increased, County Clerk James C. Calvert has installed simplified systems of indexing the great mass of records that they are easily accessible and the particular record desired may be found in the shortest possible time without unnecessary labor. The force of clerks is always at the command of those having business in the office, to give any assistance required.

Mr. Calvert is a candidate on the Republican ticket to succeed himself. His record in the office is one of the greatest assets in his canvass. There is no man in the county, it is said, who has a better grasp on its affairs and his familiarity with them peculiarly equips him to discharge the duties of the difficult position with ease to the satisfaction and security of the residents.

MISS SCHREIBWEIS TO WED DR. WM. G. BROWNE

The ceremony will be performed in the Congregational church, Greenwich, Conn., on Saturday, November 7, to be followed with a reception at Edgewood Inn, which will be attended by about fifty guests including close friends of the couple.

After an extended trip the couple will return to Los Angeles in February, where they will make their future home. Dr. Browne, is a practicing physician in Los Angeles. Miss Schreibweis is a trained nurse, being a graduate of the training school at Muhlenberg Hospital, this city. She has many friends in Plainfield. At present she is stopping at Gould Hall, East Northfield, Mass.

...ENTS

...ching Contest ...eatures—Bountiful ...list of Those Present.

The annual reunion of the Kirch and Haring families held Saturday, at the home of Fred Kirch, on Clinton avenue, the borough, attracted a large gathering of both old and young folks from nearby and distant points and altogether the affair was an enjoyable one. There were many attractions and the guests were kept busy throughout the afternoon and evening with the various amusements proivded. Refreshments comprising ice cream, cake and sandwiches were served. One of the features of the affair was dancing.

Among the things that interested the men were a baseball game and quoit pitching contest, both of which caused much merriment. The baseball game was a "comedy of errors" for the reason that some of the players had never indulged in this sport before.

Charles Haring, who, it is said, can pitch hay, better than baseball, decided to play the center of the diamond position. He pitched nearly thirty balls before he could locate the plate and then retired in favor of George Haring, who had little better success. The contest was marked by many friendly disputes and no one yet has learned what the final score was. It will probably always be a matter of dispute.

The arrangements for the reunion were made by Mrs. Charles A. Haring and she was assisted by several other members of the two families in making the reunion the great success that it was. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Haring and daughter, Mabel, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kirch, William H. Kirch, and son, Earl Kirch, Peter J. Kirch, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Stryker, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Koechlein and son, Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Voorhees, Mr. and Mrs. George Haring and family, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Barre, Mrs. Carrie Koechlein and daughter, Carolyn, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Joyce and family, Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Meyers, the Misses Viola, Bertha and Annie Kirch, William Messner and Mr. Borman, all of this city; Mrs. William Schalk, the Misses Bertha, Minnie and Kate Haring, of St. Louis, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haring and family and Miss Lucy Herlich, of Newark; Mrs. William Koechlein, of Bound Brook, and daughter, Mrs. Crouse, of Somerville; Mr. and Mrs. William Haring and family, of Woodcliffe; Mrs. Frances Haring and Mrs. Albert Haring and children, of Somerville; Augustus Kielblock and sister Bertha, of Meyersville.

WILLIAM R. CODINGTON DECLINES TO RUN

Announces That He Will Not Seek Mayoralty Nomination.

Former City Judge William R. Codington, of Sandford avenue, who was being urged to seek the Mayoralty nomination on the Republican ticket this fall, on Saturday announced that he would not engage in the primary contest, having reached that decision after careful consideration. Mr. Codington is spending the summer in Maine and returned home last week for a few days. It was during his brief stay here that he gave his decision. At present this leaves the field practically to Leighton Calkins, who, last week, announced his candidacy.

It was rumored today that there is likely to be possibly another candidate for the Mayoralty on the Republican ticket, friends urging former Postmaster Elias H. Bird to get in the race. As yet he has given no decision.

There seems to be a well-founded rumor that the Democrats will persuade Archibald Cox to oppose the Republican candidate. Mr. Cox is now a member of the Plainfield Board of Education. During the past week he has been prominently mentioned, but thus far has given no decision in the matter. There will be a meeting of the Plainfield Democratic Club tomorrow night, when it is expected that Mayor Percy H. Stewart will have something to say regarding his candidacy for the State Senatorial nomination.

ANXIETY FELT FOR PLAINFIELDERS ABROAD

Many Local Residents Are Marooned In Foreign Countries.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. DeForest and Miss Dorothy Leal, who are touring Europe this summer, are much concerned over their whereabouts, because of the war. The party have been in the Austrian Tyrol and Mr. DeForest expected to leave them to arrive in Paris some time this week, sailing from England on Saturday next for home. It is not known whether he learned of the war before the time set for leaving his family, and started home with them, or left them in Austria.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Floersch, of the Queen City Hotel, who were visiting in Germany, are now in Austria, a postal card being received from them this morning. At the time of writing they were enjoying good health and gave no hint as to any war trouble. They will probably be compelled to remain where they are for the present.

Louis Moraller, father of L. Moraller & Son, jewelers, is visiting his son, Eric Moraller, who is general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at St. Petersburg. No word has been received from him lately, but there is no alarm for his safety.

Miss Edith Mellick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Mellick, of East Seventh street, is spending the summer in Berlin, where she is completing her musical education.

James Penny, sexton of the Crescent Avenue church, accompanied by Mrs. Penny are now in England, having sailed on July 23.

Emerson E. Parvin, of Watchung avenue, secretary of the International Merchantile Marine Association, is on his way home on the Olympic, after a few weeks abroad.

Stanley Pierson, of Prescott place, and Walter Howe, of West Second street, are in England, where they went early in July to spend the summer.

FIVE AUTOISTS HURT WHEN CAR TURNS OVER

In an effort to make a sharp turn with a Hudson touring car in front of the Manning property in South Plainfield late yesterday afternoon, Peter Byrns, a Perth Amboy hotel proprietor, and a party of four men were pitched into a nearby field. The driver of the car, which was hired from a garage in Perth Amboy, was unfamiliar with the steering mechanism and could not right the vehicle after it had rounded the turn on two wheels.

Those in the party were Charles Dorsey, James Kriney, John Archibold and James Klinchey, all of Perth Amboy. A badly sprained leg and severe cuts comprised Dorsey's injuries, Byrns has water on the knee, Archibold received a bad gash over the left eye and Klinchey's injuries consisted of numerous bruises.

COMPLAINT AGAINST WATERS DISMISSED

Counsel's Action Results In Abandonment of Extradition Proceedings.

Efforts to get William Waters, of this city, back to Philadelphia, where he would be liable to prosecution in the Civil Courts, were thwarted Saturday by his counsel, Robert Newton Crane, who visited Philadelphia for the purpose of placing the facts of the case before District Attorney Roten. An investigation into the conditions surrounding the desertion charge, under which he had been apprehended by the local police, showed that the action had been instigated following an application made by Mrs. Waters for a decree of divorce.

Plans had been laid to secure the husband's extradition from this State and the district attorney of Philadelphia instructed Chief Kieley to place the accused under arrest. He was later released under $500 bail and when arraigned this morning a telegram from the Philadelphia authorities, as a consequence of the interview with Mr. Crane, led to the dismissal of the complaint and the lifting of bail.

MRS. G. W. DU BOIS DIES IN 62D YEAR

Well-Known Resident Succumbs to Three Months' Illness.

Mrs. Susan Rathbone Porter, aged sixty-two years, widow of George W. DuBois and mother of Dr. Francis E DuBois, of this city, died yesterday at her home on Belvidere avenue following an illness of about three months from a complication of diseases. Mrs. DuBois was born in Brooklyn, where she lived the greater part of her life. She removed to this city five years ago, making her home on Belvidere avenue.

Mrs. DuBois was the daughter of Rev. E. S. Porter who, for many years was pastor of the First Reformed church, of Williamsburg, Brooklyn. She was greatly interested in charity, and especially so in the work being carried on by the Women's Board of Foreign Missions of the Reformed church of America, being a member of that board for a number of years. During her life she gave considerable of her time and means for missions.

There survives a sister, Mrs. E. G. Porter and daughter, Miss S. T. DuBois, who live at home, and a son, Dr. Francis E. DuBois, of Washington avenue, the borough. The funeral will be held at the late home at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning and the burial will be in Greenwood cemetery.

OPEN-AIR SUFFRAGE MEETING A SUCCESS

Mrs. Helen Hoy Greeley Makes Strong Appeal to Male Voters.

The Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield, auspiciously inaugurated its series of weekly meetings, Saturday night when Mrs. Helen Hoy Greeley, of New York, a graduate of Vassar College, was the speaker. Addressing a large audience, chiefly men, at Park avenue and West Second street, Mrs. Greeley made a strong appeal to the male sex to support the cause of suffrage and when the time comes to cast a vote in support of the constitutional amendment granting the right to vote to women.

Mrs. Greeley reviewed at some length what has already been accomplished by the suffrage movement through the West where "votes for women" has been in effect for some time, and she discussed the subject of suffrage in a way that held the close attention of everyone in the audience whether they believed in women's rights or not.

It is the plan of the Equal Suffrage League to hold a similar meeting every Saturday night at the same place, to be addressed by some prominent Suffragist.

ENGLAND'S SECRETARY OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS SAYS BRITAIN WILL AID FRANCE IF SHE IS ATTACKED

Sir Edward Gray Leaves No Room for Doubt in His Speech--Wilson Issues Statement Reassuring American People and Asks for Funds to Bring the Stranded Ones Home--Bankers Solving Financial Problems--Little Fighting Reported.

Virtual declaration of war by England against Germany was made today, when Sir Edward Gray, Secretary of Foreign Affairs, told the House of Commons that if the French Coast was attacked, the English would not stand idly by and let the bombarding go on.

Official notification that war exists between Russia and Germany has been received at Washington from both nations.

The President has asked for an immediate appropriation of $250,000 to aid Americans abroad in getting home.

The stock and cotton exchanges in New York have closed indefinitely.

Details of a proclamation of neutrality for the United States were decided on.

President Wilson issued a statement reassuring the people of the country, saying that there is no cause for alarm here.

The Government has been appealed to to care for Americans abroad.

$100,000,000 emergency currency is to be issued for the use of banks the country over.

The New York Clearing House voted to issue certificates. Bankers agreed to adopt same method for paying large checks as were in force in the panic of 1907.

Shipping to foreign ports is at a standstill. Every boat booked to sail is announced to be held indefinitely.

(Central News Cable.)

London, August 3.—It was officially announced this evening that the British army will be mobilized tomorrow.

London, August 3.—A momentous declaration was made in the House of Commons, this afternoon, by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs. Speaking in solemn tones to a crowded house, Sir Edward said that France had become involved in the war because she was definitely allied to Russia. "The obligation of France does not apply in the same way to us," he continued, "but speaking for myself, I think that if a fleet engaged in a war, wherein France is not the aggressor, comes through the North Sea into the English Channel and batters the French coast, Great Britain cannot stand aside."

Washington, Aug. 3.—Details of proclamation of neutrality were completed today and the pronunciamento will be issued to the world within the next few hours.

Washington, Aug. 3.—In a remarkable statement to the newspaper correspondents today, President Wilson declared that the United States was on a sound financial and business basis, but cautioned the country against unreasonable apprehension and excitement. He invited all Americans to view the situation with calmness, optimism, and true patriotism.

"The situation in Europe is perhaps the gravest in its possibilities that has arisen in modern times," said the President, "but it need not affect the United States unfavorably in the long run. Not that the United States has anything to take advantage of, but her own position is sound and she owes it to mankind to remain in such a condition and in such a state of mind that she can help the rest of the world.

"I want to have the pride of feeling that America, if nobody else, has her self possession and stands ready with calmness of thought and steadiness of purpose to help the rest of the world and we can do it and reap of great permanent glory out of doing it, provided we all co-operate to see that nobody loses his hold. I know from my conferences with the Secretary of the Treasury, who is in very close touch with the financial situation throughout the country, that there is no cause for alarm."

Washington, Aug. 3.—Appeals for the aid of the Government in looking after the Americans in Europe who are unable to return were multiplied today. Several members of Congress are abroad, among them being Representatives George and Lofts, of New York, and Representative Gardner, of Massachusetts. John W. Davis, solicitor general of the United States, is marooned in England. A cable to his secretary said he had been booked on the liner Imperator, which was withdrawn. He did not know when he could sail, he said.

Ambassador Page today also cabled to Washington from London urging that army transports be sent to take home stranded Americans.

The declaration amounts to an official intimation of the fact that Great Britain will suport France against Germany and was received with loud cheers by the whole House.

Amidst the tensest excitement Sir Edward Grey stated that it remained for the House of Commons to decide what the British attitude was to be. He added that in its understanding with the French Government, the British Government had promised only diplomatic support and was not pledged to render armed assistance under any circumstances. "We understood," he continued, "that if we had been willing to conclude an agreement of neutrality, Germany would have agreed not to attack the French coast, but this was far too narrow an engagement for us to consent to. We were sounded by Germany as to whether a guarantee of Belgian integrity after the war would satisfy us, but we replied that we cannot bargain Belgian interests. We gave, yesterday, an assurance to the French ambassador that if a German fleet came into the channel or through the North Sea with hostile intentions against the French coast or French shipping we will give France all the assistance in our power.

Sir Edward, continuing his speech, said that the British forces were in the highest state of efficiency, and confidence was never better justified should the necessity arise to use them.

Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, emphasized strongly the oppositions sincere cooperation with the ministers.

John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, declared amidst a scene of memorable enthusiasm in the House of Commons, that the Nationalist volunteers of Ireland would unite with their friends, the Ulster volunteers, in providing auxiliary forces for the defense of the coast of Ireland.

Washington, Aug. 3—Official notification from both Germany and Russia that those countries are now at war has been received at the State Department. PROCLAMATION TO BE ISSUED BY U. S.

Washington, Aug. 3.—A proclamation of neutrality is being prepared here and will be issued probably tomorrow.

Diplomatic dispatches received here reported Germany's declaration of war on Russia, but no mention of German hostilities toward France. The situation was described as "unchanged" since midnight.

Our neutrality proclamations are almost identically the same, although a few adjustments are necessary to fit our treaties with the countries at war. Undoubtedly President Wilson will follow the general terms of the Grant and Roosevelt proclamations. Both of these, in order to preserve the neutrality of the United States and of its citizens and of persons within its territory and jurisdiction and in order to prevent any "unintentional violation" of its laws and treaties, declared that the act of April 20, 1818, commonly known as the "neutrality law," was to be observed.

This forbids a number of acts in aid of the belligerents. As enunciated by the Grant and Roosevelt proclamations they are:

Accepting a war commission from either belligerent.

Enlisting in the service of either belligerent as a soldier or seaman on board any warship or privateer.

Hiring another person to enlist or to go beyond the jurisdiction of the United States to enlist in the service of either belligerent. This, however, does not prohibit the subjects of either belligerent, who are merely temporarily in the United States, from enlisting or retaining another subject to enlist aboard a belligerent warship which may arrive in American waters.

FRANCE DESTROYS GERMAN AIRCRAFT

London, Aug. 3.—The first engagement of the great European war was fought in the air, according to a report received here, between a French aeroplane and a German dirigible. Every man in the fight was killed.

The report says that German and French air craft have been flying just over the frontier since yesterday morning. The Germans are using the big Zeppelin type dirigibles, while aeroplanes are employed by the French.

Roland Garros, the French flier, sighted a German dirigible on the French side of the border line near Nancy. The French pilot drove his machine straight at the dirigible, which was manned by twenty-five soldiers, and dashed against the gas bag.

The dirigible was wrecked and all aboard as well as Garros were dashed to death. It is believed the Frenchman deliberately sacrificed himself to deal destruction to the Germans.

ONE LETTER THAT WON A PRIZE IN A TRENTON TRADE AT HOME CONTEST

So many queries have been received regarding the kind of a letter which contestants are supposed to write in the Trade in Plainfield contest in the Daily Press, that an example will be given. The Trenton Times recently conducted a similar contest, with cash and merchandise prizes, similar to those being offered by the Daily Press. The letter which won the first prize is printed herewith, so that prospective participants in the Press contest may get some idea as to what is required:

To the Editor of the Times.

Sir: Monday afternoon a friend showed me a white silk blouse which she had bought that day in Philadelphia at one of the most prominent Chestnut street stores, for three dollars and ninety-five cents ($3.95). I was pleased with the blouse. It seemed to be just what I needed for myself. I tried it on and was so well satisfied that I decided to send the next day for one like it.

Later in the afternoon, while reading the Trenton Times, I noticed that David Holzner & Company made special mention of blouses in their advertisement, so, thinking it might be to my advantage to examine their stock before making my Philadelphia purchase, I went to their store early Tuesday morning and found to my delight that they had a much better blouse of the same general style for two dollars and ninety cents ($2.90). The material seemed to be of better quality, the workmanship and finish far superior to the Philadelphia blouse, and upon trying it on at home after making my purchase, I discovered to my great satisfaction that the Trenton blouse was vastly more becoming.

I am delighted with my purchase, for not only have I a better article than I would have had if I had bought in Philadelphia, but I am also one dollar and five cents ($1.05) richer by shopping in my home town, not to mention the expense I would have incurred by sending for the other.

It certainly pays to advertise in the Times, for it is the most widely read paper of any in this vicinity. People cannot afford to spend much time on the morning papers except to read headlines and the death notices at the breakfast table, or on the way to business, but after the work of the day is done and we have leisure we pick up the Times, with its news of the day, and read it, advertisements and all.

Since this incident occurred within the period covered by the "Trade-in-Trenton" contest my friends suggested that I enter the contest; therefore I submitted this letter for your consideration, enclosing the advertisement from the Times.

"SMILING JOHN" FINED $5.

"Smiling" John Snyder, of Lincoln, a happy-go-lucky chap, whose main offense against society is his proneness to remain too long at "the cup," was arrested by Marshal Patrick Tarpey at 11 o'clock Saturday night while endeavoring to steady his helm as he proceeded along the billowy flagging of North avenue. This was Snyder's second appearance in two weeks before Recorder Campbell on the same charge. The court had given him a suspended sentence of $3 or 10 days in the county jail on his previous arraignment. The suspended sentence of a $3 fine not only descended upon Snyder's head at his arraignment, yesterday, but he was also fined an additional $2, making $5 in all, which he paid.

CRESCENTS DEFEATED.

The Crescent Tennis Club was defeated on its Madison avenue courts, yesterday afternoon, by the fast Bronx Tennis Club, of New York, in four exciting and well played matches. The singles match between Fedderman and Swan was not only closely contested, but brought forth some brilliant tennis. While Swan, the champion of the Bronx team, captured the match, he was forced to his utmost and at times was virtually carried off his feet by his opponent's smashing forehand and back hand volleys. Westcott, the only member of the Crescent team to win his match, defeated his opponent, Earle, by pretty place shots and greater steadiness in the pinches. The scores are as follows: Swan vs. Fedderman, 13-11, 6-4; Clark vs. Eckert, 6-3, 6-1; Clark and Swan vs. Eckert and Markle, 6-4, 6-2; Westcott vs. Earle, 8-6, 8-6.

The funeral services will be held at the Trinity church New York city, Dr. Manning, the pastor of the church, officiating. Interment will be at Malone, N. Y.

SEWER QUESTION.

How soon will Dunellen commence actual construction work on her collecting sewer is a question over which much curiosity is being expressed by the boroughites. Actual work, Mayor E. B. Latham stated at last month's meeting of the Common Council, will not be started by this borough until the construction of the joint sewerage trunk line has been commenced at the other end. Before the construction work will start on the joint sewerage trunk line the final payment must be made on the disposal site, or the Darling farm. This payment is expected to be authorized at Wednesday evening's meeting of the joint sewerage committee Furthermore, the engineer, George W. Fuller, who was engaged at the last meeting of the joint committee, must complete the establishment of a line of sewer through the Greenbrook valley. After this line has been established there will be some necessary rights of way to secure. After these rights of way have been secured the final step will be the advertising for bids and the awarding of the joint sewerage contract. Taking things as a whole it is not believed that the actual construction work of the joint sewerage trunk line will be started before spring. In the meantime, as there are no rights of way to secure and as the plan and the system of the collecting system are worked out the only thing that remains for Dunellen to do is to sell the remainder of her bonds, secure a contract for the engineering of the collecting system, for which a committee was appointed at the regular July meeting of the Council, and finally the advertising for bids and the awarding of the contract for the construction of the system. It is figured that once the work is started that it will take a year, at least, to complete it.

CHIEF DOANE HEARS FROM U. S. SENATOR MARTINE

Fire Chief Doane, of this city, today received a letter from United States Senator James E. Martine thanking him for the large portrait of the No. 2 pumping engine which the local department head forwarded to him sometime ago. Senator Martine has always been interested in the local department and last winter tendered a dinner to Chief Doane and a number of his friends when the engine was given its official tryout. According to the Senator, the picture, which also contains the faces of the men in the department, will adorn the walls in his executive chamber at Washington.

NEWSBOYS BANISHED.

The practise that New York newsboys have made of coming to this city with their papers everytime anything unusual happens was curtailed by Chief Kiely, of the local department yesterday, when he banished a number of the youths, crying out war extras, from the city. The metropolitan newsboys introduce numerous ways of imposing on the innocent public and make a general nuisance of themselves. It is the chief's contention that the local newsboys are able to take care of the public's needs in this respect.

WILL VOTE ON $12,500 APPROPRIATION

Plans Are Underway to Provide More Adequate School Facilities.

A special school election will be held tomorrow evening at the New Market schoolhouse, at which time the appropriation of $12,500 to be used on the proposed addition to the South Plainfield School is to be voted upon by the citizens of Piscataway township. Some opposition to the appropriation has developed within the past few days, and it is possible the appropriation may not pass. Should the verdict of the voters be adverse, it is expected that the Board of Trade of South Plainfield will start a campaign for the borough form of government immediately.

The proposed addition to the present school has been made necessary by the natural increase of the population of the village, and several of the citizens are greatly disturbed by the "anti" faction which is opposing the improvement. Should South Plainfield develop in the near future anywhere near the degree that is expected from the present industrial and building outlook, even the four-room addition which is at present under consideration will be insufficient to accommodate the children of those who will locate at the village in the near future and a new building wil be needed to meet the situation.

Should the appropriation be defeated, the movement for the borough form of government will be materially hastened. Several members of the Board of Trade of the village have been considering for several weeks the advisability of taking some action along this line, owing to the building outlook, feeling that the change in government was necessary to the proper development of the town. The voters of South Plainfield will undoubtedly turn out in large numbers to turn the tide of the election in the direction they believe to be for the benefit of the entire township as well as for South Plainfield.

WILL BREAK GROUND FOR CHURCH AUGUST 9

CONTRACTS ARE FILED AGGREGATING $120,495

Brisk Revival of Building In All Parts of Union County.

Building operations throughout the count ytook a sudden turn for the better during the week that closed Saturday, reports from various sources from each town indicating a brisk revival of the trades affiliated with construction work. They are about to start more work during a short period of time than has been handled all season up to the present time.

During the past week, the records at the office of the county clerk at Elizabeth, show that thirty-six building contracts have been filed there, calling for the expenditure of approximately $120,495. The largest contract filed is for the erection of a new school building at Union at a cost of $42,626, E. M. Waldron has the contract for the entire work. The reports also show that Morris Rabinowitz, of Hillcrest avenue, this city, has received the contract for the construction of five buildings on Scott avenue, Rahway, for the Kline Realty and Improvement Company, also of this city.

In an interview with a representative of the Daily Press, a local contractor said in regards to the increase of building activities throughout the county: "Operations in many quarters have been practically at a standstill for many months, many buildings which had been planned having been held up owing to the condition of the money market. Conditions in these parts of the county, in the meantime, had become such that buildings were absolutely necessary, money market or no money market. There is no doubt in my mind that the change in the county for the better is permanent in nature, and contractors of this vicinity will be kept busy until late fall."

Building contracts filed from this end of the county are as noted below:

Maud A. Huntsman with Arthur F. Neuman, plumbing work, new building, Cedarbrook road, Plainfield, $1,915.

Thorwald Larson with Thomas F. Brown, plumbing work, new building, Bergen street, Plainfield, $215.

James C. Miniszek with Elizabeth T. Austin, entire work, new building, Midland avenue, Fanwood, $9,100.

Leander B. Faber with George T. Bussinger, mason work, new building, Westfield, $550.

Ferdinand Schive with T. R. Evans Company, repair work on building, Raritan road, Fanwood, $998.

Anna B. Russell with H. Russell Company, entire work, new building, Highland avenue, Westfield, $6,350.

SAMUEL SCHWARTZ TO ERECT TWENTY-FIVE HOUSES

It became known on Saturday that Samuel Schwartz, of this city, who is connected with the Merchants and Traders Realty Company of New York, holding a large tract of land at South Plainfield, would erect at least twenty-five houses at South Plainfield within the next few months.

Work on ten of these structures will start very shortly, most of the work being done by local contractors. These will be in addition to the six houses planned by William Hamilton, and the ten dwellings already in the course of construction.

BUILDING CODE ADOPTED BY STATE SCHOOL BOARD

Trenton, Aug. 3.—At a meeting of the State Board of Education here, the new building code, which was prepared by a special committee, consisting of Commissioners Rice, Schauffler and Frelinghuysen, was adopted and ordered into effect August 15. Because of the severe criticism of rural districts and the agitation in the Legislature this year, the Board deemed it advisable to make such changes as to meet the objections of the rural districts.

One of the principal changes, which was advocated by the country districts, will permit the erection of a frame school building, two stories in height, with eight classrooms. The staircases in these structures must be fireproof, but even this has been criticised, especially by the Russell Sage Foundation, which charges New Jersey with having a lax building code for the protection of the pupils of various schools. Another change in the code compels school districts to make new additions to comply with the building code.

DWELLING AT FANWOOD.

Contract has been recorded between Mr. and Mrs. Mary I. McGuire of Fanwood with Anthony Albert, of Scotch Plains, for the construction of a two and one-half story frame dwelling, in Fanwood, to cost $5,900. The plans have been prepared by Architect H. D. Bonnell. The building is to be completed by November 20.

"DISEASE PREVENTION DAY."

Following the promise of Governor Ralston, of Indiana, to declare a "Disease Prevention Day" this fall, Nathan Straus, of New York, has addressed a letter to every governor in the United States and in Alaska and the Philippines, suggesting that he also set aside such a day for the inculcation of the principles of health promotion, for the awakening of the citizens and officials of townships, towns, cities and counties to the practical method of staying the hand of disease and death and of prolonging life.

"The health of its people is the greatest asset a State can have," well says Mr. Straus in his letter to the governor of New Jersey. "Improve the public health and you increase the resources of the commonwealth. You cut off waste, public and private, promote community prosperity and individual welfare, encourage happiness. What greater deed could you do to earn the gratitude of the people of your State? Much ill health and many thousands of deaths are due to ignorance of the causes of sickness, many of which can be removed. Prevention is the word to teach and an ounce of prevention is worth tons of cure."

Prevention is the order of the day in America; in the observance of a health day by the various States, the importance of getting rid of the greatest of menaces would be impressed upon the public, which once informed, will compel removal of cause of unnecessary disease and build up health, the chief of both community and individual assets.

THOSE P. A. Y. E. CARS.

During the recent rainy spell the Public Service Railway Corporation has been the object of numerous attacks by persons who are compelled to ride back and forth to work on the pay-as-you-enter cars. The narrow platforms compel the patrons to form a single file up the steps of the trolley and along the cross walk, none being allowed to enter until those in front have deposited their nickels. In some instances the conductor is obliged to make change; in other cases transfers have to be punched. All of this takes time and while the official is doing the work the other people awaiting their turn to board the car are being treated to a drenching.

Howls of protest have gone up recently at corners where a number of people congregate to await the arrival of cars and the "P. A. Y. E." fad has become recognized as a general nuisance. It is the consensus of opinion that the platforms on the local cars are not adapted to this innovation and in the future should be confined to trolley cars having large rear platforms. While there is evidence in the hands of the corporation that the pay-as-you-enter idea has proven successful in some cases we have yet to find an individual who has endorsed the project where cars similar to those on the Plainfield lines are in use.

Plainfield has been provided with a sixth public recreation field during the past week, but this centre is vastly different from the others now in use, inasmuch as it provides a rendezvous for the working man and woman. Through the efforts of Rev. B. M. Bogan, of St. Mary's church, the yard which surrounds the old Washington school at Fifth and Liberty streets has been equipped with electric lights and various out of door recreative games have been provided. Since its opening the place has become unusually popular with working people and many individuals have taken advantage of the opportunity offered for meeting at this play centre each clear evening.

A project of this nature is to be commended and the originator of the idea complimented for his work. Plainfield has long been in need of an evening centre of the kind and the fact that the newly equipped yard is located at that particular point makes it most valuable. A large proportion of the city's factory employes live in that section and among this class the need for open air recreation is most generally felt. The four public school yards and the monster field on Randolph road amply care for the needs of the younger generation in the day time but these places are closed down at night and until the opening of the Liberty street resort the older persons had no gathering place.

The stringent measures being taken by the local Board of Health to curtail the spread of measles are an innovation here and although met by disapproval by some of those afflicted, the precautionary steps are to be commended. The new features are not intended as a hardship on anyone but merely as a warning to the public. Cards are tacked on the doors of houses in which measles are prevalent but the patient is not subjected to quarantine. Citizens should co-operate with the Board by reporting cases of this disease because the officials have no way other than the voluntary source of locating the patients. According to the health authorities, measles is not the harmless disease formerly considered, but frequently results in serious complications or lifelong defects.

Orders have been issued by Chief Kiely, of the local police force, to break up the rowdyism that has been the subject of a number of camplaints at the North avenue hack stand recently. Patrolmen on that beat are keeping a careful watch over the younger generation which has entered this kind of work at the depot and several have been threatened with arrest. Residents along North avenue complain that they are awakened at all hours of the night by the noise made by the cab drivers who indulge in friendly, but noisy, encounters and sing popular songs without consideration for the sleeping neighborhood.

John H. Cose, of this city, one of the Republican aspirants for the shrievalty nomination, visited Elizabeth last week. He distributed a lot of advertising cards with an excellent photograph and a brief biographical sketch serving as an introduction to those who do not know him personally. In it he promises a clean cut, economical and efficient administration if nominated and elected. Later he will placard the county, he said. In fact many small places have already been posted.

Freeholder S. P. T. Wilbur, of this city, while in Elizabeth last week, as a member of the auditing committee to check up the semi-monthly county pay roll, availed himself of the opportunity to do a little campaigning. He is another Republican seeking nomination for sheriff on that ticket.

Charles A. Trimble, one of the well-known Elizabeth members of the Progressive party, has re-enlisted in the hosts of Republicanism. Mr. Trimble, on Saturday, declared that while he still believes in the tenets of Progressivism, he also believes that the discipline inflicted upon the Grand Old Party by the 1912 defection has had its effects and that only the united front of Republicans and Bull Moosers can stay the onward sweep of the Democratic party. To his fellow Progressives he calls "Come thou and do likewise."

Peter J. Olde, of Elizabeth, and Herbert Buxton, of this city, who were named as the managers of the two baseball teams representing those cities to cross bats at Witzel's Point View Grove, when the G. O. P. annual outing lands there August 15, report that they have strong nines practising each day that the weather will permit. By the time the eventful date arrives they say they will be in true mid-season form. Each line-up is being carefully concealed by each magnate, but each promises to bring out several stars of considerable magnitude in the baseball firmament, in addition to a number of phenomena as yet unheard of.

With the annual Republican outing scheduled to take place two weeks hence, leaders of the G. O. P. continue to show the utmost confidence in the outlook for the coming campaign. The circulation of primary petitions will be practically completed on the excursion, and no new candidacies are expected to develop for nominations other than Assemblymen. The demand for excursion tickets continues to be exceptionally large.

Frederick G. Thomas, of Somerville, announced several weeks ago as a candidate for State Senator from Somerset county, has issued his platform declaring for an automobile tax for road up-keep only; taxing of autos on a basis of weight and not horsepower; public schools for public service; simplification of the laws; protection to merchants against loss by credit; economy and efficiency in all public offices; just legislation for laboring men, and better laws for the farmer.

The new furniture with which the rooms are to be fitted arrived Saturday morning, and the house is being put into shape pending the permanent organization of the club.

HUNGARIANS WILL NOT RETURN HOME

Dunellen Settlement Consists of Many Who Are Subject to Reserve Duty.

HAVE FAMILIES HERE

Spokesmen for the Foreigners Say That They Are Better Off Here Than In Austria-Hungary Where They Have No Say in Law Making.

A canvas of Smith avenue, Dunellen, made by a representative of the Plainfield Daily Press yesterday afternoon showed that the thoroughfare resembles a typical Austrian settlement, sixty-five of the residents being subject to reserve call in case of war. Queried as to their sentiment on the war question the Austrians declared that they did not care which country won the fight and expressed a wish that they would not be drafted, not wanting to leave their families who have settled in America.

To date not a single one of the Austrians has made arrangements to return to the old country and all of them are considerably stirred up over the possibility of their being forced to cross the water. They appeared to be indignant over the conditions surrounding the present turmoil declaring that people of their nationality were being forced to sacrifice their lives for two individuals, meaning the heir and heiress to the throne. When sought by the reporter the burly Austrian men were found stretched out under the shade of a large tree apparently resigned to enjoy the freedom they are subject to in this country. One swarthy male resident said that the home country was no good to persons of his calibre inasmuch as the wages were too low to meet the living expenses. He said that the Hungarians were the only ones who had any say in the law-making of Austria-Hungary and that the other race was placed out of consideration.

According to the spokesman, the Hungarians will not allow the Austrians to have any schools of their own and all of their children must go to Hungarian schools and if any of the Austrian school children are heard to say anything in slavish outside of school hours when the offender gets to school in the morning he or she receives a "licking." A few questions as to the average wage of the working man and the cost of food products in Austria revealed some almost unbelieveable facts. While the average wage that the working man receives is not more than from forty to ninety cents a day he must pay anywhere from sixty to ninety-five cents a pound for meat. This makes meat a luxury and the ordinary Austrian considers himself fortunate if he is able to indulge in it once a week. Wheat flour costs from sixteen dollars to twenty dollars for 200 pounds, and his beer costs him sixteen cents a bottle.

PLAINFIELD MOTORISTS HAD A BIG DAY AT THE SHORE

Members of the Plainfield Motorcycle Club enjoyed one of their best runs of the season to Midland Beach yesterday, spending four delightful hours at the well known Staten Island resort. Bathing in the bay was excellent, the motorists being fortunate enough to strike this particular resort. Along the shore bathers were prohibited from entering the water because of rough conditions, but the water was smooth and warm at Midland.

Those who enjoyed the outing were Mr. and Mrs. Kenner, Mr. and Mrs. Horner, Herbert Alberts, Miss Higgins, Mr. Winkelholtz, E. S. Bird, PJ. J. Moore, Miss Shay, Miss Ball and T. G. Kinger.

HOPE'S EXCURSION.

The annual excursion of the Hope chapel Sunday-school will go to Asbury Park and Ocean Grove on Saturday. This is always the most popular outing of the season from this city, because it does not leave the shore until eight o'clock. The train will leave the North Avenue station at 8:15 in two sections and there will be ample room for all. This is the only Saturday excursion that goes to the shore from this city. Both sections will stop at Grant avenue and there will be a baggage car for checking purposes.

WILL CONTINUE PICTURES.

Owing to the kindness of Captain William B. Smith, the use of the Reform Hall has been extended to the local I. B. S. A. class and the photo-drama will be shown in pictures for another week, performances being given every night at 8 o'clock. About 6,000 persons have already availed themselves of the opportunity to see the films and it is hoped that increased interest will be manifested.

WAYWARD YOUTH.

Alvin Buhot, nineteen years old, of Flemington, was arrested yesterday on a charge of vagrancy. Buhot, a well dressed youth, when arraigned in court admitted that he was a victim of Wunderlust and had left a good home to wander around this section. His father was notified and came for him this noon.

WALTER KNOWLTON WEDS MISS GROFF

Popular Couple Quietly Married In New York, Saturday Night.

Miss Edith Mae Groff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin H. Groff, of Prospect avenue, and Walter Knowlton were married Saturday night, in the Church of the Transfiguration, New York city. Only immediate relatives of the couple witnessed the ceremony, which was a quiet affair. Mr. and Mrs. Knowlton left immediately for a short wedding trip. Miss Groff was attended by her sister, Miss Gertrude Groff, and Richard Harrigan, of South avenue, was best man.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Knowlton are well known to a wide circle of acquaintances in this city. He is the son of James R. Knowlton, of West Fifth street, and was graduated from the Plainfield High School in the class of 1909, of which he was president. He was one of the most popular members of the club and took an active part in athletics and scolarship work. Since his graduation he has been employed in Dunellen, where the couple will make their home.

Mrs. Knowlton is also well known here, having been a student in the Plainfield High School and later in the Plainfield Seminary. She was usually popular in the younger society set and with Mr. Knowlton has taken an active part in a number of social events.

DECEONOLY SUCEONA.

Charged with vagrancy in sleeping in a hallway, Deceonoly Suceona, an Italian, was arraigned before Judge DeMeza, in the city court this morning and after offering a satisfactory explanation for his presence in the hallway through an interpreter, was allowed to go on a suspended sentence. The accused has been in this country but two weeks and lost his way while returning to the home of his cousin.

WILL MEET WEDNESDAY.

The committee of the Allied Trades in charge of Labor Day arrangements will meet Wednesday evening, instead of Thursday evening this week. A. E. Willard, of West Front street, has been appointed as chairman of the fantastics committee, and Charles Dahl as head of the floats committee. Citizens interested in either of these divisions of the plans should communicate with the heads of these committees.

FAVOR LICENSE FOR ALL HORSE-DRAWN VEHICLES

Trenton, Aug. 3.—Organized motorists of the State are planning a determined effort for the enactment of a law providing for the taxing of all horse-drawn vehicles. The Legislation Committee of the Associated Automobile Clubs, of New Jersey, is drafting a bill for this purpose which will be presented to the next Legislature and the fight for its passage will be made. The farmers and other owners of horse vehicles will oppose the measure.

WILL OF MRS. C. STRUCK CONTAINS LOCAL BEQUESTS

New York, Aug. 3.—An appraisal of the estate left by Mrs. Caroline Struck, mother of Mrs. Emma Pauley, of East Seventh street, Plainfield, made by one of the Transfer Tax State Appraisers, which report is on file in the office of the Clerk of the Surrogates' Court, shows that when the decedent passed away on Nov. 11, 1909, she left an estate of $7,000, consisting of a promissory note made by Emil Pauley, her Plainfield son-in-law, which, under the directions of her will, executed Nov. 9, 1909, passes over to her two children, as follows:

George, of No. 201 East Tenth street, $4,500. The other $2,500 to Mrs. Pauley.

George Struck, the son, is the executor.

Mrs. Struck really left an estate of $9,500. She, however, directed that the loans made to her children, Mrs. Pauley, $2,000, and George, $500, be cancelled.

To her son, George, she directed that her husband's watch, chain and locket, as well as a ring, be held in trust to Rudolph Struck, her grandson, to be given to him when he becomes of age. These are not figured in the report.

VALUABLE ANIMAL NEAR DEATH IN PIT OF WATER

The services of Chief Doane, Captain George Mehl and a crew of fire fighters from the local department, were needed for several hours in the west end of town yesterday afternoon when a valuable bay horse belonging to George Tobin, fell into a manure pit in the rear of the stable on the latter's premises, on Grant avenue. The equine freed itself from its halter earlier in the afternoon and after wandering about the stable for a time attempted to get outside. As the animal stepped through the rear door it fell into the deep pit which was half filled with water.

When found by an employe the beast was struggling frantically in the slime and water and it is not known how long it was there before first discovered. Efforts on the part of those near at hand at the time to elevate the animal to solid terra firma were futile and Chief Doane was finally notified. Together with a crew of his men the department head visited the scene and after seeing the predicament the animal was in he ordered a platform to be constructed. Fear for the animal's life was felt inasmuch as he was steadily sinking and in time he would probably be submerged in the slime. The first attempt to get him on the platform failed and he fell back into the pit with great force. Cleats were provided on the structure the second time, however, and he was easily raised to the ground, apparently none the worse for the experience.

THREE CHILDREN WILL BE PLACED IN CHARITY HOME

Arraigned on a charge of bringing up their three children under and adverse environment, Mr. and Mrs. James McNee, of Madison avenue, were ordered to turn two of the charges over to the Charity Organization and to properly supervise the home life of a third, by Judge DeMeza, in the city court, this morning. Testimony given by Miss Mabelle Phillips, secretary for the Charity Organization which made the complaint, and Sergeant Maurice Higgins indicated that the children were underfed and living in a home where drunkenness was prominent.

Mr. McNee, the father, was absolved from all blame in the case and agreed to let the authorities take the children for the purpose of placing them in the Charity Organization's home.

BOROUGH NOTES.

George Weiss, chief of the borough police department, today opened his camp on the mountains near Washington Rock. Mr. Weiss has been camping at this site for several years.

Edmund Rushmore and Judge Isaac P. Runyon, of the borough, made an auto trip, yesterday, to Asbury Park, returning in the afternoon. Mr. Rushmore reports that the roads near New Brunswick are in good condition, but otherwise are poor.

IN THE SPORTING SPOT

SPORTS AFFECTED BY WAR REPORTS

Troubles Among European Powers Affects Cycling, Tennis and Yachting.

ATHLETES MAY ENLIST

Bicycle Racing Will Receive the Biggest Jolt—Big Yacht Races May Be Called Off—Also Possibility of Tennis Matches Being Postponed

European war troubles are even threatening lawn tennis. There is no question that Froitzheim and Kreutzer, who are officers in the German army, were affected by the war news and failed to do their best in the matches played last week in the Davis Cup competition against the Australians, in which the latter made a clean sweep. Then, too, the English team, which is to tackle the Australians for the honor of going up against the American holders of the trophy, may be broken up, as some of its members will be called upon to fight if England goes to war.

It is not certain, therefore, that the English will have a chance to tackle the Australians.

Walter Rutt, the German bicycle rider, who rode in many of the New York six-day races; Caesar Moretti, the Italian champion, and Leon Didier, the French champion, who have opposed each other many times on the track in this country during the present season may find themselves fighting against each other in the war.

Didier, although he has a contract for the remainder of the season, has already left the country to return to France. He is not a member of the army, but says he will enlist if his country goes to war. He obtained permission to break his contract here and return home when it was learned that war was imminent.

Both Rutt and Moretti are on the reserve lists of the armies of their respective countries. Rutt is in the reserve corps of the German Army as driver of any armored motor, which is in line with the profession he has followed all his life. Rutt was excused from the regular army service required by the German laws on his promise to return as a motor driver in case of need. Rutt is still in this country, but expects any moment to receive a call to return to Germany. Moretti is on the reserve list of the Italian Army and expects to return home if called.

The members of the New York Yacht Club considered the war situation and its effect upon yachting last night, but for the present it will not cause a change in the plans already made. Commodore Dallas B. Pratt had signals set on the Sea Fox calling for a meeting of the captains to discuss the situation.

There was more than fifty captains at the meeting, and it was suggested by some that in view of the present troublous times in Europe it might be well to abandon the cruise at once. This, however, did not meet the approval of the majority, because it was pointed out that this country was not involved and it would be well to wait before taking such drastic action.

It was decided to proceed in the morning to Newport, where another meeting will be called to further consider the situation. It is probable that the races as scheduled will all be sailed, but the yachtsmen may decide to abandon the run to Vineyard Haven. The last race on the cruise is that for the cup presented to the club by King George V, of England. If before that time England is involved in the European war this cup will not be raced for.

PARKS HAVE EASY TIME WITH RIVALS

Bowlby Holds the First Baptist Aggregation In Check At All Times.

The Park Avenue Baptist baseball team had an easy time with the First Baptist crew on Crescent Oval Saturday when they defeated the Front street team by the score of 10 to 5. Pierson's men were never in the fight and the home team batted the ball all over the lot in the pinches where hits meant runs. Bowlby was in good form and held his opponent in check throughout, allowing seven hits and fanning eleven.

Patterson started on the mound for the Baptists and pitched six innings when he was relieved by Bailey who held the Parks to one run and one hit in three innings. The visitors scored twice in the initial round but the Parks scored four times and that lead was never overcome. They had things their own way throughout and the result of the game was never in doubt. The First Baptists scored three times in the eighth frame that made the score look a little better. The home club scored once in the third, four in the fifth and their last one came in the seventh on two losses and two misplays. Downs and Mills each cracked out two safties for their respective teams while Bailey and Patterson were each credited with a double. The score:

BIG SURPRISE IN LEAGUE CONTEST

The Monroe Team Takes a Close Game From Leading Hope Aggregation.

The Hope chapel baseball team, leaders of the Sunday-school League, were given a severe jolt Saturday when the Monroe team took a well played game by the score of 4 to 2. The Hope team, which has been taking all the games of the league, was forced to the limit and then in the sixth inning the Monroe boys hit the pill hard and talied two runs that won the game. Schott and Brick had a regular pitchers duel throughout the game and were about evened up at the end. Brick received perfect support while the Hope crew made three errors behind Schott that counted against them.

The Monroe team started a batting rally in the first stanza and scored two runs while Brick, and his support, were enough to shut-out the Fourth street aggregation. Hope came back in the second inning and evened matters up by clean hitting. They scored twice but could not get the lead. In the next three innings both teams played a fine article of ball and goose-eggs were placed in the scoring columns for both sides. The sixth was unlucky for Hope and in that inning the game was won by the Monroe team. Hope Chapel was blanked for the rest of the game and although they were in position to score several times, their opponents were always on the spot to prevent them. Both pitchers passed one man, made one wild pitch and struck out six batters. Each team made two earned runs. The score:

EXTRA INNING GAME FOR PETS

Doubles In Eleventh Inning By Stine and Dorman Score Needed Tally.

TOWNLEY EFFECTIVE

Although Given Ragged Support He Pitches His Best In Pinches and Stops Runs That Would Have Won the Game.

Two base hits by Stine and Dorman in the eleventh inning of the Plainfield-Elizabeth game on Parker Field Saturday scored the winning run which gave the Pets a victory over one of the fastest teams of this vicinity by the score of 3 to 2. The game was slow, however, and would never have gone extra innings had the locals played good ball. Errors in the fourth and seventh inning gave the visitors enough runs to tie the score and they were almost handed the game at other times. Townley was again on the firing line for the Pets and was opposed by Richter, the former Marconi star twirler. Both pitched a fine article of ball and the visiting slabsman was given far better support than the local boy and his team was credited with five errors. Both pitchers had something on the ball at all times and with men on the bases both were effective.

In the first inning it looked bad for the Pets and after Alberts had flied out to Dixon the next two men singled and doubled respectively, filling second and third bases. The next man to bat hit a foul which Nelson grabbed and he also made the third out by catching a pop fly. Dixon was the only one who hit safely for the locals in the first inning and he was left on first base when Coyle hit a long one to left which Alberts camped under. The Pets made a pretty double play in the next round which emptied the bases. Dixon dropped Mullin's throw of Bond's hard hit ball and the runner was safe. Jimmie Montross, playing right field for the visitors, hit to Giddes on third who threw to Coyle. The latter's throw beat Jimmie to first base. The Elizabeth team's first score came in the fourth inning when Serry drew a pass and was sacrificed to second. Bond hit a grounder to left and Stewart let it go through his legs, Serry scoring from second. Pond was called out for not touching first.

Plainfield's big inning was the fifth when Stewart led off with a single. Nelson hit to the pitcher, who, in an effort to force Stewart at second, threw over the second baseman's head and both men were safe. Townley singled, filling the bases. The visiting pitcher became a trifle nervous and forced in a run by handing Giddes a pass, Stewart scoring. Dixon made first on a fielder's choice and Nelson scored with the second tally. Coyle fanned for the third out. The Elizabethans tied things up in the seventh when Joe Alberts singled and went to third on Stewart's second error. Sieftes hit a long fly to right field and Alberts scored with the tying run. Neither team did anything in the next three innings but the eleventh was full of excitement for both sides. For the visitors the first two men to face Townley singled. Richter stole second and Bergen was on third with none down. But Townley was master of the occasion and the next three men went out in one, two, three order. Stine hit the ball an awful whack for two bases and Dorman placed one along the left field foul line, Stine scoring the winning run from second. The score:

SAURER NINE HANDS KLINKERS SHUT-OUT

They Collect Thirteen Runs While Conshay Holds His Opponents to 3 Hits.

The Saurer baseball team had an easy time disposing of the Somerville Klinkers, at Dunellen, Saturday, and even went so far as to shut out their opponents by a score of 13 to 0. The game was slow and a poor one for spectators to watch after the first inning, in which the Saurer batters landed on VanPelt, the pride of Somerville, and scored eight runs before they finally were retired. Seven hits and two men hit by the pitcher together with several stolen bases told the tale.

Harriman led off with a double on the first ball pitched and all of his teammates followed. Harriman was up a second time in the initial inning and singled. The Somerville aggregation went out in most of the innings in one, two three order, and did not land a man on third base. Conshay, who was in fine form, only allowed three hits and was the master of occasions at all times. Every inning the local team made two or three hits and in the fifth round scored four times on two hits and four errors. VanPelt was given poor support, his team making nine errors behind him while the Saurer team only made one.

Saurers last run came in the eighth inning when Conshay drew a pass and went home on two fielders choices and one error. The Saurer aggregation collected fourteen safeties and three stolen bases.

STRAY TOPICS FROM LITTLE OLD NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 3.—A new idea is this city for increasing the safety of traffic and pedestrians is found in the plans of the Committee on Street Safety, recently appointed by Police Commissioner Woods. The committee will study all phases of street safety, the number and character of accidents, their possible prevention the matter of public playgrounds and the new traffic rules concerning the use of streets for one-way traffic, and the closing of others for playgrounds. The committee's reports are expected to form the basis of new ordinances to be passed by the Board of Aldermen.

Friends of the late Madame Nordica have enlisted the aid of prominent musicians and music lovers in a plan to erect a heroic statue of the diva in Central Park. Should a setatue of Madame Nordica be erected, it will be the only one of a woman in a park in New York, and according to a recent investigator, one of four of women in the United States. According to this authority the only statues of women in the country are those of Frances Willard, in the national capitol at Washington; of Hannah Dustin, in Haverhill, Mass., and of a noted woman philanthropist, in one of the public squares in New Orleans. Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, it is understood, will be asked to design the Nordica statue.

Several prison officials and criminologists, of Germany, are to arrive in this city this week to spend a month or more inspecting the leading penitentiaries and reformatories in the Eastern and central Western States. Dr. Karl Minkelmberg, director of German prisons, will be in charge of the commission, and accompanying him will be Prof. Darmstaedter, of the University of Berlin, and several members of the German parliament. Dr. O. F. Lewis, general secretary of the prison association in this country, is at work arranging an itinerary for the commission.

'Tis an old saying that the world never knows the amount of a man's wealth until he dies. The late Timothy L. Woodruff, once Lieutenant Governor of New York, and afterward Progressive leader in Brooklyn, was supposed to have made an immense fortune in the manufacture of typewriters and in numerous other big industrial and financial enterprises in which he was known to have been heavily interested. At the time of his death he was rated as several times a millionaire, but it now develops that investments in business enterprises a short time before his death drained his resources heavily and that his fortune has shrunk to a little more than $300,000.

Columbus Circle, one of New York's finest civic centres, will no longer be disfigured by double-decked billboards around the triangular vacant lot on the north side. This building site, fronting on the Circle, Central Park West, Broadway and 60th street, is owned by William R. Hearst, and plans have been filed for its improvement with a business block.. The building will be three stories high, with a facade of limestone, and will contain 21 stores. The foundations will be of sufficient strength to permit of carrying the structure up to a height of thirty stories.

With pageants, festivals, and song, the New York Commercial Tercentenary Commission, incorporated by the legislature in 1913, with an appropriation of $100,000 to begin its work, will start a two months' celebration next week. For a city the size of New York, the committee decided that the "Old Home Week" would not suffice, so the "Old Home Week" for the five boroughs will last from Aug 15 to Sept. 1. In that time the 200 school and 100 park playgrounds and the ten recreation piers will be the scenes of pageants, games and festivals by the boys and girls. Sewing bees are to be arranged to make costumes for these events, particularly for a pageant dipicting the 300 years of educational and commercial progress of the old "Isle of Manhattan." This pageant is to be a land and water affair and will take place in Central Park.

So great are the crowds of sightseers who want to see the big ships of the Hamburg-American Line, that the officials have been obliged to restrict visitors to the largest vessels on sailing days to relatives and friends of passengers. To this end special passes are now in use. Four of these are issued to each passenger on the sailing list, and no one is admitted to the vessel on sailing day without the special pass. Sightseers from the inland States may still have the opportunity to inspect the vessels while they are lying in port, but no more can they come down and straggle on with those who have come to speed the departing travelers.

A new trade school for girls, where dressmaking, millinery, and the making of white goods will be taught, has been opened in this city. The chief aim of the school is to fit the girls for work in the factories at the highest wage, instead of having them start in the factories as beginners. There is a steady demand for skilled labor in the dress industries and manufacturers pay as high as $7 to $9 a week for trained girls. If the girls learn the trade in the factory they can earn only $3 as beginners. The course of instruction in the new school lasts six weeks and nearly 200 girls have been enrolled. They are either immigrants or daughters of immigrants.

New York City is the leading market for common brick in the United States, hundreds of millions of brick being used here annually. The principal source of this supply is the Hudson River region, extending from New York to Cohoes on both sides of the river. The region produced 1,125,308,000 bricks in 1913, valued at $5,636,061. Large as these figures are, they show a decrease of 207,879,000 bricks and $1,497,116 in value compared with 1912. The average price obtained for brick last years was $5.50 a thousand. Notwithstanding the fact that the expenditures for building operations in New York city decreased about 35 per cent, in 1913 compared with 1912, the number of brick marketed decreased less than half as much, thus showing that the use of brick in building is expanding, and that they are also being used more extensively than ever before for other purposes, such as sewers and subways.

OPENING DAY

(Because Store is Closed on Saturdays)

THE AUGUST FURNITURE SALE

(ORIGINAL)

New York Takes Advantage of Existing Conditions

To Get Our Certified Good Furniture at Something Off Our Regular Standard Prices

An Opportune Time to Buy

There are favorable times to buy furniture just as these are favorable days to buy American bonds and stocks under the pressure of the war news.

The August Furniture Sale

Dating back to a time when not one of any of the existing general stores dealt in furniture, so far as we know, we organized the semi-annual Furniture Sales. They were popular and well patronized because the policy and plan were sound and the sales were genuinely conducted.

A Lifetime Furniture Experience

There are few, if any, in the retail Furniture business that know as much about the many and various makes of furniture as we have learned, not only by our long experience in purchasing and guiding manufacturers, but by actual contact with hundreds and thousands of customers who have proved by use the excellence and durability of the Furniture we sell. The ordinary advertised Furniture Sale is often like the intangible roar of a big, empty seashell. A very little examination invariably shows that its foundations are very slim outside of unsalable stocks and small lots made up cheaply for August Sales.

Furniture Selling Here Is Different

Eight Timely Considerations for This August

(1) We sell only sterling furniture, barring all meretricious stuff.
(2) The August sale stocks are of exactly the qualities we sell every month in the year, which our regular customers buy and recommend to their friends.
(3) The variety is much more extensive than ever.
(4) The August sale consists of special lots made for us at reduced prices by some of our favorite manufacturers, by whom our regular and frequent orders are appreciated, plus other regular goods on which we take a loss only at this time in the year.
(5) Every piece of furniture on our floors is priced less than the July prices, and the tickets tell the story plainly and faithfully.
(6) Some of the pieces show but a small saving, but even that is an actual saving.
(7) Very many pieces of splendid quality, desirable from every point of view, we are enabled to offer, in this Sale, at very considerable reductions from prices at which they recently sold.
(8) This being an exceptionally important sale, I commend it especially.

Happenings Due This Week

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2—The working out of the Mexican problem, the progress of the trust legislation in Congress and possible developments in the European war scare, combine to give promise of an abundance of live news during the week. In addition, the beginning of August will see the warming up of political campaigns in many parts of the country.

Politicians will centre their attention particularly on Kansas and Missouri, where general primaries are to be held tomorrow for the selection of candidates for United States Senator and Representatives in Congress and, in Kansas, a complete State ticket from Governor down. In both States public interest is confined largely to the senatorial contests. Both Senator Stone, of Missouri, and Senator Bristow, of Kansas, are candidates for renomination and both have opposition. The results of the voting in Kansas will be carefully analyzed, since they may be expected to afford a more or less reliable indication of the relative strength of the three parties in the next election.

Numerous large conventions are scheduled for the week. At Niagara Falls there will be held an important conference of Catholics of the United States and Canada favorable to the prohibition of the liquor traffic. Other gatherings of more or less interest will be the convention of the Knights of Pythias, at Winnipeg; the meeting of the supreme council of the Knights of Columbus, at St. Paul; the annual convention of the American Osteopathic Association, at Philadelphia; the national gathering of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, at Kansas City, and the annual meeting of the Association of Canada Clubs, at Vancouver.

Dr. Jose Vicento Concha, the newly elected President of the Republic of Colombia, will be installed in office Friday. Other events of the week abroad will include the World Church Peace Conference, at Constance, Germany; the tenth International Esperanto Congress, in Paris, and the International Dental Congress and the International Veterinary Congress, both of which will hold forth in London.

Other events of the week will include the arrival of the Dominion's Royal Commission in Canada, the dedication of a statue of Baron von Steuben, at Utica, N. Y.; the annual regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, at Philadelphia, and the jubilee celebrations in Montana in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of Montana territory and the twenty-fifth anniversary of Statehood.

ESPERANTISTS MEET IN PARIS.

Paris, Aug. 3.—Six thousand delegates, representing practically all of the civilized countries of the world, have gathered in Paris to take part in the tenth International Esperanto Congress. The meeting will last ten days and undoubtedly will be the most notable in the history of the international organization. Six States of the United States are officially represented at the congress. They are New York, Illinois, Massachusetts, Louisiana, North Carolina and South Carolina. The Paris municipal council has appropriated about $25,000 for the entertainment of the delegates.

MAINE'S ANCHOR UNVEILED.

Reading, Pa., Aug. 2.—The anchor of the battleship Maine, which was destroyed in Havana Harbor in 1898, was unveiled here Saturday. After the ill-fated vessel had been raised several years ago the anchor was obtained by this city and has been placed in one of the public parks as a memorial to the sailor dead. The unveiling was made the occasion for interesting ceremonies, in which Governor Tener and other public men took part.

KING HAAKON'S BIRTHDAY.

Christiania, Aug. 3.—Flags were displayed on all public buildings today in honor of the forty-second birthday anniversary of King Haakon VII. During the day his Majesty received messages of greeting from the rulers of nearly all the countries of Europe.

DENTAL CONGRESS.

London, Aug. 3.—With delegates present from more than twenty countries of Europe and America, the Sixth International Dental Congress assembled in London today and will continue in session through the week. The United States is officially represented at the congress by a delegation headed by Dr. Charles W. Rodgers, of Boston.

UTICA HONORS VON STEUBEN.

Utica, N. Y., Aug. 3.—Utica's "old home week" celebration, for which preparations have been making for nearly a year, was ushered in today with the unveiling of a statue of Baron von Steuben, "the drillmaster of the Revolution," who is buried near this city, on the estate presented to him by Congress. The unveiling was accompanied by interesting exercises. The German Ambassador, Count von Bernstorff, delivered the oration. Another of the speakers was Dr. Hexammer, president of the German-American Alliance.

STEWARDS MEET IN BOSTON.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 3.—Six hundred stewards from all sections of the United States and Canada are to be in Boston this week in attendance at the annual convention of the International Stewards' Association. The sessions will begin tomorrow and continue through Thursday. Jacob Miller, of Chicago, president of the organization, will preside. The convention will conclude Thursday night with a banquet at which Governor Walsh, Mayor Curley and others of prominence will deliver addresses.

ion in the acceptance that it would not interfere with similar courtesies being extended to other belligerent countries. Whether this plan is acceptable to Germany is not known.

Washington, Aug. 3.—President Wilson will appeal to Congress today for an immediate appropriation of $250,000 for the relief of any American citizens now stranded in Europe. Prompt action on the part of both House and Senate is virtually assured.

An arrangement is being made with New York bankers whereby those abroad may be supplied with funds through the medium of the State department.

Battleships or other ships of the Navy will not be used for bringing Americans home from Europe, it was positively stated by the Navy department officials today. Secretary Bryan and Secretary Daniels conferred today as soon as they reached their offices and this decision was reached. The prohibitive cost of sending warships is given as the reason for advocating sending merchant ships instead of army and navy transports or ships of war to bring stranded Americans out of the danger zone in Europe.

Washington, Aug. 3—The French Ambassy today requested the newspapers to carry a proclamation urging all subjects of France in the United States who are able to bear arms to return home.

New York, August 3—A cablegram was received this morning by the North German Lloyd S. S. Company from Bremen, to the effect that a wireless message had been sent to Captain Charles Polock, of the Kronprinzessin Cecelie, directing that that vessel which has on board $10,600,000 in gold consigned to London and Paris banks, proceed direct to Bremen without stopping at Plymouth or Cherbourg. Nothing has been heard of her reported capture.

Phelps Brothers, agents for the Austro-American Steamship Line, in this city, announced this morning that they had received a cable from the home office to the effect that the S. S. Kaiser Franz Josef I., which was due to sail from Trieste on Saturday, had not sailed and would be held there indefinitely. The Martha Washington, of the same line, arrived here this morning, and the agents said they would immediately notify the home office and ask for instructions as to its further movement.

The Cunard Line, this morning, issued notice that the sailings of the Lusitania from New York, August 6, and the Franconia from Boston, August 4, are deferred pending further instructions from the home office.

It was officially announced, this morning, that the Red Star Line steamer Vaderlands sailing on August 8, had been deferred.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Following conferences with several Washington bankers, Senate and House leaders have prepared an amendment to the Owen Emergency Currency Bill to change the $500,000,000 issue to an unlimited amount.

The bill to amend the law relating to emergency currency was presented in the House for passage shortly after the House met.

New York, Aug. 3.—Despatches in the New York morning papers stated that the $100,000,000 emergency currency to be issued under the Aldrich Vreeland act would be for the New York banks alone. It is learned from a high official source that this currency will be for banks throughout the United States as well.

Paul M. Warburg gave an interview at Washington, in which he said that he believes that the Aldrich Vreeland act, as it would be amended, would be of great importance to American bankers. He said that he thought there was no reason why Americans should become unduly alarmed. "The situation as it is today," said Mr. Warburg, "is not one in which there is the least reason for this country to lose its head. Of course it is too soon to map out a complete policy for the United States in regard to the financial contingencies that may arise as a result of European developments. The country is in a splendid condition to meet what strains may be put upon it. The treasury was never better prepared to assist the business of the country." The Clearing House Association this morning voted to issue clearing house certificates.

The following is the formal resolution adopted by the Clearing House: "At the meeting of the New York Clearing House Association, this morning the situation abroad was discussed and its bearing on the business of this country. It is the opinion universally expressed that in view of conditions existing in all countries of Europe, every means should be adopted to protect the gold supply in the United States, and it was therefore voted that at the present time the Clearing House Association be placed upon a certificate basis."

A second resolution was also adopted making available in payment of balances all forms of currency issued under the authority of the National Government. This indicates the desire on the part of the bankers to use freely the currency issued through National Currency Associations and to care to the fullest extent for the requirements of their correspondents and the needs of inland exchange.

Controller of the Currency Williams arrived at the sub-treasury shortly after 9 o'clock accompanied by Messrs. Hamlin and Harding of the Federal Reserve Board. So far none of the leading bankers have been in consultation with the government treasury officials, but it is considered likely that a meeting will be held later in the day. Announcement was made that Secretary McAdoo had returned to Washington.

At a meeting of bankers, this morning, it was agreed that when checks for currency demanded for the same, to pay in checks on Clearing House banks. This is a repetition of the policy which was adopted in 1907. It was stated that the Clearing House certificates will be issued on the basis of 75 per cent. of the securities accepted as collateral. The amounts of the certificates will be governed by the requirements and by the collateral accepted. The interest rate will be 6 per cent..

At a meeting of the New York State Savings Bank Association it was unanimously decided to exercise the 60 day privilege with regard to withdrawal. This applies to all the savings banks throughout New York State and was recommended by State Superintendent of Banks Richards.

It was unanimously decided that depositors could draw sums from $25 to $50 on their accounts. It was also decided that the individual banks might use discretion with respect to withdrawals larger than the amounts mentioned. In case larger amounts are withdrawn the State superintendent of banks will use his discretion as to the advisability of placing restrictions upon such institutions. It is not believed, however, in view of the grave situation that he will find it necessary to restrict any of the savings banks in this connection.

At a meeting of the foreign exchange houses this morning it was decided not to do any business today.

At a meeting of the Board of Managers of the New York Coffee Exchange this morning, it was decidesd to keep the Exchange closed indefinitely.

New York, Aug. 3.—At a special meeting of the Governors of the New York Stock Exchange, the following resolution was adopted: "Resolved, that a special committee of five appointed by the governing commission on July 31, be and is hereby authorized during the present closing of the exchange to decide all questions relative to business of the exchange and its members.

Although the financial machinery is gradually being put in condition so as to permit the resumption of business, stock exchange officials state that there are so many details to be arranged and such important matters to be considered that an early opening of the Exchange is not to be looked for. In a discussion this morning some of the leading members agreed that the Exchange will remain closed for a week longer at least, for the purpose of facilitating liquidation of open contracts between members of the Cotton Exchange prior to August. 3. A committe of five has been appointed who shall meet daily at 10 a. m., pending further opening of the Exchange.

At the meeting of the Board of Managers of the New York Cotton Exchange today, it was decided to close the Exchange indefinitely. Notice of re-opening will be given twenty-four hours in advance.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Information has been received here that the United States Steel Corporation has 25 steel ships that will be utilized in foreign trade. It is expected that the vessels will be diverted to this trade immediately in line with the understanding of the administration that many of the coastwise vessels will be diverted to the foreign trade

It is stated that the ships of the United States Steel Corporation can be made ready for carrying grain so as to be available for the service within a week. If the bill permitting these boats to come under the American Merchant Marine, so that they can enter the service under the American flag is passed this afternoon, steps will be taken at once to convert all of the corporation's boats into grain carrying crafts.

Vera Cruz, Aug. 3.—The Hamburg American Liner Antonia, which sailed from this port on Friday last with a large number of German reservists is being held at Tampico by the Constitutionalists because the German captain of the vessel had refused to hand over two Huertist passengers. Washington, Aug. 3.—To help meet the emergency in the shipment of mail, passengers and freight from the United States to foreign ports, the Weeks Bill, to establish one or more United States Navy mail liners between this country and South America was favorably reported from the committee on naval affairs today and passed by the Senate. The Senate adopted amendment offered by Senator Williams, of Mississippi, extending the use of the naval vessels employed in this service to European ports as well as South American.

Washington, Aug. 4—President Wilson made a request on Congress, today, through a special message that was read in both the Senate and the House for an immediate appropriation of $250,000 for the relief of the American citizens now stranded in Europe. The message read: The present disturbance in Europe with the consequent interruption of transportation facilities, the increased cost of living expenses, coupled with the difficulty of obtaining money from this country have placed a large number of American citizens temporarily and permanently resident in Europe in a serious situation, and has made it necessary for the United States to provide relief and transportation to the United States or to places of safety. The situation has also thrown upon our diplomatic and consular officers an enormous burden in caring for the interest of Americans in the disturbed areas and makes it necessary to provide for greatly increased expenses. In view of the exigencies of the situation as outlined, I recommend the immediate passage by the Congress of an act appropriating $250,000 or so much therof as may be necessary to be placed at the disposal of the President for the relief, protection and transportation of American citizens for personal services and for other expenses which may be incurred in connection with or growing out of the existing disturbance in Europe.

The President is to see the railroad managers and representatives of the employes later in the day.

Mewed Louder Than the Other Kitties.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — How the Kitty Found His Pur.

"WHAT are you going to tell us tonight, daddy?" cried Evelyn as she reached daddy's knee first in the race with Jack to hear the evening story. "Make it different again, please."

"Well, girlie, I like that!" exclaimed daddy, pretending to be very much hurt. "Aren't they all different?"

"Yes," replied Evelyn, cuddling close to him, "but some of them are more different than others."

"You shall be rewarded, Miss Muffet." said daddy and told his story.

"Kitties were not always as they are now, you know, my dears, because there were no nice houses with warm fires for them to lie beside and get fat and become very lazy. People then used to live in caves and eat things raw, for it was before they learned to make fires by rubbing dry sticks together. Some day I must tell you about that, but that will be another story.

"The kitties used to run wild, just like the people, and they were not pets because in those days nobody petted anything, it was too hard to make a living. The poor kitties had hard work to get along, for they were about the littlest things there were, and everybody and everything picked on them.

"Now, you know, children, that when a kitty purs it is a sign that it is happy and contented. But the kitties had no pur in those days. They could only mew because they were so mournful, and life was so hard for them that they mewed a great deal, so between mewing when they were mournful and yowling when they were fighting they annoyed the cave people a great deal and had to dodge a great many rocks that the cave people threw at them.

"But there was a kitty whose name was Nogli, and he changed all this. It was by accident. Nogli was a very mournful cat with a sad life, and he mewed louder than the other kitties, so that he was a nuisance, and the cave people chased him, hoping to eat him raw. One day he was tired out from being chased, and he just dropped down in the forest, all petered out, and he smelled something right under him. And he smelled and sniffed and smelled, and then he began to roll and roll and roll, and then all of a sudden he found his pur, and he purred and purred and purred, and the other kitties heard him purring, and they came running, and they all sniffed and rolled and purred, too, and the cave children heard the purring that was like thunder, and they came running, and then they laughed and laughed and lugged the kitties off to their caves for pets and some of the green stuff, too, the stuff that made them pur."

"Oh, I know," cried Jack; "Nogli found catnip!"

"Right!" said daddy. "Now be off to bed."

REV. DR. J. A. CHAMBLISS OCCUPIES FORMER PULPIT

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, former pastor of the First Baptist church, occupied the pulpit of that church, yesterday, morning and evening, preaching two eloquent sermons to large congregations, who were glad of the opportunity to hear the doctor again. Prior to the morning service, Dr. Chambliss addressed the Sunday-school, expressing his pleasure over being privileged to meet the members. Arthur M. Harris, superintendent of the school, also made a few remarks in introducing the former pastor. William Holmes, of the church choir, acted as precentor at both the morning and evening service.

In the evening the weekly union service was held at the First Baptist church, Dr. Chambliss preaching the sermon. He was assisted by pastors of the uniting churches. The large congregation thoroughly enjoyed the discourse.

FIELD HOSPITAL IN CAMP AT SEA GIRT

Among the members of the Field Hospital Corps of the New Jersey National Guard who left for Sea Girt, Saturday, were Major H. D Corbusier, Colis Case and Cedric Ostrom, of this city, who have been active in the work since the organization was founded. The troop consists of sixty-five officers and men more than a dozen of whom come from Union county. The members are all recruited from the Second and Third Regiments.

The troop marched from the Elizabeth Armory to the New Jersey Central freight yards at that place, Saturday morning, and there took up their arduous work of loading their wagons on the flat cars which have been provided for their use. Eight wagons and one automobile will be used. At Sea Girt the troop set up a regulation hospital and open shop which will be used not only for practice, but for any of the guardsmen who might become ill. Major Corbusier is in charge.

—If you have a really desirable house or apartment to rent, your "ad" will constitute GOOD NEWS to some [illegible] people in this city.

PRESENT NEW BUS ORDINANCE

Many Objections In Original Measure Are Removed.

COUNCIL HAS CONTROL

No Street Restrictions Unless Vehicles Prove a Nuisance—Councilman Claybrook Explains the Changes.

Regarding the original ordinance providing for the licensing and restricting the operation of auto buses in the city, Councilman R. A. Claybrook, at the August meeting of the Council, last night, introduced a new ordinance, which was read for information and will be acted upon later when all the members are present. The original ordinance placed all the power for licensing and restricting auto bus operation in the hands of the Mayor and gave him what some considered too much power in the matter. Under that ordinance he could restrict the streets over which the vehicles could be operated and this raised a storm of protests, especially from the merchants who have learned to realize the benefits already derived from this means of transportation.

The new ordinance places the governing power in the hands of the Common Council and does not restrict streets over which auto buses shall run, but it does give the Council the right to prohibit the use of any certain street, provided the operation of a bus thereon is found to be a nuisance. It provides for a license fee of $15 for each vehicle and provides for reasonable regulations for this kind of business.

Mr. Claybrook, in presenting the ordinance, called attention to the fact that there had been a great protest against the original ordinance, and not one commendatory word, hence the object in drafting a new ordinance which had been prepared with considerable care. He said that the owners of auto buses had been consulted and informed as to the new ordinance and they had approved of its provisions.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT OF MISS MADELINE REED

Corporation Counsel and Mrs. Charles A. Reed, of Woodland avenue, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Madeline Reed, to William Arrott, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Arrott, of Philadelphia. Miss Reed is a member of the younger society set and has been a popular patron of the numerous social functions held in the city and borough.

Mr. Arrott was a student at the University of Pennsylvania and is now engaged in the insurance brokerage business in Philadelphia. No date has been set for the wedding.

POPULAR YOUTH DIES SUDDENLY

Charles W. Lindsay, of North Plainfield, Passed Away This Morning.

WELL-KNOWN ATHLETE

Suffered Loss of Leg Early In the Spring, But Had Fully Recovered When Stricken With Fatal Illness Five Weeks Ago.

Charles W. Lindsay, one of the borough's most widely known young men and an usually popular one among the younger set, died suddenly at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lindsay, of Mountain avenue, this morning. The young man was 19 years of age and had been ill for a period of five weeks with pleurisy, but his condition was not considered critical until a short time before his death.

Mr. Lindsay was a member of the 1914 class of the North Plainfield High School, but left that institution of learning in 1912 to go West for the purpose of studying agricultural methods. After a year in that section he returned to his father's poultry farm on Mountain avenue and assumed the duties of manager. He was forced to abandon this employment several months ago, however, when a growth developed on his left leg, that member gradually losing its usefulness. He submitted to several operations in Flower Hospital, New York city, but secured little relief and it was finally deemed best to amputate the member above the knee. His remarkable physique aided him in a speedy recovery after his long seige in the New York institution and early in the spring he was brought to his home in North Plainfield.

Since that time he had been walking with the aid of crutches, being able to get around among his companions and attend athlete contests, of which he was particularly fond. He regained his usual good health and had apparently become resigned to his great misfortune. His jovial disposition and never ceasing demand for companionship always made him the popular host of the younger people and although suffering from the loss of a leg he once more assumed his duties at his father's farm in an executive manner.

Five weeks ago the young man contracted a heavy cold which soon developed into pneumonia. While in the borough High School he was one of the best known members of his class. The deceased is survived by his parents, one brother and two sisters. The funeral services will be held at his parents' home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be made in Hillside cemetery.

REQUESTS THE REMOVAL OF SIGN

C. B. LaRue Says Its Display On Gloekler Property Is a Violation.

ASKS FOR AN OPINION

Corporation Counsel Disagrees With Petitioner, But Grants Him the Right to Sue and Recover For Himself the Penalty.

Believing that Christian Gloekler, who two years ago was denied a liquor license, is violating the law in allowing his sign to remain over his former place of business at Front and Somerset street, Clarence B. LaRue, chairman of what is termed the Good Citizenship Committee, wrote President George S. Clay, of the Common Council on the subject. He expressed the opinion that Mr. Gloekler was violating section 34 of the inn and tavern act. This letter was referred to Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed, who returned an opinion to Mr. Clay in which he states that he does not think the law is being violated. Mr. Reed's opinion is as follows:

August 3rd, 1914.

Geo. S. Clay,
President of Common Council,
Plainfield, N. J.

Dear Mr. Clay:—I have yours of the 1st inst., enclosing letter of July 25th addressed to the Mayor by Mr. Clarence B. LaRue, as chairman of the Good Citizenship Committee, complaining that Christian Gloekler is violating Section 34 of the Inns and Tavern Act, by allowing his liquor sign to remain in front of his building, and asking the Mayor, "Would it not be wise to see that Mr. Gloekler complies with the law?" This letter having been referred by the Mayor to you because of his absence, you ask me to advise you as to the law.

The statute referred to by Mr. LaRue was originally adopted in 1846 and it forbids any person, not having a license to keep an inn and tavern "to put up or keep up near his dwelling house any sign or other device usually employed to denote the keeping of an inn and tavern."

In order to procure license to keep such a hostelry it was necessary that the applicant prove that he "was of good repute for honesty and temperance, and had at least two spare beds more than were necessary for the family's use and was well provided with houseroom and stabling and provender for man and beast."

Evidently the purpose of the statue was to prevent the luring of weary travelers up some country lane in the belief that at the end their journey would be rewarded by such meat, drink and accommodations as are usually appurtenant to licensed hotels, where in fact a farmhouse only existed.

The statute goes on to provide that any person offending shall forfeit five dollars and costs to be recovered in an action of debt by any person who may sue for the same. Thus the disappointed wayfarer was given an opportunity to get even.

The sign of which Mr. LaRue complains is on the building in which Gloekler was formerly licensed to keep a saloon (never an inn and tavern), and it reads "Wines—Chris Gloekler—Liquors."

The signs or devices usually employed, when the statute was passed, to denote an inn and tavern were many, but so far as known the words —"Wines — John Doe — Liquors," were not among them. Such a sign would naturally indicate a liquor dealer, wholesale or retail shop. Certainly to the normal mind it would not convey the idea of spare beds, meals and provender for beasts.

I am unable, therefore, to advise you that Mr. Gloekler is violating the statute referred to—or any other. If Mr. LaRue thinks otherwise he is free to bring suit and recover for himself the penalty.

Aside from the legal aspect of the matter, the letter in question proves beyond peradventure that Plainfield is peculiarly blessed. That the energetic chairman of its Good Citizenship Committee can find time to devote to this matter shows that no serious evil can long exist within her borders without being brought to light. What other towns can boast of so high degree of civic virtue?

Respectfully yours,
CHARLES A. REED,
Corporation Counsel.

PAPERS FILED IN $50,000 SUIT

F. L. C. Martin Seeks to Recover That Sum From New York Concern.

HEALTH IS IMPAIRED

Action Brought Against VanHorn & Sawtell, Through Reed & Hetfield, Alleges Mistake In Filling a Prescription.

Frank L. C. Martin, of this city, through his counsel, Red & Hetfield, yesterday filed papers in the United States District Court against Van Horn & Sawtell, New York chemists, in which he seeks to recover $50,000 for impairment of health, which he claims is permanent, and for heavy financial losses to say nothing of physical torture following an operation performed on May 25, 1913.

Prior to the operation physicians diagnosed Mr. Martin's symptoms as those of one suffering from a stone in the kidneys, and it was finally decided to operate. There was required a local anaesthetic, and the physicians, it is claimed, placed an order for the liquid with Van Horn & Sawtell. It was to contain a certain drug in sterilized water, but when used for injections, it is alleged that instead of water, alcohol was used, and the solution is said to have caused an inflammation of the intestines which resulted in a permanent disability.

Two operations were necessary after that, it is claimed, and Mr. Martin was confined to his bed for more than a year. The operation was performed by local physicians. It is said that the claim of the defendant company is that part of Mr. Martin's troubles would doubtless have resulted anyway.

Mr. Martin sets up a claim of heavy financial losses, great injury and physical suffering. Mr. Martin has been engaged in the automobile business both in Plainfield and Newark for many years, but during his long illness has been obliged to give up active duties. His physical condition is said to indicate that his injury is a permanent one from which he will never recover. He is able to be out, but it is claimed that he is unable to attend to business as formerly.

ARTHUR C. REED IS A BENEDICT

Announcement Made of His Marriage to Miss Lyde Thornton In June.

An announcement that will occasion considerable surprise and interest among Plainfield friends, is that of the marriage of Arthur C. Reed, the eldest son of Corporation Counsel and Mrs. Charles A. Reed, of Woodland avenue. The bride was Miss Lyde Thornton, of Springfield, Mass., and the ceremony was performed in New York city on June 2, 1913, by a Reformed church clergyman. The couple is now living in Brooklyn, Mr. Reed being engaged in business in New York.

Announcement of the wedding was withheld from relatives and friends of the couple at the time the ceremony was performed and as they have been living in New York and vicinity since then it was not until this week that the Plainfield friends learned of the marriage, and consequently it came as a surprise. Mr. Reed is well-known both here and in the borough, where he has many friends and acquaintances.

STATE TRUST WILL PAY DEPOSITORS ON DEMAND

The State Trust Company announces that in spite of the fact that the New York city and State Savings Banks are taking advantage of their rules and requiring 60 days' notice for the withdrawal of funds, it will continue to pay depositors in its savings department, on demand as heretofore; this is another argument in favor of keeping one's savings in Plainfield rather than in New York.

ENGLAND SENDS ULTIMATUM TO GERMANY ON BELGIAN POSITION-- RELIEF FOR AMERICANS ABROAD

President Has Had Arrangements Completed to Send the Tennessee to England--Americans Will Not be Permitted to Leave Germany--Proclamation of Neutrality Issued--Kronprinzessin Cecile is at Bar Harbor, Maine--Congress Passes Emergency Currency Measure--Arbitration Resolution.

(Special by Central News.)

Washington, Aug. 4.—The armored cruiser Tennessee will sail tomorrow night for Europe with the gold for the relief of Americans who are stranded there. The warship will carry upwards of $2,500,000 of government specie and more than twice that amount contributed by express and bonding companies and banks.

Washington, Aug. 4.—President Wilson is preparing today to ask Congress for $2,500,000 in gold for the purpose of relieving Americans in Europe and in bringing them back to the United States. It is the plan of the administration to ask the consent of the warring nations to permit a United States war vessel to carry the gold to the European countries where the distress is greatest. The decision of the President was reached after a conference with Benj. Strong, president of the Bankers Trust Company, of New York, and Counsel Patterson, of the American Express Company. Secretary Bryan, Counsellor Lansing, of the State department and Secretary McAdoo also were present at the conference. Mr. Bryan today is preparing a request on the governments of Europe asking for permission to send relief ships and this will be submitted through the various embassies.

Assistant Secretary of Navy Roosevelt called at the White House later and conferred with the President. He reported that if a war vessel were requisitioned for the conveyance of the relief fund, the armored cruiser Tennessee now at New York, could be made ready within 24 hours.

Mr. Roosevelt also stated that the armored cruiser North Carolina, now at Hampton Roads, was available. Secretary Daniels announced that Assistant Secretary Roosevelt and Captain Bristol, of the Bureau of Operations, would co-operate with Mr. Miller in the disbursement of the money and in the dispatch of ships for the return of Americans.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Germany officially notified the United States today that during the continuance of the war no one would be allowed to leave the empire. This includes Americans who now virtually are prisoners in the Kaisers' dominions.

The announcement that all travel across the frontier of Germany would cease, was conveyed to Secretary Bryan by Dr. Eidler, Charge De Affairs of the German Embassy. It was understood that only Reservists returning to report for duty with their regiments would be granted admission to the empire. Those who are now in Germany, Germans and foreigners alike, will not be permitted to leave during the mobolization or movement of armies. This method, it is nuderstood, is being inaugurated by Germany as a guard against any news of her military movements becoming known to the forces that are opposing on several sides. Eidler declined to discuss the reason for the issue of the order contenting himself with merely transmitting it formally to this government.

New York, Aug 4.—Conferences were held in Washington, last night, between Secretary of State Bryan, Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, Mr. Miller of the Federal Reserve Reserve Board, Benjamin Strong, president of the Bankers Trust Company, and T. B. Harrison, counsel for the American Express Company, at which plans were perfected for reaching all the American travelers abroad to furnish them with funds and transportation for home. A number of large institutions in this city are furnishing gold which will be transported to Europe, in a government vessel. Gold is now being withdrawn from the sub treasury by the Bankers Trust Company for this purpose.

Plans are being perfected by the Bankers Trust Company to ship from $3,500,000 to $5,000,000 in gold to Europe to assist stranded Americans abroad. The arrangements depend upon definite advices from Washington, which are expected within the next few hours. It is planned to send the gold preferably on the United States cruiser, but if necessary on a battleship.

England has sent an ultimatum to Germany demanding an answer in twelve hours regarding her attitude toward Belgium.

The armored cruiser Tennessee will leave tomorrow night with over $2,500,000 in gold, to be used to bring stranded Americans home from abroad.

Americans abroad are in a pitiable condition because of lack of funds or the ability to exchange their American letters of credit and money for foreign currency.

Americans in Germany will not be permitted to leave that country until the war is over. Word to this effect was conveyed to the State Department at Washington today.

Kronprinzessin Cecile, the $10,000,000 treasure ship, which has been reported captured by an English fleet, arrived at Bar Harbor, Maine, this morning.

A resolution has been introduced in the United States Senate, urging the President, through diplomatic channels, to offer the services of this country to the end that war might be averted.

Both House and Senate at Washington passed the Emergency Currency Bill.

John Burns, president of the British Board of Trade, and Viscount Morley, president of the council, have resigned from the cabinet, because they cannot agree with England's war policy.

President Wilson has issued the proclamation of neutrality for the United States.

Washington, Aug. 4.—President Wilson today issued the executive proclamation of neutrality outlining the attitude of the United States in the present struggle in Europe. Americans in the countries now locked in deadly strife are given grave warnings as to the manner in which they should conduct themselves. The warring nations also are warned that this government will not permit them to use United States waters or territory in any manner for war purposes.

Washington, Aug. 4.—A resolution expressing it as the judgment of the Senate that the President should through diplomatic channels, offer the good services of the United States to the foreign nations to the end that the European war might be averted was introduced in the Senate today by Senator McCumber, of North Dakota. The resolution was referred to the foreign relations committee, of which McCumber is a member. The resolution suggests that arbitration or mediation may result in the termination of the differences now existing among the nations of Europe.

London, Aug. 4.—(Central News Cable)—The offices of all the trans-Atlantic Steamship Companies were today besieged by American tourists, frantic with anxiety to get home. Hundreds of them are in a pitiable plight being unable to secure English currency for the American paper money and travellers checks which they carry. The offices of both the German lines, the North German -Lloyd and the Hamburg-American are closed and the sailings of the vessels of all other lines are indefinite and problematical. Much satisfaction was caused by the announcement that the United States government has promptly appropriated a large sum for the relief of American citizens stranded here and on the continent.

London, Aug. 4.—(Central News Cable.)—It is officially announced today that the Right Honorable John Burns, president of the Board of Trade and Viscount Morley, Lord President of the Council, have resigned from the Cabinet owing to their inability to agree with the governments warlike policy. The resignation of John Burns was tendered last night, but owing to strong representations being made to him by his colleagues, he did not reach a final decision until this morning.

It is officially announced that the

London, Aug. 4.—(Central News Cable.)—The British government has this evening sent a twelve hour ultimatum to Germany demanding that the neutrality of Belgium be respected. This ultimatum expires at midnight tonight.

Washington, Aug. 4.—France now has advised the governments of the world that she is a state of war. The official notification was received today at the State department. The despatch did not contain any information as to a declaration of war, having been made by that nation against any other European Power.

Paris Aug. 4.—Several bills are expected to be introduced in Parliament shortly to meet the expenses of the war and to regulate business. One of the measures will authorize the Bank of France to increase its note issue to $2,400,000,000. On July 30 the notes in circulation were approximately $1,340,000,000. A second measure will extend the moratorium and will impute house rent.

London, Aug. 1.—The Central News was informed this morning from the French Embassy, that the German Ambassador yesterday presented a note to the French Premier, M. Viviani in Paris, stating that owing to alleged flights of French aviators over Germany and Belgium, his country considered itself now in a state of war with France. Premier Viviani denied the statement and reminded the Ambassador of Germany's aggressions last Saturday. The Ambassador thereafter left Paris with the entire staff of the Embassy. The Consulate and the Bavarian Legation. M. Viviani afterwards requested the German government to hand the French Ambassador at Berlin his passport.

Brusels, Aug. 4.—(Central News Cable.)—The German army is advancing in three columns from Luxemburg, the first toward Longwy; the second toward Villerupt, while the third is marching on Thionville. A telegram from Civet this morning, states that both the Germans and the French armies are blowing up all stations on the frontier.

Stockholm, Aug. 4.—(Central News Cable.)—The members of the staff of the German Embassy, at St. Petersburg, arrived here last night by special steamer. They passed close by the Alada Islands, but report that they saw nothing to confirm the reported German ocupation of the Islands, nor did they see any signs of the reported naval battle between German and Russian squadrons in the neighborhood of the islands.

BUSINESS MEN ADD $15 IN MONEY PRIZES TO HOME TRADE CONTEST

Co-operation by the members of the Plainfield Business Men's Association has made it possible to broaden the scope of the Trade in Plainfield contest now being conducted by the Daily Press, and has also made it possible to offer additional cash prizes for well written letters

As a result of the offer made by the organization, prizes will now be given for the best argument in favor of trading in this city, as compared with other places, regardless of whether specific bargains are mentioned. In order to secure the Daily Press prizes, it will be necessary, however, to mention a store and a specific purchase that has been made in that store.

The matter was thoroughly discussed at the meeting of the Business Men's Association, last night. Those present thought that the contest would create more interest, and help the city more, if the scope was extended so that the prize winners could merely write good arguments in favor of buying in this city, and not necessarily be confined to describing a specific purchase. The additional prizes are $7.50 for the best argument in favor of trading in this city, $5 for the second best, and $2.50 for the third. This means that it is possible to win $17.50 for a first prize, if both the Business Men's Association and the Daily Press requirements are lived up to. For instance, a splendid argument may be presented showing the advantages of buying in Plainfield, and then a writer may go on to describe a purchase made from some advertiser in the Daily Press. The contest is thus opened to such letters as the following one received from a regular reader of the Press in Hackettstown:

"Contest Editor, Plainfield Daily Press:

"I have just noticed your prize offering contest in the Press, of which I am a subscriber of more than two years and always look forward to receiving it. I have bought sheets and cotton, clothes-baskets, house dresses and dress goods at Force's, and I have tried to get the same in Newark, but had to pay more, and I have tried here in Hackettstown to buy fruit-of-the-loom sheets, but cannot get them at the same price as at Plainfield. I intend to write to Mr. Force and ask him to let me do my trading by mail. I get my paper one day later than Plainfielders, which gives me Saturdays paper on Monday and by that time advertised sales are over. I have been in Plainfield a number of times and each time have saved more than my carfare, thanks to the Daily Press and I intend to keep right on trading there, even though I live here, as I save much more. I have lived in Plainfield all my life until coming here, so I know where I can get the best for the least money. Hoping that I can get the benefit of the advertising, even though I live here now, I am,

"MRS. H. B. STAGDARD."

The above letter is a good example of the type which are being received. If the writer could specifically mention the prices of some of the bargains, the letter would be strengthened, and it is not too late to try again. As it is, it makes the communication one to be considered by the judges, in view of the modified conditions.

The advertisement, explaining the changes, appears on another page of today's Daily Press.

DUNELLEN

All the Happenings of the Day In Plainfield's Hustling Suburb.

Robert Bogardus, who has been making the canvass of Dunellen for the Daily Press, in order to make public the present population figures of the borough, has been unable to complete his work in time to publish the answers in today's Daily Press, but expects to get through so that the announcement of the name of the winner of the $5 prize for the nearest guess to the actual number in the borough will be made in Thursday night's Press. A large number of answers have been received, and classified, and there is a wide range in them. As soon as the work is completed it will be possible to make the announcement, and the award will be promptly forwarded to the winner.

A special school meeting will be held at the New Market School, tonight, at which time the appropriation for the addition to the South Plainfield School will be voted upon. The estimated cost of the improvements is $12,500.

A. Wickham vs. Mrs. Fred S. Vail and Mrs. William Johnson. After tonight's games, which will practically wind up the tournament, as there will be only three more teams to bowl, the enthusiastic rooters of the four teams that are in the running for the first place honor should have some inkling as to the fate of their respective favorites. A record-breaking crowd is therefore looked for this evening.

He was applying the brake when for some reason or other it suddenly sprung around in an opposite direction from what he was turning it, throwing him to the tracks and three cars passing over his body. The deceased leaves a wife and two children.

TARPEY'S GOOD WORK.

Marshal Patrick Tarpey continues to sustain his reputation of being one of the most efficient and faithful marshals that this borough has ever had. By persistent and faithful sleuthing Marshal Tarpey has at last recovered the pistol valued at $5 that was stolen from the residence of Ernest Keppler, on Dunellen avenue, by the two boy burglars, John and George Urisco, about a couple of weeks ago. The pistol was traced to a Polock, who upon being cross-examined by the marshal, finally admitted that he had the pistol, but refused to give it up upon the ground that he had purchased it from the boys. Upon being told this, the marshal hotly exclaimed, "You will either give it up or be arrested." The Polock decided to divulge the information.

WILD WEST CIRCUS COMING TO DUNELLEN AND BOUND BROOK

Dunellen is to have its first circus and wild west in many years, if not in the history of the borough, on Friday, August 14, when the Tompkins Real Wild West and Cooper and Whitby Circus Combined, will show in the borough. The show will also appear in Bound Brook on Thursday, August 13.

George M. Forepaugh, in charge of the advance forces of this tented enterprise, and a score of rapidly moving assistants have been in both towns placing extensive billing and also in the surrounding country announcing the appearance of the show.

The business manner of Mr. Forepaugh and his assistants, and the superior quality of the paper posted would indicate there was something big following. The press and public in the cities in which this show has been exhibiting are exceedingly liberal in their praise of the performance and claim that there is not a misstatement made by the management of the enterprise, but that they positively present everything as advertised. It is a refined, refreshing and exact portraval of life in the far west as it really was in the early days and as it is at present and which in its entirety presents an interesting entertainment and amusing exhibition but one that is instructive as well and a great educator for the children.

Plainfield, N. J., Aug. 3, 1914.

AN ORDINANCE

For the Permanent Improvement of West Third Street in the City of Plainfield with Permanent and Durable Concrete Pavement, and to Provide the Necessary Funds in Advance of the Collection of Assessments for Benefits.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That West Third Street, from the northwesterly side line of Liberty Street to the southwesterly side line of Plainfield Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, shall be permanently improved with durable cement concrete pavement with bituminous coating and with the necessary drains and abutments or curbs. Said concrete pavement to be of the depth and width hereinafter specified, and all work to be given out upon contract to the lowest responsible bidder, and only after bids therefor shall have been solicited and received according to law.

Sec. 2. That said portion of West Third Street described in Section 1 shall be paved for the entire width between the curb lines of said streets and to the side lines of said street at the two intersecting streets, with Portland cement concrete six inches deep, with a bituminous coating. The underdrains shall be of three inch drain tile surrounded by broken stone, and the abutments or curbs shall be of Portland cement concrete, six inches thick at the top, twelve inches thick at the base, and twenty inches deep. The pavement shall be laid down to the grade already established by ordinance for said portion of said street.

Sec. 3. That for the purpose of obtaining money for the said permanent improvement of said portion of said street as aforesaid, in advance of the collection of assessments for benefits, the Common Council of the City does hereby authorize and direct, pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the issuing in the corporate name of the City, seven bonds of the denomination of $1,000 each, amounting in all to $7,000, and which said bonds shall bear date on the first day of July, 1914, and be payable in gold coin of the United States of the present standard of weight and fineness, within ten years from the date thereof, to wit: on the thirtieth day of June A. D. 1924, but shall be redeemable at the option of the maker at any time after the expiration of one year from the date thereof at par and interest accrued to the date of exercise of such option, and shall bear interest at the rate of five per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, upon surrender of the coupons annexed to said bonds as they severally become due.

Said bonds shall be signed by the Mayor and City Clerk and shall have the corporate seal of the City thereto affixed.

Coupons for the semi-annual interest may be annexed to said bonds, which coupons may bear the true or the facsimile signatures of the Mayor and City Clerk.

Said bonds shall be convertible into registered bonds at the option of the holder. Said bonds may severally or collectively be sold for an amount not less than the par value; and there shall be raised by tax in each year hereafter such sum of money as may be necessary to pay the interest on all such outstanding bonds and the principal of such thereof as may mature during that year; the money derived from the assessments upon property specially benefited shall, when collected, be held as a fund towards the payment of said bonds and interest, and shall be used for that purpose.

BURKE AND BONHAM AWARDED CONTRACT

Their Bid of $11,832.35 For Street Work Is the Lowest.

Under a suspended order of business at the August meeting of the Common Council, last night, bids were received for macadamizing certain streets previously incorporated in an ordinance. Four bids were received as follows: Charles Lentz and the Weldon Contracting Company, of Rahway; Burke & Bonham and S. S. Sabocher and Mobus Brothers, of Plainfield.

Burke & Bonham were the lowest bidders, their figures being $11,832.35. The second and third bidders were unusually close. Charles Lentz bid $12,600, while the Weldon Contracting Company's bid was $12,601. S. S. Sabocher and Mobus Brothers bid $13,269.

Later, Councilman Hylan reported on the bids and offered a resolution awarding Burke & Bonham the contract, and authorizing the signing of the usual form of agreement. The checks of the unsuccessful bidders were ordered returned to them.

BAD BOYS CHARGED WITH ANNOYING AN AGED WOMAN

Four boys, all of whom have long police records, were arraigned before City Judge W. G. DeMeza in the city court, this morning, charged with annoying an Italian woman living on North avenue. The boys were alleged to have called her names and to have thrown stones at her.

Those arrested were Patrick Long, Joseph and William Shubert and Jack Hoffmeister. The trouble-makers were severely scored by the court for their actions and given a suspended sentence with the understanding that a future appearance would mean the imposition of a fine.

LIVELY DISCUSSIONS AT BUS. MEN'S MEETING

Tilts Between Members of Association and Visitors at Last Night's Session.

Lively discussions of particular interest to the members occupied the time of the Plainfield Business Men's Association, at the August meeting held last night in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, in the Babcock building. Further plans were made for the second "Dollar Day" of the year, which will be held on September 2, and it was decided to hold another meeting on August 17 to make final arrangements. The Courier-News, Daily Press and Messenger will all give a page adv. in order to make the day a success, and a committee was named to draft the advertisement.

William Harding and William Dorlinger, representing the Trades Council, were present at the meeting, and the former spoke about the efforts being made by his organization to bring about six o'clock closing by the retail stores during the summer months. He said that all but two stores are closing at the present time and attacked their management for being "unfair" to organized labor, as he expressed it. Louis Pregar, Samuel Rothberg and Henry Rosenbaum took issue with Mr. Harding, and a spirited debate ensued for a half hour or more. They said that the matter was one for the merchants to decide. Mr. Harding said that the motto of the unions was "equal competition," and that they were doing all in their power to bring about that condition.

William H. Nichols appeared before the organization, and made a talk lasting nearly an hour, trying to convince the members that they should suspend the rule of the organization prohibiting advertising in anything but newspapers. Mr. Nichols did not find a very sympathetic audience, and at several times those present all tried to talk at once, so that no conclusion was reached. President A. E. Force, Jacob Tepper, Samuel Rothberg and J. J. Varley tried to convince him that it would be impossible to suspend the rule, but he could not see the strength of their arguments. Nothing was accomplished as a result of the discussion.

The Association decided to add $15 in cash to be divided into three prizes in the Trade in Plainfield contest now being conducted by the Daily Press, the money going to the persons writing the best arguments in favor of trading at home. Details of the offer will be found in another column.

CHURCH PROTESTS AGAINST AMENDMENT

Urge the Defeat of Measure Proposed By Councilman Graves.

Officers, including the pastor, Rev. M. W. Vaughan, of the Mt. Olive Baptist church, located at Liberty and West Third streets, entered a protest to the Common Council, last night, against the adoption of the amendment to the ordinance to license inns and taverns as proposed by Councilman Graves. This amendment, if adopted, would always insure a licensed place where the Clark saloon is now located opposite the church.

The communication from the church officers stated that they had nothing against the proprietor of the saloon, but objected to a licensed place being located within fifty feet of the main entrance to the church, proving a serious detriment to the church in its religious work.

Reference was also made to the gathering of men at that point in large numbers and the fact that people going to and from church were obliged to listen to bad language. An earnest appeal was made that the amendment be not passed in consequence of the complaint.

ONLY ONE BID RECEIVED FOR FURNISHING COAL

The Consumers' Coal Company, of this city, was the only concern that submitted a bid to the Common Council, last night, in response to the advertisement calling for bids to furnish the city with 250 tons more or less of coal for its departments. The company offered to furnish stove and nut coal at $6.20 per ton, 2,000 pounds. The bid was referred for further consideration. It was regretted that there was not more than one bid, showing a lack of competition.

VAGRANT DISCHARGED.

Picked up by Patrolman Welsh while wandering along the streets in an aimless fashion, Charles Spencer, colored, was lodged in a cell at police headquarters, last night, when he failed to give a satisfactory account of himself to the officer. Arraigned before City Judge W. G. DeMeza in the city court, this morning, he said his home was in Wilmington, Del., and he was enroute to Jersey City where he expected to find work.

WAR.

International complications abroad eclipse all previous wars in the history of the world. The strict censorship maintained makes it really difficult for the people of America to realize just how serious things are. But there is great consolation for the people of the United States in the knowledge that there is apparently no danger of us becoming involved in the troubles, and that our crops were never larger than they are this year. Come what may, this great nation is prepared to withstand a long closure of foreign ports, so far as the necessities of life are concerned. For a brief summary of the situation here, we commend the following from the Newark Sunday Call to our readers:

It seems to be war, and War is Hell. The United States stretches from ocean to ocean, from frozen North to torrid South, and it has a hundred million people to work together, for each other, and for all. It can supply its own needs and have a surplus for others. It has everything within its boundaries which mankind requires. For a time it must lead a life limited to itself, and it is able to do so without suffering. What it most requires under these new conditions is patriotic devotion, and an endeavor to see that justice and kindness make the rule of existence. Many will need help, for heretofore thousands have depended upon other nations for their livelihood here. This demands sacrifice and readjustment of all conditions, but no country is better able to meet the great emergency. Keep firm and do not fear.

ROWDY NEWSBOYS.

Chief Kiely is to be congraulated upon banishing from this city the army of lusty lunged newsboys who came out here to disturb the quiet on Sunday, with their more or less sensational papers. The people want to know what really goes on, but as it is possible to get all necessary information by inquiring at the local newspaper offices, there is no necessity for the noisy hawking of the New York sheets on Sunday.

As a means for protecting local dealers it has been suggested that the city levy a tax on the "newsies" who carry on this business here. Recently, Plainfield has become a mecca for New York and Newark sellers whenever anything big "breaks" in the journalistic world. Wars, championship ball games and conflagrations cause newsboys from the larger cities to swoop down upon this city to dispose of "extras." Sunday night exhorbitant prices were levied, customers were short-changed and various false claims were made for the sole purpose of stirring up trade.

The men and boys were chased from Plainfield only after they had caused considerable annoyance in the business section and left many of their customers in a bitter frame of mind. In some other cities it is customary to place a small license fee on the paper sellers and it would probably be a good thing here. A restriction of this nature would also help to get rid of some of the trouble makers living here. At the present time it is claimed that underaged and under-sized boys are peddling morning, afternoon and evening papers and the refusal of a license to this class would be a good thing for the city. Frequently youngsters are arrested for begging on the city streets with bundles of papers under their arms. They use every available means to arouse the sympathies of pedestrians and should be prohibited from selling.

In these strenuous times, the comparatively minor matters of local and State politics are almost forgotten, but the Senatorial situation in this county promises to develope a campaign of more than usual interest. The general impression seems to be that Carlton B. Pierce will be renominated by the Republicans; Mayor Percy H. Stewart, of Plainfield, by the Democrats, and George W. V. Moy by the Progressives. In fact the Stewart candidacy is the only one that will bring about a contest in the primary, as Francis V. Dobbins, of Rahway, says that he is in the race to stay. Pierce has a splendid record, having been in the Legislature for a number of years; Mayor Stewart is the type of man whose work in the Upper House could always be depended upon to be for the best interests of the people, and former Mayor Moy's independence of action would assure a capable representative were he selected. It is a sort of "toss-up" as to the final result. Had there been no Progressive candidate we have every reason to believe that Mr. Pierce would have been re-elected with little or no trouble, but the situation as it has finally turned out has made the Democratic leaders feel quite confident that the outcome will be favorable to Mr. Stewart. But no one, except the dyed-in-the-wool partisans, seems to be able to make a prediction.

One thing is sure. The crop of fakes that have already materialized in connection with the struggle in Europe should serve as a warning that all "it is rumored" stories should be taken with a grain of salt.

It is almost impossible to make ourselves believe that in these enlightened days great nations, such as are now fighting, can be drawn into a war.

Many an old atlas has been taken from the bottom of the shelf of books during the past few days in order to keep posted on the map of Europe.

Just after mastering all those Mexican names, it is pretty tough to have to begin on the French, German, Austrian and Russian ones.

By the way, what has happened in Mexico during the last week?

A WARNING.

By George I. Sill.

How thankful we should always be
We're not like multitudes we see;
Who solemn on life's highway slouch
As if they nursed an ancient grouch.

E'en if despondent, don't these know
Of palaces where they could go,
And with a modest fiver blown,
Call ev'ry Astor plunk their own?

Alas! Alas! they're wise that drinks
Can give but fond, illusive thinks;
Dowsed is the glim that Hope held out;
In rude vernac they're up the spout.

O, then take warning while there's grace,
Cut out that gloom and change your face;
Unless dark bughouse is your bent,
Avoid the Comic Supplement!

Miss Elizabeth Killeen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Killeen, formerly of Plainfield, but now of Woodbridge, and William G. Mernagh, a patrolman in the local police department, were married at 3 o'clock this afternoon in St. Michael's church, Woodbridge, Father J. J. Griffin, the pastor, officiating in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends, including a number from this city and vicinity.

The bride wore a peach colored gown, trimmed with lace and carried a bouquet of bride roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Mary Dowling, of this city, wore a gown of white material, trimmed with lace and she carried a bouquet of pink roses. Arthur McGinley, of this city, was the best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Woodbridge, there being a large number of guests. After the couple received congratulations supper was served. Early this evening the bride and groom will leave for Atlanticv City, where they will remain for several days. Upon their return they will reside at 120 Madison avenue.

The bride received a large collection of gifts from relatives and friends. Among those who witnessed the ceremony and attended the reception are Mr. and Mrs. William Mernagh, the Misses Adeline and Anna Merangh and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cope, of Stirling; Andrew Saffron, William M. Elizabeth, Aug. 4.—A. E. Force and Company, F. O. Hull and Frank G. Wyckoff, all Plainfield concerns, were among the bidders yesterday afternoon on the proposals to supply the new infirmary at Bonnie Burn Sanatorium, at Scotch Plains, with furnishings and surgical instruments. The Force and Wyckoff concerns bid on the furnishings while Mr. Hull bid on the surgical instruments. The furnishings are to cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. No award was made. Fourteen bids were received.

TEXAS FARMERS IN SESSION.

Forth Worth, Texas., Aug. 4—Nearly 5,000 delegates were in attendance when the annual convention of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of Texas was called to order in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium, this morning, by President W. D. Lewis. Following the opening addresses the convention went into executive session.

GEORGE RAINIER IS NAMED POSTMASTER

Succeeds Miss Carrie Bettman In That Office at Fanwood.

Miss Carrie Bettman, who has been postmistress at Fanwood for the past quarter of a century, and who was obliged to retire owing to ill health, has been succeeded to the position for the present by George Rainier, formerly of the Fanwood Lumber and Supply Company. Miss Bettman sent her resignation to Washington to take effect August 1, but no action has been taken as no one appeared to take the Civil Service examination held recently.

Mr. Rainier's appointment is made by the bondsmen of Miss Bettman, William W. Outwater, Horace Young and TenEyck Beardsley, it being their privilege and right to do this pending the appointment of a successor to Miss Bettman following the passing of the Civil Service examination.

In connection with his appointment as postmaster, Mr. Rainier purchased the building in which the postoffice is located at the juncture of Martine and North avenues and Tilliston road. The many friends of Miss Bettman regret her inability to continue as postmistress, a position which she has filled so capably for the past twenty-five years, but her poor health will not permit her to do the work and on the advice of her physician has decided to give up the ocffie.

Those whose names are on the bowl are Tommy Mullin, coach; Ralph Smalley, captain; Daniel Denny, Ernest Stahl, Ashley Burner, Ronold Conroy, Oscar Dilts, Warren Townley, Frank Dunning, Duclos VanMater, Hyman Abrams, Addison Newkirk, Bob Hebert, Edson Day, Charles Beckman, manager, and E. Franklin Lowe, assistant manager.

PREPARE TO FIGHT AGAINST LICENSE

Dunellen Residents, Led By Michael Gallagher, Getting Up a Petition.

In an effort to renew the fight for the confiscation of Andrew Hazlin's liquor license in Dunellen, Michael Gallagher, one of the instigator's of the movement, visited Middlesex County Prosecutor George Silzer, in New Brunswick, yesterday, and was assured of support from the prosecutor's office. Mr. Gallagher has circulated a petition which he hopes to have signed by one hundred Dunellen voters before it is presented to the proper authorities next week. Popular sentiment appears to be against the Hazlin resort in Dunellen, and although the law requires but two signatures to such a petition, Mr. Gallagher expects little trouble in passing the century mark.

He will endeavor to show that Hazlin is misusing the excise license he now holds and the facts will be placed before the Middlesex county Grand Jury by the prosecutor for the purpose of securing an indictment. Mr. Gallagher has offered to furnish 150 witnesses to Judge Peter F. Daley, in the New Brunswick courts, when the matter comes to trial and is at present preparing his list for the fight against the license. In a lengthy interview with Prosecutor Silzer, Mr. Gallagher expressed himself as not being entirely satisfied with the investigation recently conducted by Assistant Prosecutor Stricker during the chief incumbent's sojourn in Europe and he was assured that a more thorough inquiry would be conducted by the prosecutor's office on this occasion.

SOMERVILLE NOT LIABLE FOR CLAIMS

Borough Attorney Advises Against Payment of Certain Bills.

Representatives of the Richards Realty Company and the Eastern States Realty Company appeared before the Somerville Council at its meeting, last night, and made a formal request that the borough sewer system be extended along its property in East Somerville. No definite action was taken in the matter, but it will be investigated by the sewer committee prior to the next meeting. An ordinance was passed on the first reading to flag a portion of New street and a number of residents of the northwest section of the borough were present at the meeting to urge certain improvements to Altamont place. Borough Attorney A. M. Beekman advised the members of the Council that the borough had no authority to pay claims for medical attention made by Edward Newland, which have been under advisement since the last session. Newland's daughter was bitten by a dog. The attorney also advised the borough against making payment of claims entered by two Newark women who said that they had their clothes spoiled by falling from their bicycles into the tar covered road, and also that of the Barrett Manufacturing Company for $6, said to be due.

It was decided last night to pass an ordinance compelling property-owners to lay sidewalks on Washington street and the Second National Bank was granted a permit to connect its property with the public sewers on Bridge street. New equipment and improvements to the fire-house at Somerville to cost $150 were ordered made and purchased.

Plainfield Business Men's Association

The $15 will be divided into three prizes, the first of $7.50; the second, $5.00, and the third $2.50, and they will be awarded to the contestants who present the best arguments for buying in Plainfield, regardless of the store in which the purchase is made.

Because of this offer the rules of the contest have been broadened, and as amended they are submitted below. Read them, and then send in your letter.

If the letter which wins the first prize contains a reference to a purchase made as a result of seeing an advertisement in the Daily Press, it will be possible for the successful contestant to secure $17.50, the Daily Press prize being added to the Business Men's Association prize.

CONDITIONS OF THE COMPETITION

1. In order to win the Daily Press prize as well as the Business Men's Association prize the instance related in your letter must be bona fide, contain a description of the purchase, and the name of the store in which it was made. The amount of the sale will have no effect in determining the winner. General arguments on the advantages of buying in Plainfield, and not mentioning any store, will only entitle the contestants to participation in the Business Men's Association prizes.

2. All letters will be published in the columns of the Daily Press, without payment being made for their use, other than the prizes.

3. No person will be considered as a competitor, who is in any way connected with the Plainfield Daily Press.

4. Winners of the Daily Press second and fourth prizes will designate on what stores the Press due bills are to be issued, but they will only be issued upon Plainfield stores which advertise in the Plainfield Daily Press.

THESE POINTS WILL COUNT IN THE ANSWER:

The best illustrations of the advantages gained by buying at Plainfield stores in response to Daily Press advertisements.

The best illustrations showing the advantages of buying in Plainfield over buying out of town, especially from mail order houses.

Brevity, simplicity and an intelligent handling of the subject.

SEWER REPORT IS NOW ON FILE

Work of Assessment By Commissioners Presented to Common Council.

TOTAL COST $78,156

Patrolman Hayles Resigns Because of Ill-Health—A. B. Laing Company Wants Care of City Police Call System.

The sewer assessment commissioners, comprising Armstrong Mulford, Daniel J. Courain and Frank J. Hubbard, filed their report with the Common Council at it August meeting, last night, and after the preliminary part was read, a resolution offered by Mr. Hylan and adopted, fixed Monday night, September 8, as the time when the Council proposes to ratify the same after first granting a hearing to those interested. The total cost of the sewer work is determined to be $78,156, which is to be divided among property-owners and the city.

Mrs. A. D. Mallinson, in a communication requested the Council to adjust a property matter for her on Midway avenue, where she said she owns a narroy strip of land. She was informed that a Fred Walker had purchased a portion of the land, but there is no record of the sale, and she furthermore says that a pipe was run through the property after she made a request that this be not done. The matter was referred to the street committee.

Electric lights were petitioned for on East Second street between Emerson and Wylie avenues and near Summer avenue. There were referred. Mrs. Mary L. Arens and others protested against the assessment for the laying of a permanent pavement on Woodland avenue, between Prospect avenue and Randolph road, claiming that the work does not come up to standard requirements, not being permanent and durable. She requested that the time for paying for this improvement be extended until the matter can be investigated. The petition was referred to the street committee.

The resignation of Patrolman Joseph H. Hayles, because of ill health, was received and accepted, the same to take effect at once. A petition was received from the Charity Organization urging that West Third street, between Plainfield avenue and Liberty street, be permanently paved. This was referred.

The contracts of the McFeeley Company, of Camden, for sanitary sewer work, and the Nott Engine Company for furnishing the city with an automobile fire engine, were presented and filed.

Street Commissioner A. J. Gavett reported the granting of six sewer permits last month, and Building Inspector T. O. Doane reported that nineteen building permits were granted during the same period Horace G. Adams, clerk of the District Court, reported receipts of $244.58 for July, expenditures of $65.58, leaving a balance of $179.

City Judge William G. DeMeza's report showed a total in fines of $244.95 since the last report. In accordance with a resolution by Mr. Claybrook, $2,000 was transferred from the general to the fire fund, and another resolution by the same member, fixed $18,000 as the amount of money for the contingent fund for the coming year.

The Allen B. Laing Company, which now cares for the city fire alarm system, in a communication, offered to care for the police system for $35 a month, explaining that because of the fact that it now looks after the one system it could do all the work at a saving to the city. This was referred to the fire and building committee.

Mr. Hylan offered a resolution, which was adopted, providing that a concrete walk be laid in front of the city's pumping station on Monroe avenue at a cost not to exceed $110. He also offered resolutions which were adopted, providing that Monday night, September 8, be fixed as the time when the Council will treat with property-owners in the matters of opening East Fourth street, between Washington and Richmond streets and for the opening of Spooner avenue between West Eighth street and Sherman avenue.

One two-way and one one-way hydrant was ordered located on South avenue in the vicinity of Scott place, in accordance with a resolution offered by Councilman Charles C. Graves, in response to petitions. It was decided that when Council adjourn it be to meet on Thursday night, August 20.

CATHOLICS TO FIGHT LIQUOR.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 4—A conference of Catholics of the United States and Canada favorable to the prohibition of the liquor traffic was opened here today in the assembly hall of the Cataract House. The meeting, according to the official call, is for the purpose of shaping a movement that will enlist the active service of Catholic men and women in the work of obtaining legislation to eliminate the liquor traffic.

COUNCIL PLANS FOR PERMANENT PAVE

Cement Concrete to Be Laid On West Third Street.

An ordinance authorizing the permanent improvement of West Third street, between Liberty street and Plainfield avenue, with a cement concrete roadbed, was introduced by Councilman Hylan at the August meeting of the Common Council, last night, and adopted on two readings. This is the first actual step taken by the Council in this kind of work and it is the opinion that it will be followed with others of a similar character in various parts of the city. This particular improvement was petitioned for by property-owners, although several on the same street protested against the expense.

The ordinance proposes that the street between Plainfield avenue and Liberty street, shall be paved from curb to curb with cement concrete and that to cover the cost of the work there shall be issued seven municipal bonds of $1,000 denomination each to run for ten years. The affected property-owners are to pay their appropriation share and the city will pay its share. The bonds being of ten years' duration gives the property-owners ample time in which to meet the expense

DEMONSTRATION OF "HOME" IS GIVEN

Interesting Service at the Temple Baptist Bible School.

The Temple Baptist Bible School last Sunday, gave a practical demonstration of "Home" Sunday. Invitations had been sent in advance, to the members of the home department and to the parents and friends of the school members. The response was most generous and the attendance was unusually large. The orchestra was in charge of Arthur S. Mosher, leader, and Miss Bessie Carson, who presided, as usual, at the piano.

"Home" was the theme of the session. Miss Esther Tygard told of some of the benefits one should have in the school. Superintendent L. W. Randolph reminded the members of some of "our" privileges and enumerated some of the blessings that had come to the church and school. Rev. E. C. Conover then spoke about the "members" and gave some practical and useful suggestions for the welfare of the church and school. He was followed by G. E. Hall, who briefly gave some reasons why all should be "enthusiastic" in their work in the home church and school.

After each address, the single word that had been emphasized by the speaker, was displayed and the words then read "have our members enthusiastic." The first letter of each word spelling "home." Arthur S. Mosher gave a violin solo, rendering with fine effect, the beautiful hymn, "Some Day."

One of the pleasant features of the service was the presentation of a bundle of letters to Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Conover. These letters had been written by the various members of the school and were designated to be opened at certain dates during their vacation time, as they are to leave for their summer outing this week. A pleasant farewell was given Superintendent Randolph, who is to be away in Maine during most of the month. During August, the orchestra is to consist of Arthur S. Mosher, first violin; G. H. Spier, second violin; Whitney Frazee, cornet; E. H. Guest, cornet; Miss Bessie Carson, piano.

CITY MANAGERS CONFERENCE.

Springfield, O., Aug. 4.—The first conference of city managers ever held in the United States met here today and will continue in session until Friday. The city manager is an outgrowth of the commission plan of municipal government. It is declared by its supporters to be the most effective system yet devised for taking the control of city affairs from the hands of the politicians, as well as the best method for the economical administration of the business of the municipality.

Although the idea is scarcely two years old it has already been adopted by more than a dozen municipalities located in widely separated sections of the country. Among the cities which now employ managers are Dayton, O.; Le Grande, Ore.; Cadillac, Mich.; Amarillo, Texas; Abilene, Kas.; Staunton, Va.; Sumter, S. C.; Montrose, Colo., and Felix, Ariz.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful— all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.—Adv.

"SPORTDOM TIPS"

Inasmuch as Walter Rutt, world's cycling champion, is going back to Germany to shoulder a musket it behooves some of those local pedal pushers to start grinding. Rutt's title will be lying around idle for a while unless Frank Kramer decides that he wants the crown for his very own. Plainfield cyclists have broken into the amateur circles at the Vailsburg track of late and the local youngsters' performances have been unusually creditable. Rutt is one of the most popular riders at the track, probably the most popular outside of Kramer, and his return to Germany comes as particularly sad news just when the cycling season is at its heighth. Rutt plans to ride an armored-motorcycle in the German army.

Yougottahandit to those youngsters on the Plainfield baseball club by taking advantage of every opportunity to burst the shield that holds back the limelight. Thammy Dorman, 'erbert Stine and Gawge Townley were there with the fence rail Saturday afternoon and delivered some swarthy wallops at the gutta percha. Dorman's two station clouts with Stine recovering from the effects of a two cushion affair on the keystone sack won another overtime issue. And that Elizabeth combination has been tooted some for its playing ability, at that.

That Saurer team's advent into the Sunday spotlight proved to be mighty auspicious, and we wonder that those Sewaren gulls were not trimmed worse than they really were. The factoryites appear to have a finely balanced aggregation and deserve all the support that the baseball public can hand to them just at this time. Staging Sunday baseball is a mighty ticklish proposition in any community and Plainfield is far from being an exception along this line.

As evidenced by the enthusiasm shown by members of the Plainfield Motorcycle Club, that sport is becoming popular around this little burg of ours. Many took advantage of an opportunity to visit Midland Beach, Sunday afternoon, and it was the unanimous opinion of those present that they had a great day. The cycling craze has hit Plainfield and every run brings out an increase in the crew that goes along.

ROD AND REEL

Large catches of weakfish are still being made off the Long Branch fishing pier. That place is crowded the majority of the time and the anglers are always pulling in big ones.

Crabs are plentiful in the Shark River and those who go after them have no trouble in getting large sacks, which carry a couple hundred of the pinchers full.

A pretty good day's catch was registered at Water Witch yesterday, when one man landed three bluefish, five fluke and twenty-one weakfish.

Pickerel are biting fine at Greenwood Lake, but the bass are a bit shy of the hook as yet. The largest catches are of the former variety.

Many fishermen are casting their lines in Raritan Bay with good results. Bass, weaks and fluke are being caught in large numbers.

Weequhic Park and Branch Brook Park Lakes are the pride of Newark's fishermen. They are well stocked and fine catches are made every day. Probably no other city in this country can boast of two lakes such as these.

Crabs are beginning to fatten up and there are plenty of them in Jersey waters. The big blue claws of the Shrewsbury River are keeping up to reputation for numbers.

The fluke are still running in large schools all along the shore. There is no better pan fish than a fluke, but some people don't like to fish for them. A few hours on the Long Branch pier will show that the fishermen there like them, as thousands are carried away every day.

The fishing in Keyport harbor and the old East Point fishing grounds to the east of the harbor is attracting hundreds of fishing parties every day.

WAR WILL NOT INTERFERE WITH DAVIS CUP MATCHES

Notwithstanding the war in Europe, the international tennis matches for the Davis Cup will be played as scheduled, in all probability, according to announcement yesterday, by Robert D. Wrenn, chairman of the Davis Cup Committee.

The Australasians will meet the British Isles team at the end of this week in Boston, and the winning nation will meet the Americans next week at the West Side Courts.

Because of Wrenn's announcement J. S. Myrick of the club committee went to Forest Hills, L. I., with a corps of carpenters to add 1,200 seats to the stands, as the demand for accommodations continues. The challenge matches are to be played August 13, 14 and 15.

ANOTHER GOLF FIXTURE.

Another of the metropolitan golf fixtures, the open competition of the association, will open tomorrow on the course of the Scarsdale Golf and Country Club. There are a number of prominent professionals and amateurs who have not been entered, among them being George Low, John J. McDermott, James M. Barnes, Isaac Mackie and Jerome Travers.

LOCAL BLUECOATS TROUNCE RIVALS

Win the Second Game of the Series Yesterday By Score of 13 to 5.

FEED AFTER BATTLE

Swell Time For the Local Delegation Followed the Game—Cheers For Both Teams Given With a Will—Third Game May Be Arranged.

Swatting the pill to all four corners of the lot at Neilson's Field, New Brunswick, yesterday afternoon, the local policeman's baseball team took the second game of the series from the New Brunswick team by the score of 13 to 5. From the time McGinley went to bat in the opening inning until Hanlon had flied out in the ninth, the Plainfield batters hammered the home twirler unmercifully and collected fifteen hits from his delivery, seven of which went for extra bases and one for a circuit clout. Although Fritts was as wild as a hawk and passed ten men he got away with it. He was given the best support that the local team has given any pitcher this year and they played just like big leaguers. Cox was on the mound for the home club and had nothing but his glove and a straight ball. His team hit occasionally and were credited with nine hits all told.

McGinley was up to his old trick again, that of hitting the first ball pitched, and he smashed it out in right field for a single. Hall hit to the shortstop who developed the situation into a double play, clearing the bases. But the locals would not let the first inning go without a run and Coriell doubled to center. Fritts followed suit and Coriell scored with the first run. Miller singled on the first ball pitched and Fritts crossed the plate from second. The next man was an easy out. New Brunswick placed one man on second in the initial round but he could get no farther. Two flys and a strike-out was the substance of the Plainfielders second inning while their opponents fared little better. With two down Hill drew a pass and Manley doubled placing the former on third but Ludwig hit to first base.

The Queen City batters decided to cinch the game in the third frame and they did it. Six hits went for a total of eight runs and this is how it happened. McGinley made his second hit of the game and landed on first. The third baseman mussed up Halls hot one and both men were safe. McGinley scored with the first of the eight runs when Coriell singled and Hall crossed the platter on Fritts' safety. With two on the bases Miller hit one to left centre and drew up at home behind Fritts before the ball had been returned. Hanlon singled and romped home when Brokaw trioled to left. Hunt doubled scoring "Brokie" and then stole third and scored on a passed ball. That ended the scoring as the next three men went out in fast order. There was nothing doing for the Middlesex team in the third or fourth while the visitors counted one in the fourth on a triple and a wild pitch.

The spectators went wild in the fifth stanza when the home team scored three times and to hear the fans yell one might think that a world's championship was at stake. Francis singled and went to second when Cox was passed. Boice singled and Francis scored on an error that followed. Hardy singled scoring Boice. Neither team scored after that until the ninth when each made two tallies.

The local team made four errors and the home boys were guilty of three. Hill, with a broken finger, played a fine game in left field and nabbed five hard flies without an error. McGinley played the short field position like a Hans Wagner and stopped all that came his way. Fritts led in the hitting department with two triples and a double out of five trips to the plate.

After the game the local delegation was the guest of the New Brunswick team at a feed. Cheers were exchanged before the local team took its leave and everyone was in the best of spirits. The score:

FIVE TEAMS PLAN BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Representatives of Five Junior Clubs Met Last Night and Discussed Plans.

Representatives of five Sunday-schools of this city, have met informally and discussed the matter of forming a junior basketball league in this city for the coming season. The schools that were represented are Hope chapel, Heavenly Rest, Grace P. E., St. Stephen's and Holy Cross. All of those who have been approached are in favor of the plan and a league will probably be organized. All boys between the ages of ten and sixteen years will be eligible to play. There are many boys within this limit who are good players and the league should be an interesting one from the start. Probably some merchant of this city will donate a prize when the time comes, and that will stimulate interest in the league and make it more of a success.

All of the schools that are thinking of entering this league have had teams every year and have played independently, but that was not so interesting as those who were on the teams did not know when and where they were to perform. All of these teams have gyms and there would be no difficulty in arranging a schedule. The games would be played at night, probably twice a week.

FAIR BOWLERS END TOURNEY WITH WIN

Misses Ruth Voorhees and Pearl Dodwell Win Four Games.

The feature of the games of the Women's Two-team Tournament on the Presbyterian alleys, Dunellen, last evening, was the splendid bowling of Miss Ruth Voorhees, of the Voorhees and Dodwell team, who knocked the pins over for the high average of 124 in four games. The fine bowling of Miss Voorhees resulted in her team capturing all four games and breaking a tie for second place in the standing with the Vail and Johnson duo. Last evening's games were the last that the Voorhees and Dodwell team will bowl in this tourney and finishing up as they do with a percentage of .750, they stand a very good show of landing first place honors, as the present leaders, the Dealaman and Wickham combination have eight more games to roll.

The scores of last night's play and the official standing follow:

LOCAL ANGLERS HAD GOOD LUCK ANGLING FOR WEAKS

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Smalley, and a party of friends, spent yesterday fishing off Perth Amboy. The party made the trip to and from the coast resort by automobile and had an unusually successful day with rod and reel.

Eighteen good sized weakfish comprised the day's haul and all of the finny specimens were beauties. The local anglers report good catches being made by most of the fishermen at that place and a majority of the fish are large ones.

MRS. WEAVER AND PARTNER WIN TWO TENNIS MATCHES

Playing her usual game of tennis, Mrs. S. F. Weaver, formerly of Central avenue, with Miss Clare Cassell, of Montclair, won two rounds of the women's doubles championship, at Long Island, yesterday. This pair had an easy time in both matches and qualified for the semi-final round. In the second round they won in straight sets, the scores being 6-4, 6-4.

The third round was much easier and two sets of 6-1 were all that were necessary to decide the winners. Miss Cassell worker her way into the final round of the women's singles championship by defeating her opponent 6-0, 6-1. Mrs. Weaver and her partner stand a good show of winning the doubles title.

PLAINFIELD COPS AFTER ELIZABETH

Third Tilt Between Rival Bluecoats Carded For Tomorrow Afternoon.

After dropping two in a row to the Elizabeth cops, members of the local policemen's baseball team will meet the Union county seat minions of the law in their final tilt of the season at that place tomorrow afternoon. The contest will be waged on the old Abstainers' diamond near the Elizabethport station and a large delegation of rooters from this city is expected to accompany the locals on their jaunt. Both combinations will present their strongest fighting front and notwithstanding the fact that the Elizabethans already have two to their credit the Queen City bluecoats are looking forward to a walkover.

Plainfield will go to the front with its most formidable array of talent generaled by the veteran Warry McLaughlin. Tommy Mullin, another valuable asset to our police department in its sporting endeavors, will perform at the receiving end. Hard hitting has characterized the Plainfielders' playing during the last few encounters and they anticipate little trouble in putting the Betsytown moundsman to root in the opening stanzas. The pitching department was Elizabeth's main contention in the first two battles and in the event of a swatfest staged by the visitors it is thought that the Plainfielders will have little difficulty in bringing home a county seat scalp.

The diamond at Elizabethport is an excellent place for such a contest and the Elizabeth cops will be the hosts of the locals after the combat. The trip from this city will be made via auto bus.

The local team will lineup in the following order: McGinley, ss; Mullin, c; Fritts, 3b; McLaughlin, p; Flatley, 2b; Nelson, 1b; Martin, cf; Brokaw, lf; Keller, rf.

Warry McLaughlin and Jack Garretson have been made regulars, in the Plainfield cops' lineup and will be seen in the remaining games on the schedule. Connie McCarthy, who had his index finger broken in the game against Newark two weeks ago, has partially recovered the use of this member and will be back in the lineup tomorrow. He will adorn right field instead of his usual position behind the bat.

GERMAN SHIP QUITS NEW YORK SUDDENLY

Kronprinz Wilhelm Sails With War Stores.

New York, Aug. 4.—The North German Lloyd liner Kronprinz Wilhelm sailed unexpectedly from Hoboken.

Officials of the North German Lloyd line said that she had sailed for a German port under hurry orders from the kaiser's government, to be used for military purposes.

The fact that she took aboard 2,000 tons more coal than she would need to cross the Atlantic, besides hundreds of tons of sea stores such as are not carried by passenger boats, led to reports, which were later confirmed in a measure, that she was going to sea to transfer supplies and fuel to the German cruisers Dresden, Strasburg and Karlsruhe. These cruisers have been reported ever since the war scare began to be dodging British warships and seeking an opportunity to replenish stores.

The captain of the Ward liner Segurranca, which arrived at quarantine from Santiago, Cuba, reported that he had passed the Kronprinz Wilhelm outside the Ambrose channel lightship. He said that only the running lights—that is, the masthead, port and starboard lights—were burning. The liner, he said, was steering southward instead of northeastward, which is the usual course for steamships bound for Europe.

Servian Troops and Austrian Frontier Guards Clash.

GERMAN LINER SEIZED AT SEA

British Cruiser Said to Have Captured Vessel From Vera Cruz.

Vera Cruz, Aug. 4.—It is reported here that the British cruiser Suffolk has seized the Hamburg-American liner Antonia, which left Vera Cruz on Friday last with a number of German reservists on board.

Wreck Naval Station.

Berlin, Aug. 4.—The first naval battle of the war was staged at Libau, Russia. The German cruiser Ausberg dashed toward the seaport, one of the finest on the north coast of Russia, overwhelmed a Russian cruiser on guard and bombarded the extensive fortifications of the outer harbor.

The Ausberg reported by wireless that the city was in flames.

The Russian cruiser was of the second class and was no match for the Ausberg, one of the speediest of the German navy.

The shelling of Libau is regarded as an important victory. The port is 105 miles west of Mitau. Originally only a second class harbor, Russia built a great breakwater and a long sea wall, making the port one of the best along her coast. It was fortified by extensive outer works.

Loss of the vast stores of grain at Libau will be a serious blow to Russia. There are a score or more of elevators at the port. The navy has also a small store of ammunition there. Although officially designated as a naval base, the Russian navy has heretofore held the harbor to the work of refitting and supplying.

The German navy office assumes from the Ausberg's report that the fortifications were reduced and the stores of ammunition destroyed. The Ausberg did not report the fate of the Russian cruiser.

German Ambassador Lingers.

A Merchandise Gamble

You know the men who are in business in this community. You have known them for a number of years. You know them as being honorable and upright in every dealing you have had with them.

Knowing them in this way, are you willing to go to their stores and pay to them money for merchandise of which they can show you only a picture, and for which you must wait from one week to a month after they have received your money?

OF COURSE YOU ARE NOT!

But you are doing that very same thing with people you do not know when you send your money to the mail-order firms of the cities. You have only a picture or a brief description of an article from which to determine its value. After you have sent your money you must trust to the intelligence of a poorly paid boy or girl to send in return the merchandise you want.

The people of Plainfield who persist in dealing with the mail-order houses are doing themselves and this city an injustice.

WAR NEWS

British government will guarantee war risk on wheat and flour, shipped or to be shipped from Atlantic or Canadian ports to the United kingdom under existing contracts. A list of these contracts must be furnished in forty-eight hours and the premiums are to be paid by the importers and to be charged by him against the actual receiver. It is said that this action on the part of the government is designed to obtain 8,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat.

The captain of a steamer which arrived at South Skields, on the East coast of England early today declares that he sighted a number of German warships off Flamborough Head, a point on the coast of Yorkshire, which appeared to be engaged in a heavy conflict. No confirmation of the story is obtainable. A royal proclamation has been issued prohibiting exportation of war stores.

Amsterdam, Aug. 4.—Two Belgian aviators were today arrested immediately after they landed near Roermonde, Holland, by Dutch frontier guards.

Odessa, Aug. 4.—Three German grain steamers are being detained here by the Russian authorities.

Berlin, Aug. 4.—Despatches received here this evening state that the Russian Minister of Instruction, while travelling home has been arrested by Germans. All Russian Consuls in Germany have been ordered to leave the country.

New York, Aug. 4.—The North German Lloyd Steamship Company has received a message that the Kronprinzessin Cecilie has arrived at Bar Harbor, Maine. The despatch is signed by Captain Polock.

Banking institutions which shipped gold on the Kronprinzessin Cecilie stated this morning that the gold on board that ship would be returned to New York immediately and distributed to the respective institutions to which it belongs. Arrangements have been made for its prompt transfer to New York.

Washington, Aug. 4.—The Senate today agreed to the conference report on the Emergency Currency Bill, which extends the Aldrich Emergency Currency Act and permits the issue of such currency up to 125 per cent. of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the banks and calls for a 5 per cent gold reserve against the issue of the emergency. Senator Bristow, of Kansas, criticised the report saying that 125 per cent. was too large an issue to permit, and that 5 per cent. gold reserve was too little. He suggested that the gold reserve should have been fixed at 10 per cent.

The Senate later agreed to the conference report on the Emergency Currency Bill, and it was adopted today by the House with scarcely any discussion.

New York, Aug. 4.—The National City Bank has taken out $10,000,000 of the emergency currency, made possible under the workings of the Aldrich-Vreeland act and this morning made application for an additional $5,000,000, which will be delivered to that institution as soon as it can be printed. It is stated that more than $10,000,000 has already been printed for the National City Bank. This is the largest amount that has been taken out by any New York institution. But this is only natural by reason of the size and volume of business handled by the national city.

The Chase National Bank has applied for between $9,000,000 and $10,000,000 emergency currency. The National Bank of Commerce also has applied for approximately $9,000,000.

The First National Bank has applied for $4,000,000.

Washington, Aug. 4.—The bill amending the Panama Canal Act so that foreign merchant vessels shall be admitted to American registration under certain conditions was received by the Senate today from the House and referred to the committee on Inter-Oceanic Canals.

New York, Aug. 4.—It was announced today at the office of the French Line, that La Lorraine of that line would leave this port for Havre at 10 a. m. tomorrow. It was also announced that cable messages had been received to the effect that the France would leave Havre for this port tonight.

The Cunard Steamship Lusitania, which was originally scheduled to leave here at six o'clock tonight, will sail at midnight for Liverpool with passengers, mail and cargo.

Announcement was made at the offices of the Anchor Line today, that orders had been received from the home offices, in Glasgow to indefinitely suspend all Mediterranean service.

COUNTY TAX BOARD REPORTS INCREASE

An Extra $1,848 Added to Value of Railroad Property In Plainfield.

Elizabeth, August 4—The Union County Board for the Equalization of Taxes met here today, and started its fall work. A communication was received from the State Board indicating that the assessed value of second class railroad property in Union county had increased to the extent of $218,730. A few of the increases in the municipalities are as follows:

Plainfield, $1,848; Garwood, $3,320; Westfield, $36,200; Rahway, $73,012. Elizabeth and Roselle show decreases. Work was started today on the assessors books which have already been turned in by the county assessors, an early start on this work having been made possible. Heretofore much time has been lost by the books coming into the County Board at a late date. The four books of the Plainfield assessors are already at hand.

ELECTION BOARD AWAITS DECISION AS TO SALARIES

Elizabeth, August 4—The County Board of Elections did not meet here today as expected, the gathering being deferred until after the next session of the Board of Freeholders, when the question of the salaries of the members of the Election Board will be settled.

It will be necessary, however, according to the Geran Law, for the Election Board to meet and organize within the first ten days of August, thus giving the County Board until next Monday to meet for that purpose. Just what action the Freeholders will take in the proposed reduction of the salaries of the Election Board is not known.

COLLECTOR PREPARING TO ADVERTISE DELINQUENTS

The list of properties in this city on which last year's taxes are unpaid is now being prepared by Collector William R. Townsend, and will be published very shortly in the local newspapers, possibly, after the first of next week, as the revised lists will go into the hands of the printers this week.

In discussing the situation in regards to delinquent taxes, Mr. Townsend stated that local property owners had done remarkably well considering the times, and should the rush at his office continue through the current week, the amount of delinquent taxes will be below normal. However, those still indebted to the city for 1913 taxes must pay this week, as this will be the last opportunity they will have to keep their properties out of the advertised list.

RETURNS HOME TO SERVICE.

James Kliaber, a former officer in the Swiss artillery, but for some time an employe of the International Motor Company, at the Saurer plant in this city, sailed today for his native land to assume his position in the Swiss army. While Mr. Kliaber is of the opinion that his country is not likely to be drawn into the European conflict, he feels that he should offer his service should it be required.

WILL NOT ACCEPT CALL.

The trustees and congregation of the Swedish Lutheran church will hold a special business meeting tomorrow evening at its new edifice on East Seventh street. Word has been received from Rev. Mr. Osmun, to whom the church extended a call a short time ago, that he declined the call.

GOOD GAME SATURDAY.

The Pets will lineup against the strong New Brunswick team next Saturday on Parker Field. Townley will pitch for the Pets.

HATCHETT GIRL WILL BE PLACED ON TRIAL

Upon Being Discharged From Hospital She Will Be Served With a Warrant.

The case against Eleanor Hatchett, colored, who is charged with a serious offense, will be tried in the city court Thursday morning, before City Judge William G. DeMeza. The woman is said to be the mother of the new born babe which was left in a toilet several weeks ago. The woman was detected coming from the house by a neighbor whose suspicions were aroused and she notified police headquarters.

The woman's arrest resulted in the establishment of the identity of the mother who made her home with her uncle, Alexander Trent. Since the arraignment, Eleanor Hatchett has been confined in Muhlenberg Hospital and her discharge is expected either today or tomorrow. Immediately upon leaving that institution she will be arrested.

MR. AND MRS. ACKERMAN MAKE A RECORD TRIP

Former State Senator and Mrs. Ernest R. Ackerman, of West Eighth street, who left here early in June for an extended pleasure trip, are now traveling in Japan. Just when they will return home is not known at present. A postal card received from Mr. Ackerman today, which was dated Manilla, June 29, states that he was one of the passengers on the fastest trip ever made to the Philippine Islands, sixteen days and twenty hours, by the S. S. Empress of Russia from Vancouver.

DISCONTINUE FRANCE AND GERMANY PARCELS POST

Postmaster Alvin E. Hoagland announced this morning that the parcels post service to Germany and France has been suspended until further notice owing to the present uprising in Europe.

A ban has also been placed on money orders issued to individuals in amounts larger than $100. No parcels post for Germany or France will be received at the Plainfield office until further notice.

KNIGHTS' EXCURSION WILL BE ONE OF THE LARGEST

The annual excursion of the Hope chapel Sunday-school to Asbury Park and Ocean Grove will be held Saturday, August 8. This is the only Saturday outing to the Park from this city and it returns later than any of the others, leaving the shore at 8 o'clock, making it the longest day at the shore.

The train will leave in two sections, the first one starting from the North Avenue station at 8:15, and the second one immediately after. Both sections will stop at Grant Avenue both ways and there will be a baggage car on each train.

LEARN TO SWIM.

An excellent opportunity for boys to learn to swim is given by the local Y. M. C. A. Every summer, from July 1 to August 1, a daily swimming class is conducted. All those in the class that started the first of July are now able to swim and another class has been organized for the coming month that will meet every week day at 2:30 in the afternoon excepting Saturdays when it meets at 9:00 in the morning. Mr. Welle, the association instructor, will use the water wing method which he has found very successful.

RESIDENT ENGINEER FOR SEWER WORK

Lewis Churchill Appointed to Supervise Dunellen's Portion of Contract.

At the meeting of the Dunellen Common Council held last night, the special engineering committee submitted a contract drawn by the firm of George W. Fuller, engaged as the supervising engineer of the borough's collecting system. It will be submitted to the borough's legal adviser on sewer matters, Lindabury, Depew & Faulks, and upon their approval it will be signed by the Mayor and Council. For their services, according to the contract, the firm will receive a fraction of 6 per cent. of the cost of laying the twenty-eight miles of sewers. The estimate cost of laying the collecting system is $90,000, which would make the compensation of the Fuller firm in the neighborhood of $5,500. Mayor Latham, in commenting upon engaging George W. Fuller, said that as the firm had secured the contract of supervising the joint sewerage work the committee had thought it inadvisable to divide the interest and had therefore recommended the appointment.

The Mayor said that a resident engineer will be necessary and that Borough Engineer Lewis T. Churchill had been engaged in that capacity by the Fuller concern. A communication was received from the committee in charge of Plainfield's Labor Day exercises inviting the borough to participate and enter the police and fire departments in the parade. Councilman Ryan mentioned the fact that the Dunellen Board of Trade was making arrangements to have a celebration in Dunellen on that day and advised that action on the communication be deferred until next meeting and this was done.

A petition was received from various property holders on Whittier avenue to have the ordinance passed on October 7 relative to the laying of sidewalks on both sides of that thoroughfare enforced. A letter from W. T. Piddington, Jr., accompanied the petition. In this letter, Mr. Piddington called the Council's attention to the fact that it had been advised of the delinquency of certain property holders in the matter in a letter written two months ago, but the letter had been referred to the street committee, where it had evidently died. The sidewalk committee was given instruction to notify the delinquents that they would have ten days in which to comply with the ordinance, upon the expiration of which the borough would lay the walks and the cost of doing so would be assessed against their property.

Two bids for making two concrete culverts, one at Madison and Dunellen avenues and the other at Lincoln avenue and Third street were opened. Goldson W. Smalley entered a bid of 25c per square foot for making the sidewalks and 12c per foot for the bottom. John S. Haywood, of Plainfield, the other bidder, agreed to lay the sidewalks at 52c per lineal foot and the bottom at 11c per square foot. The bids were referred to the street committee.

Other business transacted was the confirming of James F. Teeling's election as a member of the Defender Fire Company; the authorization of the payment of general bills and instructions given to Chairman Castner to get after the Standard Oil Company in the matter of re-oiling North avenue. Chairman Ryan, of the law and ordinance committee, also reported that books similar to those used by the Plainfield police force have been procured by his committee so that the local police may make the proper record of arrests.

COLLECTOR BROWN TO SELL PROPERTY FOR TAXES

Residents of North Plainfield who have been delinquent in paying taxes on real estate are now having their properties advertised by Collector George Brown. The sale of the properties on which the taxes are unpaid will be held on Tuesday at the office of the collector. But a week remains before this sale, and those who want to keep their properties from going under the collector's hammer have this last chance to adjust their accounts with the borough.

WHEN EGGS ARE CHEAP.

EGGS at all times play an important part in cooking, and at the present time, when they are cheap, the housewife should take advantage of the fact and participate in the benefits to be derived from it.

Baked Moderately.

Eggs en Cocotte.—Take four eggs, two tablespoonfuls of cream, chopped parsley and salt and pepper. Butter four individual baking dishes and sprinkle each with chopped parsley. Place a teaspoonful of cream in the bottom and break an egg carefully into each. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and a little chopped parsley. Bake in the oven.

Egg Patties.—Take any scraps of flaky pastry, one ounce of butter, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, one tablespoonful of fried breadcrumbs, two or three green onions, pepper and salt and three or four eggs. Roll out the pastry and line some patty pans with this. Mix the butter, parsley, breadcrumbs, chopped onion and salt and pepper together and place a little of this mixture in the bottom of each pattypan. Break an egg very carefully into each, sprinkle with parsley and bake in a moderate oven.

With Much Seasoning.

Deviled Eggs.—Take four hard boiled eggs, one teaspoonful of curry powder, one teaspoonful of chutney, one-half teaspoonful of mustard, salt and pepper, one ounce of butter and hot buttered fingers of toast. Separate the yolks from the whites. Mix the yolks, curry powder, chutney, mustard, salt and pepper. Heat the butter and add the mixture. Make thoroughly hot. Spread this on the hot toast and garnish with the strips of white of egg.

An Italian Dish.

Poached Eggs With Spaghetti.—Take one-quarter pound spaghetti, one-half ounce of butter, one gill of tomato sauce, two eggs, chopped parsley and salt and pepper. Boil the spaghetti for twenty minutes, first breaking it into small pieces. Drain it well, add the butter and tomato sauce and the salt and pepper, stir all well together. Arrange this on a hot dish, lightly poach the eggs and place these in the middle. Sprinkle with chopped parsley and serve.

Daddy's Bedtime Story— How the River Traveled to The Sea.

"WELL, kiddies, I'm ready to answer the question you asked me today when we were rowing on the river."

"Goody, doody!" shouted Jack and Evelyn, swarming all over daddy's knees. They were in their nighties, so daddy cuddled them close and told them about how the river traveled to the sea.

"Let us make believe," began daddy, "that there is a river spirit who lives away up in the mountains, so high that maybe we could never find his hiding place. He is a very ambitious spirit and always wants work to do, so every day he starts out with his divining rod to see if he can find a 'well eye' as a beginning for his river.

"He is a pretty happy fairy when he finds one because he knows he has found hidden water. He waves his wand, and the 'well eye' becames so full that it naturally has to have an outlet, so, of course, the water, instead of being naughty and wanting to run away uphill, runs right down the mountain.

"At first there is hardly any depression in the ground over which the water flows. You see, the tiny little stream has no bed that it can call its own. But a little farther down the side of the mountain the river gathers force from other streams and rills.

"But one day the river was afraid. It had come to a great high precipice. 'There is really nothing to fear,' whispered the river spirit. 'Just you tumble right over. You'll be caught all safe at the bottom.'

"So the timid little stream took courage and leaped gayly down the precipice, dashing pearly spray and foam as it fell. Sure enough, when it reached the bottom of the precipice it found a bed all ready made for it; not a nice soft one like mamma makes for you kiddies, but a hard rocky bed.

"After awhile, still cheered on by the river spirit, it grew broader and stronger and more intrepid.

"Cities were built on its high banks, and the river whispered: 'Let me give you my wealth; take the fishes in my waters; let me turn your water wheels and grind your corn and wheat; take my water and water your land so it will be more fertile and grow more wheat and corn; make great boats and I will carry them for you, for I desire more than anything else to be useful to men.'

"When the river reached the sea it was no longer the timid stream that feared to tumble over the precipice, and it rushed right into the sea and wasn't afraid of the great waves at all."

"Daddy, that is a very good story, but where does the hidden water come from?" asked Jack thoughtfully.

"Go to bed, kiddies. I've got to read my paper," said daddy.

CITY MUST REMOVE FIRE ALARM WHISTLE

Spicer Manufacturing Co. Will Discontinue Service August 15.

The city will be obliged after August 15 next to find some other than the present means of sounding its fire alarm whistle the Spicer Manufacturing Company, in a communication, notifying the Council, last night, that after that date it would terminate its agreement to continue the present service. After the abandonment of the electric light station on West Second street, where the alarm was sounded, arrangements were made with the Spicer Company to undertake the work. Just what arrangements the city will be able to make is not known, but Chairman Graves, of the fire and building committee, offering a resolution, which wast adopted, authorizing the committee to make temporary arrangements after August 15.

The reason for the discontinuance of the present service after August 15 is that the Spicer Company will at that time abandon its plant in this city, the work being transferred to South Plainfield. Members of the Council, especially the fire committee, are somewhat puzzled as to what can be done in the way of securing a service. Some have suggested that the present public alarm system be given up entirely, which would mean a saving to the city.

SOMERSET PRIMARY CONTESTS IN ALL PARTIES LIVELY

Somerville, Aug. 4—Somerset county is such a doubtful political fighting ground that the contest for State Senator this year will be one of the most interesting in the State. Both parties think they can win and both are preparing to put their strongest candidates in the field. It looks at present as though William W. Smalley, the present Senator, would have no opposition for a renomination in the Republican primary. Petitions are being circulated by his friends in various parts of the county. He is regarded as the best material the Republicans have to win the election. He was elected to the Assembly three years and defeated George M. LaMonte, now Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, in the election for Senator three years ago.

Mr. Smalley's re-election would be generally conceded as reasonably certain were it not for the possible defection of a number of Republicans by the nomination of a Progressive candidate, which the county committee of that party has decided to do. It is expected that George Hughes, of North Plainfield, a New York newspaper man, who ran for the Assembly last year, will be put forward as the Progressive candidate.

The Democratic leaders of the county have planned the nomination of Assembly Azariah M. Beekman, Speaker of the House last winter, for Senator to make the race against Smalley. Recently, however, Frederic G. Thomas, of Somerville, has announced his purpose to become a candidate.

The Republicans of this county have two candidates for nomination for Congress in the Fourth District, so that will add to the interest in the primaries. Prosecutor Frederic A. Pope is seeking the nomination and his petitions are out. As a prominent member of the Patriotic Order Sons of America and the Jr. O. U. A. M., he anticipates a large proportion of the votes of those orders.

Former Asemblyman William de la R. Anderson is another candidate who will come before the voters at the primaries. He resides in North Plainfield.

SOUTH PLAINFIELDERS WILL VOTE AGAINST THE ADDITION

Residents of South Plainfield turned out in large numbers last night to attend the mass meeting held in the firehouse, to determine the advisability of making an appropriation of $12,500 for an addition to the present school structure. A committee composed of Albert Soper and Harry J. Manning was elected to officially represent South Plainfield at the mass meeting to be held by the Piscataway township authorities tonight.

Popular sentiment at the meeting last night opposed the erection of the proposed four-room addition on the present sight because of the fact that it would take up most of the present playground on the school premises and necessitate the purchase of additional ground for recreation purposes.

CLUB WITHHOLDS ITS ENDORSEMENT

Approval of Mayor Stewart's Candidacy Deferred By Democratic Club.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE

Organization Learns That Ten Eyck Beardsley Will Seek Senatorial Nomination — Other Candidates Are Discussed.

The pre-arranged plan of endorsement of Mayor Percy H. Stewart for State Senator at the meeting of the Plainfield Democratic Club, last night, was postponed until Tuesday, August 18, for the reason that the candidacy of TenEyck Beardsley, of Fanwood, also a member of the club, came before the meeting, and according to the club's rules the organization cannot endorse a candidate where there are more than one. The announcement of Mr. Beardsley's candidacy occasioned some surprise among those present. He is at present away, and before the next meeting the club will ascertain whether he intends to remain in the race or will withdraw in favor of Mr. Stewart.

The Jefferson Democratic Club, of the West End, was represented, and it was prepared to endorse the candidacy of Mayor Stewart. Plans for the fall campaign were discussed at some length. Some consideration was given to local candidates and it was decided that a committee comprising the four vice-presidents of the club see that there are councilmanic candidates on the ticket from all four wards. A report of this committee will be made at the next meeting of the club, Tuesday, August 18, when there will be a further discussion of candidates.

The progress of the campaign in the interest of Commission Government was discussed. It was agreed, however, that inasmuch as the petitions are not yet in circulation, it would be impossible to secure a vote on the question this fall. It will be necessary to hold a special election and this can be arranged as soon as a sufficient number of signers is secured to the petitions. The fact that the petitions are not in circulation does not mean nothing has been done. The special committee of three appointed by the club reported that considerable progress had been made and the proposition was being well received.

The members of the club have not yet reached a decision regarding a candidate for Mayor, but efforts are being made to persuade Archibald Cox, of Watchung avenue, to allow his name to go before the primaries. Owing to a pressure of business, it is understood that Mr. Cox will not give his answer until next week. He is at present serving as a member of the Board of Education under appointment by Mayor Stewart. He succeeded Calvin E. Brodhead, resigned.

ALLEGED SPEEDER WILL TRY TO DISPROVE THE CHARGES

Benjamin Broere, of Sable, L. I., was arrested by Motorcycle Patrolman Martin Flatley on West Seventh street, yesterday afternoon, and arraigned before Judge W. G. DeMeza in the city court, this morning, to face a charge of driving his motorcycle at a speed of thirty miles an hour along that avenue.

Counsel for the accused requested a postponement of the case when it came up for trial, this morning, and it was set down by the court for August 12. The defendant is making preparations to produce a number of witnesses and will fight the case.

VISITORS INSPECT PARKER FIELD

Local Business Men Attended Morning Session at City Playground.

AN ACTIVE SCHEDULE

Various Amusements For the Younger Generation at Plainfield's Leading Centre—Baseball a Popular Diversion.

Several representative business and professional men of Plainfield, with a view to ascertaining the merit of the work being carried on at Parker Field during the summer months, visited that rendezvous in a body, this morning, and were conducted on a minute tour of investigation by Superintendent George W. Wriston. Their appearance at the Randolph road recreation center was unheralded and they took the opportunity expressly for the purpose of "dropping in" on the youngsters to find out what was provided for the juvenile frequenters in the way of amusement.

Baseball games, tennis matches and apparatus work were in progress when the delegation arrived at the center and fully 100 youngsters were having the "time of their lives" under Mr. Wriston's personal supervision. A baseball game between two teams of youngsters whose ages ranged between ten and fourteen years, was in progress on the regulation diamond and the issue was being hotly contested. Groups of other youngsters, all rooting for their favorite, were huddled along the sidelines and in the bleachers. In response to inquiries made by the inspectors, Mr. Wriston informed them that the teams in action were two of those that were fighting for the junior league title and that the game this morning was a comparatively tame one. A number of the players, several of whom were still young enough to sport a "Dutch" haircut, exhibited some unusually fine baseball talent and their work received some hearty applause from those in the bleachers.

Squabbles between the opposing players were rare and when one made its appearance the trouble was soon quelled by Mr. Wriston's presence. The supervisor was engaged in teaching the more inexperienced players the rudiments of the national pastime and although small boys are the participants in the struggle for the playground supremacy, all of the playing is done in regulation "big league" style. To the surprise of the business men it was learned that full sized five-ounce baseballs were being used and that the bats had not been made purposely for the use of these midgets. After five rounds of hard playing the score ended 6 to 4 in favor of one of the teams which the visitors neglected to learn the name of.

When the younger boys were called from the playing field by the supervisor, the West Ends and the Red Stars, two older aggregations, automatically succeeded them. Had it not been for the fact that the delegation of men present had witnessed Mr. Wriston ordering the younger boys from the diamond the second game might have been confused for the first, so smoothly did the first inning of the latter contest succeed the last round of the opening game.

Interviewed by the visitors, Mr. Wriston said that an average attendance of 150 boys made use of the playground daily and that the figures were limited to a little over 100 this morning, was due to the fact that many were kept at home by their parents, who are preparing to go on the annual excursion of the Knights of Columbus tomorrow. The supervisor declared that additional paraphernalia was needed at the field, especially baseballs. The national pastime is the leading attraction for many, and Mr. Wriston manages to make one new ball last for six games. This in itself is a remarkable piece of economy and anyone desiring to aid the worthy cause by donating a dozen spheroids will be making possible at least seventy-two contests. A new mask and several minor articles are also needed at the present time. Three leagues are being run this year instead of the two of last summer.

Four tennis courts at the field are in constant use and individual competition has been keen all season. The apparatus work is also popular and the supervision of this recreation department has made the list of mishaps comparatively few for a field of this size.

Interviewed by a Daily Press reporter following their visit the business men expressed themselves as being thoroughly pleased with the work being done and declared that Mr. Wriston was handling the work in an unusually efficient and capable maner.

SUMMER CLOSING PLANS FOR AUG.

Majority of Merchants Will Close Their Stores On Thursdays.

OTHERS HALF A DAY

Some Will Continue Former Custom of Suspending Business Saturday Afternoon and Evening During the Month.

The summer closing plan for August will be inaugurated tomorrow by many of the merchants of the city, all but a few agreeing to close their places of business all day Thursday of each week during the month. Notwithstanding that many merchants will close on Thursdays there are still others who have in years past closed on Saturday afternoon and evening and they will continue that rule as usual.

The Thursday closing plan will give the clerks employed in the various stores joining in the movement an opportunity to take in the weekly excursions to the seashore, which are so popular during the season. Earlier in the summer there was a movement on foot to have all the stores close on Saturday, but many merchants found that this would not be a desirable arrangement for them and instead other plans were decided upon.

The Daily Press on July 9 published the following list of merchants who had signed to close either all day or half-day on Thursdays during August and so far as known there has been no change in the arrangements as announced in July:

S. Scheuer & Co., A. E. Force & Co., Schwed Brothers, Tepper Brothers, Hyman Adelberg, Morris C. VanArsdale, Samuel Rothberg, S. H. Whitney, H. A. Bonn & Co., K. D. Gaffney, Woodhull & Martin Co., Mrs. J. P. Burd, DeMeza & Blimm, H. P. Greenwood, Louis Preger, Shirley & Johnston, Leo Slonim, Carl Silbert, Penn & Bernstein, J. L. Bennett, Fred H. Firstbrook, M. R. Giles, Charles E. Vail, H. Hinchcliffe, Marcus Hoyt & Co., H. L. Viebrock, O. M. Dunham, J. R. Blair, J. Hervey Doane, Peter F. Delyger, John J. Kenney, L. B. VanCamp, K. H. Stuart, A. L. Eames, A. E. Force & Co. shore store. These have agreed to close a half day: Zeek Bakery Company, Roth & Co., F. W. Woolworth Co., W. L. Smalley and Smalley Brothers.

Most of the stores which will remain open tomorrow have adopted a different method of giving their employes a holiday each week. The management of these places are giving each of their employes one day each week, during the months of July and August, the clerks being permitted to select their own day. Thus each clerk gets one day off for nine weeks, instead of for four, as is the case with most of the stores which close Thursdays. One of the merchants who will remain open tomorrow said this morning that business at present is not up to the standard, and therefore conditions do not warrant the closing of the stores under existing circumstances. He said that the merchants who will remain open are not less endowed with the spirit of liberality, but they think the method which they have adopted is the best.

FIREMEN'S PICNIC.

Arrangements have been completed for the annual picnic of the Middlesex Volunteer Fire Department to be held at Lakeside Park, South Plainfield, Saturday, August 29. Music by Professor Gutmann has been announced. The committee in charge is composed of William Hamilton, John Thornton, Harry J. Manning, John Kaine and Edward Teeple.

BORO COURT NOTES.

John Redmond was arraigned, this morning, in the borough police court before Recorder Fred Hand, on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. Sentence was suspended.

CASE POSTPONED.

Arraigned on the complaint of the overseer-of-the-poor before Judge W. G. DeMeza in the city court, this morning, charged with not supporting his wife, George Johnson, colored, was ordered remanded under bail of $200 for a hearing tomorrow morning.

TEMPERATURE REPORT.

The temperature report from The State Trust Company today is as follows: 9 a. m., 70 degrees; 11 a. m., 75 degrees; 1 p. m., 78 degrees.

COURT GRANTS $150 ALIMONY TO MRS. HOOD

Vice Chancellor Stevens Returned Decree to Her Counsel This Morning.

Vice-Chancellor Stevens, this morning, forwarded to McCarter & English, counsel for Mrs. Frances Sparks Hood, a decree fixing the amount of alimony to be allowed her by her husband, Richard Haden Hood, formerly of Stelle avenue, at $150 a month. This order becomes effective at once and she will be reimbursed for back alimony from October, 1912, to the present time. In her petition to the court, Mrs. Hood asked for $500 monthly.

The petitioner was also allowed $1,750 for counsel fees and $350 for suit expenses. The latter amount is considered unusually small in view of the fact that testimony at one of the hearings showed that she paid over $3,000 for the service of private detectives alone prior to the trial.

An opinion offered to the court by Judge Whittemore at the alimony hearing, placed Hoods assets at the present time at $330,235, less a possible $153,103.32. The latter is a judgment found against him by a former employe, Charles Meade. It was the contention of Mrs. Hood's counsel that the judgment was an illegal one, being brought merely to defraud Mrs. Hood. He claimed that Meade and Hood conspired to make it appear as though the defendant was insolvent thereby making it impossible for the court to grant a large alimony. The appraisal of the Hood estate by Judge Whittemore is based on statistics of 1912.

SEVENTY CASES OF DISEASE REPORTED

Vital Statistics Presented at Monthly Meeting of the Health Board.

Seventy cases of communicable disease were reported to the Plainfield Board of Health during July, according to statistics presented at the monthly meeting of the Board, last night. They were divided as follows: Tuberculosis, 4; diphtheria, 1; malaria, 6; measles, 56; whooping-cough, 1; chicken-pox, 2.

In addition to the above, one case of scarlet fever was brought to Muhlenberg Hospital from out of the city. The outbreak of measles appears to be subsiding, the number reported during the month being considerably less than the previous month. There are now no houses under quarantine. During the month eleven disinfections were made in nine buildings, 29 cultures were examined and 882 inspections were made. The inspections were divided as follows:

Milk supply, 37; food supply, 84; nuisances, 367; general work, 133; communicable disease, 123; disinfections, 23; plumbing, 115. Miss Harriet O. Mattison, registrar of vital statistics, reported seventy-eight returns for the month, 37 births, four still-births, nineteen marriages and eighteen deaths.

Washington, Aug. 5.—President Wilson has offered the services of the United States in the interests of peace and to restore order in the chaos that now is surging over Europe. This government has made a direct offer to the heads of the nations now at war, to undertake the task of mediation

Officials notice of the existence of a state of war between Great Britain and Germany, was served on the United States by the British Embassy here. Colville Barclay, the British Charge d' Affaires of the Embassy, in the absence of Ambassador Sir Cecil Spring Rice, delivered the notification to Secretary Bryan. Mr. Barclay made a formal request that the United States take over the Embassies of Great Britain in the countries with which she is now engaged in strife. He was informed that this country would gladly undertake this service but that it would reserve the right to serve the other belligerents in like manner if called upon.

Inquiries at the various Embassies today, contributed to the growing belief that the warring European governments will delay their replies to the President's offer. All of the Embassies forwarded the President's invitation to their capitals.

From none of these has any reply not even an acknowledgement of the receipt of the offer been received. It was declared frankly at the Russian Embassy, that St. Petersburg probably would take its time in answering the President.

New York, Aug. 5.—The prevailing opinion in financial circles appears to be that none of the warring European powers will accept just now the offer of mediation by the United States government. One prominent banker remarked, that a little later if the German fleet is defeated, as he believes it will be, and after a few important land battles are fought it is not improbable that the offer will be accepted. This opinion was concurred in by a high official of one of the largest financial institutions in the city. A prominent official, as soon as he heard of the offer of mediation, said he was certain that before it was made the leading European powers were sounded.

London, Aug. 5 —Sir Thomas Lipton today announced that because the declaration of war by Great Britain against Germany, he had withdrawn his yacht, Shamrock IV, from the proposed races for the America's cup.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Postmaster-General Burleson annonuced today that because of the entrance of Great Britain into the general European war, American mails were being transferred to ships of the United States, Sweden and other countries not involved.

New York, Aug. 5.—The New York Central Railroad Company has laid up a number of its harbor boats such as tug boats, steam lighters, etc., as a result of the falling off in export business, occasioned by the European war. The crews of these vessels have been dismissed.

London, Aug. 5.—(Central News Cable.)—Two German battleships have been sunk, one has been captured and one escaped, in an engagement in the North Sea. No details are available. The Paris edition of the London Chronicle today published a report stating that the German cruisers Goeben, Breslau and Panther, after bombarding Bona, Algeria, were trapped by the French fleet. The Goeben and Breslau were captured and the Panther was sunk according to the report.

Official confirmation of the report of the capture of the German cruiser and the sinking of two others of the Kaiser's fleet during an engagement in the North Sea, has been received here. Exact details of the battle are not available.

The French Embassy here has been officially notified that a German cruiser has been captured by the French fleet.

This is believed to be in addition to the two German cruisers which were reported earlier today as having been captured by the French fleet off the Algerian coast.

Another indication of the fact that a state of war is rapidly being established over the whole of the United Kingdom was afforded tonight when the taking over of all British railways by the government was officially announced.

The ordinary train schedules on all railways will be suspended forthwith and the transportation of passengers and merchandise will be made subservient to the transport of troops and munitions of war.

New York, Aug. 5.—Naval hostilities have started off the Jersey coast according to report here. Passengers on the German liners Kaiser Wilhelm II ,and the President Lincoln, were wakened by the sound of big guns booming about three o'clock this morning, when they were near the end of running the gauntlet of British and French cruisers. The detonation was distant but loud enough to waken the passengers. It came from a direction off the bow of the Kaiser Wilhelm II, of the North German Lloyd Line. It is not actually known, however, that the shot was meant to halt the liner. Captain Dahl, who is an officer of the Imperial Naval Reserve, declined to discuss the matter beyond saying the shot was evidently fired by some cruiser to halt a passenger ship.

London, Aug. 5.—(Central News Cable.)—A despatch from Amsterdam, states that it is officially announced by the Russian war office in St. Petersburg, that a strong German force was yesterday overthrown and routed by a brigade of Russian cavalry in the neighborhood of Soldau, in Northeastern Prussia. The German troops retreated in disorder. The Russian losses were severe. Soldua is a small town situated in the Northeast of Prussia on a river of the same name, and a few miles from the Russian frontier.

A Central News despatch from Brussels states that German forces are today attacking the small town of Barchon, near Liege. A German cavalry brigade has been located a

RATABLES HIGHER IN UNION COUNTY

Nearly Every Taxing District Showns An Increase, Assessors Report.

Elizabeth, August 5—According to the returns of the tax assessors made to the County Tax Board, there are increases in the tax ratables in every taxing district in Union county. NARROWLY ESCAPED DROWNING

The outing of the "Bald Headed Dozen," or twelve young men of the borough, who recently had their hair clipped off, to Midland Beach, on Sunday, came within an ace of having a fatal ending. William Greenhalge, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Greenhalge, of North avenue, who is unable to swim, indiscreetly waded out in the surf below his depth and but for the heroic efforts of John McFadden would have in all probability drowned. The yell recorded by Greenhalge, as he was sinking brought McFadden, who was the only one near, to his rescue. THE NETHERWOOD HOME.

Comparatively few Plainfielders are familiar with the work being conducted by the Netherwood Fresh Air Camp, founded for the purpose of bringing relief to New York's East Side population during the hot summer months. Known by whom she has aided, as "the little mother of the East Eide," Miss Sarah Curry is completing her twelfth year as matron and her regime has been marked by unusual success in this line of work. Thousands of children have been brought to the Netherwood camp from the tenement district of the metropolis, and in many cases the mothers as well have been cared for.

Fresh air and substantial nourishment have worked wonders and in numerous instances youngsters brought here under-sized and underfed have been sent back to their homes in the best of health. Many of the children have never seen green fields or wild flowers before and the place is a paradise in contrast to the dingy walls of the flat, to which they have been accustomed. The past year has been an unusually hard one for the poorer class and the good this camp is doing at the present time is great. In Miss Curry's opinion the past winter has been the hardest in eighteen years for the poor and she has found a great demand for her aid in the larger city.

The cost of the work among the sick and poverty stricken people is large and limited funds have placed some restriction on Miss Curry's work. Co-operation is needed so that hundreds of other children will be able to enjoy the open air for at least two weeks.

Miss Curry has been brought into close contact with the home life of the East Side dwellers during her years of study of social conditions. She has watched her charges grow into manhood and womanhood and has held a kindly influence on their lives. Today it is a great satisfaction for her to know that thousands of children whom she has benefitted in this manner are now respected citizens, many holding responsible positions in New York and various other parts of the world.

Plainfielders are invited to visit the Netherwood camp and see the work that is being done. The place has been modernly equipped and the natural geographical conditions in that section are ideal for such an enterprise. The camp has its own physician and careful attention is given to the weak and sickly. Seldom does one of the youngsters contract an illness of any kind after his reception into the camp and rarely is one sent back to the metropolis in a sickly condition. The benefits are vast and extend over a wide area.

Those interested in placing drinking fountains for horses in convenient portions of the city might do well to follow the example set by New York city. A cheaper and more satisfactory means of watering animals on the public thoroughfares has been found in the installation of faucets along the curb. Each driver is compelled to carry his individual pail for his horses to drink from and this goes a long way to help stamp out glanders, so prevalent among horses. New Jersey some time ago enforced the individual drinking cup law for human beings and it would be well for Plainfield to institute a similar ordinance for the equine.

Drinking troughs, such as those now in use in some places, are a menace to the health of the animal and if the suggested plan was adopted, the project could be completed economically and the results would be more satisfactory. Many faucets could be installed for what one fountain would cost and although the latter improvement is more ornamental, it is not necessary that the watering places should be placed in the beautiful parts of the city. In New York it is a misdemeanor for a driver not to have a pail for watering his horses, and he is liable to a fine of $10 if he does not use it. A simpler way would be for the city to use its fire hydrants for watering horses just as they are now used for cleansing streets in certain cities.

CAPT. HUMPHREY IS SENT ABROAD

Instructed to Report On Cruiser Tennessee, Where He Will Get Sealed Orders.

In the announcement of the fact that the U. S. S. Cruiser Tennessee is to sail for England, today, carrying about $8,000,000 in gold with which to care for stranded Americans abroad, there is considerable local interest for the reason that Captain Chauncey Humphrey, son-in-law of O. T. Waring, of Park avenue, will be aboard the boat.

Captain Humphrey, together with several other army officers, received instructions last night to report on the cruiser, where he would be presented with sealed orders. It is believed that ostensibly the army officers are going abroad to assist Americans, the real purpose of their trip is for observation purpose. Captain Humphrey, as well as his companions, have had a wide experience in military service in the Philippines and in the Japanese-Russian war they comprised an observation party.

It is the opinion that Capt. Humphrey and the other officers will receive instructions to remain abroad for an indefinite time and that they will keep the Government fully informed of important details. They will also probably collect valuable data along the lines of military operations.

HOPE EXCURSION BIG ATTRACTION SATURDAY

The Hope chapel annual excursion has been scheduled to make its annual run to Asbury Park, Saturday, of this week. This Sunday-school is the only one to run an excursion independently of other schools, and has always been popular with those who work in the shops and are able to secure a Saturday morning leave of absence from their work.

This outin is the only excursion to leave this city on a Saturday for Asbury Park, and indications at present show that a record breaking crowd is expected to make the journey with the Chapelites. The committee in charge is composed of Thomas Hendry, Donald McInnis, Walter Bradford, D. G. Atwood, Frank Rimmer, and William Darling. Two sections of ten cars each will convey the excursionists to their destination.

MAD DOG LOCKED IN ROOM AND SHOOT BY PATROLMAN

A pet dog belonging to Mrs. Edith M. Lindsey, of 1336 West Front street, exhibited symtoms of rabies shortly after 10 o'clock last night, and its mistress locked it in a room of the house. After securing the canine she instituted a search for a policeman and found Patrolman Tobias Nolan on his beat in that section.

The officer went to the house and after peeking through a crack in the door at the frenzied animal, decided that it was mad and to let it live would endanger human life. One shot from the bluecoat's pistol put an end to the beast's worldly troubles.

CABLE RECEIVED FROM H. L. DE FOREST

Party Safe and Well—Other Plainfielders Reported In Foreign Lands.

The first word from any of the Plainfielders abroad since the outbreak of the European war, came today in a cable dispatch received by relatives from Henry L. DeForest, that he and his party were located in Munich, and that all are safe and well. Besides Mr. and Mrs. DeForest and their two children, the party comprises Miss Dorthy Leal and Miss Rudd.

It was learned today that in addition to the names already published there are many more Plainfielders in foreign countries, and that while they will doubtless be subjected to much inconvenience by reason of their enforced stay, there does not appear to be any cause for alarm as to their safety.

Mrs. Lewis G. Timpson, who went abroad two months ago with Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Reynolds, of Orange, the latter being her sister, arrived home this morning on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds are now located in Switzerland. Mr. and Mrs. Ford Johnson, of New York, who went aboard six weeks ago on an extended tour, are in London. Mrs. Johnson is the daughter of former Mayor and Mrs. Charles J. Fisk, of this city. They planned for an extended trip, but were forced to give it up and are now trying to get home.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Joy, of the borough, left here recently, it being their intention to attend the Peace Conference, but they have been halted in their journey in England, as has also Mr. and Mrs. Clifford W. McGee, of the borough.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Abbott, of Carlton avenue, are also among the Plainfielders marooned in England. Miss Anna Booraem, principal of the Jefferson School, went abroad immediately after school closed. Her present whereabouts is not known, but she is believed to be safe. Mr. and Mrs. John F. Harman and their daughters, the Misses Helen and Elsie Harman, of West Eighth street, are in Germany. Dr. E. Metler Davis, organist of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, accompanied them for awhile, but whether is is with them now is not known.

William Leitheusser, of Second street, is at present visiting his native home in Germany, where he will be compelled to remain indefinitely.

BURIAL OF MRS. JOHN SWANEY AT THE 'PLAINS

The funeral services of Mrs. John Swaney, who died at her home in Brooklyn, Sunday, were held yesterday, at that place, the interment being made this morning at the Scotch Plains cemetery. Mrs. Swaney was a native of Scotch Plains, and lived there for a number of years. Mrs. Swaney was survived by a son, D. M. Swaney; a daughter, Miss Olive C. Swaney, both of Brooklyn; two nephews, H. D. and J. H. Allen, of this city, and two neices, Mrs. E. J. Smith, of West Third street, and Mrs. Sarah Moore, of North Plainfield.

HUNGARY VS. RUSSIA ON DUNELLEN STREET

Loyal Sons of These Two Countries Stir Up the Village Populace.

After absenting himself from Dunllen for a year, where he is well known and classed as "unpopular," Isadore, alias "Chinaman," Kelley, a Hungarian, returned to that place, this morning, and proceeded to renew old acquaintances in a way that soon caused him to beat a hasty retreat in the direction of Bound Brook. Shortly after landing in the little town, where he formerly graced by his presence, Kelley ran across Emile Bobemriski, an old friend, standing in front of Gus Winters' hostelry on Front street.

Bobemriski accosted the returned prodigal and in the course of his remarks happened upon some phrase to which Kelley took strenuous objection. The latter took the opportunity to display his knowledge of pugilism and within a short time had the Dunellenite stretched out on the pavement with a good-sized gash over one of his eyes. Bobemriski managed to get to his feet, however, and was putting up a fairly good battle when half of Dunellen's business population swooped down on the fight between the loyal sons of Hungary and Russia.

The advance of the mob of sympathizers in the aid of Bobemriski caused Kelley to turn his heels in the opposite direction and before anyone realized what was going on the combatant was streaking in the direction of Bound Brook. Bobemriski, bruised and cut, gained solace by accompanying a group of his fellow townsmen to the office of Recorder David C. Campbell, where he swore out a warrant for his opponent's arest. The authorities are now looking for Kelley. According to our Dunellen scribe, "Kelley differs from most Hungarians inasmuch as he dresses up." He has made himself conspicuous because of his liking for white trousers, blue serge coats and panama hats.

HELD "DOG" ROAST ON MOUNTAINSIDE

Young People of the Borough Had a Delightul Outing Last Night.

Just at this time of the year when stray canines are daily falling into the net of watchful dog catchers in places like North Plainfield, it is appropriate for young people to plan "hot dog" roasts in some shady nook. A genuine old-fashioned "frankfurter spread, with all the fixin's," was held on Johnston's Drive, last night, by a number of young boroughites and the affair proved to be most enjoyable. The male members of the party rounded up enough of the "sausages" to provide entertainment for the crowd during the forepart of the evening, and the latter part was given over to story telling and other amusement appropriate to such an occasion.

A large open fireplace in the side of the mountain furnished an excellent hearth for roasting the delicacies. The affair was arranged by Miss Margaret Dealing, her mother, Mrs. Dealing, acting as chaperone. Those present were the Misses Jennie Bremble, Clementine Bremble, Flossy Brown, of Long Island; Dorothy Stengal, Helen Thompson, Marion Thompson, Laura Smith, Ria Dealing, Margaret Dealing, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Dealing, and George Hummel, Clarence Krausse, Harold Gayle, Linwood Marsh, Lewis Clark, Norman Rhoades and Mr. Thompson.

The $15 will be divided into three prizes, the first of $7.50; the second, $5.00, and the third $2.50, and they will be awarded to the contestants who present the best arguments for buying in Plainfield, regardless of the store in which the purchase is made.

Because of this offer the rules of the contest have been broadened, and as amended they are submitted below. Read them, and then send in your letter.

If the letter which wins the first prize contains a reference to a purchase made as a result of seeing an advertisement in the Daily Press, it will be possible for the successful contestant to secure $17.50, the Daily Press prize being added to the Business Men's Association prize.

CONDITIONS OF THE COMPETITION

1. In order to win the Daily Press prize as well as the Business Men's Association prize the instance related in your letter must be bona fide, contain a description of the purchase, and the name of the store in which it was made. The amount of the sale will have no effect in determining the winner. General arguments on the advantages of buying in Plainfield, and not mentioning any store, will only entitle the contestants to participation in the Business Men's Association prizes.

2. All letters will be published in the columns of the Daily Press, without payment being made for their use, other than the prizes.

3. No person will be considered as a competitor, who is in any way connected with the Plainfield Daily Press.

4. Winners of the Daily Press second and fourth prizes will designate on what stores the Press due bills are to be issued, but they will only be issued upon Plainfield stores which advertise in the Plainfield Daily Press.

THESE POINTS WILL COUNT IN THE ANSWER:

The best illustrations of the advantages gained by buying at Plainfield stores in response to Daily Press advertisements.

The best illustrations showing the advantages of buying in Plainfield over buying out of town, especially from mail order houses.

Brevity, simplicity and an intelligent handling of the subject.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Conducted by the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

Just what is the status of woman suffrage throughout the United States? To persons who want to be well informed, for those who don't as well as those who do believe in votes for women, the following concise statement of the case will be of interest. It is something that might very well be cut out and kept for reference.

Full suffrage for women—1869, Wyoming; 1893, Colorado; 1896, Utah; 1896, Idaho; 1910, Washington; 1911, California; 1912, Arizona; 1912, Kansas; 1912, Oregon; 1913, Alaska.

Presidential and municipal suffrage—1913, Illinois.

States where suffrage amendments will be voted on by electors in November, 1914—Montana, Nevada, North and South Carolina, all submitted by legislative enactment in 1913; Nebraska, Missouri, Ohio, submitted by initiative petition in 1914. Signatures to initiative petitions are now being secured in Oklahoma.

States where amendment has passed one Legislature, and must pass another—Iowa, New York, Pennsylvania, passed in 1913. Legislature in session 1915. New Jersey Massachusetts, passed in 1914. Legislature in session 1915.

States where suffrage bills were considered in 1914—Georgia, favorable report to House lost by committee vote of 5-4; Kentucky, adverse vote of 51-29 in House; Louisiana, favorable vote of 60-41 in House, but two-thirds votes of members elected needed; Maryland, adverse vote of 60-34 in House; Mississippi, adverse vote of 80-42 in House; Virginia, adverse vote of 74-13 in House. It is considered a distinct advance to have obtained even an adverse vote in the above-named States, instead of having the suffrage bill buried in committee.

Congressional action — Bristow amendment; Senate, favorable committee report; House, reported out of committee without recommendation; Shafroth amendment; Senate, favorable committee report.

In the meantime calls are going out to all parts of the country for contributions to the suffrage melting-pot. Women are asked to contribute gold and silver trinkets, and are responding in all States. The melting-pot itself has just been dedicated in Chicago.

The affair took place in the laboratory of an expert woman metallurgist on Michigan avenue, who, as an ardent Suffragist, placed at the disposal of the campaign committee of the National American Woman Suffrage Association her crucibles, furnaces and other apparatus. Women, with boxes containing old gold and silver trinkets, motored down to the shop and got out, gasped in dismay when they found the "movies" trained upon them, and made a run for the open door.

Once inside the shop they were ushered upstairs to the laboratory, where their offerings were received by Mrs. Medill McCormick, chairman of the campaign committee, and turned over to a deft-handed young woman with a pair of scales. The trinkets were weighed and passed to Mrs. Dora Welles, the metallurgist in charge, who cut them up with shears and dropped them into the crucible or melting-pot. From time to time the pot was emptied and the gold and silver were poured out into a box, to be deposited in the vaults of a local bank.

Among the Suffragists who were present and responded in brief speeches to Mrs. McCormick's dedicatory remarks were Miss Sophronisba Breckenridge, Miss Marion Drake, Mrs. Harriet T. Treadwell, Mrs. Frederick C. Bartlett and Mrs. George Bass. A number of working girls attended the affair, some of them bringing old country heirlooms, which they offered up to the cause.

It is hoped that $50,000 will be raised by August 15, which is Lucy Stone's birthday, and has been chosen for a "self-sacrifice" by Suffragists.

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, has offered as a prize for the best suggestion on money raising for self-sacrifice day a needle-book made of the famous garnet velvet gown worn by Susan B. Anthony on many of the important occasions of her life. If the best suggestion is made by a man, he will receive a pin-cushion made of the same famous velvet. All suggestions must be made at national headquarters, 505 Fifth avenue, on or before August 10.

The New York Tribune reports that "two hundred Suffragists drafted by the Woman's Suffrage party, will mobilize at their headquarters on Thursday to attack the Republican primaries to be held at the various Republican clubs that day. The advance has been fixed for 10 o'clock, when the primaries open.

"As a matter of fact the attack will be feebly resisted; the Republicans capitulated days ago. Every man's handkerchief was a white flag, Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw said yesterday, when the Suffragists gave notice of the massing of their troops. From Republican leaders in every Assembly district came kind letters, not only inviting the Suffragists to invade their primaries, but asking them to bring along whatever ammunition they had in the way of argument, and to fire as much as they liked. It won't be the fault of their marksmanship if every delegate to the convention at Saratoga doesn't go instructed to see a suffrage plank nailed to the platform.

"The responses from the Democrats have not been so satisfactory, Mrs. Laidlaw said. As this party has no primaries, the Suffragists asked permission to attend the final meetings of their different clubs before the convention at Saratoga, August 25. In some cases this has been granted, but some clubs have followed the example of the one in the 14th Assembly district, which declares that no woman's foot ever has or ever shall cross the threshold of its clubhouse. Not that this will deter the suffrage army. The soldiers will camp outside with a table of literature and bombard every politician who appears.

"Most of the women who are coming from various country resorts for Thursday's engagement will remain over Friday, and eat a 'sacrifice luncheon' at the party headquarters. Each Suffragist will provide the favor for her own plate, and the favor will be some cherished piece of jewelry, a sum of money or a check—whatever she can give for the melting-pot the National Woman Suffrage Association has set up for the benefit of the campaign States."

The New York Times, always anti-suffrage in its sentiment, came out recently with the following editorial. In the last paragraph it attempts to stick to its anti-suffrage colors, but the important paragraphs are those which deal with facts rather than opinions and these speak for themselves. The Times says:

"The control of the House of Representatives to be elected this fall may be determined by the votes of women. The next Presidential election may be determined by the votes of women. It is within the bounds of possibility, though not of probability, that the suffrage States will have more than a majority of the next Electoral College. Harrison was elected by 85 majority, Cleveland by 37, Garfield by 59; the suffrage States already have 82 votes. This total may be increased to 149 by the elections this fall.

"But even the present electoral vote of 82, the suffrage States can decide the Presidency. What is of more immediate practical effect, they can decide the control of the House of Representatives. In this lies the explanation of the way in which politicians are falling over each other to indorse votes for women. Speaker Clark and Secretary Bryan are the latest converts. The question comes up this year in their respective States, Missouri and Nebraska. As fast as it comes up in other States we may expect to see the leaders rush into line and drag their followers after them.

"We venture the prediction that the platforms of both the great parties in 1916 will contain planks advocating woman suffrage, and that at least one of them will advocate it by national Constitutional amendment. It will be for them a question of hard practical politics. They will do it because they dare not do otherwise.

"This year the question comes up in seven States: Ohio, with 24 electoral vote; Missouri, with 18; Montana, with 4; Nebraska, with 8; Nevada, with 3; North Dakota and South Dakota, with 5 each. If all these States vote affirmatively, the 82 votes will be increased to 149. In five other States the proposition has passed one Legislature, and if passed by another must be submitted to the voters; New York, with 45 votes; Pennsylvania, with 38, Massachusetts, with 18; New Jersey, with 14, and Iowa, with 13. If these States vote in favor of suffrage, 277 votes will be cast by suffrage States in 1916, and it takes only 265 to elect.

"It is not, of course, at all probable that all these States will vote for suffrage, but that some of them will is hardly to be questioned. Even without them the situation has become a threatening one to politicians. The running to cover of Messrs. Clark and Bryan and lesser men is the first patter of the deluge. With the committal of both parties to suffrage in the next campaign the country will be face to face with the problem of the doubling of the electorate. The opponents of woman suffrage have been regarding the menace with tolerant laziness as one of the future. It is one of today; woman suffrage, nation-wide, is actually upon us.'

A Resident Known to All Our Readers Relates an Experience.

Readers of the Press have been told again and again of the merits of that reliable, time-proved kidney remedy—Doan's Kidney Pills. The experiences told are not those of unknown persons, living far away. The cases are Plainfield cases, told by Plainfield people.

C. L. Treat, painter and paperhanger, 411 East Third street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I suffered for a long time from kidney trouble and for years couldn't get relief. My back ached constantly and I had pain across my kidneys. My kidneys were in bad shape and I became all run down, in fact, was almost a physical wreck. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply at Randolph's drug store and my experience was so satisfactory that I cannot make my endorsement too strong. I simply wouldn't be without a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills on hand."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Treat had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

CUBS, GIANTS AND CARDINALS IN THREE-FOLD FIGHT FOR GONFALON

Clubs that are pennant possibilities invariably make good showings in extra-inning games, 1 to 0 battles and contests that are decided in the ninth spasm. That is what a veteran baseball man says, the same being Frank Bancroft, business manager of the Cincinnati Reds, and the truth of his remark is shown by the fact that in contests of these varieties the Cubs, Giants and Cardinals, now having a three-handed scrap for the National League gonfalon, have been much more successful than the other five teams.

Up to Monday 65 games had been played in the National League in which the issue was settled in either the ninth or extra innings or on the basis of 1 to 0. The Cardinals had won eleven of these engagements and so had the Braves, but Huggins' men had dropped only seven of these combats, while Stallings' athletes had let eleven escape. The Cardinals' percentage in the Nerve League, therefore, was .611; the Braves'.500. The club that has shown the greatest aptitude for getting the decision in tight games is Chicago, with a percentage of .714, New York following with .636. The Cardinals are third, with .611; the Phillies fourth, with .555; the Braves fifth, with .500; the Pirate and Reds sixth, with .353, and the Superbas eighth, with .308. The Cardinals and the Cubs have won the most games in the ninth inning (five); the Braves are setting the pace in 1 to 0 wins, with four, and the Phillies have taken the greatest number of overtime events, seven. Brooklyn still has to win a 1 to 0 contest and Cincinnati thus far has not registered a victory in an extra-inning affair. St. Louis hasn't been beaten once in the ninth.

The record of the National League teams in 1 to 0 and extra-inning games and games decided in the ninth inning to July 26, inclusive, is as follows:

Standing in the Nerve League.

	W.	L.	PC.
Cubs	10	4	.714
Giants	7	4	.636
Cardinals	11	7	.611
Phillies	10	8	.555
Braves	11	11	.500
Pirates	6	11	.353
Reds	6	11	.353
Superbas	4	9	.308
	65	65	.500

Bill Sweeney, of the Cubs, has been the player most prominent in driving in the winning tallies in the tight games in which his team has participated. He has been on the break-it-up-job four times, his war club bringing victory to Chicago in the ninth inning twice, in the tenth inning once and in the sixteenth inning once. National League players who have delivered hits that have broken up a pair of games are Wilson, of the Cardinals; Joseph Kelly, of the Pirates; Cravath, Luderus and Lobert, of the Phillies, and Doyle, of the Giants. The last-named, a Chalmers car winner two seasons ago, uses home runs with which to smash up combats. He hit for the circuit against "Babe" Adams, of Pittsburgh, on July 17, and thus won a 21-inning game for the Giants, and eleven days earlier he clouted for the full distance in the ninth frame with the Phillies, when his team was two runs behind and when two of his mates were on the bases.

The players who have batted in the winning runs in the tight games of the National League to July 27 (extra-inning games, 1 to 0 games and games decided in the ninth inning), are named below:

St. Louis—11 victories—Wilson batted in winning run in two games, Riggert in one, Snyder in one, J. Miller in one, Magee in one, Cather in one and Beck in one. One game was won on an error by Magee, of Philadelphia; one on a passed ball by McCarthy, of Brooklyn, and one on a base on balls by Crutcher, of Boston.

Boston—11 victories—Strand batted in winning run in one game, Mann in one, Schmidt in one, Evers in one, Cather in one, Dugey in one and James in one. One game was won on an error by Lobert, of Philadelphia; one on an error by Nieho, of Cincinnati; one on an error by Carey, of Pittsburgh, and one on a base on balls by Cooper, of Pittsburgh.

Chicaga—11 victories—Sweeney batter in winning run in four games, Zimmerman in two, Schulte in one, Corriden in one and Leach in one. One game was won on a base on balls by Pfeffer, of Brooklyn.

Philadelphia—10 victories—Cravath batted in winning run in two games, Luderus in two, Lobert in two, Magee in one and Becker in one. One game was won on an error by Williams, of Chicago, and one on an error by James, of Boston.

New York—7 victories—Doyle batted in winning run in two games, Robertson in one, Snodgrass in one, Grant in one and Mathewson in one. One game was won on an error by Roche, of St. Louis.

Pittsburgh—6 victories — Joseph Kelly batted in winning run in two games, Wagner in one and Mitchell in one. One game was won on an error by Bates, of Cincinnati, and one on a wild pitch by Cheney, of Chicago.

Cincinnati—6 victories—Groh batted in winning run in one game, VonKolnitz in one, LaRoss in one, Herzog in one, Niehoff in one and Clarke in one.

Brooklyn—4 victories—Egan batted in winning run in one game, Smith in one and O'Mara in one. One game was won on an error by Gowdy, of Boston.

WAR NEWS.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 5.—Hannes Kolehmainen, Niklander, Saaristo, Peltonen and Taipale, who won points in the Olympic Games, have been offered commissions in the 128th Army Corps by order of His Imperial Highness, the Czar. Failing to accept they will be shot at sunrise.

London, Aug. 5.—The war office has been notified that Bombardier Wells, the London Heavy Artillery, and Freddie Welsh, the Welsh Light Infantry, are ready to march at a moment's notice.

Dublin, Ireland, Aug. 5.—John Flanagan, the famous weight thrower, has notified King George that in case of war he is ready to serve as ballast for the Aeroplane Corps.

Rome, Italy, Aug. 5.—Ping Bodie, Gaston Strobino, Johnny Dundee, Italian Joe Gans and Francis Albertani, have failed to answer the call to colors. Gieuseppi Singigaglia, winner of the diamond sculls at Henley is holding his shell in readiness to proceed at once for the American coast to draft the unpatriotic quintet.

Paris, France, Aug. 5.—General Georges Carpentier, of the Honor Legion, is too ill to answer the summons to arms. He is said to be suffering from ptomaine poisoning, brought on by too much fowl. Georges has a mania for chickens.

Horta, Fayal, Azores, Aug. 5.—Vice Admiral Sir Thomas Lipton, in command of the superdreadnought Erin, and the armored cruiser Shamrock IV, is awaiting sailing orders. He does not look upon the war seriously. He says it is a tempest in a teapot.

Berlin, Germany, Aug. 5—Baron Honus Wagner, Count Heine Zimmerman, Grand Duke Jeff Pfeffer and Field Marshal Carlos Herzog, who are on a leave of absence in America, have been notified to proceed at once to Hoboken, where secret orders will be awaiting them. Baron Wagner is the only one who can evade the summons. He is under age. A truce may be declared till Wagner grows up.

LOCAL COPS' OPPONENTS ARE A BUSY AGGREGATION

Three games have been booked for the next week by Manager Sebastion Schuler, of the Elizabeth policemen baseball team. This afternoon on the T. A. B. S. field, the "Lizzies" clash with the local aggregation for the third time this season. Thursday afternoon, the Betsytown "coppers" will journey to Bayonne where they will clash with the guardians of the peace of that place, and on Monday afternoon on the downtown lot. Schuler's collection will engage in a contest with the Newark police force.

This afternoon's battle should be a hummer, as the "Queen City" boys are anxious to win from the home bluecoats, being walloped twice in previous engagements. With these three gomes on tap, "Hank" Brennan will have his hands full, as he probably will twirl the trio. Brennan has been pitching excellent ball. He should have won from the Essex county nine last week, when he held them down to one hit.

Manager Schuler has picked his team for today's fracas and the following men will be seen in a uniform: Pete Buckley, Jim Rooney, Adam Neubeck, Joe Killimet, Mike Kennedy, Gar Searles, Jack Cochran and Barney Lavin. These men have been clouting the sphere in sensational style and they expect to make it the third straight over the Plainfield crowd.

ELEVEN INNING CONTEST WON BY LAUREL BALLISTS

The fast Laurel aggregation increased its lead in the Parker Field Middle League, yesterday, by defeating the Red Star team in an eleven inning game by a score of 6 to 4. In the ninth round with three men on the bases Brennan showed his effectiveness by making the next man ground to short, who threw in home for a force out, and by whiffing the third man.

In the eleventh inning the Laurels started a rally. Deady grounded out to short, Butler drove a hot liner at the pitcher which bounced off his glove, Butler getting to first safely. He went to second on a passed ball, and scored on F. Mullin's single to right. Mullin stole second and third and scored on Campbell's double to center. The next two batsmen grounded out. In the last half of the eleventh Kline walked. L. Paritz hit a grounder to short who threw to second for a force out. The umpire in chief, who saw the play called Kline out, but the base umpire called the runner safe. Then both teams argued for fifteen minutes and play was resumed, the runner being called safe. The feature of the game was the pitching of Brennan, the catching of Kyle and the fielding of Stites of the losers.

Miss Dealaman's bowling was the feature of the evening in that she rolled consistently and made the evening's high score mark with 115 pins. Her team totaled 212 in the second game which was the high team score.

In the individual standing Miss Dealaman went from sixth place to fifth, with an average of 91, and Mrs. Wickham rose one point. Miss Stryker also pinned well and raised herself three points. GERMANY IS HOLDING AMERICANS

No One Is Permitted to Leave.

PRESIDENT TO ACT.

Kaiser Will Be Asked to Suspend Order.

A SERIOUS COMPLICATION.

Order Is Chiefly to Prevent News of Military Movements During Mobilization.

Washington, Aug. 5.—A new and serious complication was injected into the problem of relieving Americans in Europe with the receipt of formal notice from the German government announcing that no foreigners would be permitted to leave the confines of Germany during the period of mobilization.

The purpose of this order is chiefly to prevent news of the military movements of the German forces leaking to the outside world and is a measure justifiable in international law, according to the best opinion here.

Its serious import to Americans lies in the fact that it applies to men, women and children and that the period of mobilization is likely to be construed by Germany as covering the entire period of the war—that is, all Americans now in Germany may be compelled to remain in that country until the end of hostilities unless the United States succeeds in obtaining from the Berlin government modification of its drastic order.

It was learned that the state department will at once bring to the attention of the German government the effect of this order on Americans and the reasonableness of the desire of the Americans themselves and their government that they be permitted to return. Efforts will be made to ascertain if there is to be any exception or modification of the order which will permit the American tourists to return. It is thought possible that Germany will accept a pledge from each American to refrain from discussing military movements in Germany if permitted to leave the country. There is no real hope, however, that such a proposal will prove acceptable to Germany.

To Ask German Embassy.

The issue will be taken up by the state department with the German embassy in the United States, which is now at Newport for the summer. This will be done at the same time that Germany and the other European governments are sounded as to their attitude toward the proposal of the United States to send gold and ships to the relief of Americans. Messages on these points probably will go forward to Newport today.

At the state department experienced officials showed no disposition to minimize the seriousness of the situation created by the order of the German government, though Secretary Bryan gave no indication that he attached any importance to it. It is believed that when the American public understands fully what the German order means there will be a tremendous protest. Inquiries at the state department have indicated that there are probably more Americans in Germany than in any other of the European countries.

GERMANS AMBUSH COSSACKS.

Twenty-five Russians Are Killed by Kaiser's Infantrymen.

Berlin, Aug. 5.—Dispatches from Posen tell of the ambushing of a scouting party of Cossacks by German infantry at a point between Borzokowo and the Warta river. The Cossacks had crossed the border and were advancing inland when they were sighted by the German frontier patrols. The latter withdrew and notified the commander of an infantry regiment with headquarters in that region.

The German forces were concealed in a forest near the main highway, and when the Cossacks approached they were fired on. Five Russians fell at the first volley and a score were wounded. Although taken by surprise, the Cossacks quickly reformed and charged, only to be met with another series of volleys. The advance guard of the Cossack column surrendered, but the main body managed to retreat toward the river.

Twenty-five Russians were killed and forty-one taken prisoners.

A Merchandise Gamble

You know the men who are in business in this community. You have known them for a number of years. You know them as being honorable and upright in every dealing you have had with them.

Knowing them in this way, are you willing to go to their stores and pay to them money for merchandise of which they can show you only a picture, and for which you must wait from one week to a month after they have received your money?

OF COURSE YOU ARE NOT!

But you are doing that very same thing with people you do not know when you send your money to the mail-order firms of the cities. You have only a picture or a brief description of an article from which to determine its value. After you have sent your money you must trust to the intelligence of a poorly paid boy or girl to send in return the merchandise you want.

The people of Plainfield who persist in dealing with the mail-order houses are doing themselves and this city an injustice.

AGED RECORDER PROVED HIMSELF A REAL HERO

Thinking of nothing but the safety of others, Recorder David S. Campbell, at the double risk of serious injury on account of his age, ran out of the office of the Dunellen Lumber and Supply Company at noon yesterday and hurled himself at the bridle of a runaway horse, stopping the animal after he had been dragged fully twenty-five feet.

The horse, which was owned by Isaac V. Smalley, was attached to a wagon of Mr. Smalley's that was being loaded with freight matter at the freight-house. Upon the blowing of the whistle at noon the horse must have decided that it was time for dinner. At any rate it started at a rapid rate towards its stable on Jackson avenue and might have done considerable damage en route but for Judge Campbell's heroic deed. The judge appeared to be none the worse for his performance, as he was able to be at his desk in the office of the Dunellen Lumber and Stone Co. this morning.

WAR NEWS IN BRIEF.

England.

Great Britain declared war on Germany, and at almost the same moment Germany declared war on Great Britain. Immediately this message was sent to the great British fleet in the North sea: "Great Britain declares war on Germany. Capture or destroy the enemy." It was reported last night that a great naval battle was already on. King George had proclaimed the mobilization of the British army earlier in the day and parliament had voted $525,000,000 for emergency purposes.

Germany.

Germany declared war on Belgium and German artillery began shelling Liege and Namur, two of the important cities in Belgium, according to London advices. This action followed a second ultimatum sent by Germany to the small coast kingdom saying that Germany would be compelled to use force of arms against Belgium because the latter refused to give Germany permission to violate Belgian neutrality. German troops at once advanced near Verviere, Belgium. Germany declared war on France and one of her armies of invasion operating from Metz has crossed the frontier at Mars-et-Tour. The French fortress of Longwy is besieged, according to reports, and with three German columns already in the province of Meurthe-et-Moselle, preparations are being made, it is reported, to attack Nancy.

With declarations of war against Russia, France, Belgium and Great Britain, Germany is now at war with four European nations.

France.

A French fleet has met a German squadron in the Mediterranean, following the bombardment by the German ships of Bona, Algeria, and defeated the Germans in battle, sinking two of their cruisers and capturing one. French troops are concentrating on the border to oppose the German advance and many skirmishes between advance guards are reported.

Belgium.

On receipt of the second German ultimatum King Albert addressed a joint session of parliament, which supported the government's stand against Germany enthusiastically and appropriated funds for the defense of the kingdom. Belgian troops are mobilized and are moving to the border to meet the German armies.

Italy.

Germany repeated her call upon Italy to support her, but the latter again refused and still maintains her neutrality.

Servia.

The Servians defeated the Austrian invaders at Semendria, according to Nish dispatches.

England Declares War.

London, Aug. 5.—War is on between England and Germany. An ultimatum to the German government that the neutrality of Belgium must be respected was rejected by the kaiser's government and the British foreign office announced last night that a state of war existed.

King George has issued his proclamation mobilizing the army and has sent a message to the colonies thanking them for their hearty support in the hour of national emergency.

The government has assumed control of all the railways and the admiralty has taken over all the foreign warships now building in English ports.

The house of commons has voted a fund of $525,000,000 for the emergency.

Germany's reply was the summary rejection of the request that Belgian neutrality should be respected.

The British ambassador at Berlin thereupon received his passports and the British government notified Germany that a state of war existed between the two countries.

All Europe Now In Arms.

All Europe is now in arms. On the one hand Austria-Hungary and Germany are opposed to Russia, France, Great Britain, Servia and Montenegro.

Italy has declared her neutrality, but is mobilizing. Belgium, Holland and Switzerland have mobilized. Germany's demand that the Belgian government should permit the free passage of German troops through Belgium was answered by hasty preparations to resist such an advance across the Belgian territory.

Sweden has made no answer to inquiries from Russia and Germany regarding her attitude, but is preparing to defend her neutrality. Japan is making ready to live up to her alliance with Great Britain in case of certain eventualities. Spain is reported to be preparing a proclamation of neutrality.

Austria-Hungary for the moment has retired from her campaign against Servia for the purpose of holding back Russia, and Servia has mobilized with the reported intention of invading Bosnia.

The German fleet is concentrated for the defense of the Kiel canal. Its destruction will be the first object of the British fleet.

French Check Germans.

Paris, Aug. 5.—France and Germany are officially at war. The formal announcement was made in Berlin, where the foreign office handed the French ambassador his passports.

The advance guard of Germany's millions is steadily pushing forward into French territory. An army of 100,000 men, including all branches of the service, is massed on the Luxemburg frontier, while a second supporting column has moved westward from Metz.

It is considered certain that the German plan is to attempt to penetrate the defenses between Maubeuge and Toul and then to push straight across country in a dash on Paris. The French forces are prepared. The mobilization was completed last night and General Joffre, commander in chief, is in personal command.

In the skirmishing to date success has crowned the French efforts. Raiding parties of German cavalry and a motorcycle corps that tried to penetrate back of Nancy to cut off communication were ambushed. A dozen were killed and a number—some estimates go as high as 100—captured. The attack on Longwy has been repulsed as has that on Belfort. Germans are said to be present on the frontier near Belfort.

CUCUMBER DISHES.

DINNER MENU.
String Beans and Tomatoes.
Broiled Chops. New Potatoes.
Cucumber Salad.
Raspberry Mousse. Wafers.
Coffee or Iced Tea.

THE cucumber is one of the most cooling of summer vegetables. Although it may be satisfactorily prepared in other ways, it is most generally appreciated when served alone or in combination with other vegetables in salads.

Shaped In a Mold.

Fish Salad With Cucumber Jelly.—Put a pint of white stock in a stew pan with two peeled and grated cucumbers, a sprig of parsley, a teaspoonful of chopped onion, one third of a teaspoonful of salt and half a saltspoonful of white pepper. Cover, let stand two or more hours, then bring to the boiling point, stir in a tablespoonful gelatin softened in one-third of a cupful of cold water, color a light green and strain into a wet border mold. When firm unmold and fill with finely flaked salmon moistened with cooked dressing.

Spanish Cucumbers.—Take firm young cucumbers, peel and cut lengthwise in thick slices. Dip each slice in flour which has been highly seasoned with salt and pepper and quickly fry to a rich brown in a little hot fat. Lift, drain and arrange in a shallow saucepan. In the meantime cook slowly a tablespoonful of minced onion in one of butter. When changing color add a tablespoonful of finely chopped ham or bacon and two scant tablespoonfuls of flour. Stir until well colored; then add two-thirds of a cupful of thin strained tomato and a cupful of beef gravy. Stir until smoothly thickened; season with salt and pepper.

Highly Seasoned.

Mixed Cucumber Salad.—Wash and dry green cucumbers, slice very thin in a colander with the skins on. Put in first a layer of cucumber and then a layer of table salt until you use all the cucumbers. Let stand over night. In the morning add eight medium sized onions chopped fine, six tablespoonfuls white mustard seed, six tablespoonfuls celery seed, four ounces (or eight tablespoonfuls) olive oil, a quart of vinegar. Stir well and put in jars. This is ready for use in three weeks, but much better if kept longer.

Salad With French Dressing.—Peel and slice two large cucumbers as finely as possible, commencing at the thick end and slicing toward the stalk. Lay the slices in the bowl and sprinkle pepper and salt over them. Allow this to stand covered over for half an hour; then pour off the moisture exuded. Add a tablespoonful of vinegar and three tablespoonfuls of salad oil the moment before using.

This, of course, amounts to the simple, perfect French dressing made by beating salt and pepper with three taspoonfuls of olive oil, then adding drop by drop, beating all the time, one tablespoonful of vinegar.

Daddy's Bedtime Story— The Tale of The Withered Leaves.

Mice Could Hide Under Them.

"SO mamma took you both to the park this afternoon?" said daddy as Jack and Evelyn in pajamas and nightie climbed into his lap, clamoring for a story. "Did you notice the leaves on the trees?"

"Why, of course, daddy!" replied Evelyn. "You are trying to make fun of us."

"And were they nice and green and dancing in the breeze?" persisted daddy, with a merry twinkle in his eye.

"Yes," cut in Jack, "and it was sunshiny and just bully out there, and a boy was sailing a boat in the lake and fell in all over"—

"Well, children," he said, "daddy didn't just know what to tell you tonight till you told him of your walk in the park. Then he thought of the leaves along later, when they're all withered, and how much use they'll be then."

"Ah, daddy," interrupted Jack, "what good are withered leaves?"

"I'm going to tell you, Jack," daddy replied. "Once there were thousands and thousands of green leaves dancing the summer away in a big grove. It was very pleasant there. The sunshine stole through and made them very brilliant and good to look at, and when they were thirsty there was the warm rain to drink, and the birds made their nests among them and used to sing pretty songs to them out of gratitude.

"But by and by one of the little leaves, who was always looking for trouble, talked with a breath of the north wind that happened to stray into the grove toward evening. When it had gone this little leaf, very much worried over what the north breeze had whispered to it, told the others, too, and they were all very sad and hoped it wasn't true, for the north breeze told the little leaf that the autumn was coming and he would be withered and fall from the tree and the others with him.

"Sure enough, the fall came, and Jack Frost painted the little leaves in lovely colors. Then they felt better, for, though they were a little chilly, they thought they were too beautiful to die. But the north wind came along one night with a howl and a blast, and in the morning all the leaves lay torn and withered upon the ground.

"Jack thought they wouldn't be of any use any more, but the little field mice, chased by hungry owls, could hide under them. Animals and birds could use them to line their burrows and nests. They would lie through the winter to protect the tender shoots and flowers getting ready to bloom in the spring, and when the spring rains fell upon them after awhile they would be absorbed into the ground to help nourish new plants and trees.

"And now the sandman's waiting. You must both run to bed."

VALUABLE RECORD IN CLERK'S OFFICE

Official Roster of Union County One of the Most Curious On File.

The official roster of the county, a large sheepskin, more than four feet in length and nearly three wide, on file in County Clerk Calvert's office, is one of the most curious records there. It is nearly filled on both sides with the signatures of those who have taken the oath of office, it being a part of the clerk's duties to swear in all county officers from the judge of the county courts to notaries public, etc. After the swearing in, the official roster is signed.

The sheepskin is divided into several columns, one is for the name, one for the office, another for the date of taking the oath and next in line is the one telling the date of expiration of the term. Other spaces are for the address, remarks and other information concerning the signer and the office he or she holds. The scroll is one of the most frequently consulted records in the office, as it is necessary to ascertain the qualifications of all notaries and commissioners of deeds when putting a certificate on any paper they have executed which is to be used outside of the State.

The sheepskin bears the names of many persons now dead, as it has been in the office for many years. A new one will be made up at the beginning of the next term of the clerk, but the old one will still remain a part of the county records. Mr. Calvert's term expires this year. He is a candidate on the Republican ticket to succeed himself and if successful, of which he is most confident, he will sign the new scroll among the other new county officers to be elected this fall.

RECORD ATTENDANCE OF CHILDREN AT PLAYGROUNDS

The report of the four city playgrounds for the four weeks ending August 1, shows the remarkable attendance of 20,605, which is a record for any month during the entire five years that they have been maintained. It exceeds the high water mark of four weeks last year by 1,179 and indicates that there is a growing interest.

The Playground Commission states that in view of the large number of children frequenting the grounds there has been no roughness and the supervisors have been obeyed in all cases. There have been no serious accidents and altogether the results have been very satisfactory.

BADLY BEATEN BY QUINTET OF BOYS

Farm Hand Attacked in Orchard of His Employer On East Second Street.

HIS CONDITION SERIOUS

Victim Lies in Muhlenberg Hospital—Police Seek Identity of Assailants—Capture of One Youth Led to Attack By His Four Companions

Sergeant Maurice Higgins, of the local police department, is today scouring the city for some trace of five youthful assailants who beat Robert VanThrope, an employe of L. V. F. Randolph, into unconsciousness on the latter's estate shortly after 8:30 o'clock last night. Hearing a disturbance in his employer's plum orchard, the farm hand went to the East Second street side of the farm and discovered five boys filling several bags with the fruit.

At the sight of VanThrope the intruders dropped from their perches in the trees and were preparing a hasty getaway when the employe grabbed one of them. He proceeded to shake the young thief into submission and was subduing his quarry when the other four leaped on him. VanThrope was pulled to the ground and trampled on by the quintet until he relaxed into unconsciousness. His cries were heard by neighbors who found him bleeding profusely about the head and arms. At first it was thought that life was extinct, but a hurried investigation proved otherwise and the hospital authorities were notified. He was removed to that institution and is being attended by Dr. A. F. VanHorn. His injuries are of a serious and painful nature, but he was reported as resting more comfortably this morning.

Only a meagre description of the five assailants could be obtained by the police, this morning, and with a twelve hours' start on their pursuers the intruders have evidently made good their escape. As soon as assistance came to the injured man the youths fled in all direction and no trace of their whereabouts could be secured last night. They are thought to be well-known East End characters and they were probably angered by VanThrope's attack on their companion.

The Randolph farm is one of the largest in this city and is well known to the younger generation for its choice fruit. Regular visits are made to this place at this season of the year by youthful fruit thieves and the owner has had considerable trouble in retaining the apples, plums and pears which are abundant. The prowlers as a rule come in gangs like the one last night, and do considerable damage to the trees as well as taking a large amount of the fruit.

RARE PRIVILEGE GIVEN PLAINFIELDERS

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Ackerman Are Permitted to Visit "Forbidden City."

An honor and privilege rarely accorded to any one, in fact less than ten times in all history, was accorded to former State Senator and Mrs. Ernest R. Ackerman recently during their sojourn in Peking, China, when they were permitted to enter the gates of the "Forbidden City," and for an hour were allowed to walk over "holy ground" considered such in the eyes of the Manchus.

The Plainfielders visited the throne, 200x100x50 feet in heighth, and walked on the dias supporting the throne itself. They greatly appreciated this rare opportunity, realizing that in all history but few privileged travelers have been permitted to set foot inside these gates. This is where the nine-year-old boy Emperor is living and this fact gave added interest to the visit within the "Forbidden City." Mr. and Mrs. Ackerman are now touring Japan and will probably return home early in September.

CONCERT AUGUST 14.

The Dutch Arms Band of Trinity Reformed church has announced Tuesday, August 11, as the date for the next in their series of public concerts at East Front and Church streets. An excellent program of popular and classical music has been arranged for the occasion. These concerts on the East Side have proved to be enjoyable to a large number of citizens of the city.

LONG SENTENCE FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT

Michael Comiskey Assumed a Flippant Attitude and Hurled Challenge at Judge.

Flippancy on the part of Michael Comiskey, after he had been sentenced to pay a fine of $25 or serve sixty days in the county jail by Judge W. G. DeMeza, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct in the city court, this morning, resulted in the rescinding of the original sentence by the court and the enactment of one of ninety days' imprisonment. The youth was apprehended last night by Patrolman Nicholas Meyers after he had insulted Miss Mary McGeary, in an East Front street saloon. The woman, who was in the place with an escort, claimed that Comiskey, who was partially intoxicated, called her vile names and followed her. The woman's testimony was corroborated by two of Comiskey's companions.

On passing sentence on the youth, the court referred to him as the worst type of a loafer and declared that the city was going to do everything in its power to break up the rowdyism that has become so noticable in the business section of late. Comiskey is a frequent offender and has a habit of bothering women. The youth, when queried in court, assumed a sulky attitude and answered in a pert manner. When leaving the court room he hurled a challenge at the judge and was recalled to be sentenced again. He will be taken to the Elizabeth county jail for a three months' term by Sergeant Higgins this afternoon.

OFFICIALS INVITED TO WITNESS PARADE

Will Review Labor Day Demonstration From the Grand Stand.

The Mayors and Councils, of Plainfield, North Plainfield and Dunellen have been invited to occupy seats on the reviewing stand for the Labor Day parade, to be held here on September 7. The invitations were directed to be sent to the officials at the meeting of the Labor Day parade committee of the Allied Trades, held in Building Trades Council Hall, last night, when further arrangements were made for the big affair. It was decided that the parade, which will be the main feature of the celebration, will form on West Front street at 10 o'clock in the morning.

William H. Lunger, who has been chosen marshal of the day, announced that those who expect to enter floats in the parade, should not have them over eleven feet high, because of the railroad bridges. Those who exceed this limit should have their floats on the south side of the railroad, where they will form in line. Those desiring further information concerning floats should communicate with Charles Dahl, of 729 Webster place.

Fantastics are expected to be one of the attractive features of the parade and prizes will be offered for the best display. The public is invited to participate in this part of the affair. Entries should be made to Albert E. Willard, of 310 West Front street. As to the decorations of stores and various business houses, the committee will take this matter up with the merchants of the city with the idea of securing their co-operation in making the demonstration a complete success.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION, TROUBLE MAKER IS HELD

Bernard McGeary, a wayward youth who has been arraigned in the local police court a number of times on the complaint of his parents, was arrested again last night, on the suspicion of having something to do with petty robberies committed lately in this city. When arraigned before City Judge DeMeza in the city court, this morning, he was held without bail for a hearing tomorrow morning.

An investigation into the matter will be conducted by the police this afternoon and a disposition of the case will be made by Judge DeMeza tomorrow morning. The boy has been arrested a number of times for drunkenness and has given the police considerable trouble, it is said. He comes from respectable parents and their efforts to reform him have proven futile. It is probable that he will be placed in some institution where he will receive the proper treatment for the cure of the liquor habit, which appears to have gotten the best of him.

HARMANS ARE ON THEIR WAY HOME

Plainfielders Among the Americans Aboard the Steamer Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Harman and daughters, the Misses Elsie and Helen Harman, of West Eighth street, who were included among the Americans marooned in Germany, in some way succeeded in leaving Berlin and are among the Americans who are passengers on the steamship Philadelphia, of the International Mercantile Marine Company, bound for home.

They were without food for twenty-four hours on their journey from Berlin to England and were most thankful of the opportunity to get aboard a steamer en route for America. No particulars have been received as to how they were able to get out of Germany, as that country has given strict orders forbidding Americans to leave that territory. Mr. Harman is a member of the New York firm of Hanly & Harman, dealers in bullion.

In the shipment today of $8,000,000 in gold on the U. S. S. Cruiser Tennessee for the relief of stranded Americans in Europe, Plainfielders are again especially interested for the fact that among those who will make the trip, caring for the precious cargo, will be Harry Gee, of First place, who is assigned to the trip as a representative of the American Express Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. King, of Watchung avenue, who have been abroad for some time, were en route for home on the White Star Liner Cedric, and today it was learned that the steamer had put in at Halifax, the captain being afraid to take any chances in crossing the ocean. Just how long the Cedric will remain at Halifax is not known. Mr. King holds a position with the J. P. Morgan banking house.

Advices were received today that the Norwegian American Liner Kristianafjord, which sailed from New York, July 25, carrying among her passengers several Plainfielders, reached Bergen, Norway, yesterday.

Edmund L. McKenzie, of this city, is another Plainfielder who is abroad at this time. He is supposed to be in England.

Henry Johnson, steward of the Park Club, is at present in Sweden, where he went early in the summer to visit relatives.

LOCAL STOCKHOLDERS INTERESTED IN SUIT

Receivers of Defunct Mutual Association Ask Permission to Settle.

In the Court of Chancery in Trenton, yesterday, Vice Chancellor Walker allowed a rule to show cause why the receivers for the defunct State Mutual Building and Loan Association, in which many Plainfield stockholders are interested, should not be allowed to compromise the suit instituted by the receivers against the directors of the concern.

The receivers, Thomas E. French, Samuel K. Robbins and George J. Bergen, sued the directors to recover money lost because of mismanagement of the building loan. The directors included some of the most prominent men of the State. All of the testimony has not yet been taken and if allowed to continue the suit would be long drawn out and the shareholders would suffer as a result.

The receivers filed a petition with the Court today asking that they be allowed to settle this suit for $80,000 in cash. It was pointed out that many of the shareholders were old persons and unnecessary suffering would result if the litigation was allowed to continue. The sum, $80,000, was deemed a fair price and the court asked to approve the compromise. The receivers have already received $5,000 of the amount. The court named August 18, for the return of the rule.

The receivers now have a balance of $58,871 on hand and the court is asked for permission to distribute this sum.

DELINQUENT LIST COMPLETED.

The list of delinquent taxpayers has been completed by Collector William R. Townsend, and the publication will follow shortly. This means added expense to those who do not settle their last year's tax bills with the city before the appearance of the list in the local newspapers. About 275 properties are included in this list, which is but slightly above normal, but this number may be lowered before appearing the first of the week.

POPULATION OF DUNELLEN 2,453

Census Taken By Daily Press Shows Substantial Growth Since Poll In 1910.

FOUR YEARS' GAIN 463

Prize of $5 Offered By Daily Press For Nearest Guess Divided Between Mary Peters and A. C. Siedentop, Who Gave Borough 2,450.

Dunellen has a population of 2,453. Inspired by the general desire on the part of residents of that hustling borough, to know how many people actually are there, the Plainfield Daily Press has been having a canvas made during the last two weeks, with an idea of answering the question. The interest in the matter has been greatly increased by the offer of the Daily Press to give $5 to the resident of the borough who guessed the nearest to the actual population.

This prize will be divided between Mary Peters and A. C. Siedentop, as both guessed 2,450, and the rules of the contest provided that in case of tie the prize would be divided. Ernest Peters guessed 2,425, and was the nearest to the two winners.

Those who guessed between 2,400 and 2,500, or within fifty of the final count, with their guesses, were: John D. L. Peters, 2,410; J. A. Wilson, 2,424; Ernest Peters, 2,425; Charles B. Deldine, 2,463; S. Ralston Peters, 2,468; Mrs. W. S. Frederick, 2,480; Austin D. Wilson, 2,491, and Miss Edith Strickland, 2,500.

When the work was undertaken it was thought that it could be completed within a week, but the rapid growth of the palce during the past four years, when the last Government census was taken, made it necessary to extend the time given to the poll. In 1910 the Government census showed that there were 1,990 people in the borough.

That Dunellen people were interested was shown by the fact that over one hundred people sent in guesses to the Daily Press as to the population there. These ranged all the woy from 2,020, or thirty people more than in 1910, to 8,876, which was evidently offered as a joke. Only one guess was received in the 2,000 class; four guesses in 2,100; seven in 2,200, and twelve in 2,300, and the balance in the higher numbers.

The population is divided into 1,250 males and 1,203 females, as follows:

	Males	Females
Under 21	502	451
Over 21	748	752
Totals	1,250	1,203

The Daily Press has been commended on all sides because of its enterprise in settling the question which has been of so much interest to Dunellenites. The superior news service regarding that borough, during the past few months, has created the greatest demand for the paper that has ever been known within the limit of the place, Pennock, the newsdealer, having sold out his supply nightly for many weeks, and frequently having occasion when he could not supply the demand. The canvas for the census figures was made by Robert Bogardus, who has given careful and faithful attention to the work, so that his figures may be considered as accurate as any which might be made by an official national or State census taker.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN, ENTAILING BIG LOSS

Somerville Conflagration Burned Three Head of Horses and Considerable Grain.

Fire, said to be of an incendiary origin, this morning, destroyed the extensive outbuildings of G. L. Van-Doren, in Somerville. When discovered the fire had made great headway, and the firemen were unable to do anything but prevent its spread to the residence.

The barn was filled with the season's crop of grain, and this, together with valuable machinery and three horses, were destroyed. Mr. Van-Doren's stables have accommodation for 40 head of horses and almost that number were grazing in the fields at the time of the fire. The three horses burned belonged to a son, E. L. Van-Doren.

8,000 GERMANS REPORTED KILLED IN FUTILE ATTEMPT TO TAKE LIEGE; GERMAN PRISONERS AT HARWICH

Belgians Reported to Have Scored Victory In Liege Battle and Germans Put to Rout--Ambassador Herrick Says Americans in Paris Are Provided For, But Appeal Comes from Page in London for Urgent Help for 20,000 from United States.

LORD KITCHENER.

All England Wants Khartum Hero to Rule War Forces.

All England demands that Lord Kitchener, the hero of Khartum, direct her destinies in the conflict with Germany. There is tremendous agitation for the appointment of Kitchener as war minister. It was officially announced that, though he has not been appointed to the post, he has been in the war office and has assisted without any definite designation as to the title. Lord Haldane has also been assisting in the war office.

GIVE OXYGEN TO WILSON'S WIFE

Sinking Spell Continued All Day, the Result of Nervous Breakdown.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Dr. Grayson, at 2 o'clock, issued the following announcement: "Mrs. Wilson suffered two sinking spells this morning, but rallied from both through the aid of powerful stimulants. She now is conscious but steadily growing weaker."

A statement was made at 9:30 o'clock, that Mrs. Wilson appeared to be resting easy. There was little change in her condition, however, and it was evident that the deepest apprehension was felt over the outcome. All engagements at the executive office were cancelled for today. Secretary Tumulty will care for such routine matters as can be handled by him, and only matters of the most pressing character will be brought to the President's attention.

At 10 o'clock Dr. Cary T. Grayson, the President's physician, who has been in constant attendance on Mrs. Wilson, issued the following statement.

The chief cause of Mrs. Wilson's present critical condition is chronic kidney trouble. This has developed as one of the results of a nervous breakdown, brought on by overwork. The first sign that she was doing too much appeared last February, and since then she has suffered a great deal, culminating in chronic kidney trouble. While her condition is alarming there was today a slight improvement over yesterday and the first part of last evening. She is very weak but conscious and brave and cheerful.

A resolution of sympathy for the President in view of Mrs. Wilson's illness, was adopted today by the House. It was introduced by Representative Kinkead, of New Jersey, and read:

"Resolved, that the House of Representatives of the United States ten-

Americans in Paris are provided for, but the situation in London is bad.

English ships Cedric and Mauretania have put in at Halifax and unloaded their passengers.

Washington, Aug. 6—Carrying approximately $8,000,000 in gold for the relief of American citizens stranded in Europe, the cruiser Tennessee was ordered by the Navy department, to sail at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Ambassador Herrick, at Paris today, cabled the State department that the situation in regard to Americans in France, has been greatly relieved and suggest that it will be useless to waste time sending the cruiser Tennessee there with funds to cash the checks and letters of credit of tourists. The despatch is accepted as confirmation of the report that the French foreign office has placed millions in gold at the disposal of foreigners.

The situation in London, however, is exceedingly grave. Ambassador Page cabled the department today that transportation was needed immediately for 20,000 destitute Americans, none of whom could cash checks or letters of credit.

Naval officers were detailed today to take charge of the commercial wireless stations on the Atlantic coast of the United States to maintain a complete censorship over wireless despatches and prevent all code messages from being sent. This will apply even to messages from the diplomatic officials of belligerent powers, it was declared by Secretary Daniels today.

Owners of the available coastwise steamers which may be impressed into service for transportation home of Americans marooned in Europe, are now trying to hold up the war department for fabulous sums to charter their vessels, the Secretary of War declared today.

William G. Sharp, newly appointed Ambassador to France, who will succeed Myron T. Herrick, will arrive in Washington to confer with Secretary Bryan. Efforts will be made to get him on board the gold ship, Tennessee, which will also carry Ambassador Willard to his post in Spain.

Confirmation of any of the reported battles has not yet been received at the State department, according to an official announcement today.

The battleships Louisiana, Minnesota and Texas, were ordered back to New York today, from Mexican waters.

Determined to put through the Senate today the bill providing for the admission of foreign built ships to American registry for the foreign trade during the war, Senator O'Gorman in charge of the measure called it before the Senate today.

New York, Aug. 6.—Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethelehem Steel Corporation, who is in New York today, explained the report that the Bethlehem Steel Company had laid off 2,000 men and that similar action would be taken by other subsidiaries of the corporation, by saying that the men laid off were only those engaged on extension work. None of the men engaged in making steel, Mr. Schwab said, have been laid off.

New York, Aug. 6.—W. H. Peck, in charge of the transfer department of the Canadian Pacific Railroad in this city, was a passenger on the Kronprinzessin Cecilie, and arrived in New York today, from Bar Harbor. It is evident from the account that Mr. Peck gives of what happened after the captain received orders to turn back to America, that the published accounts of the whole affair have been substantially correct.

London, Aug. 6.—(Central News Cable.)—The port of Southampton has been closed to merchant ships.

Brussels, Aug. 6.—(Central News Cable.)—The great battle between the Belgian and German forces before Liege was resumed this morning. The German troops were reinforced by more than 20,000 additional troops, at the head of whom is reported to be the Crown Prince of Germany. The Belgian lines of defense along the river Meuse are still intact.

The Germans are reported to have lost 8,000 men and the Belgians much less, when the Germans were repulsed from the Liege district. According to a statement today in the Gazette, the Belgians captured seven guns. The Belgian Eleventh Brigade pursued the fleeing Prussians with such energy that it was with difficulty they could be turned back when they began to get out of the range of their forts. Demands for the surrender of Liege have again been firmly refused.

London, Aug. 6.—(Central News Cable.)—Twenty-eight German prisoners were landed at Harwich this morning and will shortly be conveyed to barracks. The survivors are part of the crew of the German minelayer Koenigin Louise, which was sunk by a British warship yesterday while caught in the act of laying mines. The victor was not the cruiser Amphion, as has been reported, but the new torpedo destroyer, Lance. She fired only four shots at the German. The third destroyed the bridge, while the fourth carried away the stern of the German vessel, which sank in six minutes. Four of the German wounded lost their legs while two others had their arms shot off. There were no British casualties. The German ship was caught at work laying mines only sixty miles from Harwich.

Rome, Aug. 6.—A Trieste despatch to the Tribuna, declares that a vast number of Servians have been executed there by order of the Austrian authorities. The same despatch announces that only Italian soldiers remain at Scutari.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 6.—(Central News Cable.)—According to the Bourse Gazette, the Grand Duke Constantine Constanovitch has been arrested by German troops at Bad Wildungen, where he was taking the cure. The Grand Duke is being held a prisoner of war.

London, Aug. 6.—(Central News Cable.)—The German Ambassador left London at 8 a. m. today.

A Central News dispatch from Berne says that a number of German soldiers in their efforts to escape an attack by a French force penetrated into Switzerland at Bournevesain, but were disarmed at once by the Swiss soldiers.

The law prohibiting the importation of arms into Ireland has been revoked.

London, Aug. 6.—A despatch from the Hague says that an official Gazette today proclaims the strictest Dutch neutrality.

New York, Aug 6.—The following cable has just been received from Paris by a prominent international banking house: "General opinion that the game is up with Germany. Do not sell anything." The foregoing cabe is from a prominent New York German-American, who is now in Paris.

DUNELLEN

NARROWLY ESCAPES DROWNING

While at Lake Hopatcong, on Sunday, John Logan, of Washington avenue, saw Lew Bowlby, of Bound Brook, who is well known about this place, and King Brady, of Plainfield, come within an ace of losing their lives by the capsizing of a canoe as the result of taking a dare. Bowlby and Brady, who had never been in a canoe before, were dared to cross the lake and return. Without a moment's hesitation the two seated themselves in the frail craft and commenced paddling across. They managed to keep the wobbly canoe on a fairly even kiel until the center of the lake had been reached, when over it went. Brady, who is an expert swimmer, grabbed Bowlby, who cannot swim, as he came to the surface after his second decension. Bowlby, after a desperate struggle, succeeded in getting a deadly hold on Brady and the two were commencing slowly to sink when they were grabbed by the hands of a rescue party in a motor boat. The incident was almost a repetition of the fatality of a year ago when two young men in a canoe lost their lives in the same manner at almost the identical spot.

STILL AT LARGE.

"Chinaman" Kelly, who it is alleged committed an assault and battery on one Emil Robenrieth in front of Gustac Winter's hostelry on North avenue, at noon yesterday, is still at large. The local authorities are of the opinion, however, that he is hovering somewhere in the vicinity, because they have been told that he is very anxious, before shaking the dust of Dunellen off his feet, to have a second's interview with a party whom he describes as "a person wearing a blue faded cap generally mounted on a bicycle." Kelly, 'tis said, is of the decided opinion that a warrant for his arrest would never have been sworn out by the man Robenreith if it had not been for the influence of this certain party.

confiscated by the German government.

FINANCIAL NEWS.

New York, Aug. 6.—A London cable to the National City Bank this morning says: The National City Bank Act has been suspended. Bank of England notes are being issued in denominations of 10 shilling and 1 pound.

J. P. Morgan, in commenting on the appointment of his firm to represent the French government in New York, in whatever transactions may arise from the transfer of gold from the Bank of France to Morgan Harjes and Company, of Paris said this morning: "The French government has bought cable transfer in Paris for a large sum of money, a sum sufficient to meet all the immediate needs of the American tourists over there. Part of this money is to be payable in gold. How we shall arrange this in connection with the relief group has not yet been settled, in fact, none of the details are settled. The simple fact is that there is sufficient gold to meet all needs that may arise. The amount is $6,000,000, one-half of which is in gold.

"It is at the order of the French Ambassador, who will draw on it at this centre. Probably half of the amount will be needed in Paris to meet the needs of the stranded travelers, while the balance will be available to meet payments of obligations of the French government. In other words France has established a credit balance here which will take care of immediate needs."

Benjamin F. Strong, president of the Bankers' Trust Company, and other members of the committee having in charge the shipment of gold to Europe for the relief of stranded Americans were at the sub-treasury conferring with Assistant Treasurer Charles S. Hamlin this morning. The purpose of this meeting, it was stated by a member of the committee, was to make final arrangements for shipment of gold coin on the cruiser Tennessee.

The full committee of bankers having the matter in charge, held a long meeting this morning at the Bankers' Trust Company, at the conclusion of which Mr. Strong stated that an announcement would be made later. From this meeting certain members of those who attended together with Mr. Strong, went immediately to the sub-treasury.

Cleveland, Aug. 6.—With the declaration of war by Great Britain the situation has cleared in many respects, because greater protection is assured to owners of vessels in the transportation of ocean cargoes. So the Daily Iron Trade, quotes President Farrell, of the United States Steel Corporation. Continuing Mr. Farrell is quoted as follows: "The action taken by the British government in guaranteeing war risks of vessels transporting food stuffs and other commodities will facilitate exports. No one can forsee what the full effect upon the steel business of this country is going to be but certain it is that steel imports from Europe will cease and with the passing of the necessary legislation by our government, a number of additional vessels will be brought under the American flag, and I believe there will be a gradual resumption of exports which will assist in restoring the equilibrium of foreign exchange and relieve the congestion of merchandise in transit at the seaboard.

London, Aug. 6.—The Bank of England was reduced to 6 per cent. today. A rate of 10 per cent. had been maintained since last Saturday.

The report current in New York that the government had taken over Lloyds is not true. A war insurance risk office was established yesterday afternoon. The initial business was nominal. There were numerous applications, however, which warrants the belief that the business will extend quickly to present risks covering cargoes. The scheme practically initiates State shipping insurance. Underwriters said today that they had no doubt that the plan would be successful. They pointed out that it was a good business proposition and that it was certain to go a long way toward re-establishing Great Britain's shipping and relieving any shortage of food..

The Equitable Trust Company office here is open every day and satisfying all holders of letters of credit presented.

SHIPPING NEWS.

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 6.—(Central News Cable.)—The White Star Steamship, Cedric, westbound and due in New York tomorrow, put into this harbor this morning. She left Liverpool, July 30, and Queenstown, July 31.

The Cunard line steamer, Mauretania, has also arrived and is disembarking passengers.

New York, Aug. 6.—Upon inquiry at the office of the White Star Line, as to the cause for the steamship Cedric, putting into Halifax this morning, instead of coming through to New York, an official of the company stated that no further information had been received from the commander of the ship except confirmation of the Central News dispatch.

It is reported in Halifax marine circles, that H. M. S. Essex, and possibly other British cruisers will arrive in Halifax this afternoon or tonight. It is reported that the Essex and another unknown British cruiser escorted the Mauretania and the Cedric to the mouth of the harbor.

The Hamburg-American Line steamer, Nicaria, has put in at Southport, N. C. At the offices of the steamship company it is stated that the Nicaria ought to be in that locality at this time but that no information has been received as to the ships arrival there. The Nicaria is in the New York-Brazilian service and left Barbadoes on July 31. Southport is near Wilmington.

Washington, Aug. 6.—The revenue cutter Androscoggin, arrived at Bar Harbor from Portland, at dawn today, and reported by wireless to the revenue cutter service. Treasury officials declare no orders have been issued for the transfer of the $10,600,000 in gold now aboard the Kronprinzessin Cecilie ,and that it has not been decided whether the treasure will be taken back to New York on the cutter, or dispatched by land. The Kronprinzessin Cecilie, it was said, will be detained at Bar Harbor for the present.

Key West, Aug. 6.—The Standard Oil Steamship, Sioux, flying the German flag, which left Tampico, on July 30, with a cargo of oil for European ports, arrived here today.

New York, Aug. 6.—Captain Agassiz and Wireless Operators Gey and Parsons, of the Steamship Uranium, this afternoon declared to a representative of the Central News, that the statements attributed to them, that while at sea the Steamship Uranium's wireless had intercepted a message from the Cunard Liner Lusitania to the effect that two German cruisers, that had been pursuing the Lusitania had been chased and overtaken by two British cruisers and sunk, were untrue. All agreed in stating that the story was made out of whole cloth .

Washington, Aug. 6.—Secretary Byran today conferred with the Japanese Ambassador Baron Chinda, on the situation in the far east, as it is affected by the present European war. The Ambassador, after the conference, said no immediate complications in eastern waters threatened because of the English and German naval vessels there, and the possessions of England in China,. It was reported that at the conference the question of the United States taking measures to preserve the neutrality of the eastern waters was under discussion, but neither Mr. Bryan nor Baron Chinda would confirm it.

The neutrality of Holland has not yet been threatened by Germany, so far as the legation of the Netherlands is informed according to Baron E. de da Nagell, of the legation, in a statement to Secretary Bryan. The diplomat added that his country would resist any attack on her neutrality even to the extent of opening her Dykes and flooding the kingdom.

A declaration of neutrality of the United States toward Belgium and Germany will be issued by the State department within a few hours, it was learned from officials to day.

WESTERNERS MAKING LONG TRIP BY AUTO

Trio of Travelers Stop Off Here On the Last Day of Their Journey.

Enroute from Beaumont, Texas, to Providence, R. I., three typical westerners, one of whom was Ed. Jarvis, formerly of this city, spent several hours in this city yesterday afternoon before their departure in their automobile, for their final stop which they expected to reach at a late hour last night. Carrying an equipment, consisting of camp utensils, tents and cots the men have been roughing it for the better part of the month stopping off at places of interest along the line.

Their car is bedecked with flags bearing the names of towns through which they have passed and one with Plainfield on it was added before their departure from the Queen City. Interviewed by a Daily Press reporter, the travelers stated that the roads in New Jersey are some of the best that they have encountered. Recent rains have made the thoroughfares along the route selected by them almost impassable in some cases and they have been compelled to resort frequently to the use of chains and ropes. The trio are bound for the International Typographical Union convention at Providence.

LAST EXCURSION.

The Warren chapel excursion to Asbury Park on Thursday, August 13, will be the last of the season, and as usual, it will be one of the best. The committee in charge of the arrangements is planning to take a big crowd to the shore. The train will leave the North Avenue station at 8:10 o'clock, and returning leaving the shore at 6:10 o'clock. Stops will be made at the Netherwood station both going and coming.

PLAINFIELD NEWS.

There is no better way to keep out-of-town friends informed as to Plainfield news than to mail to them from time to time a copy of The Press after you have finished with it, sometimes marking an article of special interest.

Better yet, you might send some one out-of-town a subscription to receive The Daily Press every day at the rate of 10 cents a week or $5.00 a year.

HAPPY EXILES QUIT EUROPE IN STEERAGE

Wealthy Men Are Glad to Get Bunks.

London, Aug. 6.—American character was shown finely and typically at Southampton when 932 Americans sailed on the American liner Philadelphia. Of the total 502 were in the second class, which is the best the vessel affords since it was placed in the "one class" service by the International Mercantile marine some time ago, and the remaining 430 were in the steerage.

It is safe to say that never since the Mayflower has a ship sailed with so important a list of steerage passengers. This list of the Philadelphia included many wealthy men and women and many of prominence. They showed no annoyance at being compelled to travel in the steerage and made no complaint at their novel position. They appeared happier than those in the cabin. All were laughing and in the best of spirits as they were escorted to their bunks.

Three wealthy Pittsburg men agreed that this was true democracy, really illustrating the ultimate value of money. The men, women and children in the steerage seemed to look upon the voyage as a joke. Good nature reigned throughout that part of the ship.

SHOOT DOWN AN AEROPLANE.

Austrians Report the Destruction of a Russian Machine.

Vienna, Aug. 6.—According to the Neue Freie Presse, a Russian aeroplane carrying a pilot and two Russian officers was sighted on the Russo-German frontier near Lmberg, an important military station of Austria-Hungary, and was fired on by Austrians.

The machine crashed to the ground, and the two officers were killed.

Portland (Me.) Wireless Men Overhear Messages.

Portland, Me., Aug. 6.—Wireless operators here say that they have intercepted messages which indicate that the Lusitania is heading for this port.

They say the messages indicate that she is being pursued by German warships.

ISOLATE SERVIA AND AUSTRIA

No News In London of Any Movements in the War.

London, Aug. 6.—No important dispatches had reached London of the situation as regards the war between Austria and Servia. The censorship and the breaking of communication appears for the moment to have isolated both countries.

Christian Civilization!

The following view of the situation in Europe by a contributor to the Press is of interest at this time. While we do not agree with every opinion expressed by the writer, his summing up of the conditions is of more than passing interest.—Editor.

Austria is a Christian country, so are Germany, France, England and Russia.

Strewn through these kingdoms and empires are temples small and towering and awe inspiring, devoted to the glory of the "Prince of Peace."

Every Sunday countless millions of faithful assemble in these places of worship to sing Hosannahs and Hellelujahs, and listen to denunciatory sermons on the "infidels," the "enemies of Christianity," the "destroyers of the home," of "property," "religion."

The targets of these vituperative sermons go right on serene and unaffected in their work of enlightenment pointing out that robbers in their get-away with other people's property generally raise the cry of "stop thief" to mislead the pursuers, but some time they are caught with the goods on and then appear a sorry spectacle before an astonished crowd.

The present European conflagration involving the lives of millions of human beings reveals in all its hideousness the sham and pretense of Christian civilization. Two thousand years of Christian preaching is culminating in the greatest Christian carnage the world has ever seen. The frightful crescendo of this beastly tragic symphony is partly traceable to the church whose priests, hiding under the mask of Christ, outdarwin Darwin in their secret defense of the Gospel of the Survival of the Fittest. It is they who by defending an iniquitous system of society based on fraud and trickery as good as proclaim that the race is to the cunningest and the swiftest, that "Might is Right."

His most Christian Majesty, the bloody Emperor of Austria—and I challenge the Pope of Rome to say that he is not a Christian—who, unlike Lady Macbeth, of the damned spot, unable to wash it out, smears his whole hand with blood so the spot wouldn't show, resolves that the Servians must be punished for not allowing Austrian inquisitors to humiliate them. The Russian Czar—and I challenge the Russian Pope to say that he is not a Christian—whose hands not only are smeared, but his whole body is bathed in the blood of countless thousands of Russian lovers of freedom, fearful of Austrian expansion and not for any love of Servia interferes.

The Kaiser—and I challenge the responsible church dignitaries of Germany to say that he is not a Christian—who aspires to rule over all the Teutonic people, backs Austria. France, in constant fear of Germany, lends help to Russia. The English King—and I challenge the Archbishop of Canterbury to say that he is not a Christian—also fearful of German expansion, joins forces with the traditional enemy. Italy? Well, up to this writing is still undecided whether to participate or not in this impending premeditated crime, not because the King is any less Christian but for the very obvious reason that only a few weeks ago Italy had a taste of the general strike. Should it decide, however, in spite of the temper of the Italian workers to join this carnival of blood, it would mean the end of the Monarchy, and that is something to be thankful for.

Verily diplomacy make strange bed-fellows. Think of Russia defending a weak neighbor, and France and England, supposedly the two most democratic countries of Europe, supporting Russia, the most despotic, against the onslaught of Germany and Austria, not quite as democratic as France or absolutist as Russia.

But, is the refusal of Servia to accede to Austria's demands the real cause of the war? To the superficial observer it may appear so and the present article so far lends weight to such interpretation. The aim of the foregoing, however, was to show the sham and pretense of Christian ethics. If Kings have the power to declare war, the pretext in this case is very flimsy, and makes a mockery of the injunction "Love thy Neighbor."

To a mind not befogged by race prejudice and capable of grasping the meaning of these partentious signs of the times the reason is clear.

All human institutions carry within themselves the seed of destruction. Capitalism born upon the ruins of struggling feudalism follows the same law. Capitalism based on the profit system, the robbery of the many by the few is tottering under the weight of accumulated profits. The workers not receiving in wages the equivalent of their product it follows that the part not received accumulates in other hands than theirs. When in the process of production, the employers—who own the means by which the workers live—find that they have in their stock rooms more goods than the market can absorb, they either reduce their forces or discontinue for a time the manufacture of a given article. Now, when one big industry closes its doors or materially reduces its force it affects all other industries for the simple reason that the purchasing power of the workers, limited even in periods of so called normal activities, is now lessened greatly—these are the periods which we are wont to call of "industrial stagnation."

Without going much deeper into the question everybody knows that times have not been normal throughout the world for the last six or seven years; that we are in the throes of chronic hard times. This condition of affairs has made the workers of the world restless, and they begin in all earnestness to ask the question: Why an ever decreasing opportunity to work and ever increasing cost of living? and the answer began to come clearer and clearer with an ever increasing volume of voice, "The Profit System." Capitalism defended and supported by the church is the real cause of the workers' misery. The invisible power behind the thrones plainly saw the handwriting on the wall and resolved on the last desperate stand for the continuation of its reign of plunder and exploitation. By re-enacting the bloody tragedy of the ages, by plunging the various countries in war against each other, by skillfully exciting race hatred and work the people up to a frenzied feeling of patriotism and national pride, it hopes to accomplish two things, first, to make the workers forget their troubles and their common enemy while engaged to slay one another, and second, with the general destruction sure to follow the wheels of industry will begin to move again, setting an era of so-called prosperity and give capitalism a new lease of life.

So let the "filthy and contagious clouds of heady murder, spoil and villiany" hang over Europe that King Capital may live. But it may turn out different after the clouds have disappeared. Capital has staked its fortune upon a caste and must take the hazard of the die.

Now one last question: O ye priests of God! Who destroys the home? Who destroys property? Who makes a mockery of religion? Who lays fertile fields waste and desolate? Who gives the command to close all "the gates of mercy" while capitalism whose puppets are Kings and priests or the so-called infidels, the Socialist, whose voices are now practically the only ones raised in protest against the consummation of this colossal crime?

"..the flesh'd soldier, rough and hard of heart,
In liberty of bloody hand shall range
With conscience wide as hell....?"

Even now the churches of all the countries involved are praying to the some God to grant victory to their respective armies while imparting blessing to the departing

"...blind and bloody soldier" who
"with foul hand defile the locks of the shrill shrieking daughters" for the scene of war which
"Array'd in flames, like to the prince of fiends,
Do, with his smirch'd complexion, all fell feats
Enlink'd to waste and desolation."

One Man's Experience in the August Furniture Sale

(ORIGINAL)

He took ten or twelve business cards from his coat pocket, as he came on the floor, picked one out, read the name on it, and inquired for one of our furniture salesmen.

While we sent for the salesman, the man explained his visit.

"In June I came here and saw a dresser and chiffonier I liked; just what I wanted for the bedroom. Not being in a great hurry I concluded I'd wait until the August Sale. I understand all your regular stocks are then reduced 10 per cent. (Yes, we said, some are reduced as much as 50 per cent.)

"Meanwhile I thought I'd take a look around. I went to all the decent furniture shops in town" (here he went over the business cards in his hands, and read the names of the shops) "and went over them as carefully as I went over yours. It was easier in every case, because no stock compared with yours in size and variety.

"And I'm back here today to get that dresser and chiffonier, because there's nothing in town like them for the money."

A little matter, but very significant—

What this man and visitors from thirty-three of these United States, and from Porto Rico, Canada, New Brunswick and England have seen (as shown by the Guests' Register in the House Palatial)—you may see tomorrow

More medium and low-priced bedroom furniture of a quality above suspicion, than you will find in any two stores at the same genuine economies.

The best built and best finished Colonial solid mahogany furniture at one-fourth less than our own standard prices; best at the price in the United States.

Thousands of dollars' worth of furniture which no other store could buy today for the prices marked on them, yet this furniture shows a reduction of only 10 per cent. from our regular prices.

All told, over a million dollars' worth of "quality first" furniture at reductions of 10 to 50 per cent. from their regular ten-months-in-the-year-prices.

There isn't a home of any account in Greater New York for which this sale does not provide a piece of good furniture at a saving to the family purse.

Plainfield, N. J., August 6, 1914.

OUR CITY.

Here's a creed that has been suggested for every good citizen of Plainfield. If our residents would live up to it, this would be the most prosperous and successful community in the United States.

We believe that every good citizen of the city should boost Plainfield.

We believe it for the best interests of the city that all citizens of Plainfield patronize Plainfield merchants and working men.

We believe that politics should have no place in municipal elections.

We believe in the frank and open discussion of every public question where the interests of the whole people are at stake.

We believe that ours is as good a city as there is, and is an ideal place for manufacturing plants, homes, the rearing of children, and cultivating of all that goes to make up culture.

We believe that Plainfield is able to hold its own with all comers in regard to progressiveness, business administration of all public matters, educational institutions, public and private; magnificent type of citizenship, and all that is necessary to make an ideal city.

We believe that Plainfield is IT.

It is too bad that when a man of Leighton Calkins' character consents to run for mayor, that the members of other parties feel that they must persuade someone to seek the honor against him. Nothing could aid the city more than to have it known that in local government politics is forgotten, except when an incapable man seeks office. The general endorsement of Mr. Calkins by all parties would make it possible for him, after his election, to urge a "get together" plan of action for all of the city officials, taking the public into the fullest confidence, in order to work out better service at less cost. It is nothing more or less than a business problem—one of more efficiency with the waste cut out, and also tends toward an absolute elimination of political wire pulling. Here in Plainfield, at least, for many years, no one has attacked the integrity of the city government, or its good intentions, which unfortunately have often been feeble. With a business-like administration, such as surely would result following the election of a non-partisan mayor, that official and the Council could go right to the bottom of things, and soon give us an administration which would make the citizens forget all about the growing demand for commission government.

As a means of doing away with the present difficulty encountered by the fire department in locating fire hydrants on the outskirts of the city, it has been suggested that the city paint the structures some other color than the dark green now in use. In other towns white and black colorings are used to good effect and there is no reason why this would not prove of value if tried here. It is the desire of those interested in the fire department to do everything possible to facilitate speed in checking flames and there is no telling at what time a conflagration might break out on the outskirts of the municipality. A white coating would prove advantageous in the night time, but strenuous objection has been lodged against this color in some places because of the likeness to snow in the winter months. This may be overcome, however, by painting one-half of the hydrant a dark color and the other half white, thus affording a contrasting back-ground in the winter time and after dark.

During the past few days mutterings have been heard as to what certain citizens will do to their party ticket, providing their candidate for a given county position is not nominated at the primary, September 22. No doubt there are times when a man is justified in voting portions of two or more tickets, but those who refuse to vote for a party candidate simply because a friend did not secure the nomination, are far from being good citizens. When two good men are running for the nomination, it is well for party members to abide by the choice of the party. When a nominee is unfitted for the position he seeks, it is sufficient time to "knife" the ticket. Let not personal disappointment be the reasoning behind the splitting of the ticket, but rather support the good men which your party has put forth, going to the opposition where your party has failed to make a wise choice.

In these days, when the newspapers are recording accidents in which automobiles play a part, it is indeed refreshing to know that a concerted effort is at last being made to persuade the drivers to be more careful. The "Safety First Society" has been formed in New York, and is sending, so far as its funds will permit, a card to all car drivers and owners, in which some very sensible rules are set forth. "Carefulness first means safety always," is the heading, after which four simple rules are laid down as follows: Be considerate; go slow passing children, vehicles, around corners and approaching crossings; stop at railroad crossings, behind street cars taking on or discharging passengers; use tire chains on slippery pavements. If these rules were observed the Monday morning lists of fatalities would be much shorter.

The contributed editorial on Saturday will be written by a well known local man, formerly connected with a Plainfield newspaper, and in it he will tell about the aims of one of the live wire civic bodies which has already made itself felt in the community.

Front street is about as active today as it usually is at 3 o'clock on Sunday morning. The closing movement seems to be a success.

RECORD EXCURSION FROM PLAINFIELD

2,500 Pleasure Seekers Accompanied the Knights of Columbus to the Shore.

Since the thirty-ninth car of the Knights of Columbus excursion slowly rolled out of the east-bound station of the Central Railroad here at 8:35 o'clock this morning, Plainfield has assumed the appearance of a deserted village. Many stores have shut down for the day in accordance with the August holiday plan and clerks and proprietors have taken advantage of the opportunity to visit Asbury Park with their families. Nearly 2,500 happy excursionists, with as many lunch boxes, were taken from this city in three sections of thirteen cars each this morning, and for a half hour before the scheduled time for leaving a steady stream of summer colors in dress goods was conspicuous along the avenues leading to the depot. Long before train time the usual number of local commuters were forced to wend their way between lanes of merry-makers and the platforms of the Clinton Avenue, Grant Avenue and North Avenue depots were thronged.

Although clouds were visible in the morning hours, when the excursionists arrived at the seaside Old Sol greeted them and the day proved to be an ideal one. Many of the happy visitors at the shore were children, some 1,500 free tickets having been provided by the Knights of Columbus for the juvenile recreation seekers. The delegation was the largest of the season from this place. The return to this city will be started at 7:10 this evening and the excursionists will probably arrive home about 9 o'clock.

TIDEWATER OIL CO. BLOCKS RIGHTAWAY

Refuses to Make Satisfactory Settlement With Joint Sewage Commission.

Members of the committee appointed by the joint sewerage disposal commission on the purchase of a right of way for the proposed sewer trunk line submitted its report to the commission at the monthly meeting held last night, making possible the appointment of a committee to arrange for the advertisement of bids. The report states that the body found it impossible to arrive at reasonable terms with the Tidewater Oil Company for the aquisition of the right of way now owned by that concern, although various means had been tried to effect a satisfactory settlement. The committee worked in conjunction with John Darling, owner of the Darling farm, the purchase of which has been authorized for the disposal plant, but nothing of a definite nature could be brought about.

It was recommended that the title to the property including the rights of way, be cleared and accepted with the exception of the Tidewater tract for the pipe line to be constructed across the Darling farm. It is the opinion of the committee that the unaccepted portion will in no way affect or hinder the laying of the pipe line in accordance with the plans proposed by the joint meeting.

Reports submitted last night, announced the completion of the survey of the trunk line from Rock avenue and Greenbrook road, in North Plainfield, to a point below Sebring's Mills, together with the line of the proposed force main from the borough of Dunellen to the outfall sewer. A committee will be appointed to formulate plans in conjunction with the local engineer and counsel on the contracts in accordance with the specifications passed at the joint meeting.

TEN HOURS AT THE SHORE.

Those who wish to spend ten pleasant hours at Asbury Park, should go on the annual excursion of Hope chapel on Saturday. The excursionists will leave this city at 8 o'clock and returning will leave Asbury Park at 8 o'clock in the evening, making it the longest one day's outing at the shore from Plainfield. There will be two sections. This is the only Saturday excursion to the shore from this city. The trains will stop at the Grant Avenue station both going and coming.

EXCEEDED SPEED LIMIT.

Carl Evans and David Fitch, of this city, who started from this city to make a trip to East Orange, last Saturday, on motorcycles, were placed under arrest when they reached Nutley. They were arraigned in the court of that place on the charges of exceeding the speed limit and driving without licenses and fines of $5.60 were imposed. It was alleged by the officer who placed them under arrest that they were traveling at a rate of forty-two miles an hour.

LODGE NOTE.

Washington Camp, No. 30, P. O. S. of A., will hold their regular semi-monthly meeting this evening, after which a social hour will follow. A watermelon feast is promised those who attend.

COUNCIL OF WAR GIVES UP MEXICO CITY

A Peace Proclamation Will Probably Be Published Today.

Mexico City, Aug. 6—The Council of War, consisting of one hundred and twelve Federal generals, decided tonight upon the unconditional surrender of the city to the Constitutionalists. A peace proclamation will be published, probably today. No peace guarantees will be requested of Gen. Carranza.

President Carbajal has been called upon to resign, in a letter received today from Gen. Obregon, who says the Constitutionalist army is advancing on the capitol.

CHINAMAN KELLY NABBED BY DUNELLEN MARSHAL

Chinaman Kelly, who has been hunted by the Dunellen police since yesterday, appeared on the main street of that place this morning, and was instantly spotted by Marshal I. V. Smalley, on Front street. But Kelly saw the marshal first and started to "beat it" toward Bound Brook when the marshal spotted him and gave chase. For two blocks the fugitive of the law maintained his lead but Smalley finally drew up and caught him. He was taken to the jail and will have a hearing tomorrow morning.

Kelly is wanted for fighting in the streets yesterday, and the warrant for his arrest was sworn out by Emile Bobemriske, whom he battered up in a fistic encounter. About a year ago Dunellen and the vicinity became too hot for Kelly and he left. He returned yesterday and no sooner than he had arrived he was engaged in an argument with his former friend.

SOMERSET TAX BOARD FIXES TAX FOR BANKS

The Somerset County Board of Taxation met at the courthouse in Somerville, this week, and fixed the bank tax of the national banks of the county. There are five national banks, and the tax for 1914 was fixed as follows: First National, Somerville, $1,994.22; Second National, Somerville, $877.95; First National, Bound Brook, $893.43; Bound Brook National, $485.05; Bernardsville National, $327.70, making a total tax of $4,738.35.

The tax is paid direct to the county collector, each bank having passed a resolution to pay the money direct to the county. The county collector will keep one-half of the tax for the use of the county, and the other half goes to the municipality in which the bank is located. Somerville will, therefor, receive $1,436,-08; Bound Brook, $689.24, and Bernardsville township, $163.85.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. VanWinkle and son, John, Jr., will leave tomorrow for Ocean Grove, where they will spend their vacation. They will stop at the Arborton, Sea View avenue.

MOTORISTS VISIT FLEMINGTON FAIR

Plainfield Club Members Had a Delightful Outing Yesterday Across State.

Members of the Plainfield Motorcycle Club were visitors at the Flemington Fair, yesterday, taking the trip to and from the popular State attraction on their machines, several of the riders being accompanied by a passenger. The local delegation, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Horner, Miss Ball, W. Groff, M. Terry, H. Ruppert and Mr. and Mrs. Kenner, from Somerville, arrived at the fair grounds shortly after noon and spent the remainder of the day in inspection of the various exhibits. Among the leading attractions was the horse racing program.

The Plainfielders had the pleasure of seeing Tom Brantingham, a local driver, romp home third in one of the events. They also viewed the exhibit of prize chickens and witnessed the award of a blue ribbon and a special to William Trembath's prize chicken, valued at $75.

The party was joined later in the afternoon by Archie Thompson and Miss Hoagland. The return trip was interrupted at Somerville and the motorists were entertained for the remainder of the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenner, in that place, returning to their homes in this city shortly after midnight.

P. M. C. SPARKS

The weekly run of the Plainfield Motorcycle Club will be held Sunday and the members will take a trip to Atlantic Highlands. Some more salt water bathing is in order and a large delegation is expected.

During the run to Flemington yesterday, W. Groff had the misfortune to pick up a nail in one of his shoes and a short delay was necessitated while he mended the puncture.

Before leaving the fair grounds the motorists all armed themselves with toy balloons and a contest was inaugurated to see who could retain the trophies until Plainfield was reached. Jack Horner was the only members of the party who had a gas-filled object when the Queen City was reached in the wee small hours of the morning.

WAR NEWS FOR ATHLETES.

Dublin, Ireland, Aug. 6.—Orders have been issued to Connie McCarthy, of the Plainfield cops' baseball team, to report at once to the Irish authorities here who are making an effort to organize an aeroplane corps. McCarthy has been selected as the chief ballast for the royal flyer. He is at present said to be engaged in rounding a split finger into fighting trim as he is anxious to make as good an appearance as is possible in his case when he meets the commanding officer.

Hamburg, Germany, August 6.—Gawge, alias "Germany," Ortlieb, one of Westfield's pitching prides, has been summoned from the Mt. Arrat rifle pit to a similar entrenchment in the German army. Gawge has proven himself particularly adept in hitting his adversaries in vital portions of their anatomy with horsehide bullets and the authorities here expect him to have little trouble in making good with the German bushers.

County Cork Ireland, Aug. 6.—Billy Coyle, Warry McLaughlin and Arthur McGinley, a trio of lusty lunged Plainfield ballists, have been forwarded sealed orders by the Irish commandry to report within the next 10 days. All have spent several sleepless nights in framing up what appear to be satisfactory alibis and anticipate little trouble in snathing their release. Coyle is under the regulation altitude limit, Warry's broad expanse of personage makes him too conspicuous on the war diamond and McGinley is said to be over the age limit. There is a bare possibility, however, that the hostilities here may be postponed until Coyle grows up and until Warry rounds into fighting condition. McGinley, however, is said to be beyond hope and it is the consensus of opinion here that there is no use in holding up the performance for his sake.

London, Aug. 6.—It is rumored here today that the sharpshooters on the Plainfield police force will be pressed into service by various European countries before the present disturbance is quelled, providing the various nationalities in the department do not start fighting among themselves before they cross the river. Martin Welsh, the only Welshman in the squad of patrolmen, and Maurice Higgins and Frank McIntyre, who have been chosen to defend the Irish cause, are said to be polishing up their muskets. Higgins is expected to furnish a bulwark of defense for the Irish army and McIntyre can be relied upon to see over most of the hills that adorn the Emerald geographical outlay. Welsh is a pretty fair sprinter and will probably be used as a messenger to carry sealed orders between Europe and America, inasmuch as some selfish individual has sliced the cable wires in an effort to get a corner on the news market.

Paris, France, Aug. 6.—Roy E. Martin, Plainfield's champion motorcycle speeder, is being sought by the French officials. The Parisian models have selected Martin as the pilot of their armoured motorcycle to meet Walter Rutt, world's championbicyclist, who will ride an armoured motorcycle for Germany, on a neutral battlefield to decide the individual fighting title.

London, Aug. 6.—European scouts have designs on certain members of the Holy Cross football team, according to recent reports. Captain Jack Wilson and Dick Harrigan, will be drafted by Ireland, and Otto Moor and Jesse Mulford will come to England's aid. Jack Mair has submitted statistics of measurement for a Russian uniform. The remainder of the squad has not been approached as yet. "Turk" Webster and Jim Manning have renounced their allegience to the Holy Cross club and are therefore classed as undesirables by the foreign authorities.

London, Aug. 6.—Manager Ernest Dorflinger, of the Plainfield baseball team, has notified the officials in the local army, that he is ready to march with a detachment of surplus baseball material from the wilds of New Jersey's Queen City, at a moment's notice. Dorflinger is said to have a good line on all would-be ball players and is taking this opportunity to rid the country of a few.

London, Aug. 6.—It was stated here today that Tommy Mullin, Jack Garretson, Katz Miller and George Townley, of Plainfield, have refused to recognize the call to arms because they have been notified that baseball is a minor issue on the European continent at the present time. A delegation from here has been detailed to draft the unpatriotic quartet.

The remainder of the Queen city athletes do not look upon the war seriously.

RUNS COUNT.

Pitching is playing a big part in the National League race. It is responsible for the spurt of the Cardinals and the Boston Braves, and the second place standing of the Cubs. It is also keeping the Red Sox in second place in the American League, and has made the Browns something of a factor in the race where they appeared outclassed.

But pitching isn't the whole cheese in baseball—not if the records of this year are read carefully.

Fans declared it was improved pitching that kept the Detroit team in the hunt. But look at the Tigers since Ty Cobb went to the bench for a long spell.

They declared that pitching would win the pennant for the Giants; yet the team is leading despite the fact that only two pitchers on the club's roster have won half their games this season—Tesreau and Mathewson.

The Athletics are credited with owning two decaying veteran flingers and a flock of unripe young ones not of pennant calibre; but the team is now running away with the race.

Good pitching is imperative. It has a passive value, however, for its effectiveness in winning games depends on the ability of the supporting team to score runs on attack. A pitcher who can hold the enemy runless still needs a team that can score one run to win; a pitcher that will allow the opposition five runs needs a hitting and scoring punch back of him that will tally six times.

A pitcher's value in winning a game, if he's letter perfect, can only be 50 per cent. of the game, and even then he would have to stand up and strike out twenty-seven men. A pitcher's support must be figured at least 10 per cent; and if he isn't perfect in his pitching his credit must be further reduced.

Unless a hurler is an absolute phenomenon, he should not receive more than 30 per cent. of the credit of winning a game. There are eight other factors in each contest.

ANOTHER ALL-STAR TEAM WILL TACKLE COPPERS

Manager Baeder, of the local policemen's baseball team, thinks that two victories in one week are enough for any aggregation and has decided to give the players a week's rest. The locals will get into action again one week from today when they expect to beat an All-Star combination that will be made up of amateurs from this city. The cops have been playing fine ball lately and held their own with all their opponents. Elizabeth is the only club that can boast of a double victory over the locals and the Newarkers can thank the rain for their win. Perth Amboy, New Brunswick and local teams have all fallen before the prowess of the local blue coats.

George Townley will probably be on the firing line for the Stars and will have a crack team behind him. The game is attracting some little attention as the fans who follow the cops are anxious to see them take the youngsters in hand.

LOCAL ATHLETES INVITED TO ENTER BIG ROAD RACE

The Marathon Athletic Club, of Rutherford, has staged a 6 1-2 mile road race, to be run through the streets of Rutherford and Union township on Labor Day.

A feature of the race, which has been sanctioned by the A. A. U., will be that every mile of the course will be plainly marked. This should be of great assistance to the runners, especially those who are unfamiliar with the route.

Most of the cities and towns of northern New Jersey will be represented. It is hoped that Plainfield will not be outdone in this respect, as Rutherford is easily accessible. Entry blanks and any information relative to the race will be cheerfully furnished by William M. Carroll, 47 Orient Way, Rutherford, N. J.

LINDERMANN VS. CHINKS.

Ernie Lindermann, formerly a pitcher for the Plainfield team, will twirl against a Chinese team for the Suburbans at New York next Sunday. This foreign nine has defeated some of the fastest semi-pro teams in this country and was defeated once this season by the Suburbans by one run. Lindermann is the regular pitcher for the New York aggregation. The Chinese represent the University of Hawaii.

LOCAL BLUECOATS AT LAST VICTORS

They Go to Elizabeth and Take Third Game of Series By a 3 to 2 Score.

SEVEN INNING BATTLE

Game Called By Agreement at That Point to Allow the Locals to Get Home For Duty—Feed Follows Hotest Contested Battle of Season.

With Warry McLaughlin on the mound and Tommy Mullin handling the big mit, the Plainfield policemen's baseball team was too much for the Elizabeth cops and they took the third game of the series at that place, yesterday afternoon, by the score of 3 to 2. The game was well played throughout the seven innings and the locals showed better form than they ever have before. The home club could not touch Warry, when hits were needed, and the two runs that they did get were both on errors, while all of the locals' tallies were made by clean hitting. Brennan was on the mound for the Elizabethans and pitched well, although timely hits by the local battery turned the tables.

The locals went out in regular order in the initial inning and after McGinley had hit to the first baseman, Miller and Fritts both fanned. Warry struck out two in the first round and the other man was put out trying to steal second after he had singled. Tommy was the first man up for the locals in the second and on the first ball pitched he hit it into center field for a triple. When he pulled up on third the ball was slowly coming in from the outfielder, but Tommy decided to let McLaughlin hit him in, and Warry came across with a timely single that scored the first tally.

In Elizabeth's half of the second round the old "Warhorse" showed the spectators some real big league pitching. Brennan singled and Kennedy hit an easy roller through Nelson's legs. The next man hit in the infield and through some mixup all men were safe. With the bases full and none down, Warry became angry and proceeded to cut down his opponents without the aid of his teammates. This he successfully accomplished, for the next three men to face him took three healthy swings at the pill and then sat down. Warry received a big hand from the local delegation after this and the home supporters could not help but hand it to him. In the third round Nelson opened with a single and was sacrificed to second by Berger, who laid down a pretty bunt. Miller singled to right and Nelson scored. The end of the fourth inning saw the score tied after the home team had scored two runs on two hits and two errors. McGinley's misplay at the opening of that frame was the signal to muss things up generally and the locals certainly did. They threw everything away and it was only through McLaughlin's great pitching that the side was retired with only a pair of runs. Neither side scored in the fifth and the home team was retired by the strikeout route in one, two, three order.

Mullin was again the lead-off man in the sixth stanza and responded with a pretty single, his third hit of the day. He stole second and romped home with the winning run when McLaughlin made his second single of the game. In their half of the sixth the county seaters almost tied things up, but a fine throw from the field cut a run off at the plate when a man tried to score from first on a single. Mullin was waiting at the plate for a long time before the runner arrived. Two batters fanned for the home team in the seventh round and the game was called to allow the local players to get home for duty. Mullin led the batters with a tripe, a double and a single.

After the game the locals were the guests of their rivals at a swell feed.

SLIM SPORT CARD HERE ON SATURDAY

Only Two Baseball Games Scheduled Because of the Three Outings.

Plainfield will be a dead place next Saturday as far as sports are concerned, as the majority of the events that were scheduled for that day and are considered weekly events by athletic supporters, have been postponed because of the large outing that takes place on that day. There are usually five or six baseball games in this city and vicinity every Saturday afternoon and fans plan to spend their holiday afternoon watching their team's work. As baseball is the only form of public sport that is running now there will be a large number of fans who will have to sleep all Saturday afternoon.

Most of the managers look at the situation from a financial standpoint and as there will be about fifteen hundred people who will attend the three outings the bookers will not take chances. The Sunday-school baseball league's weekly game has been postponed because of the Hope chapel excursion, as that team was scheduled to perform. Manager Martin, of the Saurer aggregation, has decided not to have a game, and has turned down several fine offers that would have been considered attractions. Only two games will be played, one in the city and the other in the borough.

Manager Ernest Dorflinger, of the Pets, will not disappoint local fans and has arranged to have the strong New Brunswick team come to Parker Field to satisfy the fans. This will be the main attraction of the day and it will undoubtedly be a fine game. The Canadian A. C. will play on Hyde Oval when the Highlander team, of Netherwood, will appear with its strongest lineup. This team has made quite a reputation this season and will give the boroughites a good fight for the victory. All other fields will be dormant Saturday and fans must take their choice between a professional and an amateur battle.

Besides the Hope excursion, there are two other annual outings from this city that go out Saturday. The Spicer Mutual Aid Association will hold its yearly picnic at Highland Beach, and their program will include a ball game and an athletic meet. This outing always carries several hundred people. The Union County Republican outing will also leave town for Witzell's Grove.

LOCAL POLE VAULTER WILL APPEAR IN SENIOR CHAMPS

Ralph Runyon, of East Fifth street, the Plainfield High School athlete, has entered the senior A. A. U. championships which will be held at Celtic Park, Wednesday, August 19, and will compete under the colors of the Pastime A. C. He will appear in the pole vault event, which is his specialty. He has performed in this event at other large meets held at Travers Island and other places and is by far the best vaulter that this city has. He easily won that event at the Fourth of July meet from scratch.

Runyon has been a member of the Pastime A. C. for some time and has always given a good account of himself. He has won many points in this event for the club. Yesterday he received a new pole from the club to use in practice work.

ONE RUN IN NINTH GIVES THE IRONSIDES VICTORY

One run in the ninth, after their opponents had tied the score with three in the same round, was enough for the Ironsides to claim a victory over the Cubs in the Parker Field Senior League games yesterday. The final score was 6 to 5. Brennan and Barnes opposed each other on the mound and the former had a little the better of the argument.

Both teams hit the ball freely and scored one run in the initial round. The Ironsides took the lead in the second inning when they hit one run across the platter but their opponents tied matters up in the third with one tally. The fourth was a scoreless inning for both teams but the next gave the Ironsides one run. In the seventh they almost cinched the game when they pounded two more across the rubber, increasing their lead to three runs. When their last chance came around the bearlets took a brace and rapped three counts in, tying the score. In their half of this round, however, the Ironsides were lucky and scored the needed tally. All of the winners hit safely except Marsh for a total of eleven hits while the Cub batters could only land seven The score:

CANUCKS VS. HIGHLANDERS.

After a two weeks' layoff, the Canadian A. C. baseball team, of the borough, will take on the strong Highland A. C., of Netherwood, at Hyde Oval Saturday afternoon at 3:30. Both teams will present their strongest lineups and a good game is looked for. Jack Denny will pitch for the visitors and he will work with either Kyle or Dodd. Dan Denny, the Borough High School star slabman, will probably do the twirling for the Canucks but Bailey may be the choice. The regular borough lineup will take the field and will include Burner, Taylor, Dilts, Townley, Hebert, Denny, Bailey and Dunning.

BASEBALL NOTES

Buck Freeman, former major league player and home run swatter, is umpiring in the Canadian League.

Batting in the American League has taken a brace, fifteen players in that circuit now being able to sting the pill for .300 or better.

The Browns may be able to climb nearer the leaders now that several of Branch Rickey's cripples are able to play again.

Federal League scouts are out to land Holke, the Spokane first baseman, who is regarded as the most saleable player in the Northwestern League.

Beginning with the second trip West, last season and up to July 28 of this year, the Red Sox won ten straight games from the Naps at Cleveland.

"Dutch" Leonard, the Red Sox portsider, is giving Walter Johnson a close battle in the matter of strikeout victims in the American League campaign.

Manager Herzog, of the Cincinnati Nationals, and Eddie Collins, of the Philadelphia Americans, are holding their own as leading base stealers in their respective leagues.

Winning that double-header in Pittsburgh, last month, must have put the "jody" on the Brooklyn Superbas. After cleaning up the Pirates the Superbas lost eight straight and landed in the cellar.

Ownie Bush holds third place among the leading run-getters and sixth among the leading base stealers in the American League. He leads the Detroit Tigers in both departments.

Eddie Grant is doing great work as a pinch hitter and substitute infielder for the New York Giants. He is proving to be a valuable man in the position long held down by "Moose" McCormick.

Without a .300 hitter, a leading run-getter or a prominent base-runner in the lineup, the Boston Braves climbed from the cellar to the first division in the National League race.

The Buffalo Federals have traded Jim Delahanty to the Pittsburgh Feds for Tex McDonald. In 67 games McDonald has hit for .311, while Delahanty has failed to reach the .300 division.

Captain Tommy Leach, of the Cubs, who is playing his sixteenth year in the National League, was the first National Leaguer to gather 100 hits this season. And it was said that Tommy was "through" when Pittsburgh traded him several years ago.

CASE POSTPONED.

The hearing in the case of the State against Mamie Booker, colored, who is being held on a serious charge, was postponed for one week when called by Judge W. G. DeMeza in the city court this morning. The other defendant in the case, Eleanor Hatchett, is still confined in Muhlenberg Hospital and will not be able to appear until that time.

WILL PROVIDE A HEAVIER PENALTY

Carrying Concealed Weapons In Fanwood Will Draw Long Jail Sentence.

Acting upon the suggestion of Recorder Charles Sheelen that the penalty for carrying concealed weapons be made ninety instead of sixty days in jail, the Fanwood Council, at its meeting, last night, authorized the proper committee to amend the ordinance and present the same at the next meeting. Recently, a number of persons have been arrested in the borough charged with carrying concealed weapons and it is the belief of Mr. Sheelen that if a heavier penalty is provided it will serve to stop the practice.

The Council also gave Mr. Sheelen, as tax collector, the power to purchase all lands sold for taxes where there are no other buyers. There is to be a tax sale at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The Council directed that the two electric lights on the old stretch of South avenue be changed to the corner of Willoughby and Midway avenues and North and Farley avenues.

The committee on streets and sidewalks made a special report on the matter of placing sign posts at various corners. A sample sign was presented and arrangements will be made with the Public Service Corporation to place these signs on the company's poles, leaving only nine to be supplied by the borough. It will cost about $80 for the one hundred or more signs needed and the committees was given power to secure the signs and erect the same.

In response to a petition for a hydrant at Midway place and Terrill road, the matter was referred to the proper committee with power. The committee on audit and finance reported a balance of $1,825.89. The street committee reported that all of the borough roads are now in good condition and that work would soon be started macadamizing the lower end of Farley avenue. The monthly bills presented were ordered paid.

A communication was received from Collector Charles Sheelen recommending the removal of the flag pole in the centre of railroad park, the pole being in a dangerous position from decay.

"SOUVENIR SUNDAY" AT TEMPLE BAPTIST

Rev. W. T. Dorward Will Be the Speaker At Special Service.

The Temple Baptist Bible School will hold the second of its special programs arranged for August, next Sunday, August 9th. The designation for this service is "Souvenir Sunday," but just what this means, has been left for the members of the school to ascertain.

There has been not a little pleasant anticipation among the members of the school regarding these various services, and it has created an enthusiasm that bids fair to make the August sessions of the school especially attractive.

Prominent speakers have been secured for the various dates. Next Sunday, Rev. W. T. Dorward, formerly of Stelton, now pastor of one of the largest and most successful Baptist churches in Milwaukee, Wis., is to be the speaker of the day.

Mr. Dorward made many friends in this section of New Jersey during his successful pastorate in Stelton and his visit to the Temple Baptist School will afford an opportunity for many of his old time friends to again meet him.

There will be other attractions, including special music, and an interesting service is promised to all who may feel disposed to avail themselves of the cordial invitation that is extended to every one. The service begins promptly at 9:45 a. m.

FIELD DAY EXERCISES AND DEDICATION PLANNED

The field day exercises and the dedication of the Agricultural Building at the College Farm of the New Jersey State Agricultural College will be held at New Brunswick on Tuesday, the ceremonies opening at 10:30.

The speakers of the occasion have been announced as follows: Hon. G. W. F. Gaunt, Master of the New Jersey State Grange; Hon. Charles O'Connor Hennessy, Senator from Bergen county; Hon. Joseph S. Frelinghuysen president of the State Board of Agriculture, and Dr. W. H. S. Demarest, president of Rutgers College.

FAILED TO APPEAR.

Patrick Long, a troublesome Italian youth who has been in the police toils on numerous different occasions, was ordered to appear before Judge DeMeza in the city court this morning to face a charge of trespassing on the Central Railroad tracks. He failed to show up and will be arrested as soon as he is located.

MOTHERS' WORK

Conducted by the Plainfield Mothers' Association. Every Thursday

Contributing Staff.

Mrs. H. E. Parker, chairman; Mrs. Joseph Smith and Mrs. J. L. Evans.

The Daily Press for Thursdays containing the column on Mother's Work will be sent by mail for one dollar a year, in advance.

You never saw a clock that didn't need re-winding, a machine which wouldn't break down, a lamp that did not require re-filling. Experience has taught you when to use the key, where to look for lost screws and bolts, and what oil will produce the most light with the least waste

It's surprising how careful we are with the things upon which we depend for comfort, and the tools on which we rely for our livelihood But how about the most important piece of machinery under the stars—that body of yours? It's far more delicate than the most intricate mechanical device, much more sensitive. A marvelous affair, strong with minute nerves, crossed and criss-crossed with tiny feed and drain pipes, equipped with a furnace, storage stations, little warehouses to hold emergency supply—in fact it is a manufacturing plant with more departments than you'd ever imagine and every one of them needing constant attention. You are as healthy and as capable as you are sound and normal.

If you exercise half the care in your body-keeping that you do in your housekeeping, there is no telling how long you'll live or how comfortable you can be. Every pain, every ache, is a little warning—one of nature's alarm signs telling you that something is out of order, or of the little wires is tangled, or a pipe is choked up. Your boilers may need a good cleaning. You have put improper fuel into your furnace, and it is either generating too much warmth or too little.

We have just begun to realize the relation between food and efficiency. A long time ago we found that it was advisable to analyze coal and oil and products we use in factories so as to discover which particular grade would be cheapest in the long run. Cheapest, because it represented the maximum utility and minimum cost. Now we're intelligent enough to apply the same reasoning to the human factory. Sounds ridiculous, doesn't it? But don't forget that a lot of people used to sneer at the theories upon which much of the welfare and safety of every community depend today.

For instance, how long has it been since you heard of typhoid in your neighborhood? Yet there was a time when a doctor always had at least one typhoid patient on his hands. But one day a "theorist" began snooping into drinking water and milk, and after fighting for years made us acknowledge the source of the infection lay in liquids. The result was the establishment of filtration plants and dairy supervision; and thousands of lives are now saved per annum.

How a former generation spluttered, sputtered, and fumed, and protested when the Board of Health wanted to quarantine your children suffering with diphtheria, scarlet fever and measles. But it is mighty seldom in the year nineteen thirteen to hear of a school swept by an epidemic. And as for erysipelas and lots of other bi-products of uncleanliness, they are largely found in the dictionary, whereas in Doctor Holmes' days, when physicians washed their hands after instead of before operations, erysipelas just came and went as it pleased. Blind babies grow fewer every day, because we know now that hideous truth that the sight of an infant is infected with a mother's or father's venerable disease, "supposed to have been cured, but lurking all the while in the blood like a snake in the grass." We take no chances, and carefully wash the eyes of new-born babies with a sterilized germicide. So don't sniff at the idea of scientific food analysis. Feed the body, don't clog it and overload it with indigestible and unnutritious masses.

The palate is a bad guide for the stomach. Satisfying the appetite is only half the function of food. The more important half is providing the blood with its proper constituents, supplying the bones with minerals upon which their strength and soundness depend, furnishing the stomach and liver and kidneys with digestive and filtrative products and, above all, avoiding unbalanced rations which will turn into slime and poisons, and deposit excesses of saccharine and saline which gradually accumulate until the veins are encrusted and the vital engines so overloaded with substances which they can't handle that fermentation is set up and dangerous gases generated, and internal decay finally results. Good health is a personal responsibility and a simple habit. It is practically regulated in the kitchen. You're in reality custodian of your family's health. You select the foods, decide how they shall be prepared, with what they shall be seasoned. You're not fitted to assume this important task upon mere cook-book information. The age limit of the human race will leap beyond all previous records of civilization, the physical perfection of human beings will advance immeasurably, the number of hospitals will lessen, the present age of invalids will decrease with a slump the moment that the housewives of America realize the necessity of studying food values and learn by the reform how many unnecessary years of suffering they have inflicted through their ignorance.

Throw away your cook-book; it has done harm enough. In its place, study the best and simplest treatises on food in its relation to health.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Adv.

HINTS FOR PEACH LOVERS.

SUPPER MENU.
Deviled Sardines in the Chafing Dish.
Finger Rolls.
Peach Cream.
Iced Tea.

PEACH lovers are happy, for the fruit is now in the market and abundant enough to allow them to indulge their fancy for fresh peaches or peach desserts.

The housewife who wishes to add to her list of peach desserts may find something here which she can use.

Do You Like Cream?

Peach Cream.—Chop several peaches until soft, add half as much whipped cream as there are peaches and powdered sugar to taste. Place on ice until very cold. Serve on sponge cake or with sugar wafers.

Peach Foam.—Remove the peel from four very ripe peaches and cut them into small pieces. Put into a deep basin with a quarter of a pound of sugar and the white of a new laid egg. Beat lightly with a silver fork for half an hour. The result will be a thick, velvety cream mixture with a delicate flavor of peaches.

Light and Fluffy.

Peach Custard.—Make a boiled custard of the yolks of two eggs, two cupfuls of milk and one-half cupful of sugar. Whip stiff the whites of two eggs and beat into two cupfuls of stewed peaches, well sweetened. Heap in a dish, pour on the custard and serve ice cold.

Peach Souffle. — Heat one pint of milk, stir two tablespoonfuls of hot butter with two tablespoonfuls of flour, add the hot milk gradually to this until smooth (have a pinch of soda in the milk). Separate the yolks and whites of four eggs and add the thickened milk gradually to the beaten yolks. Into this mix gradually stirred and crushed ripe peaches. Into this fold the whites of the eggs, which have been beaten to a stiff froth. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake quickly. Serve before it falls, and eat with hard or liquid sauce.

Combined With a Cereal.

Creamed Peach Tapioca.—Take a heaping tablespoonful of tapioca (the kind that requires no soaking) and cook in one pint of milk in double boiler about fifteen minutes. Take four or five peaches, peel and cut in pieces. Put into buttered pudding dish and add the stones to give better flavor. Beat one egg, add two tablespoonfuls of sugar and one-fourth teaspoonful of salt and stir into the milk. Remove at once from the fire and pour over the peaches. Bake in moderate oven till peaches are done (about one-half hour). Serve hot or cold.

"See, the water lily has gone to sleep."

Daddy's Bedtime Story — The Sleepy White Water Lily.

"KIDDIES, I'm going to tell you a 'sleepy' story tonight. Can you cheat the sandman long enough to hear it?"

"Yes!" shouted the children, though the very word "sleepy" made them cuddle closer to daddy's side on the big wide sofa.

"It's about the sleepy white water lily."

"Do flowers really sleep, daddy, or is it a make believe story?" asked Jack.

"It's a make believe story, babies, but it is founded on the fact that flowers do close their velvety petals and go right straight off to sleep just like you."

"Which ones are they?" asked Evelyn, sitting up straight, her eyes growing very bright.

"Oh, there are heaps of them!" said daddy. "There is the daisy, which opens at sunrise and closes at sunset—that's why it's called daisy, or 'day's eye'—the dandelion, the scarlet pimpernel and heaps more, but I'll tell you tonight about the sleepy white water lily that grew so sleepy that she just couldn't keep awake even to be admired."

Jack giggled, but daddy hushed him up and hurriedly continued his story. "She had paddled all day on her great green lily pad boat, playing with the minnows that would swim daringly around her. Then she would gayly nod her golden head at the great sparkling sun away up in the blue sky and flirt her white skirts. You see, this was the first day her petals had been unfolded, and it was a great day for the white water lily.

"Then a man and a girl came paddling by her lily pad boat and began to exclaim about the beauty of the lily, which made the white water lily like herself more than ever.

"But, alas and alack, just then her petals began to close. She tried with all her might to keep them open just like you kiddies try to keep your eyes open sometimes at night when they just won't. But in spite of her efforts her petals closed and closed until they were all folded round by a pretty green cloak. Then she heard the girl say: 'Oh, it must be 4 o'clock! See, the water lily has gone fast asleep!'

"The white water lily knew no more until she felt the sun shining in her face about 7 o'clock the next morning."

"What a pretty story!" cried Jack and Evelyn as they jumped down from the sofa and pattered away to bed.

As Jack was tucked into his little bed by mother and was drifting off to slumberland he arose sleepily and said, "Mother, I think I like stories that are what daddy calls 'founded on fact.'"

SCOOP, THE CUB REPORTER — SCOOP IS SUCH A PLEASANT LI'L OPTIMIST — BY "HOP"

POLITICAL NOTES.

While candidates galore have been appearing on all sides for the paid elective positions, it begins to look as if the councilmanic honors in this city will have to go begging this fall unless some one starts the ball a rolling. Up to date, there has been but one bonifide candidate for the local governing body, that being Francis J. Blatz, who seeks re-election from the Fourth Ward. Many rumors have been circulated about the city concerning candidates for the Common Council, but none have responded from the other wards. The Second ward, however, has a strong hope in J. Henry Crane, who, a short time ago, stated to a Daily Press representative, that he would make the run for the Republican nomination should the call be made. Other possible candidates from this ward have been prominently mentioned, but do not look with favor upon the office.

The candidacy of Ten Eyck Beardsley, of Fanwood township, for State Senatorship on the Democratic ticket, comes as a complete surprise to many of his friends. Earlier in the season he was being considered as a candidate for the Assembly, but this honor was put to one side owing to the pressure of his law practice in New York city. The announcement of his candidacy for the nomination for Senator came as a bolt out of a clear sky. This action on the part of Mr. Beardsley complicates the situation in the Democratic ranks of the county. There are now three candidates for the nomination for Senator on the ticket, Mayor Stewart, of this city, and Assemblyman Dobbins of Rahway being the other two.

BARBER RECEIVES THREAT IN MAIL

James Lopipero Recipient of Black Hander's Missle Asking For $500.

SOURCE IS A MYSTERY

Suspects a Discharged Employe—Says He Will Pay No Attention to Demand—Letter Comes from New York, Where He Formerly Lived.

When James Lopipero, a barber with a shop on North avenue, received his morning's mail yesterday, he found one letter with his name and address scrawled in Italian across the front alongside of which was his American cognomen neatly printed. The missle contained one sheet of bright red paper with a quantity of English and Italian script written in a diagonal manner across it as follows:

Dear Jim:—

This is to notify you that if you don't leave $500 at "Shoe-String" corner between the hours of 5 and 7 Monday morning your shop will be set on fire.

(Signed)
MANO NERA (Black Hand.)

In the lower corner of the letter a skull and cross bones were drawn in white ink and at the head of the communication the official seal of a black hand society was in evidence. The "Shoe-String" corner mentioned is a meeting place between Scotch Plains and Westfield which is well known to Italians and which is frequented particularly on Sundays.

The recipient is at a loss to know or understand from where the threat came and is of the opinion that a discharged employe probably had something to do with its authorship. The part of the letter was written in English is neatly transcribed and is the work of a person with apparent intelligence. He has no suspicions against any of his local acquaintances and thinks it is the work of a gang in New York, who have been excited by the sympathies of the former employe. The letter was posted at the Grand Central station in New York city, Wednesday afternoon.

Lopipero at one time lived in the metropolis and is not unknown in the Italian district. After living there he moved to Westfield where he was employed as a barber, later coming to this city. Since opening his present shop on North avenue he has employed several New York barbers, some of whom have left on their own accord and others have been discharged.

Interviewed by a Daily Press reporter Lopipero seemed to take the whole affair as a joke and has not been aroused to any definite action by the threat. Asked whether or not he would apply for a body guard during his daily travel from his home in the borough to his place of business on North avenue, Lopipero declared that he was well able to handle black handers no matter how big they may come and declared that he would do nothing in the matter unless he received further threats and he would then place the matter in the hands of the police.

FUNERAL OF W. J. LADD HELD AT MONTCLAIR

The funeral service of William J. Ladd, aged 71 years, a former resident of this city, who died suddenly on Saturday last, at his home in Upper Montclair, was held on Tuesday, at the Presbyterian church, that place, where Mr. Ladd was treasurer of the Board of Trustees for many years. For a number of years he lived at 20 Willow avenue, North Plainfield, during which time he was an active member of the First Presbyterian church, where he was an elder and also superintendent of the Sunday-school.

Mr. Ladd had been connected with the firm of Sargent & Co., hardware manufacturers for nearly sixty years. Aside from being known as a leading authority on the hardware trade, Mr. Ladd was the author of "Ladd's Discount Book," which for many years has been the text book in the counting rooms of nearly every kind of industry. He was the founder of Fairview cemetery, Upper Montclair, and was interested in several corporations. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Hugh Aikman and Mrs. Herbert Guinn, of Brooklyn.

BOARD ADOPTS ANNUAL BUDGET

Freeholders Decide That $577,000 Is Needed For Coming Year.

REDUCTION OF $20,000

Payment of Salaries of Small Board Members Recommended—Further Investigation Ordered—Salaries of Election Board Members Reduced.

Elizabeth, Aug. 7.—The Board of Freeholders adopted the annual budget yesterday afternoon, fixing the sum to be raised by taxation for county expenses at $577,000, which is about $22,000 less than last year's appropriation. The curtailment is due to a substantial reduction of the county road and bridge account and the Widows' Pension account. The county jail, lunacy, hospitals and Tax Board account and a tentative appropriation for the payment of salaries of the small board of freeholder members cause the increases. Freeholder Charles A. Smith madé brief remarks on the budget, which was passed without further comment.

The board reduced the salaries of county election board officers from $800 to $400, with $500 extra for the clerk. This is in line with a report referred back to committee last month.

After considerable debate by the board on the report of County At-

PLAN PROGRAM FOR ANNUAL SCOUT DAY

Competition For the Paul R. Collier Trophy Will Be Held In September.

When the Plainfield Boy Scout Council meets at the Y. M. C. A. parlors on Monday evening, action will be taken on the program for the annual competition for the Paul R. Collier championship patrol pennant which will be held some time in the middle of September. The committee having this matter in charge has prepared a tentative program for approval of the council and the events promise to be not only interesting, but wonderful. In addition to the events of the fixed program there will be a number of surprises that will be presented by different patrols for extra marks for troop excellence.

Organization of the council will be completed at that time. At the regular meeting in July the council was formed into a committee of the whole to make the membership completely representative of all the churches and welfare organizations of the city and to this end considerable personal solicitation has been in progress during the last month. All the former members of the council are urged to attend the meeting and to signify their intention of registering under the new working plan.

WILL TAKE ACTION ON DEATH OF MRS. WILSON

Mayor Percy H. Stewart has called a meeting of the members of the Common Council, as well as citizens in general to be held at the Common Council chambers, tonight, when there will be an expression of sympathy drafted in the form of resolutions to be forwarded to President Wilson concerning the death of Mrs. Wilson.

The Mayor believes that all citizens will join in extending their sympathies to the President and hopes that as many as possible will find it convenient to attend the meeting.

RIDER IS INJURED.

Benjamin Kane, of 410 Evona avenue, was thrown to the road last night when his trousers caught in the spokes of a bicycle he was riding on Clinton avenue. He was picked up in a semi-conscious condition by Patrolman Tobias Nolan and carried to his home, where upon examination it was found that he had a badly sprained ankle. The rider is ten years of age.

HIGGINS ROUNDS UP SIX CULPRITS

Charged With Atrociously Assaulting Caretaker, East End Youths Are Held.

FACE SERIOUS CHARGES

Working In Conjunction With Patrolman Martin Flatley, Police Sergeant Brings Offenders to Justice With Meagre Clues.

Although he had worked for seven hours with futile results in an effort to run down a gang of young men who had atrociously assaulted Richard Von Thrope, Sergeant Maurice Higgins, of the local police force, secured information at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon that resulted in the apprehension of six of the culprits before 9 o'clock last night. Van Thrope, who is an employe of L. V. F. Randolph at the latter's farm on East Second street, was pounced upon by a number of "plum" thieves when he was chasing them from the premises Wednesday night and severely beaten about the head and body. So sudden was the attack that the victim could offer no description of his assailants and Higgins had absolutely no clues to work on.

"Inside" channels, known only to the police department, devulged information late yesterday that brought two of the boys to justice and their arrest soon resulted in the identity

WOMAN'S MISTAKE MAY PROVE FATAL

Headache Victim Took Bichloride of Mercury Tablets Yesterday Afternoon.

Mrs. J. B. Scass, of 210 Leland avenue, was removed to Muhlenberg Hospital in the ambulance, last night, where she now lies in a serious condition suffering from bichloride of mercury poisoning. A sufferer from headaches, Mrs. Scass has frequently taken tablets as a means of securing relief. Yesterday afternoon she took a bottle from a cabinet in which she kept medicines of various kinds and had the misfortune to select the wrong receptacle.

The mistake was discovered soon afterwards and she was received in the hospital at 6:30 o'clock last night and her condition this afternoon is said to be slightly improved. The immediate action taken in the case may save the woman's life although similar mistakes have resulted in the death of the victims.

In accordance with a recently established custom the bichloride of mercury tablets are placed in blue bottles and it is thought that the distress brought on by severe pains in her head partially blinded her. The tablet she swallowed was seven and three-tenths grains and should she survive the case will be recognized as a record one among the medical profession.

Everything possible is being done to alleviate the pains brought on by the poisoning, at the local institution, and she is reported as resting in somewhat of an easier condition this afternoon following the treatment. Many cases of mercury poisoning have been brought to the attention of the medical world of late but this is the first that has been entered at Muhlenberg Hospital. This poisoning has claimed many victims and one tablet can accomplish the deadly work.

Sometime ago a movement was started to pass a law compelling chemists to put the mercury tablets up in the shape of miniature coffins but the act was never passed. It was thought that this shape would be more easily recognized by the headache sufferer who has been the most frequent victim.

MRS. WOODROW WILSON.

Wife of President, Who Died in the White House.

PRESIDENT'S WIFE GOES TO REWARD

Succumbed to Nervous Breakdown Late Yesterday—Husband at Bedside.

BURIAL AT ROME, GA.

Her Dying Request Was That Reform Bill, Abolishing Washington Slums, Be Made a Law and It Was Immediately Passed In Senate.

MAYOR CALLS MEETING OF SYMPATHY FOR PRESIDENT.

A meeting of Plainfield citizens will be held tonight, at eight o'clock, in the Common Council Chambers, 149 North avenue, to draft resolutions of condolence to be sent to President Woodrow Wilson upon the death of his wife, which occurred at five o'clock yesterday afternoon.

All citizens are invited to attend, and to feel at liberty to express their sympathy for the head of the nation in this his darkest hour. It is also requested that citizens display their flags at half mast, or with other symbols of the nation's sympathy.

By order of
PERCY H. STEWART,
Mayor of Plainfield.

Washington, Aug. 7.—Arrangements for the funeral of Mrs. Wilson, wife of the president, are not completed. Despite the cataclysmal war in Europe messages of condolence from all parts of the world poured into the White House today.

While it was not officially announced it was reported since Tuesday that Mrs. Wilson's death was expected momentarily. Oxygen and saline injections were said to have been resorted to in a last desperate effort to keep her alive.

The president, her three daughters and the few relatives able to reach here were at her bedside when the end came. Professor Axson of Princeton, brother of Mrs. Wilson, is hurrying to Washington from Oregon.

The senate passed the so called "alley bill" regulating the construction of buildings along alleys and side streets, in which Mrs. Wilson has shown so much interest. There was no debate.

The bill regulates alleys and back or side streets in Washington and is a clean up bill in the interest of the health of the poorer classes who dwell in the alleys.

A few hours before the end came she told the president that she would feel more cheerful if she knew the bill had been passed. The president told Private Secretary Tumulty of Mrs. Wilson's wish, and Mr. Tumulty, well knowing that congress needed but to be informed of it to pass the bill, hurried to make sure that leaders on both sides of the capitol did know of it.

Congress Responds Quickly.

GERMANS TAKE WARSAW, BUT ARE FORCED FROM LEIGE IN DISORDER; CHURCHILL SCORES MINE PLACING

English Admiralty Head Condemns Germans for Endangering Boats of Neutral Nations in Statement on Destruction of the Amphion---Servians Reported to Have Annihilated an Austrian Regiment at Belgrade---Germans Lose 25,000 at Liege.

Brussels, Aug. 7 (Central News Cable).—It is officially announced by the Belgian War Office that General Von Emmich, commander of the German army which is attacking Liege, has asked for a twenty-four hour armistice to enable the Germans to bury their dead. The German losses are acknowledged to be 25,000.

Washington, Aug. 7.—Secretary of State Bryan today intimated that he had received official notification of the occupation of Warsaw, Russia, by German troops. This city, lying close to the border, is reported to be of little stragetic value to Russia and the report that the general strategy board of the Russian army had decided to evacuate rather than defend the city is credited among army officials here.

Mr. Bryan stated that he had received acknowledgement from some of the European powers of the United States' proposal to mediate the European conflict. He said the acknowledgement was in no way to be regarded as answers to the proposal. He declined to discuss the matter further.

Official notification of the fact that Austria has declared war on Russia was received at the State Department today, from the Russian ambassador to the United States. "In due course," Mr. Bryan said, "a declaration of the neutrality of the United States toward these countries will be issued by the President"

Secretary Daniels today stated that within a few days he would place four large colliers at the disposal of merchants for shipments of wheat and cotton to Europe, and that certain ships of the navy could be immediately utilized for carrying mails and light freight.

Keep calm; use the nations' great credit and business stanchness to the fullest extent; withhold cotton from the market and give careful attention to warehouse facilities for grain. That is the advice of the Department of Agriculture to the farming interests. "Cotton is the most important factor of the situation," said Charles J. Brand, in charge of the office of markets in a statement today. "Cotton is the international crop and the only crop that goes into the industries and is used only in manufactured state. The continental situation is bad, so far as cotton is concerned. The greatest continental centres are in Alsace, Lorraine, and the immediate surrounding section of Europe. England no doubt is able to organize her cotton spinning in very short time, while there will be a restriction of the English market for cotton. There is no occasion for the conclusion that seems to have entered some minds that there will be no market for the crops."

New York, Aug. 7.—The Hon. Robert Seton Beresford, nephew of Lord Charles Beresford, and brother of Lord Decies, is now at the Biltmore Hotel. In conversation with the Central News representative this morning, Mr. Beresford announced his intention of sailing on the Olympic tomorrow with the object of offering his services to his country. When informed of the cabled statement that the German army is retreating from Leige Mr. Beresford exclaimed: "That is great and glorious news."

London, Aug. 7.—(Central News Cable.)—The admiralty has issued the following statement regarding the sinking by a mine of the British cruiser, Amphion: "In the course of reconnoitring after the German mine layer, Koenigen Louise, was sunk Thursday morning, the cruiser Amphion struck a mine and foundered. The forepart of the British ship was shattered by the explosion and practically all of the loss to the crew ensued from this cause. All not killed by the explosion were taken off by the boats of the destroyers before the Amphion went down. Twenty German prisoners of war who were confined in the forepart of the ship were killed. The line of mines was probably laid by the Koenigen Louise before she was sunk. They extended from Aldeburg ride to Latitude 25.10 N. longitude 2.25 N.

In the House of Commons this afternoon, Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, announced that the engagement off Harwich, which resulted in the loss of the British cruiser Amphion, through striking a German mine and the sinking of the German mine layer Koenigin Louise, was the only action that had taken place in the North Sea, up to the present time. Mr. Churchill's statement disposed of countless rumors which have been in circulation here concerning naval engagements in the North Sea.

Mr. Churchill, referring to the sinking of the Amphion, declared that the indiscriminate scattering of mines in the high seas, endangering peaceful merchantmen sailing under neutral flags, was a matter that deserved the attention of all nations of the civilized world.

It is officially announced that a government press bureau is to be established immediately to insure, as far as possible, the dissemination of nothing but accurate news relating to events of war.

A Central News despatch received this morning from Messina, Sicily, states that the German cruiser Goben left that port last evening at five o'clock and the Breslau at 5:30 o'clock, steaming south. Heavy firing was heard in the vicinity throughout the night and it is thought that the German ships were being attacked by the French navy, which has been on the lookout for them.

A despatch to the Central News, from Madrid says, that the Ministerial Council has approved the strictest neutrality for Spain during the European war and there will be no mobilization of Spanish troops.

The House of Commons was informed by Chancellor of the Exchequer David Lloyd George, today, that the government was considering the question of taking over the harvest throughout the British Isles.

Conditions in the London financial district were practically normal today with the reopening of the banks. Interest centered around the Bank of England, where quite a line assembled.. In contrast with the customary noise in the bullion department of the bank where a large staff is usually employed weighing bullion, not a person was to be seen.

At other banks business was moderate. Reports from the Provinces indicated that withdrawals have been small and the moratorium checked business. The joint stock banks refuse to quote rates for bills or loans as yet.

London, Aug. 7.— Central News Cable.)—A despatch from Brussels today states that it is officially announced that the Germans have retreated from Liege after two days of the most severe fighting, in which the German losses were enormous. The defence put up by the Belgian

The firm has in its employ about 250 men and it has been deemed best to cut down on the expenses necessitated in operating the plant as much as possible.

PLAINFIELD WILL HAVE TO ANSWER 175 INTERROGATIVES

Sitting in the Circuit Court in Elizabeth this morning Judge William H. Speer refused the motion made by Counsellor Jerome T. Congleton to have 176 interrogatives served by the defendant on the plaintiff, stricken out, in the case of Natalie Wildey Farlee, formerly of this city, against George York, sergeant at arms in the local district court. Judge Speer ordered the plaintiff to answer 175 of the interrogatives within twenty days and to notice the case for trial during the October term of court under penalty of having the suit thrown out.

The interrogatives were filed by the defendant's counsel, V. W. Nash, Jr., of this city and the action introduced by Congleton was strenuously opposed by him as he claimed the interrogatories were served in order to compel Mrs. Farlee to show how and from whom she received the household goods.

The goods in question were attached by York to satisfy the claims of forty creditors of this city, who claim that the chattels are not the property of the wife, but belong to the husband. When about to sell the goods the officer was restrained by Mrs. Farlee suing out a writ of replevin from the Union County Circuit Court.

The committee on poor and police of the Borough Council, is having a hard time getting anyone to accept the position of day marshal. The place was tendered to William Lidgate, Sr., who held the office several years ago, but he declined, saying that the reasons which forced him to resign before still prevent him from again acting in that capacity. Several other men in the borough have been approached without success and, as there will be no salary, only so much for each arrest being given, it would not pay a man not living here to take the place. The Mayor, Council and most of the residents are anxious to have police protection in the day time. All of this year's appropriation has been used and will prevent the Council from adding another man to the night force, but it is their intention to do so the first of the year.

November 3—Election Day.

That James F. Connelly, who recently retired as city clerk of Newark, will be appointed superintendent of the New Jersey Home for Disabled Soldiers, at Kearny, is expected. Mr. Connelly resigned as city clerk under the veterans' pension act, and he has always taken a great interest in the Home. The superintendency has been vacant since General E. Burd Grubb's death, a year ago.

If Mayor Fyffe, of Rahway, becomes the Democratic candidate for sheriff, it is understood he will not resign as Mayor, at least until after the November election. The president of the Rahway Common Council would be Mayor for a year in the event of Mayor Fyffe's advancement to the county office. The president now is David H. Trembley, a Democratic member of the Board of Freeholders.

Ex-Freeholder Thomas J. Pierson continues to wage an energetic campaign for the Democratic Congressional nomination. Mr. Pierson has devoted considerable time to Rahway during the last week, and the outlook there is reported highly encouraging. Mr. Pierson declares that the Morris county situation is even better than he had hoped.

A resume of Jersey political conditions by Charles R. Bacon, in the Philadelphia Record, has some interesting comment upon ex-Governor Fort's "get together" suggestions at the Progressive conference in Asbury Park last week. "The former Governor, for instance," Bacon says, "suggested that it might be well and fitting for the Progressives to indorse for re-election Senator Carlton B. Pierce, of Union County, because during his service in the Assembly and later in the Senate, he had shown a very strong disposition to think for himself and to stand for the most progressive legislation. The former Governor was in position to know something about the Senator, because they were together for three years of the Fort administration, and the Senator served Governor Wilson well when the time came to put through those measures which have born such good fruit for the common people."

Continuing, Bacon states that it was the disposition of the Bull Moose, led by Everett Colby, to name full tickets in every county. Bacon, however, says that "yet it is very evident to the ordinary observer that while the Progressive organization, as an organization, will not give the indorsement suggested by Mr. Fort, there is very likely to be an indorsement of more effective force. Many of those who joined the Progressive movement left the Republican lines as a protest to existing conditions, and not to show hostility to men who might be as free and progressive as any of those who formed the new party.

The writer gives some good reasons why Colby was skeptical of any coalition at this time, but he declares in concluding: "It is just as plain, however, that the suggestion was in direct line with the feelings of a large number of those who have been allied with the new party. The synopsis of the situation is that the Progressives will endeavor to name tickets in all of the counties, but those who are in close touch with the conditions express the belief that nothing much will come of it."

The cards sent out by Sheriff Wright some time ago, "Just to Get Acquainted," as they said, are still much in evidence around the county. One was put in the hands of every known Republican voter, telling him of Mr. Wright's candidacy for the county clerkship. While he was away on a short vacation these kept his canvass moving, and since his return he has followed them up in many instances by personal visits.

Edgar A. Knapp, the original Bull Mooser in Elizabeth, is not at all nonplussed by Progressive defections in recent elections. Like his intimate friend, Everett Colby, Mr. Knapp has rejected all suggestions that the party indorse candidates on other tickets, and he is getting ready to make the State Committee's new organization plans effective in this vicinity.

Former Governor Edward C. Stokes has put it up to the Pope to end the European war. He issued an appeal yesterday to Bishop McFaul, asking that a way be found to have the Pope offer the College of Cardinals, or representatives of that body, as mediators. Mr. Stokes declares that Christianity owes it to herself to prevent, if possible, the frightful carnage that will result from such a widespread war. The Pope alone is the man who can bring this about, Mr. Stokes believes. From other sources, it is asserted that the Vatican tried in vain at the outbreak of the trouble to prevent it, as shown partly by messages sent to Franz Josef, of Austria-Hungary.

NEARLY 3,000 PEOPLE ENJOYED KNIGHT'S OUTING

The official count shows that 2,800 Plainfielders enjoyed the annual outing of the Knights of Columbus to Asbury Park, yesterday, it being the largest excursion ever conducted by this organization. Over two-thirds of the large number were children and 1,400 were taken to and from the shore free of charge. Thirty-nine coaches were required to take the excursionists to the shore, there being three sections.

The excursionists had an ideal day at the shore, the weather being perfect. It was the first good day for bathing in several weeks and many Plainfielders took advantage of the opportunity to go into the ocean.

All three sections made excellent time both going and coming and it was about 9 o'clock last night when the happy but tired people arrived in Plainfield. There was not a single accident during the day to mar the pleasure of the excursionists and the large committee in charge has been complimented for its excellent results.

WARREN CHAPEL EXCURSION.

The Warren chapel excursion, the last to go from this city to Asbury Park and Ocean Grove, will leave next Thursday, August 13. The committee in charge has chartered a large train and a large crowd is expected. The train will leave the North Avenue station at 8:15 and will leave Asbury Park at 6:10. The train will stop at Netherwood both ways. All who have not yet been to this popular seaside resort should take advantage of this final outing.

HONEST ADVERTISING.

Probably no greater incentive to honest advertising has been given in this country than the work which was done at the recent great advertising men's convention held at Toronto. There a declaration of principles was laid down which has been placed in the hands of practically every advertiser in the United States and Canada. Herbert S. Houston, one of the great men in the publishing world was in attendance at the convention, and in the current issue of World's Work he draws an interesting lesson from the proceedings.

"A swift and sure transformation is in progress in the great business of advertising," says Mr. Houston. "The patent medicine man in print is coming to be nearly as rare as the patent medicine man on street corners. Today the bill boards bear patriotic lessons from the life of Grant or the manger story of Bethlehem, instead of the flaring and often indecent announcements of the burlesque show."

Every one that attended the recent convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America in Toronto was in the business, yet, according to Mr. Houston, "the spirit manifested throughout the proceedings was not commercial but ethical. Convincing proof of this was given before adjournment by the adoption of definite ethical codes in each department, called Standards of Practice. These were clear-cut pledges of upright business conduct. For example, the standards adopted by the department of retail advertising began with this broad pledge; 'Each head of a retail enterprise should dedicate his best efforts to the cause of business uplift and to this end should pledge himself to the following standards.' In the ten pledges are such things as these: 'To permit no wilful misrepresentation of merchandise; to see that comparison values in printed announcements are with prices previously prevailing in his store, unless otherwise distinctly stated; to resent strenuously—to the point of withdrawal, if necessary—the 'make up' of his advertiseing in a newspaper next or near announcements offensive to good taste or of a debasing nature; to urge on newspapers that the same care should be shown in admitting advertising to their columns that would be shown in admitting news matter."

The advertising men are certainly right, and their determination to better things will have a far-reaching effect. Even now the newspapers that accept patent medicine advertising are few and far between, and all try to keep out of their columns all false claims by store-keepers, as to the true value of goods which may be alleged to be marked down. It will only be a matter of a short time before legitimate advertisers will refuse to use the sheets which accept business which is false and misleading.

STOP THE ROWDIES.

The determined effort of Judge DeMeza to break up rowdyism among local youths in the business section should be applauded by the peace loving citizens. The severe jail sentence given one of the carousers in the City Court yesterday morning will act as a lesson to many of the other loafers who are making pedestrianism hazardous for women at night on Plainfield thoroughfares. It is a common sight to see a number of rowdies gathered about one of our corners or in front of various meeting places on Front street, and to hear them fling remarks at members of the feminine sex who pass the spot. In some cases their comment is loud enough to be heard by the victim and it is exceedingly embarrassing for her and anyone else, of a decent frame of mind, who happens to be in the immediate vicinity.

The court has ordered the police department to keep a careful watch on these meeting places in the future and it is expected that wholesale arrests will be made in an effort to break up the nuisance. The loiterers start their carousing shortly after dusk and may be seen hanging about the corners until after midnight. Frequent complaints have been made by citizens and stringent measures have been ordered by the city authorities. In cases the trouble makers are under age boys who commit many of the acts while half intoxicated. The arrest of these youths is expected to result in the hauling of several liquor dealers to court, who are said to be selling to customers under the age limit.

Tomorrow's contributed editorial has been written by A. R. Parkhurst, Jr., one of the editors of the New York Evening Telegram, and a live wire newspaper man. He tells something about the West End Civic Association, which has made itself felt as a power in the community.

ANNUAL BUDGET ADOPTED

torney W. R. Codington, recommending the payment of the salaries of the ousted small board members, a resolution calling for the appointment of a committee of five, with the county attorney, to further investigate this matter, was passed, after an amendment giving the committee power to pay said salaries, if the investigation warranted such action, had been defeated. Mr. Codington cited the decision of the Court of Errors in the case of Lyons vs. the Morris county small board, emphasizing the fact that no reference was made in the decision as to the status of the small board's employes. Freeholders Smith, Wilbur and Jones said that the salaries should be paid, while Freeholder Meisel suggested that a month's more delay would not be material.

The Bayonne bridge committee reported that Governor Fielder had told the members that he could not see his way clear to urging a State appropriation for the Bayonne-Elizabeth bridge at the next legislative session, although he favored the bridge. Colonel Edwin Stevens, State road commissioner, told the committee he believed the State should bear part of the cost. The report was received and filed.

Property owners in New Providence township petitioned the Board to take over Plainfield avenue, which leads from Berkeley Heights to Scotch Plains, as a county road. The First Street Association of Elizabeth petitioned the Board to cause a reduction of the five-cent ferry rate to Staten Island and counsel for Mrs. Mary Nicholson, of Plainfield, wrote the Board asking that a settlement be made with Mrs. Nicholson for damages to her automobile in Rahway, due to the alleged poor condition of Westfield avenue, through the oiling of the thoroughfare. All these matters were referred to committee for investigation. Freeholders Doane, Smith and Carroll were appointed a committee to investigate the need of a new culvert at East Seventh and Richmond streets, Plainfield.

of four more. Two of the latter were arrested at their homes in the east end and the remaining couple were nabbed by Higgins as they got off the excursion train, after enjoying a day at the shore, last night. All yesterday afternoon Higgins and Patrolman Martin Flatley, the latter using the department motorcycle as a police patrol, scoured the Italian population in the Netherwood section and as the guilty parties were rounded up they were taken by Flatley to the local headquarters and placed in cells.

At nightfall the police clutches held Charles Curtis, John Long, Patrick Long, Antonio Venizio, Frank Diano, Joseph Wood and Tony Stebor, all admitting their culpability to some extent in the disgraceful act of the night before. Arraigned before Judge DeMeza in the city court this morning, the boys were charged with atrocious assault and battery and held in $500 bail for appearance tomorrow morning. All of the prisoners are under age and several have police records. Patrick Long was wanted by the police for failing to appear to answer to a charge of trespassing on the Central Railroad tracks yesterday morning and when asked by the court why he did not show up he answered that he did not get up in time. This is the third time this week that he has been hailed before the bar of justice and he has been apprehended for various offenses no less than ten times. The boys are well known east end characters, and have all given the populace in that part of the city more or less trouble.

They attacked Van Thrope after he had seized one of their number Wednesday night and after administering a beating to him made their escape. The injured man was removed to Muhlenberg Hospital where he is still detained. At that institution this morning it was stated that the victim was lying in a serious condition. He is suffering considerably and it is not known yet whether or not he will lose the sight of one eye

FOURTH WARD REPUBLICANS WILL MEET TO ORGANIZE

Steps toward organizing the Republicans of the Fourth Ward will be taken at a meeting to be held in the office of Councilman Francis J. Blatz, 152 Park avenue, this evening at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the interest of the success of the Republican ticket in the Fourth Ward, this fall, and no doubt some expression of opinion will be made regarding candidates for local offices. All Republicans are urged to attend the meeting.

VETERAN EMPLOYES TO HOLD REUNION

Arrangements Complete For Annual Gathering at Lake Hopatcong, August 25.

Arangements have been completed for the annual meeting, reunion and outing of the Veteran Employees' Association of which Joseph Haynes, of Craig place, the borough, is president, at Lake Hopatcong, on Tuesday, August 25, and a full attendance of the membership is looked for on that occasion.

The fact that dinner will be served at the Bryant Villa Inn under the personal supervision of Mrs. George L. Bryant, widow of the former trainmaster of the High Bridge Branch, up to the time of his death several years ago an honorary member of the Association, in itself is a guarantee that everything possible will be done to assure not only the highest excellence of the meal but the completeness of the service.

Special trains will carry the veterans from all points on the system to the lake, and a dinner will be served following the business session, promptly at 1 o'clock, at which hour the meeting will adjourn.

After dinner, arrangements have been made for a sail around this most charming of New Jersey lakes, returning to Nolan's Point in sufficient time for an early start homeward.

It is expected that President Besler and other high officials of the company, in addition to representatives from similar organizations on other roads, will be in attendance.

WAYWARD YOUTH ENGAGED TO WOMAN TWICE HIS AGE

Bernard Geary's recent waywardness and his frequent appearances in the local police court culminated in his being sent to the county jail at Elizabeth this morning, to serve a sixty days sentence for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, preferred against him by Sergeant Maurice Higgins, of the local police force. This is McGeary's third appearance before the bar of justice inside of two months and on each previous occasion his mother's entreaties have secured for him a suspended sentence. When last arraigned he was banished from town but returned here and started his old mode of living once more. After a consultation between the heartbroken mother and the city judge this morning it was deemed best to give a term behind the bars during which he will sober up.

When arrested Geary was in the company of Mrs. Mary Ross, who claims she is engaged to him. She was arraigned with the prisoner in the local court this morning and admitted her age to be forty-two, although she looks much older. Geary is twenty-four. She was severely admonished by the court for her relations with the boy who has been giving his parents so much trouble and instructed to keep away from him in the future.

Plainfield Business Men's Association

The $15 will be divided into three prizes, the first of $7.50; the second, $5.00, and the third $2.50, and they will be awarded to the contestants who present the best arguments for buying in Plainfield, regardless of the store in which the purchase is made.

Because of this offer the rules of the contest have been broadened, and as amended they are submitted below. Read them, and then send in your letter.

If the letter which wins the first prize contains a reference to a purchase made as a result of seeing an advertisement in the Daily Press, it will be possible for the successful contestant to secure $17.50, the Daily Press prize being added to the Business Men's Association prize.

CONDITIONS OF THE COMPETITION

1. In order to win the Daily Press prize as well as the Business Men's Association prize the instance related in your letter must be bona fide, contain a description of the purchase, and the name of the store in which it was made. The amount of the sale will have no effect in determining the winner. General arguments on the advantages of buying in Plainfield, and not mentioning any store, will only entitle the contestants to participation in the Business Men's Association prizes.

2. All letters will be published in the columns of the Daily Press, without payment being made for their use, other than the prizes.

3. No person will be considered as a competitor, who is in any way connected with the Plainfield Daily Press.

4. Winners of the Daily Press second and fourth prizes will designate on what stores the Press due bills are to be issued, but they will only be issued upon Plainfield stores which advertise in the Plainfield Daily Press.

THESE POINTS WILL COUNT IN THE ANSWER:

The best illustrations of the advantages gained by buying at Plainfield stores in response to Daily Press advertisements.

The best illustrations showing the advantages of buying in Plainfield over buying out of town, especially from mail order houses.

Brevity, simplicity and an intelligent handling of the subject.

GOES TO REWARD

mittee before which Mrs. Wilson had appeared, and Senators Ollie James of Kentucky, Hollis of New Hampshire and Hughes of New Jersey were communicated with. Chairman Johnson quickly called a meeting of his committee, which after a few minutes' consideration reported the measure favorably. Congress adjourned out of respect for Mrs. Wilson.

The chief cause of Mrs. Wilson's death was chronic kidney trouble. This has developed as one of the results of a nervous breakdown brought on by overwork. In her ambition to perform her full duty in Washington Mrs. Wilson added to her social obligations a very great activity in philanthropic work connected with the redemption of the slums of Washington city and in various other enterprises connected with the betterment of conditions of life here.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, whose maiden name was Helen Louise Axson, was the daughter of a Presbyterian minister of Savannah, Ga.

The president and Mrs. Wilson were married in 1885. Three daughters were born to them, Margaret, Jessie (Mrs Francis Bowes Sayre) and Eleanor (Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo).

Mrs. Wilson was domestic in her tastes and intensely interested in her husband's career. She is said to have known as much about inside politics as many of the cleverest politicians in the country. But her first ambition was to become an artist, and it never quite deserted her.

Mrs. Wilson's love for painting was not gratified until after her children had grown. In recent years, however, she devoted considerable of her spare time to the brush and palette, spending her summers whenever possible at the artists' colony in Old Lyme, Conn. Soon after Mr. Wilson assumed the office of president Mrs. Wilson had her first exhibition of paintings.

The artistic instinct inherent in Mrs. Wilson also ran to architecture and landscape gardening. She planned the Wilson home in Cleveland lane, Princeton.

The body of Mrs. Wilson will be transported tomorrow evening to Rome, Ga., for interment. The funeral will be held there on Monday, and will be of the simplest character, in keeping with the last wishes of the First Lady of the Land. Mrs. Wilson's parents lie at rest in the cemetery at Rome.

A special train will convey the body to the Georgia town. Private cars will be set aside for the President and his family, the relatives and the official committees of the diplomatic corps and the Senate and House that will attend as a last mark of respect.

There was no adjourment of either branch of congress today, it developed, as the direct desire of the President, who even in his grief declared he saw no reason why the nation's business should be brought to a complete halt. For the same reason the departments continued to transact business, although over all hung a pall of sorrow.

Secretary Tumulty issed a bulletin at 10:30, announcing that the funeral services to be held in the White House, would be private. The time for the services was not indicated.

Long before Secretary Tumulty had appeared at the executive office, streams of cabinet members, diplomats, members of congress and public men silently entered the executive offices today and left their cards of sympathy. The untimely death of Mrs. Wilson has cast a pall of gloom over the entire capital. The sorrow and the sympathy for the President is reflected throughout the entire nation. Telegrams from throughout the United States and cablegrams from all over the world began to flow into the White House early last night and there was no cessation today.

Relatives of the Wilson family are arriving at the White House from the four quarters of the country. Joseph R. Wilson, a brother of the President, reached here early today from Baltimore, as did E. T. Brown, of Atlanta, a cousin of Mrs. Wilson, and George Howe, a nephew of the President. Mrs. Edward Elliott, the only sister of Mrs. Wilson, is ill in California and will not be able to get East for the funeral, but her brother, Prof. Stockton Axson, of Princeton University, now is on his way from Oregon.

Secretary Tumulty paid a brief visit to the White House shortly after his arrival at the offices this morning. He found the President more broken than he was last night. The Chief Executive, after a few hours of troubled sleep, seemed to have awakened to a more poignant sense of his loss. Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, his favorite daughter, was with her father for a short time, it was said, but the family were said to be leaving him alone with his great grief.

All engagements at the White House were cancelled for the day. The meeting of the Cabinet was called off and the routine work of the executive office was carried on by Secretary Tumulty and his assistants.

HOPE OUTING TOMORROW.

The annual excursion of Hope chapel to Asbury Park, tomorrow, promises to be one of the best outings of the season from this city. The excursionists will have ten full hours at the shore, giving ample time for the enjoyment of all the attractions as well as a dip in the ocean. Trains, both sections, will leave here at 8 o'clock in the morning, and returning from the shore will leave there at 8 o'clock in the evening.

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL OF CHARLES W. LINDSAY

The funeral service of Charles W. Lindsay, whose untimely death occurred on Tuesday, was held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the parents on Mountain avenue, the borough, and was largely attended by relatives and friends, including many young people, who knew the young man intimately.

Rev. J. T. Broek, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, of which the young man was an attendant, conducted the service, reading the Scripture, offering prayer and making a short address of eulogy. There were many beautiful floral tributes from relatives and friends.

The burial was in Hillside cemetery and the bearers, all associates of the departed, were Walter Walker, Russell Hoagland, Kenneth Mair, Charles Bloom, John Ricketts and John Bremble.

THIS COMPLAINANT HAD TO PAY A FINE OR GO TO JAIL

When Emil Boberwieth, of Bound Brook road swore out a warrant for the arrest of Emil Marckorich, alias "Chinaman" Kelly, on the charge that he committed assault and battery upon him in front of Gustav Winter's hostelry at noon, on Wednesday, he never dreamt that he was opening the way for the majestic hand of the law to descend upon his own head. After hearing the stories of the defendant, complainant and two witnesses, Frank Rinehart and Paul Pluck in the borough hall last evening, Recorder David S. Campbell decided that Boberweith was as much to blame for the melee as Marckorich and forthwith sentenced both men to each pay a fine of $4 or be sent to New Brunswick for ten days.

Boberwieth's jaw dropped at the unexpected change in the state of affairs and he stood speechless and dazed befor the recorder for a minute or so.

"Well! what are you going to do about it?" asked the court.

Boberweith commenced to tell the court that he had been used unjustly when the recorder hushed him with the repetition of the court's decree in a tone of firm finality. Not caring to spend ten days at the expense of the county on the banks of the Raritan, Boberweith decided to pay the fine.

HORSE DIDN'T LIKE NEW HARNESS SO RAN AWAY

Some little excitement was caused on Somerset street yesterday afternoon when a horse belonging to I Schneider, a Somerset street tailor, bolted out of an alley-way and ran up the thoroughfare at a fast rate. The animal was attached to a light road wagon which was much the worse for the little outing.

Mr. Schneider, who had just returned home from his vacation at Asbury Park, but told his son to take the animal to the barn which is one block distant from his store. While the horse was being unhitched one of the younger Schneiders set up a yell which scared the animal and he started to run. The youngest member of the family was in the path of the horse and the wheels of the wagon passed over his foot but he was not injured. The horse continued until it was in front of its owner's store and then ran up on the sidewalk, endangering the lives of several passersby. Had the horse not slipped on the pavement he would have gone through a large plate glass window. On recovering himself the animal continued up the borough's main street with two wheels of the wagon demolished. While trying to turn the corner at Park place he fell against, but in a second was on his way.

The horse turned into Vine street and in doing so swung the wagon against a tree. The horse broke loose and continued on its way. The wagon was a total wreck and the tree was also slightly damaged. The horse returned to the barn after running the streets of the borough and it had five cuts on the left leg. The only loss besides the wagon was a new harness that Mr. Schneider had just purchased and it was the first time the equipment had been put on the horse.

TOURISTS MAROONED IN CAPTURED CITY

Honeyman Party In Warsaw, Now In Control of German Forces.

According to a cable despatch received early this afternoon, the German forces have taken possession of Warsaw, Russia, which fact is of interest here because A. V. D. Honeyman and his personal party of tourists, including several Plainelders, is marooned in that place. The party was due to arrive at Warsaw last week, from which point they were to leave the following day for Vienna, but it is thought highly improbable that it was able to get away from Warsaw as war had then been declared.

The Plainfielders in this party include beside Mr. Honeyman, Mrs. John T. Baker, Mrs. S.V. Edgar, Miss Margaret Cranswick, Mrs. Frederick Sandford and Mrs. William M. Sandford.

Miss Mellick and Miss Sara Schuyler, of East Seventh street, and the Misses Tweedy, of Crescent avenue, are included among the Plainfielders now thought to be in Germany, but about whose safety there appears to be no reason for alarm.

After being ordered to report to the U. S. S. cruiser Tennessee, Captain Chauncey Humphrey, son-in-law of O. T. Waring, of Park avenue, received instructions that he was not to make the trip. He will therefore, remain at Governor's Island.

Mr. Stuchell speaks favorably of his campaign thus far. He says that for mid-summer, voters throughout the district are showing considerable interest in the approaching primaries and election, and he confidently believes that he will secure a large vote.

MANY PLAINFIELD VISITORS AT FAIR

Flemington Attraction a Mecca For Delegations From All Over the State.

Many Plainfielders made the trip to Flemington, yesterday, to be present at the fair being conducted at that place, a majority going by way of automobile. Those who witnessed the annual exhibition class it as the best ever given at that place inasmuch as it covers a wider scope of industry and its features more numerous that heretofore. One of the attractive exhibits is being conducted under the auspices of the Woolston & Buckle firm, of this city, the action of fire-proof paint being demonstrated by that concern in the center of the fair grounds.

Among the local visitors at the State famous event, yesterday, were Jack Todd, William de LaR. Anderson, Fred VanEps, George Pope, Bill Dowd, J. R. Blair, Lorenzo Townley, Thomas Brantingham, Howard Woolston, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Schuck, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Guinn, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stires, Edward Craig and William Briggs.

MRS. LESTER G. LEGGETT DIES AT ASBURY PARK

Mrs. Alice Lenore Leggett, wife of Rev. Dr. Lester Gerard Leggett, formerly of Plainfield, died last night, at her home in Asbury Park, following a long illness from Bright's disease. Mrs. Leggett was the daughter of the late L. L. Martin and prior to her marriage resided on Washington avenue, the borough, in the house now occupied by Nelson A. Miller.

Mrs. Leggett had been a resident of Asbury Park for some time, during which time her husband has been pastor of the Dutch Reformed church at Red Bank. Both Mrs. Leggett and her husband have many friends here. The latter for a time served the Temple Baptist church, where special services were conducted. He has held a number of pastorate in New Jersey and other parts of the country.

Mrs. Leggett, besides a husband, leaves a son, Dr. Frank Searles, of Asbury Park, and a sister, Mrs. Fred H. Martin, of Brooklyn. The funeral will be held at Asbury Park and the burial will take place in Hillside cemetery, Monday morning at 11:30 o'clock.

MEXICAN DIFFERENCES ARE NOT YET SETTLED

Washington, Aug. 7—The Carbajal peace delegates have left Saltillo. It is officially understood that an adjustment of the differences between the Constitutionalists and Federals failed at the conference and that further negotiations will have to be conducted.

RECREATION NOTES

The Dunbar Club, which meets regularly Friday nights in the Washington School auditorium under the auspices of the Public Recreation Committee, will have a short musical program tonight. There will be dancing, and a novel choice waltz. This club is enjoying an enthusiastic membership this summer and every meeting proves itself the most pleasant event in the week for many of its members.

The new activity recently introduced in the Lincoln School has been organized into the Italian Educational and Social Club. Charles Marra has been elected president and Joseph Luchesa is the secretary. The membership now numbers about fifty and is steadily increasing. The school will be opened two nights a week for this club. On Mondays there will be a general social time and the members are requested to take all musical instruments for the purpose of making the evening as enjoyable as possible. The Thursday night meetings will be varied and along lines suggested by the members of the club. Papers and magazines will be at the disposal of the members.

IN CONGRESS TODAY.

Washington, Aug. 7.—The conference report on the reclamation bill was agreed to by the House today. The measure provides that the time for repaying the government for irrigation expenses in reclaimed sections of the west will be extended 10 years to 20 years.

President Wilson sent to the Senate the nomination of Judge Victor Wooley, of Wilmington, Del., to be United States Circuit Judge of the Fifth District, to succeed Judge George Gray.

"SPORTDOM TIPS"

Present indications point to an off day for sport followers tomorrow. The apparent neglect on the part of local baseball promoters to sign up attractions over the week-end might be taken by some as further evidence that the good old pastime is on the decline hereabouts and is dying a slow but certain death. The game bookers have fortified themselves against all emergencies, however, by making preparations to ship their charges on various outings that will leave this noble burg of ours tomorrow around the breakfast hour.

It has been said that the local cops need a week's rest after copping a ball game at the expense of the locust wielders from Elizabeth. Well, that may be true, but now we'd like to know just how much rest those bear cops who did the heavy work require.

On the level, general sportsman, wouldn't Tommy Mullin and Warry McLaughlin look sweet in a nice blue suit with brass buttons?

Without Warry the Plainfield cops would not be much as a ball team. Ayers a fan. Granted. But then, without his money, John D. would not be much as a millionaire.

One interested in amateur baseball in these parts says he thinks that the Sunday-school League has been a failure this season. Thereby demonstrating that he is not an original thinker.

Although some team is bound to snatch that Sunday-school League trophy, we agree with one Hope Chapel supporter when he opines that such an honor is a terrible thing to have wished on any team. Something in the shape of a wooden kimona would be more appropriate as a trophy in that particular organization this season.

Have you ever noticed just how much action policemen ball players manage to get into the third strike? That's what comes from continued juggling with a locust.

Wonder how those Brunswickers will take to the atmosphere in the vicinity of Parker Field tomorrow afternoon? Ernest Dorflinger predicts another victory for the Queen City youths, but then, Dorflinger, like other managers, is not considered infallible when it comes to handing out baseball dope. We have to admit, however, that Ernie is the best little baseball manager in the machinist business in central New Jersey.

One good thing about Ernie is that you can't get a fall out of him. The more you punch him the better he likes it and looks upon the waste of perfectly good printer's ink as a little more free advertising added to what he already has banked.

In view of the fact that a pair of Sunday-school League teams saw fit to battle extra innings before handing over a decision last week, the board of governers of that organization is said to be considering a raise in price for overtime contests. Well, what's the odds, you don't need to stay any longer than you want to.

Haven't heard a word from Bob Fitzsimmons since that kid of his whooped a few wallops into him at Bound Brook a couple of weeks ago.

Bob also absented himself for quite a while after he predicted that win for Frank Moran. But then we all know that the grand old man of the fight arena is instilled with a barrel of optimism and you have to make allowances.

FRANK BRUGGY WANTED BY WORCESTER MANAGER

Jesse Burkett, manager of the Worcester team of the New England League, has offered $1,000 to the Lawrence club for the release of Frank Bruggy, formerly a Plainfield player, who is first catcher of the Lawrence team. Worcester and Lawrence are in a hot struggle for first place, the latter team leading. Burkett figures that with Bruggy, the most dangerous proposition in the Lawrence line-up, out of the way, he would easily beat out Pieper's team to the pennant. Bruggy has been playing consistent ball all season and several big league scouts have been looking him over. Bruggy is batting .321. "Flick" Luyster, another former Pet, who now plays with Bruggy, is batting .331 for Lawrence.

"NIBS" HAND BATTING WELL FOR PERTH AMBOY BALLISTS

During the past two weeks, "Nibs" Hand, the Plains ball player, who is now with the Perth Amboy team of the Atlantic League, has increased his batting average and now is third in the standing of that team. He is batting .298. Nibs has played in fourteen games and has made fourteen hits and five runs. He has raised his average three or four places in the last week. Cliff Randolph, another local boy, who is on the pitching staff of that team, is clouting .172, with eleven hits in twenty games.

Cliff seems to be the first pitcher for this team and leads the other three in games won. He has entered nineteen battles and has come out of eleven a victor. The nearest to him is Sheaffer with nine wins and eleven defeats. Shanley is leading the club in batting with an average of .335.

MONROE AT BOUND BROOK.

The Monroe avenue baseball team, now holding down second place in the Sunday-school League, will go to Bound Brook tomorrow afternoon, and meet the strong Y. M. A. team of that place. The locals are playing fine ball now, as was shown when they licked the league leaders last week, but they will have to play their best to get the better of the Brookers who have been trimming everything their size around here. Brick and Mathews will be the opposing pitchers.

—Advertise in the Daily Press.

CANADIANS AND HIGHLANDERS WILL BATTLE ON HYDE OVAL

One of the two baseball games to be played in this city tomorrow, will be staged on Hyde Oval, when the Canadian and Highland teams will meet. The show is sure to be a good one as both teams have been playing a fine article of ball this year. The boroughites have played only two, but both of these were victories, and the Netherwood aggregation has a long string of wins with few defeats.

Danny Denny is the logical choice for mound duty for the home team and Percy Bailey will hold down the third sack ready to relieve the midget twirler at any moment. John Denny will work for the Highland boys and will be received by Dodd or Kyle. The borough team will lineup as follows: Dilts, ss; Hebert, rf; Percy Bailey, 3b; Dunning, lf; Pierson Bailey, c; Taylor, 2b; McDonough, 1b; VanMater, cf; Denny, p.

EVEN GOLFERS MAKE RECORDS.

Hartsdale, N. Y., Aug. 7.—"Two better than 70s for the four rounds" is the golfer's way of describing the score with which Macdonald Smith, of Oakmont, won the metropolitan open championship, which was completed yesterday at the Scarsdale Golf and Country Club. Smith's score of 69, 68, 68, 73—278 is the lowest ever made for seventy-two holes of championship medal play. In 1911 Gilbert Nichols won the metropolitan open at Englewood with 281 strokes and Harry Vardon is credited with 279 over a German course well under 6,000 yards in length. Scarsdale measures 6,051 yards, so the merit of Smith's record breaking performances hardly can be disputed.

CARPENTIER JOINS ARMY.

London, Aug. 7.—Gunboat Smith, the American heavyweight, and Young Ahearn, of New York, will box twenty rounds here on August 18. Georges Carpentier, with whom Young Ahearn was to have boxed, has returned to France to join the army.

WE AGREE WITH SHERMAN.

New York, Aug. 7.—Owing to England's proclamation of war, the Canadian track and field championships set down to be decided at Charlottetown, P. E. I., on Aug. 19, have been indefinitely postponed.

PETS WILL TACKLE NEW BRUNSWICK NINE

Strong Team From That Place Will Appear at Parker Field Tomorrow.

Two young pitchers, both of whom have made records for themselves, on their respective High School teams, will oppose each other on the mound at Parker Field tomorrow afternoon, when the Pets meet the New Brunswick nine. George Towpley, of the borough, and Jake Deinzer, who pitched for the New Brunswick High School last year, against the borough team, will twirl for their respective teams and with good men behind both of them the game should be a tight one. This team, which has been playing fine ball all season, is rated in the class with the Elizabeth A. A. team that played eleven innings here last Saturday and will undoubtedly give the locals an equally hard fight for the game.

The New Brunswick manager has rounded up some of the fastest men in that vicinity among them being Bill Samuels, a former New York State League player, who will work with Deinzer. "Nat" Manley, New Brunswick High School's crack all-around athlete, will also be here and will adorn the right garden.

Dorflinger has made a few changes in the local's lineup. Harry Giddes, who played a nice game for the Pets on third last week, will again cover the difficult corner and will lead-off in the batting order. Joe Alberts will don a Pet uniform and sleep in left field where he is always perfectly at home. Norman Harney, who was benched for most of last week's game will play right field in place of Stine tomorrow. The rest of the lineup will remain the same. The teams will lineup as follows:

PLAINFIELD	NEW BRUNSWICK
Giddes, 3b	lf, Dunn
Alberts, lf	ss, Inglebrand
Mullin, ss	rf, Manley
Dixon, 1b	1b, F. Smith
Harney, rf	cf, McCormack

FORMER LOCAL PITCHER PLAYING WITH SYRACUSE

Leon Cadore, one of the most popular pitchers on the Plainfield team during the last Central New Jersey League pennant race, and who won all but one of the games he pitched for the Pets, is now connected with the Wilkesbarre team of the New York State League and pitched a recent victory over the Syracuse club, allowing his opponents but four hits. Those who remember Cadore know that he was a strikeout artist and he can still fan them.

He was a member of the team that Dave Driscoll, one time captain of the local aggregation, took a team to Porto Rico several years ago and at that time played with Frank Bruggy, who was also on the trip. Bruggy is well known in these parts as a ball player.

BAPTISTS AND INDEPENDENTS.

The First Baptists and Independent baseball teams will try conclusions on the West End avenue field tomorrow afternoon. The former team will have its regular lineup and Bowlby may divide with Patterson on the mound. The other team is a fast aggregation and the game should be a good one. The Baptists will lineup as follows: Savidge lf, Mosher cf, Smith rf, Barner 3b, Brown c, Pierson 2b, Randolph 1b Downs ss, Patterson or Bowlby p.

ROD AND REEL

Bass and perch are the main biters at Weequahic Park Lake, Newark, now. Many anglers visit that place every day and the majority have good luck.

Twenty-seven weakfish, seven croakers and one eel were caught by one party at Morgan Station, yesterday.

Fishing boats are carrying large delegations to the fishing banks every day. Fluke, sea bass and skates are biting to the delight of the anglers and some large catches have been reported.

Two Anglers went over to Jamaica Bay, last week, and fished from a rowboat at Broad Channel, a station on the Long Island Railroad. With shrimp for bait that cost twenty-five cents a quart, they caught twenty-two weakfish, the smallest of which weighed three and a half pounds and the largest five and a quarter pounds. The fish were caught close to the surface without any lead.

Here is a good tip for the surf fishermen. The croakers are biting well at Deal Beach and if the shedder crabs are used for bait the large ones can be caught. A few of the fish taken there the latter part of last week weighed five pounds and they make fine fishing and fine eating.

Fish and Game Warden Fred J. Hall yesterday, placed a new consignment of black bass in the lake at Weequahic Park. It probably will be some time before these fish will take hold, but meanwhile some fairly good catches of Oswego bass are being made right along.

Good catches of croakers are being made by the fishermen at Asbury Park. One man was out a few days ago and fished in front of the life-saving station at Deal. He caught a dozen croakers in less than two hours, and most of them weighed close to two pounds apiece.

The striped bass fishing along the Asbury Park section is picking up. Half a dozen fish were caught within the last few days in the section between Point Pleasant and Allenhurst. One that weighed twelve pounds and eleven ounces was caught from the Asbury Park fishing pier last Saturday. The big fellows, however, have not as yet put in their appearance.

The fishing from the Long Branch pier still holds good according to some regulars who are there most of the time. Large catches of sea bass and weeks have been reported lately.

Many parties still go to the fishing banks and return with sea bass and fluke. The latter are biting especially well these days and catches of forty and fifty are not out of the ordinary.

Scores of bass and pickerel are landed daily at various points along Greenwood Lake. This body is well stocked with several kinds of fish.

Channel bass are still the main run at Corson's Inlet and they are not scarce either. Boats full of them are landed every day.

The bluefish are scarce enough to keep them as high in price as meat, but the market is sure to be broken in another week, as the big schools are coming along the coast. Cape May and Atlantic City fishermen are catching them about twelve miles off shore and the fishermen of the northern section of the State are on the watch constantly for them. Some of the smaller fish went into Barnegat Inlet Sunday, and the big blues are following them.

Great Kills, Staten Island, is enjoying a run of big weakfish and a few bluefish these days and if the logfish will only stay out the boathouse keepers can retire at the end of the year. Rowboat fishermen find no trouble in catching from forty to fifty weakfish.

There are plenty of black bass in the waters of New Jersey, but, owing to the rain, they are getting enough naural food to keep them from seeking the artificial kind or anything else that is offered them. Worms and other food are washed into the streams in abundance and until we get a dry spell this will be the case.

BELTING STOLEN.

Herbert Van Fleet, of Mountain avenue, reported to the police last night that someone has stolen 150 feet of belting from the brick yard on Mountain avenue. No trace of the culprit has been found as yet.

BICYCLE MISSING.

Radel Hunt, of 1337 Larabee road, reported to the police last night that someone had stolen his Ranger bicycle from the Muhlenberg Hospital grounds, yesterday afternoon.

LARGE INCREASE IS SHOWN IN MIDDLESEX TAX RETURNS

New Brunswick, Aug. 7.—The tax assessors have not yet all turned in their books to the Middlesex County Board of Equalization, but all but one of those filed show an increased valuation. In this city alone there is an increase of $700,000. The tax rate here will be much higher than last year unless higher assessments throughout the county reduce the county rate. The rate here was $2.21 and it may go to $2.50 this year.

The levy under the bank stock tax act is as follows: New Brunswick—National Bank of New Jersey, $4,555.20; People's National Bank, $1,722; New Brunswick Trust Company, $1,452.36; Middlesex Title Guarantee Company, $1,037.64. Total, $8,767.20 Perth Amboy—First National Bank, $2,216.92; Perth Amboy Trust Company, $1,422.06. Total, $3,638.98. Roosevelt, $392.80; Woodbridge, $287.74; South Amboy, $1,224; Cranbury, $1,262.92; Jamesburg, $685.36; Dunellen, $309.80; South River, $949.50; Metuchen, $251.16.

JERSEY CITY PUPILS OBJECT TO QUALITY OF SCHOOL FOOD

Jersey City, Aug. 7.—Pupils who use the restaurant at the Dickinson High Schools have filed a protest with the Board of Education in which they ask that there be a change in management. The students practically boycotted the restaurant before the end of the last school year.

It is claimed by the students that the dishes and trays used in the restaurant have not been clean; that sandwiches and other food served "were of inferior quality," that there has been no variety to the food; that oleomargarin has been served instead of butter, and that many of the students detailed at the school during lunch hour have purchased candy and foregone lunch.

SUGAR EXPECTED TO SOAR, WITH HALF OF SUPPLY GONE

Washington, Aug. 7.—The American people are going to have to pay war prices for their sugar. Already, though, there is no sugar shortage in this country, the benevolent sugar barons have commenced to boost the price, and it is evident that while the European war lasts the sugar producers of the United States are most expecting to suffer from the Democratic sugar tariff.

In the department of commerce the experts explain the situation by stating that fifty per cent. of the world's sugar comes from the sugar beet fields of Germany and Russia. This is cut off while the war lasts. In addition there is a shortage in the current crop in South America and have, thus "throwing the opportunity for a sugar harvest in ready money to the producers in the United States, Cuba and the Philippines.

The department does not venture an opinion as to the altitude to which the sugar people will run prices in this country.

FIREMEN AT LONG BRANCH FOR TWO-DAY TOURNAMENT

Long Branch, Aug. 7.—New Jersey firemen will own this city today and tomorrow. They will be here for the big tourney. Already many have arrived. Some came by rail yesterday with their apparatus. The bulk of them arrived before daybreak today.

A parade is scheduled to start at 1 o'clock. There will be forty fire companies and possibly more, not including the city's quota of nine companies and 600 men. The 3,000 mark, it is believed, will be reached.

The parade will pass through both the cottage and business sections, starting at Ocean Park and passing down Ocean avenue through West End and Elberon to Lincoln avenue, the extreme southern end of the city. From Lincoln avenue the paraders will pass through Lincoln avenue to the West End section. From Brighton avenue the procession will travel to Sairs, thence to Bath and up to the Chattle fountain on Broadway, and down to the place of beginning.

Chatham Fire Department will have the right of way, the local companies bringing up in the rear. There will be a dozen bands and as many drum corps.

JULY MORTALITY IN STATE LOWEST SINCE JANUARY, 1913

Trenton, Aug. 7—According to the report of the State Board of Health and the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State, just issued, the total number of deaths for the month ending July 10 is lower than for any period since January 1, 1913, and is 500 below the monthly average for the past twelve months. All of the eighteen classifications of the causes of death show a decrease, with the exception of whooping-cough, cancer and infantile complaints. The total number of deaths for the month was 2,826.

The report of the Bureau of Communicable Diseases for June, 1914, shows an increase over the number of cases reported in the corresponding month of 1913 with respect to typhoid fever, diphtheria, scarlet fever and malaria fever. There were fewer cases of tuberculosis, chickenpox and smallpox reported.

In the matter of typhoid fever, Cape May, Middlesex and Sussex counties were the only ones from which no cases of typhoid fever were reported. Ocean and Salem were the only counties reporting no cases of diphtheria, and Salem the only county from which scarlet fever was not reported.

NEW PRESIDENT OF COLOMBIA.

Bogota, August 7.—Dr. Jose Vincente Concha, who was chosen president of Colombia in the election last February, was formally inducted into office today, succeeding Carlos E. Restrepo. The new president is a member of the conservative party and in the recent elections he was supported by a section of the liberals and clericals as well. He was minister of war in 1901 and a year later became minister to Washington. He disapproved of the proposed Panama treaty and retired from his post at Washington in 1903.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney troubles, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

DUTIES OF CLERK MAKING NEW CITIZENS

Mass of Information Required For Those Who Seek Naturalization.

County Clerk James C. Calvert and the clerks in his office are called upon many times in the course of discharging their duties to repeat over and over the instructions to people who have business with the office either in making application for citizenship papers, filing a contract, looking up a record or qualifying for some office to which they have been elected or appointed. Recently a check was put upon the statements made most frequently, as a matter of curiosity to see which one was repeated the greatest number of times.

The instructions to those who apply for application blanks for their first papers, or what is known as "Declaration of Intention" and the explanation as to why the blanks cannot be filled out in the office, was found to be the most used. In addition it takes the most time and requires the most patience, as those to whom the information is imparted are all foreigners. And more or less unfamiliar with the language and customs.

In not a few instances they seem to have the idea that the ruling preventing the blanks being filled out in the County Clerk's office is an arbitrary one on the part of Mr. Calvert. This is not so. The ruling is one of the Department of Labor, which controls the issuance of all orders as to naturalization and the reason is so clear after being explained that the men never go away unsatisfied or unconvinced.

It is purely for their protection and to guard against any mistake being made as to the dates they would put in the application. These are as to their birth, when they emigrated, when they landed and the correct names of the places. If the blanks were filled out in the office of the County Clerk, some of these dates or names would probably be wrong, thereby invalidating the application. Then too the fact that the applicant must make it out himself is a test as to his intelligence.

troops against the cream of the German army has aroused the admiration of all nations. The retreat, it is understood, was carried out in the wildest disorder.

Rome, Aug. 7 (Central News Cable).—A despatch from Ponteba, in Servia, states that an Austrian regiment, operating at the east of Belgrade, has been almost wholly destroyed by Servian forces. The colonel of the invading force fell heroically fighting. The despatch adds that the Austrians are in full retreat toward the Danube.

According to a despatch received here from Nish, which is now the seat of the Servian government, it is officially announced that the Servian troops at Belgrade are continuing their successful resistance of the Austrian advance. The despatch asserts that at Probojo two Austrian companies have been repulsed with severe loss.

Ottawa, Aug. 7.—Royal proclamation was published today prohibiting the export of munitions of war to all foreign ports in Europe and on the Mediterranean and Black Sea. The ports of France and Russia, except the Baltic ports, Spain and Portugal are not included in the prohibition.

New York, Aug. 7.—An evening paper published the following despatch this afternoon:

Paris, Aug. 7.—Official reports received here say the German troops have entered the Belgian city of Liege but have not been able to take the forts. Fighting of the most violent character took place in the streets. The Belgian troops have captured 27 German cannons.

Paris, Aug. 7.—(Central News Cable.)—General Joffre, the commander in chief of the French army today received a communication from Grand Duke Nicholas, commander of the Russian army, expressing complete confidence in their resistance of German aggression. "I am confident that it will not be long before I will have the pleasure of seeing the French Pennon borne beside by own," says the Grand Duke.

New York, Aug. 7.—The following statement was issued this morning, at the conclusion of a meeting of bankers held in this city: "An informal discussion of the present conditions took place, and the censensus of opinion was that until the supremacy of the seas had been established the question of an open foreign exchange market would have to remain in abeyance, but in the meantime it was recommended that shippers of grain and other commodities require of the purchasers that a satisfactory credit be opened, either in London or in New York. The responsibility for the document, bills of landing, insurance certificates including war risk, to be upon the shoulders of the bankers granting the credit. This is the only way that a solution can be found at the present moment for a partial relief of the congestion."

The executive committee of the Mayor's Relief Commission, in respect to New York citizens abroad held a meeting this morning and decided that an endeavor should be made to have personal representation of the commission at Washington, and also to try to arrange through international bankers to handle and transmit funds for individuals. It was also decided to find out whether on incoming steamers there are any American citizens who may be in need of money advances on their arrival in New York, to enable them to reach their homes.

Rio de Janeiro Aug. 7.—All the railways today stopped receiving coffee in the interior until further notice.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—A Kansas City despatch says that the railroads might put in an emergency rate in order to bring back wheat from the south to Kansas City.

New York, Aug. 7.—The American Liner St. Paul, which left her dock at 10 o'clock this morning, is lying off Bedloes Island waiting for the United States mail coming from the North German Lloyd steamer Kronprinzessin Cecilie, which arrived late this morning from Bar Harbor. As soon as the mail is transferred she will proceed on her way to England.

After successfully transferring the mails from the Cecilie, the St. Paul put to sea at 12:35 p. m.

The St. Paul took out 3,919 bags of mail. This was not as large as had been expected.

It was announced this morning that the passengers of the Cunard Steamship Mauretania which put into Halifax yesterday, would be sent by train from Halifax. A few of the passengers left last night but the Cunard line has completed arrangements for the first train to leave at noon today, traveling by way of the Canadian Pacific, Boston and Maine, and the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

New York, Aug. 7.—Of the $2,500,000 recently appropriated by Congress for the relief of stranded American tourists abroad, only $1,500,000 was shipped on the United States armored cruiser Tennessee, which sailed last night.

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 7.—The 210 first class passengers of the White Star steamship Cedric, which put in here yesterday, left at noon today over the Boston and Maine Railroad for New York. They will be due in Portland at 6 a. m. tomorrow and in New York at 4 p. m. Arrangements are being completed whereby the second and third class passengers will be brought back later on.

London, Aug. 7.—The Cunard Line steamer Carmania, which sailed from New York on July 29, arrived at Queenstown last evening. Her cargo of gold it is learned was a record one, amounting to $11,481,318.

Lizard Head, Eng., Aug. 7.—The White Star Liner Oceanic, which left New York for Liverpoor, Aug 1, signalled 560 miles west of the Lizard at midnight.

Quebec, Aug. 7.—The Allan Liner Sicilian, which sailed Sunday with passengers for Glasgow, came back to Quebec today.

WAR NEWS IN BRIEF.

England.

The British cruiser Amphion, which sank the German mine laying ship Koenigin Luise was sunk herself by the explosion of a mine. One hundred and thirty men were drowned.

London hears continued reports of a naval battle in the North sea. One report says that nineteen German warships have been sunk. These reports are without any confirmation.

The admiralty announced that British war vessels had captured seventy-five merchantmen to date. Premier Asquith asked parliament for an additional war credit of $500,000,000.

Belgium.

The Belgians again repulsed the German assaults upon Liege. Estimates of the German losses range between 5,000 and 8,000. A French army is on the way to Liege.

A squad of Uhlans entered Liege under cover of darkness in an attempt to kill the military governor and seize the citadel. The Uhlans were annihilated. Two of the older outlying forts at Liege became untenable when heavy artillery was brought up by the Germans and have been evacuated.

France.

Fighting continued among scouting parties on the frontier. There are many German troops within the six mile belt on the French side of the border, but the French authorities say that no German has yet passed the first line of outlying forts.

French cavalry surprised a body of German dragoons at Noroy-le-Bourg, near the fortress of Belfort, killing five, wounding two and capturing one. The report that French ships, co-operating with the British fleet, had captured the German battle cruiser Goeben and the cruiser Breslau off Algiers is denied in a dispatch from Rome, which says both cruisers have arrived near Messina, Sicily, after being chased by a British squadron.

Holland.

Paris heard that Holland has declared war off Germany.

Washington, Aug. 7.—"There isn't the slightest excuse for fearing that there will not be ships enough to take our commerce to Europe. Let Europe do the worrying."

This was Secretary of Commerce Redfield's statement after a long conference with Secretary of State Bryan. "We have the food to sell," said Mr. Garrison. "Europe needs it. They are going to furnish the ships and buy our food."

Secretary Redfield said the first big naval engagement will largely determine whether Germany and Austria or England, France and Russia are going to get our food exports, settling the control of the high seas.

FOR SPORTS WEAR

Tub Frocks Are Liked by the Outdoor Girl This Season.

SEPARATE SKIRTS POPULAR.

Cotton Corduroy and Pique Are Favored Fabrics—Linens and Duvetyn Exploited—Patch Pockets Are Seen on All Up to Date Models.

The beauty of the tub frocks this season is undeniable. Seldom has such a wide range of materials been available for the simpler and more useful outdoor costumes.

Skirts this season need not be slashed in order to provide a suitable width for an easy stride, nor need they be of the awkward divided skirt variety. They may be plaited from the belt line, shaped in a bit toward the knee by the proper stitching in of the seam and flare from there on toward the hem in graceful fashion.

In order to be comfortable the skirt should not reach below the tops of the boots, and these boots, by the way, should not be heelless, but have low, broad, flat heels attached in order that the feet may not become tired.

Materials which are favored this year for the making of outdoor costumes tend toward a rather broad adoption of the cotton corduroys. These last are considered especially desirable, as they launder easily, are cooler to look at and, if the advocates may be believed, are cool to wear.

Smart women have adopted the separate wash skirt for morning and outing wear. Perhaps the popularity of the silk and soft wool sweaters, never more worn, has something to do with the demand for the trig white wash skirts.

The collarless blouse is so easy to don, and with a well made skirt constitutes a costume almost as easy to get into as a one piece dress.

Of fabrics for the separate skirts there is a varied lot, all smart and practical. All of the new weaves are displayed in white fabrics and many in ecru and tan. A washable honeycomb cloth comes in several weights and bids fair to be used by those who are "ultra."

Piques are always good, and this season we have them in very wide stripes and plaids, these being particularly in vogue for tennis and golf skirts. A good looking heavy pique has the cords about half an inch apart. The white cotton duvetyn and the ratine are worth while materials for outing coats.

Nothing is much prettier and more becoming to the slender figure than the tunic model. A well made skirt would naturally have the tunic sloping slightly to the back, while several rows of stitching about the bottom and around the belt make a trim finish. Buttons are a sensible trimming.

The girl or woman with a tendency to stoutness could do no better than to choose for her summer skirts a perfectly plain style tapering decidedly at the feet, yet fastened from top to bottom with good sized buttons, making it possible to leave several inches slit at the angle while participating in any sport that needs freedom.

The pocket now appears some place on the outing skirt. Its place may be near the back on the hip, provided the wearer has no hips, or up near the waist line in front.

For tennis a garment that gives comparative freedom of movement is necessary. The ordinary belted shirt waist is not convenient for this sport. The middy blouse that is so comfortable is not always in good taste, and for occasions that call for something dressier the costume illustrated here may be worn. It is really a modified middy or a blouse with a peplum that is worn with a slashed skirt of linen. Linen is also used for the blouse. Crapes and agarics are equally suitable fabrics.

Cookery Points

Independence Day Dainties.

For the creamed entree for the Fourth of July dinner or any other bonne bouche appropriate for serving in a paper case, cover the ordinary paper case or even small pasteboard boxes with crape paper napkins in flag or firecracker design.

An attractive dessert is ice cream forts, made by pressing white cream of any flavor into small cone shapes (or small individual bricks), using candied cherries to represent the gun sights and inserting a tiny flag in the top of each.

Flag cakes can be purchased in most places at this time of year, and where they are not obtainable through the baker they can be made. Bake a plain cake batter in a large square pan and when cold cut it in squares. Each square is iced with white, and a flag is added in pink icing, with tiny blue candies forming the starry field.

American punch, a temperance drink, is delicious if served very cold. It is nothing more or less than strong lemonade with a little pineapple juice added and enough strawberry juice to give it a pink tinge. Small stars, cut from preserved cherries, float in the punch, which is served in tall glasses, the stems of which are decorated with tiny flags tied on with ribbon.

Salads For Summer.

Salads should be an important feature of the summer menu. They tempt the appetite and if they are carefully made, are easily digested. They may be nourishing and dainty. They need not be heavy and rich. They can be made to utilize in a palatable way various leftovers. And, most important of all, they suggest a way to utilize almost every one of the wholesome fruits and vegetables of the summer.

A combination salad is a good sort to serve when there are odds and ends of vegetables in the refrigerator. A macedoine of vegetables—cold boiled peas, string beans, diced beets, diced tomatoes and other leftover vegetables mixed with French dressing and served on lettuce—is an economical salad, for it can be made of whatever vegetables the refrigerator holds.

Strawberry Mousse.

Take for one quart of rich cream one pound of fresh fruit mashed through a fine strainer. Mix with four tablespoonfuls of sugar, set the pan over the fire and stir until the sugar is dissolved thoroughly. Remove from the fire and add one tablespoonful of gelatin which has been dissolved in a little cold water. Stand on ice until thoroughly chilled. Mix two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and one teaspoonful of vanilla extract with the cream and whip thoroughly, adding little by little the chilled strawberry juice sweetened to taste. Pour into a mold, cover very tightly and pack in ice and salt for three hours.

Cherry Salads.

Cherries add a delicious flavor to salads and combine with almost any fruit. To use both red and white cherries adds to the appearance. A delicious salad to be eaten with either French dressing or one made of sugar and fruit juices flavored with either sherry or maraschino is made by combining shredded pineapple, either fresh or canned cherries and sections of oranges. Serve on white lettuce hearts with cheese balls. If the sweet dressing is used no dessert will be needed, especially if chopped or ground nuts are added to the cream cheese of which the balls are made.

Fruit Butter.

The easiest way to make fruit butter is to cook fruit, press through colander, add sugar, pour in a large crock or jar and place in a hot oven. At first put on bottom of oven and when it commences to boil place a slide under. It requires no stirring and does not splatter stove or burn the hands and makes richer, better butter. When canning peaches use peelings for butter. Peelings from one bushel will make four quarts of butter.

Cantaloupe Split.

Chill cantaloupes, cut in halves, lengthwise, scrape seeds away, fill hollow with vanilla ice cream. Place halves firmly together and lay on ice to freeze. When ready to serve run silver knife between the halves, which separates the fruit, also slicing the cream evenly over each half. Sprinkle with chopped nuts, preserved berries, minced pineapple or any fruit or tutti-frutti preserves.

Sauted Cucumbers.

Any one who is fond of fried oysters will like these. The largest green cucumbers must be used. As soon as they turn the least bit yellow they become tough and will not do. Pare and slice lengthwise, having the slices an eighth of an inch thick. Dust with pepper and salt, then dip in beaten egg yolk diluted with a tablespoon of milk; cover with flour and fry until tender and brown.

Pineapple Dainty.

Peel and cut a medium sized pineapple into cubes, add the juice of one-half a lemon, sweeten to taste; then add one-half pound of marshmallows cut into quarters. Chill thoroughly, fill sherbet cups with the mixture and garnish with a large spoon of whipped and sweetened cream.

How to Have the House Beautiful for Your Own

Is there any question in your mind as to how you would furnish your house if you could have it just to your liking?

Is there perhaps a still more puzzling question as to whether you can afford to buy just what you would like or not?

Then let me tell you a secret—"Go to the Wanamaker Furniture Sale and find all your doubts set at rest."

In the first place, everything you have ever thought you would like to have, in the way of furniture for any room in the house, or to serve any purpose under the sun, you will find waiting for you on one of those three—fifth, sixth or seventh—galleries, where this Wanamaker Furniture Sale is going on.

Any vague dream you may have had as to just how luxurious you would like your drawing room to look, just the snug nooks of inviting aspect you would tuck into your library, just the atmosphere of tempting daintiness you would impart to your dining room, and so on through your entire house beautiful—all these you will find in these Sale displays materialized in substantial wood, rich brocades and tapestries and sturdy leather.

For this occasion the "House Palatial," which for years has formed an effective part of the Wanamaker show rooms, is refurnished in exquisite taste.

Entering the broad hall, strewn with mellow-toned Oriental rugs, you will find a curtained doorway to your left, opening into the French salon, beautifully fitted out with Louis XV and Louis XVI furniture, with its soft-gleaming gilt and pastel tints. Beyond is the Elizabethan library with shaded lights, big library tables with their loads of books and great high-backed chairs, whose luxurious depths form a fortress for the book worm against all intruders. The Old English fireplace, piled with logs, seems just waiting the touch of a match, and the windows, with deep cushioned window seats, open upon a charming sun-filled loggia.

The Japanese room, across the hall from the French salon, is a perfect little gem of the Orient, with its quaint vases and ornaments, shining black lacquer and tempting tea things.

The study is filled with deep leather couches and chairs with wide-extended arms, and a delightful mannish atmosphere prevails.

The dining room, in marked contrast, is fitted out with the daintiest of white enamel furniture and lovely English chintz, with spotless linen, fine china and gleaming silver to complete the picture.

The luxurious drawing room at the far end of the hall is furnished with soft toned tapestry pieces, and also opens upon the loggia, with long French windows in the rear, giving quite obviously a view upon a stretch of green lawn. (The lawn being the only thing the Wanamaker store apparently does not supply ready-to use.)

The kitchen is even more of a joy than the rest of the house, showing shining rows of copper and aluminum, a speckless tiled floor, porcelain sinks and every modern appliance for the lucky housekeeper who may own such a kitchen.

Up the broad, curving stairs to the second floor—and through every open doorway comes an invitation to rest and enjoy the hospitality of this delightful home. The Marie Antoinette room and the William and Mary bed chamber are notable for their handsome furnishing.

The boys' room is sensibly furnished in Mission and filled with all the "traps" dear to the boyish heart.

The girls' room is the daintiest of nests for a dainty maid with a tennis racquet, a riding crop, a violin, just where she left them, when last she used them.

The day nursery is the most adorable play-room possible, and the cozy night nursery with its little white beds, brings visions of touseled heads and the pattering of baby feet.

From end to end, in the House Palatial, you find such a home as you yourself would love to own, solving many of your problems of decoration, of color schemes and of arrangement.

The pieces of furniture used in the House Palatial are a part of the great Furniture Sale, so the cost of furnishing your rooms would be an easy matter to estimate.

Back upon the display floors you find similar pieces for your closer examination—as well as others both higher and lower priced. You find big convenient tags with "former prices" and "sale prices" on them in plain figures. You find interested sales people of whom you may ask questions without number. Their courtesy I found unvarying.

One of the most fascinating corners of the whole display is the suite of handsome offices completely furnished as show rooms in the office furniture section. It makes even a womanish woman want to get into the man's world for the sake of occupying such a place.

Several attractive dining rooms are shown also furnished after the various periods—Early English, Queen Anne, Sheraton and others.

To thoroughly enjoy the Wanamaker Furniture Sale let me give you two words of advice: "Don't hurry." There is so much to be seen, there are so many bargains you ought not to miss, that you must go with time enough and to spare.

When you think that you have a million dollar stock to choose from and that you will pay only three-quarters of the usual price—or less—for what you buy, the matter is worth time, don't you think?

It is a wonder, even for a Wanamaker Sale—and that is saying much. If you get a bit tired while you're making your rounds of the furniture galleries, do what I did—get in the elevator and go down to the auditorium. A half hour there under the spell of that marvelous organ will rest you completely and you can go back and finish your tour of shopping with keen enjoyment.

ICES WITH FRUITS.

ICES may be flavored with the fruits and served with fruit decorations at this season. This is a convenient and acceptable way of presenting them in summer.

Plain vanilla ice cream served with fresh fruits is nice.

Peaches Always Popular.

Peach Ice Cream.—Scald one pint of milk and one cupful of heavy cream, add one and one-half cupfuls of sugar and allow the mixture to cool. Put in one-third teaspoonful of almond extract and half freeze; then add two cupfuls of peach pulp and finish freezing. Remove the dasher, pack the cream down and cover closely. Set aside until time for serving.

Mint Sherbet.—Pour two cupfuls of boiling water over a bunch of bruised fresh mint leaves. Cover and let stand fifteen minutes on the back of the stove to infuse; then add one cupful of sugar. When the sugar is dissolved, strain, cool and add two-thirds of a cupful of grape juice and a quarter of a cupful of lemon juice. Freeze to a mush-like consistency. Serve in glasses, ornamenting the top of each glass with a crystallized cherry and a sprig of mint.

When Berries Are Available.

Raspberry Mousse.—To one and one-half cupfuls of crushed raspberries add one-half cupful of sugar. Carefully mix berries and sugar into three cupfuls of whipped cream. Pour into mold. Cover and bind the seam with a strip of cheesecloth which has been dipped into melted fat or paraffin. Pack in a pail of crushed ice and salt: allow one cupful of salt to three of crushed ice. Let stand for three hours. When properly frozen this should be solid on the outside, but creamy in the center.

Pear Sherbet.—Peel and slice juicy pears and cook in sufficient water to cover until the fruit is very tender. While cooking add sugar to taste and three or four whole cloves. Press through a sieve, and to each pint of fruit puree add the juice of half a lemon and a small cupful of unfermented grape juice; then turn into the freezer and when partly frozen stir in the stiffly whipped whites of two eggs. Serve in half of chilled cantaloupe.

Grew Up Together Like Brothers.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—The Dog and Cat That Saved Each Other.

"YOU have often heard the saying, 'Fighting like cats and dogs,' children," said daddy to Jack and Evelyn, "but I will tell you a true story of a cat and dog that really loved each other, and I know they did, for I have often seen them play together, and they would stand by one another against all their enemies."

"That is so curious that it sounds almost like a fairy story, daddy," said Evelyn, who had that very afternoon seen a very ill natured spat between her own pussy and a dog named Bounce that belonged to the neighbors next door.

"Well," said daddy, with a smile, "you must ask your mother, for both those animals belonged to her when she was a little girl and lived in a little white house near the end of the village and not far from me. Really, she ought to tell you the story."

"No; you tell it," said mamma. "You know it as well as I do, and I had rather listen with the children."

"Well," said daddy, "this curious friendship came about in a strange way. Your grandpa had an awfully good natured dog named Clarice, and she had two little puppies. One of them was weakly and died in a day or two, and Clarice seemed to miss him very much, but the other was lusty and strong, and your grandpa also had a cat named Matilda, who was given two little kittens at the same time Clarice received her puppies, and one of those kittens died, too, and in another day or two Matilda was missing and was never heard of again. We never knew what became of her.

"This left the wee little kitten, whose eyes were not yet open, without any mamma, when suddenly grandpa had an idea. He remembered how good and kind Clarice was, and he made the experiment of putting the kitten with the puppy. Then he and your grandma and your mamma stood about to see what Clarice would do. I think I forgot to tell you that Clarice was a little black and tan doggie.

"Well, she seemed so surprised at first at that little ball of fur and sniffed at it and nosed it, and then her motherly heart went out to it, and she treated it just as nicely as if it had been a puppy and gave it some dinner and was very good to it always.

"So Buster—he was the puppy—and Snooky—he was the kitten—grew up together, just like two brothers, and they quarreled and loved each other and scolded and made up, just as brothers do, and when they were older they were together all the time. And as Snooky grew to be an extra big cat and Buster was an uncommonly small dog they were about the same size, and so unheard of was their friendship that all the folks around used to watch them at their play."

BORO INVITED TO ENTER EXHIBITION

Building Trades Council Represented at Meeting Held By Council, Last Night.

ACTION IS DEFERRED

Charles E. Faber Appointed a Member of Borough Shade Tree Commission—Report Made On West End Avenue Grading.

Representatives of the Building Trades Council, of this city, appeared before the North Plainfield Council at its monthly meeting, last night, in the interests of the street pageant to be conducted here on Labor Day under the auspices of that organization. The borough fathers were requested to lend their aid toward making the affair the success anticipated and were urged to place one of their fire apparatus and a delegation of policemen in the parade. After listening to the remarks of the building trades' speaker, the Council delayed action until the special meeting to be held August 13, and urged the presence of the representatives at this session on a like mission. The members of the public affairs committee were absent from last night's meeting and for this reason no definite action could be taken in the matter.

The request of Overseer of the Poor Becker for an advance of $150 on the poor account was granted. The borough body authorized the payment of $250.97, North Plainfield's share in the expenses incurred by the Sewerage Commission during the month. Plainfield will pay $682.65 and Dunellen will pay its share, which amounts to $70.27. The total amount is $1,003.89. Councilman Milne, of the street committee, reported that $746.42 had been expended by the borough in this work during the month and introduced a resolution providing for the payment of $900 to the contractor in charge of the work being done on West End avenue. Mr. Milne reported that this improvement was nearing completion and the work was very satisfactory. The matter of the extension of the storm sewer on Greenbrook road was introduced at the meeting and Mr. Milne urged the necessity of taking immediate action. The street committee was given authority to go ahead with the work providing that the total cost did not exceed the balance left on the street account for the year.

Mayor Clark last night ratified the appointment of Charles E. Faber as a member of the North Plainfield Shade Tree Commission for a term of five years. Reports show that $512.16 has been expended for the police department during the month.

George W. Fuller's appointment as engineer of the trunk line to be constructed in connection with the joint sewerage disposal system was confirmed by the Council and he was given authority to prepare the contract for the work, which will be turned over to the Council for endorsement before being given out. Councilman Stahl, of the fire and water committee, reported that $247.51 had been expended in this work during the month. He also introduced a resolution giving the telephone company power to re-string telephone wire nearly a mile in length, at the expense of the borough. This cost will not exceed $164.40. The wire in question was pulled from its moorings during the heavy storm of March 1 and has been replaced only in a temporary manner. Bills aggregating a sum of $1,975.89 were ordered paid.

J. F. PARKER TO SPEAK AT NETHERWOOD HOME

The meeting at the Netherwood Fresh Air Home tomorrow afternoon will be in charge of J. D. Loizeaux, and the speaker will be James F. Parker, a great favorite with the mothers and children at the Home. The singing of the children's choir under the direction of Mrs. William Hadley will be another feature. The services during the week on Tuesday and Friday evenings will be of interest.

On Tuesday, G. E. Hall, superintendent of Methods of the Temple Baptist church Sunday-school, will be in charge, and on Friday evening the service will be under the direction of the C. E. Society of Hope chapel. These services are largely attended and have been not only interesting but very helpful to not only the mothers and children of the Home, but to all who have had the opportunity of attending. The public is always welcome to all the services and to the Home at all times.

CITIZENS EXPRESS THEIR SYMPATHY

Resolutions Adopted On the Death of the President's Wife.

In response to an appeal by Mayor Percy H. Stewart, a number of citizens, including members of the Common Council, met in the Council Chamber, last night, and adopted resolutions of sympathy on the death of Mrs. Wilson, a copy of which was forwarded by night letter to the President, through his secretary, Joseph Tumutly. The resolutions express the sympathy which all Plainfielders feel at this time for the President in his great bereavement. The following is a copy of the message sent to Secretary Tumulty:

Plainfield, N. J., August 7, 1914.

Joseph Tumulty,

Secretary to the President,

White House, Washington, D. C.

The citizens of Plainfield wish to express the sincere sympathy they feel for President Wilson in the great sorrow that has come into his life, and pursuant to resolutions passed to that effect in behalf of the city I offer out heartfelt condolence and sympathy.

PERCY H. STEWART,
Mayor.

WILL ISSUE BONDS FOR BOROUGH DEBT

No Provision Made For Payment of $10,000 Incurred When Fire House Was Built.

Meeting in its August session, last night, the North Plainfield Common Council authorized the issue of $10,000 worth of bonds to make provision for the payment of the debt incurred when the borough fire house was erected on Somerset street, including the land acquired for that purpose. When the house was built ten years ago the Council failed to make provision for the payment of $10,000 worth of bonds which fall due January 1, 1915. The bonds will be interest bearing at the rate of 5 per cent. One bond will fall due each year, the first being paid January 1, 1916. A question was brought before the meeting by Councilman Milne concerning the probability of selling bonds at this particular time at the 5 per cent. rate. Mr. Milne cited the financial crisis that has been brought upon the country by the internal troubles on the European continent and made a recommendation that the resolution read "not to exceed 6 per cent."

This proposal met with opposition, however, on the part of Borough Counsel Isaac P. Runyon, who drafted the resolution. Inasmuch as the proposition was drawn up in accordance with a State statute, Mr. Runyon opposed the change. Mr. Milne's suggestion, however, met with popular approval and after considerable discussion it was decided to leave the resolution as it had been drafted by Mr. Runyon, but not to advertise the bonds for sale until after the financial conditions had resumed their normal appearance. The finance committee was instructed to keep tabs on the money market and to bring the matter to the attention of the Council at its next meeting.

PETITION THE P. U. COMMISSION

Building Trades Council Wants Extension of Trolley to South Plainfield.

400 MEN AFFECTED

Inefficiency of Present Transportation Facilities Are Set Forth—Resolutions Adopted On Death of President Wilson's Wife.

Resolutions of condolence on the death of Mrs. Wilson, wife of the President, were adopted at the meeting of the Building Trades Council, last night, and a copy of the same was directed to be sent to Washington expressing the sentiment of the working men of Plainfield.

The principal business discussed at the meeting was the movement started for the purpose of securing an extension of the trolley line from this city to South Plainfield. At a previous meeting a committee was appointed to draft a communication to be sent to the Public Utilities Commission, and to co-operate with other civic bodies which are already working for this improvement to better traffic conditions. The letter which was drafted to be sent to the Public Utilities Commission is as follows:

To the Public Utility Commission,

Gentlemen: At a meeting of the Building Trades Council, at which delegates from practically every labor organization of this city were present, held especially for the purpose of arriving at some means whereby those of our people now employed at South Plainfield and residing in this city, some 400 or more, would be relieved of the hardship they now have to undergo, particularly in severe weather, in getting to and from their work there, it was unanimously resolved that we petition your honorable body to compel the Public Service Corporation to extend its trolley line from this city to South Plainfield, a distance of almost three miles.

We understand that other civic associations of this city have furnished you considerable data as to cost of construction, equipment and the estimated earning power of such an extension, which, we are quite sure, will be such as to justify the immediate construction of the line.

No one at all familiar with the real conditions as they now exist, will either question the necessity of said extension, or its ability to become self-sustaining from the start, and in view of these facts, and the great hardships sustained by those who are compelled to seek their livelihood in South Plainfield and on account of an insufficient supply of dwelling houses there, and further because a great number of our members owning their houses here, are forced to live here, we feel sure you will promptly take the necessary steps to bring about the desired and much needed relief, and in doing so, not only benefit those seeking the extension, but the Public Service Corporation as well.

While awaiting your early pleasures in the matter, permit us to assure you that we shall, at all times, be glad to aid you in any way we can to bring this about.

FOUR BOYS HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Quartet Mixed Up With Assault and Battery Case in the East End.

ONE GETS SIXTY DAYS

Another Complaint Dismissed—Van Thrope, Who Was Attacked By Youthful Desperadoes, In Court to Press Charges.

Strenuous steps were taken by Judge DeMeza in the city court this morning to rid the city of the rowdyism caused by youths in the Netherwood section who are making a practise of fruit stealing and trespassing on property. Arraigned on the complaint of Rudolph Van Thrope, who was assaulted by them on the property of L. V. F. Randoph, Wednesday night four youngsters were held for the grand jury on a charge of assault and battery, one was fined $20 with the option of spending sixty days in the county jail for disorderly conduct, and the complaint against a sixth was dismissed.

The defendants Patsy Long, John Long, Joseph Wood, Charles Curtis, Anthony Stebor, Frank Diano and Andrew Benizino visited the place on East Second street for the purpose of stealing plums and when one of their number, Patsy Long, fell into the clutches of Van Thrope, who was watching for fruit stealers, the remaining quintet pounced upon him. One of the boys stepped in his left eye and he suffered so severely from shock that he had to be removed to Muhlenberg Hospital for treatment. Van Thrope appeared in the city court this morning to press the charges against his assaulters and was apparently none the worse for the encounter, although his condition yesterday was reported as serious.

He displayed a slight discoloration of the eye but bore no other effects. The Long Brothers, Benizio and Wood were held for the Grand Jury and the charge against Stebor was dismissed. Curtis will have to pay a fine of $20 or go to jail. All of the defendants have police records and Patsy Long is one of the most troublesome boys the police have on their list. He has been apprehended on a number of different occasions on serious charges and has once before been sent to Elizabeth.

The offenders were arrested by Sergeant Higgins and Patrolman Martin Flatley Thursday afternoon and were arraigned yesterday morning. All were remanded for hearing today and with the exception of Diano all have been in jail since that time. Robert Newton Crane represented the latter and secured his release from custody last night and his release on $300 bail to appear before the Grand Jury this morning. John P. Owens represented Stebor and secured a dismissal of the complaint. The latter bears a good reputation and was exonerated from all parts in the affair.

Five of the boys yesterday made signed statements to Chief Kiely in which they admitted their culpability and these were used in convicting them this morning. The complainant had only a hazy idea of the affair and his evidence was taken as a minor consideration inasmuch as the boys' confessions were available.

ORGANIZE FOURTH WARD G. O. P. CLUB

Former Councilman Herbert Buxton Is Chosen President of Organization.

Republicans of the Fourth ward to the number of about thirty, met in the offices of Councilman Francis J. Blatz, last night, and formally organized for the approaching campaign by electing former Councilman Herbert Buxton president and Charles Kling as secretary-treasurer. After the organization was completed the evening was spent in discussing the local situation, especially in the Fourth ward.

It was understood that Councilman Francis J. Blatz would seek a renomination and while the club cannot endorse his candidacy, it is expected that the members will approve of it, unless Mr. Blatz should have a Republican opponent in his ward.

Frank H. Smith, chairman of the Union County Republican Committee, and John J. Carroll, chairman of the City Republican Committee, both attended the meeting and made short informal addresses in which they spoke of the promising outlook for Republican victory this year ,not only locally, but in the county and State.

It was decided to have blanks printed as a means of increasing the membership in the ward, and frequent meetings will be held to stir up interest not only in the primaries, but election as well. After similar clubs are organized in all four wards, it is proposed to hold a big mass meeting at which there will be good speaking.

BUILDING PERMITS NOT RATIFIED BY COUNCIL

The following building permits were offered to the North Plainfield Common Council for consideration at the meeting held last night: Allen Coddington, for a frame dwelling two and one-half stories high at Chatham place and Manning avenue; John Jenose, for a two and one-half story frame dwelling at 36 Codington avenue; Frank Caruso, for an addition to his present dwelling on Warren street.

There being a number of absentees in the Council, last night, there were not enough present to ratify the permits and nothing was done on the applications. The applicants, however, will be allowed to proceed with the buildings and some disposition will be made in the matter at the next meeting.

WILSON HAGGARD, BUT GENERAL CONDITION GOOD

Washington, Aug. 8.—President Wilson slept the sleep of exhaustion, last night, according to his physician and today spent a brief time in the executive office, returning to the White House and his dead immediately after he had attended to some matters of such pressure that they could no longer wait. The President, those who saw him say, looked haggard and wan, but his eyes were bright and his general condition appeared good.

TWENTY-FOUR HOURS' WAR NEWS IN TABLOID FORM

Belgium.

Liege continues to hold out against the German invaders after a three days' attack. The Germans admit having lost 25,000 men killed, wounded and prisoners, at Liege in the three days of fighting and asked for an armistice of twenty-four hours in which to bury their dead and attend their wounded. The Tenth German army corps advanced to attack Liege over mined ground. The Belgians exploded the mines, and, according to reports, a whole battalion of the invaders was killed and 1,200 wounded were picked up. Twenty-seven German field pieces have been taken by the Belgians. A German aviator dropped three bombs in the city of Liege, killing seventeen citizens in a public park and wounding an equal number. The Cathedral of St. Paul and the palais de justice have been damaged by the cannonading. Belgian and French reenforcements are hastening to the assistance of the beleaguered city. Preparations are being made for desperate defense at Huy and Namur if Liege falls. The Belgians repulsed the Germans in three night attacks and again in a furious assault.

England.

British preliminary preparations are completed and volunteers are enlisting in large numbers in the British army. Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, announced in the house of commons that there had been no other naval fighting except the sinking of the British cruiser Amphion and he German mine layer Koenigin Luise, both already reported. No official information is made public of the whereabouts of the British fleet, but the British admiralty yesterday announced that the east coast of England was safe for shipping, and this was taken to mean that the British fleet has bottled up the German ships in the eastern end of the North sea. The first lord of the admiralty told the house of commons that "the indiscriminate use of mines is new in warfare and deserves the consideration of the nations of the civilized world." British men of war continued to add German merchant ships to their already long list of prizes of war. Reports from the far east say that the British fleet there has hemmed in the Germans at Teingtau.

France.

The French army has begun its invasion of Germany, crossing to a point five miles the other side of the border and taking the towns of Vic and Moyen Vic on the way to Strassburg. Another French army is marching to the relief of the Belgians at Liege and is reported almost to have reached the city. Other French troops are holding the invaders in check on the Franco-German border.

Germany.

Re-enforcements are being rushed to the forces attacking Liege, where the Germans admit that 25,000 of their men have been killed, wounded or taken prisoners. A German officer is quoted as saying that the Germans intend to take Liege at any cost. Meanwhile the other German armies engaged in the plan for the invasion of France apparently are waiting until the operations in Belgium shall have progressed to a more successful stage. German ships are reported to have bottled up the Russian fleet at Helsingfors and to have bombarded Reval and Libau in Russia. Both cities are reported to be in flames. The German emperor addressed his troops through a proclamation yesterday, in which he said, "To be or not to be is the question for German power and German existence."

Russia.

It is announced that the mobilization of the Russian army has been completed and that the empire has 6,000,000 men in the field. Large Russian armies are reported to be approaching the German frontier.

Brussels, Aug. 8 (Central News Cable)—The German request for an armistic of twenty-four hours to enable the Germans to bury their dead after three days' fighting before Liege has been refused by Belgium. In consequence of the refusal seven German regiments have surrendered to the Belgium commander north of Liege.

The train that conveyed the German ambassador from Paris and which was placed at the disposal of the diplomat as an act of courtesy by the French Government, has been confiscated by the Germans.

Rome, Aug. 8 (Central News Cable)—Official reports from Nish say that the Austrians have been repulsed after having made seven attempts to cross the Danube. The mobilization of the Servian army is now complete. The Prince Regent has appealed to the nation and this is taken as an indication that the army will take the offensive.

Further particulars of the progress of the struggle between Austria and Servia reached here today, in what were stated to be official despatches from Austrian and Servian sources. According to a despatch from Vienna, Austria is providing two army corps to go to the assistance of the German forces on the French frontier. These corps are being drawn from the central provinces of Austria-Hungary, the Austro-Hungarian forces operating against Servia remaining intact.

From Nish, the temporary capitol of Servia, comes the report that not only is the country now clear of Austrian invaders, but that a strong Servian force has crossed the frontier into Bosnia. The same despatch states that the Austrian troops have evacuated Visegrad on the frontier of the Sanjak of Novibazar, and that the town is now in the occupation of Servian forces.

The Italian government strongly indorses President Wilson's proposal of mediation in the European war and will give it support should the opportunity present itself.

Washington, Aug. 8.—The governments of France, Russia and Italy have assured the State Department that the departure of Americans from their countries will be facilitated in every way. The ports from which they may leave have been designated.

Secretary McAdoo's call for a conference of shipping representatives and international bankers next Friday, to consider the question of financing and marketing the grain crop is expected to result in the adoption of some advanced plan. The Secretary said today that he would call a similar conference to deal with cotton later.

It is practically assured that the United States cannot interfere except diplomatically to prevent the spread of the German-British conflict in the Far East. While no actual appeal has been made to this country for such interference, representatives of the Chinese Government have been feeling out the sentiment of the State Department with the result that Japan will be the sole aid to which they can look to keep far eastern waters neutral.

The Chinese government has verbally commended the efforts of the President to bring about mediation of the questions involved in the European war, Secretary Bryan stated today.

The Charge d' Affairs of the German Embassy here today called upon the Secretary of State to explain to him the conditions there in regard to marooned Americans following the conference. Secretary Bryan issued the following statement:

"The German charge has informed me that he feels sure that the detention of foreigners in Germany is not due to any order issued forbidding them to leave, but is due to the

It is believed that the decision of the Levgar officials will mean the army of unemployed in this vicinity will be reduced by a hundred.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

William Dennick, of Plainfield, had a narrow escape from serious injury last evening, when the steering gear of his Studebaker touring car broke as he was endeavoring to turn his car around Conover's corner into Bound Brook road, while enroute from Bound Brook to his home. He had no more than started to turn the wheel when the gear gave way, his car continuing dead ahead on its course and crashing into a telegraph pole. Fortunate was it for Dennick that he had presence of mind enough to apply the brakes and lessen the speed of the car or otherwise he must surely have at least sustained serious injury instead of escaping. The radiator of the car was quite badly smashed and it is now in the Stryker garage at Dunellen for repairs.

THE WEST END AND ITS GUARDIANS.

To the average person the term "Civic Association" conveys the idea of a group of idealists whose sole bent is to reform, reclaim and preach to all about them. As a rule this idea is more or less correct. But when a body of property owners and the better class of residents of a given section form themselves into an association, choosing for their officers calm and level headed business men devoid of sentiment or bias, chances are the interests these men seek to conserve receive due and mature consideration and achievement becomes their watchword.

Most certainly such is the slogan of the West End Civic Association, a comparatively young organization which, in its two years of existence, has not only made its presence felt, but already wields an influence far greater than the average person might suppose. In fact, it has become a powerful factor in the city's affairs, especially those that pertain to the West End. After all that is all it could hope to do, for it does not pretend to extend its activities beyond the prescribed limits of the West End. It was organized for that purpose and so far it has performed its functions ably and intelligently. What it hopes to accomplish is a matter that will be dealt with after a brief resume of its past.

In October, 1912, the West End Civic Association was organized. Its membership consisted of, perhaps, a dozen men. For a time it drifted along in a haphazard way towards a goal which none, seemingly, had a concrete idea of attaining. Its principles, however, were sound, and when residents of the West End were approached and asked to join the fledgling body they saw an opportunity to render real service to those about them. No section of the city stood in greater need of just such an organization. Up to this time its interests had been left in the hands of those who, in seeking office, made many promises, few of which were fulfilled. What it got in improvements and appropriations came in the regular order of things, but always after the more favored sections had been cared for. If there was anything left over the West End got it. If not it went without. More often the latter. But this order of things changed once the association got down to work. Now our city fathers will tell you that when the West End requests, or demands what it considers its due, it is speedily forthcoming. Its members are not in the least backward in appearing in councilmanic chambers, or before committees to set forth the claims of the section of the city they represent. As a result of this spirit of progression the West End today is better lighted, has better streets and crossings, and more fire hydrants than it ever had before. Its streets and abutting premises are cleaner and better cared for. There are a hundred and one other instances to prove its presence. Politicians are not slow in recognizing this influence and while at first they were prone to look upon it as "a good thing to tie to," they now realize that unless they themselves, are "on the level" and intend to "deliver the goods" it is far better to give it a wide berth and seek their votes elsewhere.

The Association is non-sectarian and is composed of men from every walk of life and of every political creed. Its members care not whether an office seeker be Democrat, Republican or Progressive so long as he is honest, conscientious and able. The paramount issue with them is, "what do you intend to do for the West End?" That promises, especially pre-election pledges, are frequently empty they well know and before they stamp any candidate with their approval he must be tried and true and emerge unsullied from the acid test.

There are many subjects of vast importance before the Association today. That of the commission form of government already has been freely discussed and the association intends to have before it experts on the subject before it places itself on record as for or against it. Already it has succeeded in having the school-houses of the city thrown open to the public for civic meetings, or gathering of a social nature. Further, it has outlined a plan for the utilization of the school plants in such a way that the heavy burden of taxation which our State laws have imposed can be materially lightened and lessened. The fire and police departments are to be looked over and ere long questions will be propounded to those having these organizations in charge which, it is hoped, will bring about much needed improvements in the conduct and efficiency of each. The association stands ready and willing to discuss the question of taxation and this meeting could be made mutually beneficial, for Plainfield taxpayers are in an ugly mood and can see no reason for the forecasted increased tax rate that is promised, and this on a higher valuation, at a time when Plainfield realty is at low ebb.

The open air band concerts that are being given each Friday evening in Monroe avenue, under the association's auspices, is another example of the hustling spirit of this body. Not only do these concerts provide an evening of entertainment for those living near-by, but they make it possible for those residing in other sections to come and mingle with those of the West End, thereby affording an opportunity to accord a cordial welcome to those who, heretofore, were not alive to the unparalleled advantages the West End possesses as a residential section.

The West End Civic Association is looking forward to a busy and interesting winter. Already plans have been formulated whereby many notable speakers are to attend and address the meetings. A wide variety of subjects are to be discussed and men well versed in these subjects, who have qualified as experts, will be among the speakers sought.

The association has sub-divided its work among the following committees: Law and legislation; tax and assessments; water, gas and electricity; streets and sewers; schools and libraries; railroads and parks; membership and entertainment; police and fire, and health. Each of these committees is headed by an able, active member who makes it a point to study carefully the work entrusted to him. These committeemen report at each of the regular meetings and these reports are often both illuminating and voluminous. They have the interest of the West End at heart and it matters not to them whose toes they tread on.

Headed by Thomas C. Vail, its president, who is ably assisted by William J. Boyd, secretary and treasurer, the association is a live wire body that seeks only to do good. So far it has succeeded. Today it is a youngster, but a lusty one, and each day its influence and weight becomes more manifest. Its usefulness is undisputed. If there are any more "live wires" living in the West End who have failed to identify themselves with the association there is no time like the present. We want hustlers. Sluggards, ward heelers and those with axes to grind will receive scant courtesy. We seek co-operation, and we are appreciative.

COUNTY ELECTION BOARD ORGANIZES

Fred Zior Chosen Chairman—Peter Tillman, Clerk, Loses Position.

Elizabeth, Aug. 8—The Union County Board of Elections organized yesterday afternoon in the office of Custodian William H. Hulskamper, in the courthouse, no other quarters having been provided for it. In view of the fact that the county superintendent of schools and his office staff now occupies the quarters formerly used by the Board, a resolution was unanimously adopted informing the Board of Freeholders that that body was compelled under the law to provide an office and furnishings for the Election Board.

Fred Zior, Democrat, of Elizabeth, was again chosen chairman, and George Stewart, of Elizabeth, Republican, secretary. This means that Peter Tillman, of Rahway, who was clerk of the Board, although not a member, will lose his position. This step was taken because of the reduction of salaries the day previous by the Board of Freeholders, the election officials receiving $400 instead of $800 as in previous years, with $100 extra for the clerk. The members arranged with Judge James C. Connolly to appear before him August 21 to draw a list of eligible district election officers. The other members are Andrew J. McCardell, of Plainfield, Republican, and Frank Pfaff, of Elizabeth, Democrat.

INDICTMENT AGAINST DAUBNER NOLLE PROSSED

Elizabeth, Aug. 8.—Five indictments against George Daubner, of Elizabeth, and other election officers were nolle prossed yesterday by Judge James C. Connolly in the Court of Common Pleas, at the request of Prosecutor Alfred A. Stein. These indictments were found against Daubner, the then Democratic custodian of the Elizabeth city hall, and others, in 1908, for alleged padding of voters' lists. They were never tried. At the same time several Plainfield Republicans were indicted for an alleged similar offense.

FIRST REAL TEST OF WILSON POLICIES

Political Wiseacres Have Their Weather-Eye On Maine.

Augusta, Me., Aug. 8—The straw which indicates the direction of the political wind in the coming elections will be first in the State of Maine. The earliest indication of the sentiment of the country toward the present Democratic administration at Washington will be received from the State on the fourteenth day of this month, on which date the regular election of State officers, Representatives in Congress and legislative and county officials will be held. Scarcely less important than the test of the popularity of the Democratic administration will be the test of the virility and longevity of the Progressive party.

Governor William T. Haines, who was elected on the Republican ticket two years ago, is a candidate for re-election. His Democratic opponent is Oakley C. Curtis, the present Mayor of Portland. The ticket of the Progressive party, the first they have had in this State, is headed by Harold Gardner as candidate for Governor.

In his campaign for re-election, Governor Haines finds himself deeply involved in the agitation over the liquor traffic. Mr. Gardner, the Progressive candidate, has been pursuing him from stump to stump with charges of bad faith as to the Governor's claim that he is doing his best to enforce the prohibitory law. Governor Haines has claimed credit for the removal of those sheriffs who were nullifying the prohibitory law by allowing it to be followed at will. Mr. Gardner denies credit to the Governor for the removal of these men by asserting the method of removing them by the Legislature was not the Governor's idea at all, and that if the method which the Governor recommended of dealing with these men had been adopted, they could not have been removed.

Though the liquor question continues to permeate the campaign in every county and district, as it has done in the State of Maine for many years, there are national questions that are figuring to a considerable extent as issues in the contest. The Democratic tariff which has admitted potatoes to this country from Canada free of duty is not to the liking of the voters in Aroostook county, where more potatoes are raised than in any other locality in the country. The Republican and Progressive speakers have endeavored to make the most of this issue, but the Democrats have come back with the reply that no matter how many barrels of potatoes may have come across the border, potatoes are, nevertheless, just as high as they ever were, and Maine farmers are getting just as much for them as they ever received.

The question of free tolls for American ships in the Panama Canal is also an issue in the prsent campaign. For years Maine has been a great ship-building State, and she is much interested also in the coastwise trade.

There are indications of some very close contests in the Congressional districts. All of the present representatives, three Republicans and one Democrat, are candidates for re-election. Most interest centers in the Second district, now represented by Daniel J. McGillicuddy, Democrat. Ordinarily, it is believed, Congressman McGillicuddy would have an easy re-election, but his vote on the tolls question and certain dissensions among the Democrats of his district, have given his opponents considerable hope. Alden J. Wheeler, an active and able campaigner, is opposing him on the Progressive ticket. The Republican candidate is Harold Sewell, a son of the late Arthur Sewell, who was the Democratic candidate for Vice-President in 1896 with Bryan. The son became a Republican at the time his father was nominated for Vice-President.

In the First district, Asher Hines is the present Republican Congressman. For some time Mr. Hines has been in poor health and it was only at the earnest request of his friends that he consented to accept a nomination. Because of the state of his health he has not been able to make a very active campaign. Both his Democratic and Progressive opponents feel confident they can defeat him for re-election.

John Peters and Frank E. Guernsey, representing the Third and Fourth districts, respectively, are candidates for re-election. Both are Republicans. Each has active opponents on both the Democratic and Progressive tickets, but as the districts are strongly Republican it is generally believed that the two present members will be returned by substantial majorities.

Washington, Aug. 7.—Charles S. Hamlin, it was unofficially announced today, will be elected Governor of the Federal Reserve Board, when that body is organized. Frederick A. Delano is to be named vice-Governor.

Treasury officials remained on duty last night in order to receive the news that Mr. Warburg and Frederick Delano had been confirmed by the Senate. The commissions of the five members have been prepared and will be signed by the President possibly today.

fact that all means of transportation are, during mobolization, employed by the government, so it is physically impossible for foreigners to travel."

Libson, Portugal, Aug. 8 (Central News Cable—At a special meeting of the Portuguese Chamber of Deputies the Government declared that Portugal would support the war policy of Great Britain and would follow her directions in accordance with old treaty alliances. In time of war, England can call upon Portugal to supply 10,000 men to assist her according to an old treaty.

Copenhagen, Aug. 8—Ten thousand German troops from Schleswig, Holstein, are being sent against the French and Russian frontiers.

London, August 8 (Central News) Lead to come London vofFp4

Denial was made by the Admiralty today of a despatch published by the Daily Mail, this morning, in which it was stated that 19 German warships had been sunk on Friday afternoon in an engagement with the British fleet 65 miles north of De Holder, off the North coast of Holland. The despatch had it that other German war vessels were damaged by the guns of the British fleet and were steaming for the French coast pursued by British dreadnoughts.

Winston Churchill, first Lord of the Admiralty, said that no naval engagement had taken place except the sinking of the German mine laying ship Koenigin Luise by the British destroyer flotilla when the British light cruiser Amphion struck a floating mine and foundered.

The Times today says that the Council of Ministers in Cairo has decreed Egypt in a state of war.

It is an inspiring sight to see the eager and quick response that continues among Englishmen to the appeal of Lord Kitchener for recruits for the army of Great Britain. Young men in affluent circumstances rub elbows with tattered workmen in front of the recuriting stations nad are impatient when required to stand in line for any length of time. The war spirit is intensely gratifying to the military.

New York, Aug. 8.—In discussing the coming movement of the cotton crop an official of one of the largest foreign fire and marine insurance companies today voiced a warning against the congestion of cotton at seaboard points, and the impossibility of securing insurance protection therefor. Even in normal times during the movement of the crop, cotton often accumulates in such large quantities at various points along the Atlantic seaboard, for example Galveston and Savannah, that the insurance facilities of the world are exhausted and considerable cotton is left without protection.

Underwriters place a certain maximum limit to their conflagration liability beyond which they will not go in their writing at any one point. It can be readily seen, therefore, that with the present disruption of shipping how quickly a congestion of cotton would mean the impossibility of securing insurance protection and the resultant disarrangement of credit. On this account it is suggested that many central inland points should be designated where cotton shipments for export could be assembled and held free from any great congestion, pending the provision of adequate shipping facilities. With this distribution of the hazard underwriters will be in a position to provide all necessary protection at a considerably less cost.

The Guaranty Trust Company has received the following cablegram from its London manager: "We paid all demands in full in spite of moratorium and financial conditions are much improved this morning."

Italy Will Not Fight.

London, Aug. 8.—A remarkable and most unusual demonstration of friendliness occurred in front of the Italian embassy. The demonstration was organized by members of the peerage, members of the house of commons and others prominent in the political and social world, and thousands of passers-by joined in the cheering, which continued until the ambassador, Marquis di Francavilla, and the marchioness, much moved, appeared on the balcony.

The ambassador said amid a scene of the wildest enthusiasm that Italy had declared her neutrality and would adhere to it.

Brussels, Aug. 8.—In an official statement issued the Belgian war office says the Germans admit that their losses in killed, wounded and prisoners in the fighting at Liege have reached a total of 25,000 men.

The Germans have asked for an armistice of twenty-four hours, according to the war office. It is supposed that they wish the truce to give them an opportunity to attend to their wounded and bury the dead.

Another attempt was made by the invaders to carry the fortifications at Liege by storm and again they failed. With the strong re-enforcements which arrived yesterday and with siege guns placed in position to shell the city from long range, the German lines swept up against the forts and, as on the previous days of the fighting, were repulsed with heavy losses.

Their artillery fire, however, caused great damage in the city. Many buildings were destroyed or badly damaged, including the Cathedral of St. Paul and the palace of justice. Many noncombatants in the city have been killed in the bombardment, but there has been no panic. Shells have repeatedly started fires which threatened to destroy the city, but the population has joined with police and firemen in extinguishing the flames before they got beyond control.

Three Separate Attacks.

The invaders made three separate attacks on the fortifications last night, but gained no advantage. Mines which had been placed when the German approach on Liege was begun were exploded under the heavy massed German troops with appalling results. This close formation, to which the Germans adhered strictly in their assaults on the Liege fortifications, according to the information received here, has made the task of the defenders of the city easier.

The artillery fire of the forts has been triply effective because of this, and the few mines which have been used did far more execution than would have been possible had the Germans advanced in a more open order.

The attacking forces showed magnificent courage in the three assaults of last night, withstanding terrific losses without a sign of demoralization, but after the third assault they were forced to withdraw, leaving the attack temporarily in the hands of their artillery.

At one point, according to advices received here, the attacking column was almost annihilated, and when the survivors retreated they left 700 dead and wounded under the Belgian fortifications.

Early today the assault was resumed. The defenders made a show of evacuating the outer fortifications, and at once the Germans pressed forward. Again the Belgians let loose their artillery and the attacking force suffered terrible losses. Twenty-seven German field pieces were taken by the Belgians, who left the cover of the fortifications and co-operated with the artillery in driving the invaders back.

The number of Germans who have been lost in the Liege fighting is estimated only in the report attributed to the German officers themselves. Thousands of wounded lay in the open space in front of the fortifications after the series of attacks, but the continuing artillery fire made it impossible to attend to them. Then came the request from the German headquarters for a twenty-four hours' armistice.

It is believed that the armistice, if granted, will be used for the relief of those wounded as well as for burying of the dead. Even outside of the humanitarian considerations involved the scenes in front of the forts where lay the heaps of dead and seriously wounded could scarce but have a demoralizing effect on any further attacking force.

The request for an armistice was referred to King Albert for his decision, and no answer has yet been received. It is feared that the Germans will utilize the twenty-four hours, if it is granted, to bring up more re-enforcements and to recover from the effects of the three days' fighting. On the other hand, at the end of the respite the French re-enforcements, which already are on Belgian soil and are marching to the relief of the beleaguered city, probably will have arrived and the defenders, as well as the invaders, would be better prepared for the continuance of the battle.

Reports received here from the Dutch-Belgian border say that many Belgian farmers who resisted the German advance across their land have been shot down.

Maastricht, across the border in the Netherlands, has been practically abandoned by the citizens, who fear a German attack on the city.

German Bomb Kills Many In Liege.

A German aviator flew over Liege and dropped several bombs on the forts and inside the city proper. Three bombs fell in the Parc d'Avroy and the Boulevard d'Avroy and the avenue Rogier adjoining. The park was crowded and seventeen persons were killed and at least the same number injured. A Belgian airman immediately started in pursuit of the German from Fort Fleron, but the German escaped within his lines.

The German losses at Liege include large numbers of the finest bodies of men in the German army. Three regiments of Uhlans, the crack German cavalry, have been practically annihilated. The Tenth army corps has lost two of its best regiments through the explosion of mines and artillery fire. One of the great Zeppelin dirigibles and an aeroplane have been destroyed.

The official Belgian Gazette has received the following dispatch from Liege.

"The Tenth German army corps, with a cavalry reinforcement, while crossing a zone that had been mined, was repulsed in a night charge on the forts. The mine was detonated when the troops were directly over it and a whole battalion of Germans was killed, while 12,000 wounded were picked up.

WAR SPIRIT SEIZES CROKER.

He Wants to Raise Irish Volunteers For England In United States.

London, Aug. 8. — Richard Croker, former boss of Tammany Hall, wired to John Redmond a subscription of $2,500 for the use of Irish Nationalist volunteers who enlist for the war. He also tendered to the government the use of his magnificent show estate, Glencairn, near Dublin, for use as a hospital.

Croker is intensely aroused over the war developments. He announced that he was going to the United States and would try to arouse the Irish-Americans there to enlist in defense of England.

DENY SEA FIGHT WITH GERMANS

England Says Battle Hasn't Started.

TRIBUTE TO THE PRESS

Serious Fighting In North Sea Reported.

EAGER TO HELP ENGLAND

Men From All Grades In Life Stand Side by Side to Enlist For Service.

London, Aug. 8.—Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, announced in the house of commons that there had been no fighting between the British and German fleets and no other losses than had been announced officially.

The first lord of the admiralty said that the admiralty had completed arrangements by which the possibility of accidents caused by mines would be reduced to a minimum.

Mr. Churchill said that the disconcerting war rumors published in English newspapers probably were due to the very strict censorship prevailing which caused the newspapers to get their reports from irresponsible and nervous people on the coast. He announced that the government had decided to establish a press bureau, to be in charge of Frederick E. Smith, a member of parliament, and that this bureau would issue a steady supply of trustworthy information from the admiralty and war office without, however, endangering the naval and military interests of the country.

At the same time Mr. Churchill paid a tribute to the press for its restraint during the precautionary period, when, although the government was without legal means of controlling the newspapers, their response to the government's request had enabled the authorities expeditiously and discreetly to complete their preparations.

Reports of serious fighting in the North sea between the British and German fleets are current.

Great crowds of men from all classes stood in line in front of the recruiting offices in response to the appeal by Field Marshal Lord Kitchener for volunteers. Silk hatted men of means and laborers stood side by side. There has been no such unanimous response to an appeal for men within the memory of army officers.

Rumors of Battle.

Newcastle, Aug. 8.—Information has been received by wireless from South Shields to the effect that the North sea fleet engaged the German high sea fleet in a heavy battle south of the Dogger bank.

After a general engagement all along the battle line, which extended many miles, with many ships of both sides taking part, the German fleet was beaten back toward the coast of Holland. It is generally believed that the disaster to the cruiser Amphion off Tyneside occurred during this battle.

It is now believed that the German fleet is completely hemmed in on the eastern side of the North sea and all the rest of the sea is in the hands of the British fleet. Support for this contention comes from official information. Permission for trawlers to leave the Tyne and ports on the Humber and other east coast fishing centers for fishing grounds was granted. This had been forbidden during the last two days.

The hospitals at South Shields received a wireless communication asking what hospital accommodations were available. A reply was sent to the effect that thousands of beds were available and all preparations made at South Shields and other Tyneside towns.

FRANCE CALLS TO WOMEN.

Premier Appeals to Them to Save the Harvest.

Paris, Aug. 8.—Premier Viviani in an official proclamation asked French women to save the harvest. The procla mation says:

"The wheat stands unreaped and the time of vintage approaches. I appeal to your hardihood and to that of your children, whose age alone, not their courage, withholds them from the fighting line.

"I ask you to maintain the lives of our fields, to finish this year's harvest and prepare for that of next year. You cannot render greater service to your country."

WILL FIGHT TO END, DECLARES KAISER

"Even Against World of Enemies," He Says.

London, Aug. 8.—Dispatches from Berlin report that the kaiser has issued to his people the following proclamation, which is similar to and may be the same as the one issued before:

Since the foundation of the empire, forty-three years ago, it has been the object of the efforts of myself and of my ancestors to preserve the peace of the world and to advance our vigorous development by peaceful means, but our adversaries were jealous of the successes of our work. There has been latent hostility on the east and on the west and beyond the sea, and it was borne by us until now, as we were aware of our responsibility and power.

Now, however, these adversaries wish to humiliate us by asking that we should look on with arms crossed and watch our enemies preparing themselves for a coming attack. They will not suffer that we maintain resolute fidelity to our ally, who is fighting for her position as a great power, with whose humiliation our power and honor would equally be lost. So the sword must decide.

In the midst of perfect peace the enemy surprises us. Therefore, to arms. Any dallying, any temporizing, would be to betray the fatherland. To be or not to be is the question for the empire which our fathers founded. To be or not to be—German power and German existence. We shall resist to the last breath of man and horse and shall fight out the struggle even against a world of enemies. Never has Germany been subdued when it was united. Forward with God, who will be with us as he was with our ancestors.

AFTER PLAYERS HAVE SCORED 172 THE GAME IS BROUGHT TO A HALT

They played a game of baseball over in those dear old British Iles some weeks ago with the following result:

Innings	First	Second	Total
English	66	106	172
Wales	39	57	96

(Game called on account of the general weariness of the players after the second inning.)

Commenting on the attempt made by the Welsh gang to overcome a 133-run lead in their half of the second, one of the English newspapers said:

"The Welshmen never looked like making the 13 runs needed to win the game, but they tried hard. H. Evans, of the Grange Gas Works, and E. Seer, of the Phil Harriers, who was captain of the team, executed the most notable work, for they recorded 13 runs each as the result of their labors, but the side was out in 57 runs."

As Americans will understand the situation, Messrs. Evans and Seer batted the opposing pitcher to such an extent that they were given the privilege of running around the bases 13 times each, and that divers and sundry other of their teammates contributed the other 31 runs that were tallied in the final round of the pastime.

However, neither of the Welsh "messrs." need get conceited about what they did. A few of their English opponents went them slightly better in the run-making business. In the first inning, L. Higgins made 15 runs, and J. Barron 14, while in the second inning Higgins contributed 25 runs and Barron aided his side by ambling around the bases 29 times.

One of our English brethren, who has been given the title of "baseball expert" by the editor-in-chief of the paper on which he works, wrote an article about baseball after the aforementioned game was over. This fellow is an expert on baseball and knows the ins-and-outs of the said game, the evidence being the article that he wrote in which he explained the game to those who didn't know much about it—and who perhaps don't know much more now. Here is the article, in part:

"Baseball lacks the stately dignity of cricket. It has a strenuous and hustling, if not highly skilful game. It has many merits. It should appeal to a public whose ideas have been speeded up by professional football.

"The impression that this match conveyed was that a splendid eye is needed for success as a batsman. The bat, which is no more than three and a half inches wide, is held at right angles to the body, chest high."

Then the expert goes on to describe some of the rules of the game. Here is the description of one rule, but it must be one they conceded in England. No one seems to know anything about it over here:

"A batter is allowed to miss only one ball, which the umpire passes as a good one. On a second offense he is ruled out."

Can any one imagine what would happen if some umpires tried to "rule out" Heinie Zimmerman after he had taken only two swipes at the ball?

"The greatest excitement develops," declares the English expert, "when only two or three men remain not out, for then hard hitting and quick dashes to the home base become a necessity."

The "expert" tosses bouquets at one of the English players named F. Moore, who made "five hits for four each in the first inning." In other words, Mr. Moore seems to have poked out four home runs. Continuing in his description, the "expert" assures the populace that:

"Smart fielding and accurate returns to the various basemen are important features, but as the ball is nearly always in the air, the necessity for a well cut and rolled field does not arise."

Judging from the number of runs made it would be safe to assume that "the ball was nearly always in the air, and no doubt last seen when disappearing over the fence, in case they use fences in that game."

BASEBALL NOTES

Manager Fred Lake has shifted his Fitchburg team, of the New England League, to Manchester, N. H.

Jack Barry, the Athletics' shortstop, never fielded better in his life than this season, but his hitting has been very poor.

The Boston Braves seem to have a little something on the Chicago Cubs this season, having won 11 of the 15 games played with the O'Day outfit.

Louisville, Milwaukee, Kansas City and Cleveland look to be the teams that will fight it out to a finish for the American Association pennant.

The New York Yankees have been playing regular baseball of late, and "Birdie" Cree's big stick is one of the principal factors in the Yanks' good showing.

Manager Jack Dunn, of the Baltimore Orioles, plans to sell two or three more of his veteran players and finish the season with a team of youngsters.

Evidently a change of scenery was just what Mike Mitchell needed. The former National Leaguer is showing some fine wares with the Washington Senators.

Now that Charley Carr has joined the Indianapolis Feds, the Detroit Tigers have given up the idea of training at Charley's baseball college in San Antonio next spring.

After making a runaway race in the first part of the Southern Michigan League season, the Bay City team has jumped out in front in the second half of the season.

"Long Tom" Hughes, who was a star pitcher in major league company a dozen years or longer, is doing a successful come-back stunt in the Pacific Coast League.

Followers of the Tri-State League consider Mauer, the Trenton shortstop, strong enough for the majors. He is a brilliant fielder and is hitting the pill over the .300 mark.

Third Baseman Metzger, of the Los Angeles Pacific Coast League team, has a record of playing in four consecutive games without having any kind of a fielding chance—either putout, assist or error.

Two former Boston Braves, Hap Myers, of the Brookfeds, and Benny Kauff, of the Indianapolis Hoosiers, are having a grand battle for the leadership of base stealers in the Federal League.

Nick Maddox has been released as manager of the Wichita Western League team and "Peaches" Graham has been named to succeed him. Both players were at one time well-known National League performers.

After getting away to a poor start this season, Tris Speaker has rounded to and is now fairly burning up the American League circuit. The Red Sox star gardener is receiving a princely salary, and he is earning it.

Opinion seems to be divided as to the real condition of Larry Lajoie. Some of the Cleveland followers say that Larry will be the star of old after a short rest, while others believe the great second sacker is "out" so far as big league ball is concerned.

From all accounts that was some riot at Detroit recently between the Washington Senators and Umpire Jack Sheridan, with one or two spectators being beaned for good measure. And it was one muss on the Detroit field that cannot be charged to Ty Cobb.

POOR OUTLOOK FOR HUNTING.

London, Aug. 8.—The least brilliant of all the annual regattas held at Cowes in years is over and the coming week will see the annual exodus to the Scottish moors. The grouse shooting season will open next Wednesday. The most of the principal grouse moors and deer forests had found tenants before the war scare had seized England and whether the situation will dampen the enthusiasm of the sportsmen to any great extent remains to be seen. Socially, the season promises to be a very tame one, since many of the notable hosts and hostesses of the hunt in former years have decided to do little or no entertaining this autumn.

AMERICAN POULTRY ASS'N.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 8.—Prominent poultry breeders from the four corners of the country will be in Chicago the coming week in attendance on the thirty-ninth annual meeting of the American Poultry Association. The association is the largest organization of its kind in the world, having more than 6,000 members. The coming meeting promises to be unusually well attended owing to the fact that much important business is to be transacted. Among other things the meeting will advise the standard of perfection, by which all poultry is judged. The standard is revised by the association every five years.

FREAK PLAYS IN BASEBALL.

Freak plays make baseball humorous, if not interesting. Some of these plays are said to be the result of quick thinking; but, as a matter of fact, most of them are simply luck.

Curious things happen. A ball fell into a tin can, and, it being imposible to get it out in time, can and all were thrown to the baseman. Another ball hit the end of a nail driven through the opposite side of a fence and could not be got down until all the runners scored.

A swift hit glances off the pitcher's hand is snapped up by an infielder and thrown to first, putting the man out.

Red hot liners or grounders sometimes hit the first or third base bag and glance away for singles or even two baggers.

The shortest two bagger known was when the ball grazed the bat, shot up a few feet and fell in front of the plate. As the catcher reached for the twirling ball it glanced from his glove and bounded back to the stand, and the batter made second easily.

A centre fielder saw a mitt in the way of the shortstop and walked about sixty feet in to move it out of the way when he heard the crack of the bat and saw a hot ball coming straight for him. He could do nothing but try to catch it and did to his surprise. But he was given credit by the crowd for being a great student of batters.

ROD AND REEL

Twenty-two weakfish were caught at Keyport in twenty-two minutes yesterday. The water was rough, but the fish were biting good. That is quite a record, getting a fish once every sixty seconds.

A large number of sea bass, blackfish and fluke are being caught at Seabright this week. One man hauled in eleven bass and seven fluke.

Many anglers are going to Greenwood Lake in the northern part of the State, where, according to reports, there is fine fishing.

The weaks are biting in fine style at Barnegat Bay now. Four local men went down there and landed a good number in a short time.

The fishermen who go out from Staten Island down to Great Kills, say that fishing is most uncertain. One day they will catch three dozen weakfish and the next day they will have to be satisfied with a half dozen and lucky to get that. For some unknown reason the fish are never caught in the same place twice.

The weakfishing at Water Witch was never better than it is at present. The summer residents that go out from Water Witch are waiting for the bluefish to come in and then they will get busy. Snappers will be biting in another month and there are thousands of crabs anywhere along the Water Witch bulkheads.

Fishermen on the Long Branch pier are getting their bait cheap these days. According to the stories some of the fishermen tell, they first catch a sea robin and use this for bait, on which the bluefish bite like hungry wolves. Over two hundred fluke were taken on the same bait from the pier Sunday and every day since there has been a small army of fishermen catching them.

Four fishermen went down to Barnegat Bay, Monday, and stopped at Forked River, from which point they went out in a power boat. In less than three hours they caught ninety-six fine weakfish.

IRONSIDES AND HIGHLANDERS SPLIT EVEN IN DOUBLE BILL

The Ironsides and Highlanders, of the Parker Field Senior League, played a double header yesterday afternoon and split even, the Ironsides taking the first by a score of 5 to 2 and their opponents winning a five-inning contest, the score being 7 to 1. Both games were well played and the addition of High School and semi-pro players helped in making the games interesting.

The Highlanders, who have not been beaten before this year, thought it best to import a pitcher and signed Crutteden, of the Westfield High School, and he twirled the first battle. He was given poor support and lost, although the Ironside sluggers collected seven bingles off him. Maiden pitched for the winners and his team only made two errors.

In the second set-to Dilts and Harney opposed each other on the firing line, but the Highlanders had been saving up and clouted the ball hard for runs. They scored five runs in the first and two in the fourth, while their opponents' only tally was made in the first.

CHAMPIONSHIP TENNIS.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 8.—Expert tennis players from all points in the Western provinces were on hand here today for the opening of the Canadian Northwestern championship tournament. The contests are being played on the courts of the Winnipeg Lawn Tennis Club and will continue an entire week. The winners of the tournament are expected to become candidates for Canada's Davis Cup team in 1915.

COPPERS MAY HAVE LEAGUE NEXT YEAR

Manager Schuler, of Elizabeth, Will Start Plans For An Eight-Team Tourney.

Now that the police baseball teams throughout the State have shown so much interest in the national pastime, extensive plans are now under way to organize a State Patrolmen's Benevolent Baseball League. Sebastian Schuler, manager of the Elizabeth "cops," is the originator of the idea. Before the season is over a meeting probably will be held to formulate plans for next year. The league probably will be an eight-club affair. The teams that will be represented are Plainfield, New Brunswick, Bayonne, Perth Amboy, Newark, Jersey City, North Hudson and Elizabeth.

The fact that much rivalry has been evidenced among the bluecoat teams, this season, indicates that the tourney will be a successful undertaking, as all of the nines mentioned are represented by a fast lot of players. Among the strong contenders for the championship honors will be the Newark coppers, whose team is composed of semi-pro players.

Bayonne and Plainfield also are considered strong, as they have several former leaguers. Schuler thinks that the tourney would be a big success and the sooner the teams start on the proposition the beter he will feel.

PLAINFIELDERS WILL PLAY MEADOWBROOKS OF NEWARK

The Plainfield A. A. baseball team will go to Newark tomorrow afternoon and meet the strong Meadowbrook nine of that place, on the Park View Oval. The locals will have their usual lineup, with Maiden pitching and Harry Moulton catching. An announcement of this game in one of the Newark papers recently had things all "balled up" and called this aggregation the Plainfield A. C. That paper wanted to make things look big and stated that Warry McLaughlin or another local man would pitch and that is probably the reason for the query in last night's paper from our friend across the way.

The Plainfield A. A. has been playing Sunday ball all season, and although the manager has had several cancellations and misunderstandings, the team has a regular schedule. M. Olaner is the local manager. The Meadowbrooks are a strong team and has a good reputation in and around Newark. Crellin and Durkee will be in the points for the home team. The locals will lineup as follows: Hannon, cf; Wall, lf; H. Rosenson, rf; B. Rosenson, ss; Victorsen, 3b; O'Leary, 2b; Hirsch, 1b; Maiden, p; Pollock, c; Moulton, c. The manager would like to hear from the Saurer booker for a Sunday game.

ELIZABETH COPPERS ARE TROUNCED BY BAYONNE

Having not yet recovered from the defeat handed them by the local cops, the Elizabeth bluecoats went to Bayonne Thursday and suffered an awful walloping at the hands of the coppers of that place, the final score being 18 to 14. The home team scored twelve runs in the first inning off Craig and then Hank Brennan, who pitched against the locals, went in and fared a little better. The game went for seven rounds and then was called. The Elizabeth batters scored once in the initial round, but could not overcome the big lead the home team had obtained.

The score by innings:

Elizabeth,	2	0	4	3	4	0	1—	14	15	5
Bayonne,	12	0	2	2	0	2	x—	18	18	3

Batteries—For Elizabeth, Craig, Brennan, Cochran and Killimett; Bayonne, Wolf and Geiger.

HAND'S TRIPLE IN TENTH WINS GAME FOR AMBOY

"Nibs" Hand and Cliff Randolph, two local ball players who are cutting some capers in the Atlantic League for the Perth Amboy team, won the game yesterday against the Newburgh team in the tenth inning by the score of 4 to 3. The local boys were the whole show and made five out of their team's seven hits. Hand made three and Cliff was credited with two. When the battery gets five-sevenths of the total hits there is something the matter with the batting eyes of the rest of the team.

Randolph pitched fine ball throughout the game and struck out seven men and walked two. Hand was the hero of the game in the tenth round when, with two men on the bases, he clouted out a triple that scored the winning run. "Nibs" also raised his batting average over the .300 mark and if he keeps hitting the pill at his present rate he will top the club before long. He used to catch for the Scotch Plains team and Randolph was a pitcher for the Plainfield team.

N. J. STATE CHAMP BOWS TO VETERANS

Harold Throckmorton, Scholastic Champ, Loses to Former Davis Cup Players.

Harold Throckmorton, of Woodbridge, who is the State interscholastic singles tennis champion and who has won several doubles titles in the last few months, seems to be a coming "white hope" for the Davis Cup team and if he continues to play the way he has lately, within a few years he will be able to talk seriously about trying for a defenders' or a challengers' position, whichever the case may be. All this schoolboy needs is a little experience and he will be able to play against the best.

Yesterday afternoon on the Crescent Club courts, of New York, Throckmorton, paired with Richard A. Palmer, lost the final match of the New York State doubles championship to Harold Hackett and F. B. Alexander. New York newspapers have no end of praise for the Woodbridge boy and even go so far as to say he outplayed not only his partner, but both of his opponents in the second set of the match. The former Davis Cup players were forced to the limit throughout the entire match and it was only their experience that caused them to finally defeat this combination. Two of the three sets went to deuce the scores being 6-3, 7-5, 8-6.

Throckmorton convinced the critics that he was a player of considerable promise. He showed a tendency to overreach the baseline and to favor risky side line shots, but his stroke was smooth, confident and powerful.

Throckmorton has appeared here several times in connection with interscholastic tennis tournaments and also won the Union county doubles tennis title with Lindsay Dunham, from Philip and Ludlow VanDeventer, of this city, at Elizabeth recently. At Westfield two weeks ago this same pair defeated the local team in the semi-final round.

THIS IS SOME SCORE.

What is considered as being one of the longest sets of tennis ever played was played yesterday at Newport when two doubles played three sets the last one, being the deciding one, went to a score of 20-18. The match was played in connection with the mixed doubles tournament now being played at that place. The other two sets were comparitively easy the score being 4-6, and 6-2.

NO SUNDAY GAME.

The Saurer baseball team will be idle this week as they have no game for today and the cancellation of the St. Anthony team for tomorrow leaves that date open. Manager Martin thought it best not to arrange another game for tomorrow but he will have a good attraction next week. This afternoon was left open because of the various outings that take place today..

HERE'S ANOTHER GAME.

The Highlanders, of Netherwood, will clash with the Laurels on the Highlanders' grounds tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Denny and Kyle will form the battery for the Highlanders.

FLOWER GUILD ACTIVE.

The local Plant, Flower and Fruit Guild has distributed fifty-five bouquets of flowers and several glasses of jelly to the sick and shut-ins of the city, as well as to patients of Muhlenberg Hospital, during the course of the past week. The guild will receive contributions of fruit and flowers Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning at the regular hours at the W. C. T. U. rooms to carry on their work.

MISS ANNA MC CULLOUGH WEDS L. T. TERRAULT

Miss Anna C. McCullough, daughter of Richard H. McCullough, of Steiner place, the borough, and L. T. Terrault, of Lestershire, N. Y., were married at 6 o'clock this morning at St. Joseph's church, the borough, by Father Baldwin. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The affair was a quiet one, only the immediate relatives being present.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary McCullough and Paul Terrault, of Lestershire, brother of the bridegroom. Immediately following the ceremony the couple left on a wedding trip after which they will reside at Lestershire ,N. Y.

POPE'S 11TH ANNIVERSARY

Rome, Aug. 8.—Tomorrow will be the eleventh anniversary of the coronation of Pope Pius X. In accordance with custom the anniversary will be observed with special religious services of an impressive character in the Sistine Chapel at the Vatican. Mass will be celebrated by one of the cardnials in the presence of the Pope and an audience that will include the members of the Sacred College, the papal court, the diplomatic corps accredited to the Vatican, the heads of the religious orders and representatives of the Roman aristocracy.

MAKE YOURS A PUBLIC SERVICE STORE

This is the age of service. The rewards of today go to the men who give the most in return.

Translated for you, Mr. Merchant, this means that the customers are certain to patronize the store that will give them what they want when they want it.

Cut prices may bring some trade, but better service will bring more.

This is the age when people are reading the advertising in their daily newspapers because they are finding it a distinct part of the service they expect their newspapers to give.

When a nationally distributed article of merit is advertised in the newspapers a demand for it sets in right away.

People want to see it and, if satisfied, want to buy it.

They are going to turn to the store that lets them know it has the article. That store will be giving them the service they want at that particular moment.

If it is a good article they are going to remember the store where they got it and will come back to that store again.

Co-operate with the manufacturers who come into the newspapers of your town to exploit their goods and you will be building business for yourself.

NEWS OF INTEREST IN THE PLAINFIELD BUILDING WORLD

METHODISTS PLAN TO BUILD CHURCH

Ground Breaking Exercises to Be Held at Kenilworth, Sunday.

The Kenilworth Methodist Episcopal church will start the erection of a new church building in the very near future. Already plans have been made for the ground breaking exercises which are to be held on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. The building has already been staked out and soon after the formal exercises the actual work will start.

The building will be thirty-nine feet wide and forty-one feet long. The exterior walls will be shingled. The audience room is arranged for seating about one hundred and sixty persons. The front of the room will have the pulpit platform, the alter rail and the kneeling space, ample space room being given for the choir and organ.

Over the vestibule in the tower is the pastor's study. Above this is the bell tower and the bell. Gas lights and a modern system of electric lights will be installed. The whole building will be heated by steam. Rev. Dr. Frederick Hubach, of Plainfield, the recently appointed superintendent of the Elizabeth district, has been and is giving much of his time and attention to the work and the edifice promises to be one of the most pleasing churches of its size in this vicinity. The building was designed by Architect George H. Fisher, Jr., of Plainfield, and it will be built under his direction.

BUILDING OPERATIONS RECEIVE AN IMPETUS

Four Permits, Aggregating $24,000, Granted During the Week.

Building operations in this city received an impetus this week, four permits having been granted by Inspector T. O. Doane, the estimated cost of which will aggregate $24,000. This amount exceeds the aggregate cost of the buildings for which permits were granted during the entire month of July. One permit, that for the alterations of the buildings of Muhlenberg Hospital, was mentioned a few days ago through the columns of the Daily Press.

The outlook in the local building situation still remains bright, as contractors have indicated that several structures are in sight for the present season. Prospective buildings at South Plainfield will undoubtedly relieve the tension in this city, as a fair portion of the contracts for these buildings will be awarded to local contractors.

The condition of the money market, however, still continues to affect local building operations. The proposed new Y. M. C. A. building and alterations to Hope Chapel are still pending owing to money conditions, while only last week, Jacob Sachar, a prominent real estate holder, stated he had planned several houses under consideration for the West End, but could not see his way clear to start work on them in the near future. This condition is undoubtedly holding up other buildings, which, sooner or later, will have to be erected.

Among the buildings which will be started in the near future, is the new Netherwood Reformed church edifice to be erected on Leland avenue. It is also understood that two apartment buildings on West Fourth street, just west of Plainfield avenue will be erected this season by the Bloom Construction Company. An apartment building is also expected to be erected on Central avenue, where Syman Hirsh and S. H. Swhartz recently purchased a large plot of ground from George L. Babcock. Contractors have also stated that bids have been asked during the past month for dwellings, contracts for which have not been as yet awarded.

The permits granted during the past week are noted below:

FIRST WARD.

Mrs. Mary E. Nolte, of Grandview avenue, the borough will erect a two-story frame dwelling on Leland avenue, at a cost of $4,500. The structure will have a frontage of thirty-five feet, a depth of thirty feet. The foundations will be of concrete, with a superstructure of spruce, and the roof shingled. Several dwellings are already in the course of construction in this section of the city, the First and Fourth wards leading in this type of buildings thus far this season. These dwellings have been started in the face of the fact that many houses are vacant.

SECOND WARD.

The Second Ward has drawn the plum for the past week in the permit which covers extensive alterations to the several buildings which go to make up Muhlenberg Hospital, the cost of which will be in the vicinity of $20,000. The alterations in a general way cover the changing of windows, doors, elevators, dumb waiter shafts, and partitions throughout the building, making them fire-retarding as far as is possible. Crow, Lewis and Wickenhoffer are the architects, the contracts being awarded to B. F. Tallamy and Brother, masons, and Lewis Titsworth, carpenter.

James C. Manning has been granted a permit for the erection of a 12 by 18 foot frame garage at 1106 Evergreen avenue, the cost of which will be $200.

FOURTH WARD.

Mrs. Mary E. Gallup, of 551 West Front street, is to install a tank for the storage of volatile liquid at the above address at a cost of $55.

STEADY GAINS IN LARGE CITIES

Building Mechanics Are Reported Busy Throughout the Country.

Returns from the larger cities of the country on the building conditions in various quarters indicate that building mechanics, as a general rule, are being kept busy. The Building Age, in its August issue, has compiled returns from seventy-two cities, showing the results of its investigation as to conditions for the first six months of the year, as compared with the same period of time during 1913. Twenty-five cities of the Eastern States reported, fourteen of which showed increases over the preceding year for the six months.

Six of the twelve cities reporting from the Southern States show gains for the same period, while sixteen out of a possible twenty-five cities in the Middle States show that their building activities were above the activities of last year. Only three of ten cities reporting from the Western cities show increases. Three New Jersey cities sent reports, Paterson showing a slight increase, while Newark and Jersey City showed decreases.

PLANS FOR ALTERING THE ASTOR THEATRE

Plans for extensive alteration, repairs and other improvements and changes in the Astor theatre property have been completed, and local contractors have been asked to bid on the work necessary to make this building an up-to-date moving picture house. A Paterson concern has offered to lease the building from the owners, Harry Drier and Morris Abrams, providing the improvements can be made within a given time. The improvements will in all probability cost several thousand dollars.

The changes called for by the plans include an entire new entrance on West Front street, with marble wainscoating, and an improved floor. The floor of the interior will have a new pitch, and the building will be re-decorated and re-modeled throughout. Edward V. French, of North avenue, is the architect of the alterations.

FANWOOD AND 'PLAINS SHOW LITTLE ACTIVITY

Fanwood and Scotch Plains are somewhat in the rear of Plainfield's thriving suburbs in building and real estate activities, little progress being reported in these two places. Scotch Plains is leading, with five dwellings in the course of construction, with an addition to Public School No. 1, in view for the near future to keep the building craftsmen busy until late in the fall. Deals in the real estate market here, however, are few and far between, there being practically no life in the local realty market.

Fanwood Borough is faring but little better in the real estate market and not as well in the building lines. Three houses are at present being erected. A new school building in the "Graceland section," of the borough which the Board of Education has been planning, will probably be started soon. Aside from the school, the only further activities in sight is the erection of a dwelling of Spanish architecture which will be constructed on North avenue near the Westfield line for Read Holaday. It is estimated that the cost of this building will be close to $18,000 or $20,000.

FIGURES FOR 1914 SHOW FALLING OFF

Comparisons Prove That Conditions Are Not Up to Par.

Comparisons of the building permits as issued during July of this year and the same month last year, show that the hard fight to boost local building activities up to normal proportions, has in a great measure failed. The movement during June raised hopes of local contractors, and every indication pointed to reaching a place where conditions would be up to par, but expectations were not lived up to during the past month.

However, as indicated in another column of this page, the present month's activities have started under auspicious conditions, with a number of prospective buildings in sight. The figures below show the aggregate cost of the buildings for which permits were issued during the last month, together with the figures for the same month of last year. The 1914 figures do not include $261 covering the installation of seven tanks for the storage of volatile liquid.

LACE CURTAIN FACTORY MAY GO TO DUNELLEN

It has developed within the course of the past week that Dunellen may have a new factory in the near future. A lace curtain manufacturing concern, at present located at Paterson, has recently communicated with Michael A. Gallagher, asking for a lease of the second floor of the store facing on Washington avenue in Mr. Gallagher's new building in the borough.

The finishing touches are now being made to the building, and will be completed shortly. Should the Silk City concern finally locate at Dunellen, it wil mean the employment of a large number of girls and young women.

SO. PLAINFIELD IS HAVING REAL BOOM

Business Structures and Dwellings Promise Well For Substantial Growth.

South Plainfield still remains in the limelight of the building world, with real estate holders planning and securing bids on a large number of structures, most of which will be one family houses. The feature of the past week is an announcement to the effect that the Merchants and Traders Realty Company has disposed of a piece of property opposite the Spicer Manufacturing Company's plant, where a business structure will be erected by a Brooklyn party. A lunchroom will occupy the first floor of the building. This same realty company has closed a contract to erect two dwellings in the village for John F. Sheran, of Jersey City, general superintendent of the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

The announcement made exclusively through these columns last Monday to the effect that the Merchants and Traders Realty Company is to erect twenty-five dwellings at South Plainfield during the course of the remainder of the building season has been confirmed by the building editor, the number of houses to be constructed having been increased to twenty-seven. Work on four of these buildings will be started during the course of the next week, two on the south side and two on the north side of the tracks. Four of the dwellings which have just been completed on the south side of the track have been sold.

A few of the proposed dwellings which were to be erected by various land-holders are being held up for a few weeks until such times as the Willow-Craft Furniture Company makes an announcement as to just when work on its factory at South Plainfield will be started. This holdup on the part of a few will not materially retard the building operations in the town, as the demand for houses will undoubtedly be greater than the supply when the addition to the Spicer plant, now in the course of construction, is completed.

JERSEY GROWING IN POPULARITY

Wonderful Changes Are Now Attracting Many Manhattan Toilers.

New Jersey's popularity as a dwelling place for Manhattan toilers is steadily increasing. The fact is not to be wondered at, if one takes note of the wonderful changes which recent years have brought forth in the methods of community development. Good roads, well-laid pavement, trees, water supply, and a reasonable amount of artistic architecture are among the requisites demanded today. Things have got to be real and well done to secure an investment in a home spot which the prospective buyer hopes to make more or less permanent. The modern methods of development have made enormous strides on those in general vogue a few years ago, and within an hour's ride from the business centres of Manhattan scores of towns and smaller residential communities may be found attesting to the fact.

In discussing the real estate market in this State, one who is in the position to watch the inside movements is quoted as saying:

"Inquiry among real estate men reveals a wide difference of opinion regarding the outlook in this season. Some predict a continuance of the dullness and inactivity experienced in 1910 and 1911 and do not look for any marked improvement until the political skies have cleared. A large majority of realty owners and operators however, believe that the effects of political agitation and other disturbing elements have been largely discounted, and that this spring marks the turning point leading up to a point of great activity in real estate, as well as in other lines of business.

"I regard the outlook for this season as decidedly hopeful, and am confident that we are entering upon a period of renewed activity in the real estate field. No speculative boom is to be expected nor is it to be desired. What we may reasonably expect is a healthy, sustained movement increasing in volume for several years."

BUILDING ACTIVITIES QUIET IN BOROUGH

However, It Is Believed That Sewers Will Result In a Boom.

The borough of North Plainfield is at present experiencing a lull in building activities in fact, at no time during the present season has there been any great activity, either in building or real estate. This is possibly without precedent.

The conditions in the borough, however are not without a silver lining. One of the borough officials of the borough, stated during the course of the week, that he was of the opinion that as soon as the sewers in North Plainfield become a reality, building in that community would take on the nature of a "boom," and local contractors would be kept busy, once the movement is started.

There is no questioning the fact that North Plainfield has an over abundance of desirable home sites which are attractive, and the undeveloped territory of the borough will in due season, become the envy of some investor's eye. The streets are well laid out, macadamized, and lighted, and naturally appeal to those who anticipate erecting a home of their own, with the lack of proper sewer facilities as the only drawback with plans for the overcoming of this fault well under way in the shape of the joint sewerage system.

JUST NOTES

Henry Hoffman, of this city, has the contract for the erection of a residence at Newark for Mrs. Carrie Chapot; the building will be two stories high with an attic. The first story exterior walls will be of hollow tile finished with white stucco. George H. Fisher, Jr., is the architect.

Samuel Titus, of Dunellen, expects to erect on Sachar place in the near future a seven-room house, of frame construction. George H. Fisher, Jr., is the architect.

A new style of six-story apartment house has recently been introduced in Rue Vavin, Paris, France. Each story retrogrades on the one below, leaving a wide balcony or terrace in front of its windows. The house has a distinct resemblance to a huge flight of stairs and it is argued that the hygenic advantages of such a method of construction quite compensates for the waste of space.

A wrecking company paid the city of New York $8,600 for the privilege of wrecking the Grand Union Hotel, facing the Grand Central Terminal on Forty-second street, which had to be removed to make room for new subways. The contract called for the completion of the work within forty-eight days.

As a result of the disastrous fire which wiped out a large portion of the city of Salem, Mass., the Chamber of Commerce of that city will hold an exhibition of fireproof structural materials and methods in the State Armory, July 23 to August 8, inclusive. The exhibition is intended to familiarize the people with fireproof construction and encourage its use in rebuilding the city. The Chamber states that there are more than 60 factories to be rebuilt and homes for more than 2,500 families.

The old American League baseball park, at Broadway, Fort Washington avenue, 165th and 168th streets, is to go, it was learned yesterday. The New York Institute for the Blind, owner of the park, has awarded a contract for its division into blocks, and several large apartment houses are being considered on the site.

The park which was abandoned about two years ago, comprises four large blocks. They are to be regulated and graded. Streets are to be cut through them and sewers laid. More than $400,000, is to be spent. The work is expected to start in a week.

The neighboring city of New Brunswick granted a number of building permits during July, calling for the expenditure of $108,832. The largest permit called alterations to the Middlesex County Court House, which will cost $68,000.

William J. Trembath, of Chatham street, the borough, is having extensive alterations made to his printing plant at that place. The improvements will be completed next week.

BUILDING TRADES BUSY IN DUNELLEN

School Improvement and Many Dwellings Are Well Underway At Present.

Dunellen building operations, while not as promising as might be desired, are brisk, considering the conditions of the money market. The situation thus far this season, while somewhat under normal, has continued at an even pace, the erection of dwellings being the feature. Several of this type of structures started early in the year, have not been completed, and appear quite marketable in the hustling town. The work of remodeling the Lincoln School has made the building trades busy, the estimated cost of the improvements here amounting to $25,000. The erection of a two story garage at North and Washington avenues has also been instrumental in keeping the trade alive.

At present, fifteen one-family dwellings are in the course of construction, five of which are being reared in the Equator Park section, where the streets are being graded and generally improved. Three or four dwellings are being erected on the north side of the Central Railroad tracks, while a number are going up on the south side on Columbia street and Culhane place. Adding to the interest of the situation, a number of other dwellings are being planned by local realty holders, as well as by contractors who expect to build dwellings for investment purposes, in order that their forces may be kept busy. Taking all things into consideration the building and real estate outlook is very promising.

ANTI-SUFFRAGE

An Anti-Suffragist's reply to Mr. Bryan's Reasons for Advocating Woman Suffrage.

In giving his reasons for openly espousing the cause of woman suffrage, Mr. Bryan mentions, first, his conviction that "woman has proved herself equal to every responsibility imposed upon her, and will not fail society in this emergency."

What "emergency" does Mr. Bryan refer to? He seems to speak as if some dire calamity were impending over the nation which men alone were incapable of meeting and so are driven to call women to their assistance. One could understand routed Republican leaders turning to such a forlorn hope, and one can quite understand the struggling Rooseveltians falling into such counsel of despair, but with the Democratic party in control of affairs and Mr. Bryan himself at the helm of State, it is difficult to discover the cause of a "C. O. S." cry thus sent across the waters to women to save the country in its "emergency." Nor do we Anti-suffragists see any reason, so long as there are still sufficient able-bodied men left in the country to continue pulling their half of the load, why the burden should be imposed upon women.

M. Bryan declares that above all other arguments he places "the right of the mother to a voice in molding the environment of her children."

But in a proper division of labor "environment" i. e. the conditions of the outside world into which his business naturally takes him, it is man's task to "mold." Woman has done her share when she successfully "molds" the immediate environment of her children—the home. It is too men and women are "co-tenants of two worlds. When she has prepared a man-child for the world it is up to him to "mold" the world when he gets into it. That is what he was prepared for. Woman cannot do it all. He has to justify his existence. Leave something for him. Woman should not try to be the whole thing.

It is absolutely true, as Mr. Bryan declares, and one cannot but admire the acuteness of his observation, that men and women are "contenants of the earth," and must "work out their destiny together." But in the light of modern science, which declares that all progress throughout evolution has been accompanied by an increasing specialization of function, it is no less evident that the best way to work out their destiny "together" is to work it out separately i. e., along their separate lines.

Again, one cannot but note the benign and beautiful trustfulness with which Mr. Bryan anticipates the rapid approach of that day when the physical force of the male will no longer be needed in the administration of affairs, but the laws will be obeyed solely "because they are the expression of public opinion." The secretary's sanguineness is the more remarkable in that almost at the moment of his penning these words news from Colorado describe a condition in which government and obedience to law "as an expression of public opinion" had completely broken down, and the voting women of the State with one accord were loudly screaming for Federal troops, Men (with guns in their hands) to come and stay and restore law and order.

Taking a contrary view from that favored by Mr. Bryan, Mr. Frederic Harrison, the eminent English moralist, holds that the control of government (not the knowledge or discussion or study of government but the control of government) should remain in the hands of men for the obvious reason that it is men alone who can control it. In his work on "Realities and Ideals" Mr. Harrison writes: "Men, and men only are entitled to political control since, in the last resort, it is their muscular force which has to make good and defend it."

To the woman absorbed and fascinated by the multitude of domestic pursuits Mr. Bryan rises to heights of unconscious humor when he suggests that woman might find the participation in politics a "restful variety" in her life! Whatever else may be said of our politics, it is seldom that one hears them described as "restful." And it must be a very dull woman indeed in her home, one who very tiresomely and dejectedly fulfills her functions there, who would welcome the opportunity to exchange them for the noisy stupidities of political strife. Those who could by no manner of means find anything "restful" in the crazy din of political campaigns—have they or have they not a right to choose? If, as Mr. Bryan believes, women are intelligent enough to vote, why aren't they intelligent enough to know whether they want to vote or not?

In passing, it may be remarked that while there is no visible reason why any woman who so inclines should not "discuss with her family the art of government," there is every reason why she should not be permitted to compel to such discussion by reason of moral obligation which the franchise imposes, other women (a large majority be it remembered) who have neither the time nor the inclination for it.

In a manner all too common today Mr. Bryan assumes that the whole "Woman's movement" is synonymous with "progress." He is apparently quite innocent of any knowledge of how grave are free doubts which are being cast upon such an assumption. Apparently it has not yet occurred to him to connect the falling birthrate, the increasing rate of celibacy among the nation's finest women, the decay of family life, the prevalence of prostitution, the damaged health of working women, the growing aversion to motherhood, the ousting of men in some industries, and other manifestations of deep-rooted social disturbance, with the severance of woman from the family, her departure from her home, and her forced entrance into industry in competition with men.

Again Mr. Bryan would appear to be ill-informed when he asserts that organization and enthusiasm exists only on the suffrage side. The National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage and the officers of the various State Associations could tell him a different story. With a slight effort of memory I can as I write hear the cheers of an audience which packed the Belasco theatre in Washington to its roof, still ringing in my ears. But if, in general, it is true that the Anti-suffragists' methods are more quiet, yet the steadfast devotion to their leaders and the firm determination in a trying situation are a full offset to the "enthusiasm" of suffragists.

The most extraordinary feature, however, of Mr. Bryan's statement is his abandonment for this occasion only, of the fundamental democratic doctrine concerning the rule of the majority. On this question alone, affecting women closely and personally, the will of the majority (of women) is not to be permitted to obtain. "Why," asks Mr. Bryan, "should any mother be denied the use of the ballot to safeguard the welfare of her child, merely (sic) because another mother may not view her duty in the same light?

Now nothing is more certain than that the large majority of American women do not want the vote. Either by silence which gives consent to the present order of things, or by active organization in opposition to change, they have signified in an unmistakable manner their belief that by the present arrangement (which entrusts politics to the men of the nation and hold them responsible for results) the welfare of their children is better safeguarded than by dividing the responsibility between the sexes. Have they not the right to prefer safeguarding the welfare of the children in the manner which seems to them most efficient? Have they or have they not a right to their opinion on the subject? And if, as is the case, they are in a majority, has this majority, or has it not, the right to prevail?

If a liquor dealer believes that he can best "safeguard the welfare of his children' by license and a full money box, would Mr. Bryan says that his voice should be heard above a majority of anti-saloon leaguers? Or if only one voter desires to safeguard his loved ones by means of free silver, must he be allowed to have his way against a majority?

Apparently Mr. Bryan is of the goodly company of sentimentalists who habitually lose their heads when it is a question of giving woman anything she (if there be only one of her) asks for, but his benignance, however amiable, fails to upset our faith in the principle of majority rule of which none other than he is a more fervent exponent.

Very sincerely yours,

As a practical comment of Mrs. Martin's argument, I add an interesting clipping from the N. Y. Times, Aug. 5th.

MRS FLINT RUNS LAST OF FIVE FOR SCHOOL TRUSTEE.

Freeport, L. I., Aug. 4, 1914.—Mrs. Carrie Flint, President of the Women's Suffrage League, was unsuccessful tonight in her fight for membership in the local Board of Education. Of the five candidates who made the run Mrs. Flint received the smallest vote, 76.

Walter Cousins and John D. Grenning, the present incumbents, were defeated tonight by Charles C. Moore and Maurice Halpin. Moore received 130 votes, Halpin 103, Cousins 93, Grenning 92, and Mrs. Flint 76. Seventy-five women voted at the election.

The proposition to appropriate $800 for manual training and domestice science was defeated, but the budget of $60,000 was put through.

GEN. NELSON A. MILES ATTAINS 75TH BIRTHDAY

Boston, Mass., Aug. 8.—General Nelson A. Miles, who has been spending the summer in this vicinity, attained his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary today, and was the recipient of a flood of congratulations from friends and admirers in many parts of the country. General Miles has been taking a keen interest in the European war situation. Probably no man in America has a closer knowledge of European military affairs. While holding the highest rank in the United States army he was privileged on several occasions to attend and witness the great annual maneuvers in Germany, France and other Continental countries. After his retirement from active service General Miles paid several visits to Europe to continue his investigations of military affairs, the results of which were reported to the War Department at Washington. A year ago he made a long stay in the Balkans and closely studied the military operations in the late war there. He entertains a high opinion of the Servian military establishment and of the fighting qualities of the Servian soldiers, but sees little hope for their success against the Austrians' armies, which are not only far superior in number but better equipped and better trained.

Corn Fritters.

Peach Ice Cream. Layer Cake.
Coffee.

GREEN CORN is one of the most popular vegetables we have, in spite of the fact that it is rather indigestible. Some ways of cooking it are given here:

As Most Folks Like It.

Corn on the Cob.—Take six ears of corn, remove the husks and silk, place the corn in a saucepan and cover with boiling water, add a tablespoonful of sugar, any milk you have to spare and boil for fifteen minutes. Corn is much sweeter boiled with sugar and milk and salt.

Corn Fritters.—Take about a pint of stewed corn, a generous pint of flour, a heaping teaspoonful of baking powder, half a teaspoonful of salt, an egg, two cupfuls of sweet milk (or half of water), mix and fry on a hot griddle.

Tempting When Baked.

Corn Pudding.—Take a cupful corn, two cupfuls of milk, two eggs, a teaspoonful of sugar, a tablespoonful of butter, half a teaspoonful of salt. After these ingredients have been thoroughly mixed pour into a well buttered pudding baking dish and bake until a rich golden brown. The pudding should be stirred from the bottom a couple of times to be certain that it is cooked through.

Corn Roast.—Take two cupfuls of browned breadcrumbs and one cup crushed corn, two eggs, one cupful of milk, two or three tablespoonfuls of melted butter and salt to taste. Mix all ingredients in bowl and let stand about fifteen minutes; then butter a pan and put ingredients in pan and bake a nice brown. Creamed onions or cream sauce may be served with the roast. Use a bread pan about nine inches long and five inches wide which makes a nice loaf when turned out on a platter.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—The Club Of the Golly Goos.

"I was an end man with tambourine."

"SOME of us boys want to organize a club, daddy," said Jack, "and we don't know yet just what to call it or what to do after we get it up."

"We girls have got a club," cried Evelyn eagerly, but Jack interrupted her.

"Yes, and you sew!" he cried. "We don't want any sewing club! We want to do something useful!"

Daddy laughed. "Well, Jack," he said, "I guess if mamma didn't put so much time mending for you you'd wake up to the fact that sewing is pretty useful, after all. But I know just what you mean, so I'll tell you about the Golly Goo club."

"The what?" cried mamma and Evelyn together, but Jack said nothing. Being a boy, he was more used to funny sounding names.

"The Golly Goo club," repeated daddy. "It's a club I used to belong to when I was a boy. In fact, I helped organize it. Ernest Howe named it, and now he's making much money manufacturing airships.

"Well, Ernest and the rest of us organized our club. You could tell one of us as far as you could see us in the summers, for it was a rule of the club that the members should wear no hats, but instead a handkerchief tied under the chin and covering the head entirely, so that they looked like old fashioned nightcaps. When a couple of the members would meet they would grip each other's hands with the first and second fingers of each over the other boy's wrist. The first boy would say, 'Golly Goo?' and the other boy would answer 'Goo Golly.' And this would show that they both belonged to the club.

"We wore paper badges with the name 'Golly Goo' printed on them, as the officers had their names printed on too. There was lots of politics going on all the while, for all the boys wanted to be officers so as to show their names on their badges. Jack knows how that is.

"We used to have parades up and down the street, and often, too, we had wars. Sometimes one side would whip and then the other. We used to keep prisoners, and the other side would try to rescue them, and then there would be a fight. But nobody ever got hurt very much.

"We used to pay five pins a week dues, and we got in a lot more pins through giving a show, the Golly Goo minstrels. Everybody on the street came. I was an end man with a tambourine, and I remember how badly I felt because I forgot my best joke.

"We had a treasurer, too, who took care of the pins, and we fixed it up with him to have him run away with all the pins—there was a boxful of them—and he went to where we played was Canada, and we went over and captured him and put him in prison for awhile."

JERSEY FARMERS' "BIG SEA DAY"

Rural Population Observing Ancient Custom at Manasquan.

Manasquan, Aug. 8.—This was "big sea day," the annual salt-water bathing day for the rural population of a big section of New Jersey. The celebration is one of ancient origin. Farmers of Monmouth and adjoining counties have been meeting on the sea beach the second Saturday of August since long before the Civil War. At first only a few neighbors gathered to enjoy themselves on the day, but the idea spread and the crowd grew each year, until now the "Jersey Wash Day" is a tremendous affair. For many years Sea Girt was the scene of the largest of these gatherings. But when Sea Girt began to hold her head high and put on airs, the farmers decided that they were no longer welcome. So they abandoned Sea Girt to the fashionables and came themselves to Manasquan, where the gatherings have now been held for several years.

It is estimated that the attendance today numbered nearly 5,000 persons from the farming districts, some having come as far as 30 miles. They came in trains, wagons and horseback, but the old-fashioned country wagon, with room for a dozen, seemed to have the call. There were hundreds of such vehicles, and the roads were unbroken lines of laughing, shouting and singing country folk.

For weeks past every member of the party had been planning a bathing suit that would surpass that of his neighbor and the result was grotesque in many instances. Of course some appeared attired in regulation bathing suits, but the great majority were there with the home-grown product. Most of the women's suits ran to fancy checked ginghams and calicoes and after the first dip the ocean for a half mile looked as if a rainbow had dropped into it and faded. Most of the dresses were fashioned on the wrapper pattern, worn with red or white stockings and sunbonnet and the effect when this combination of colors left the briny was always startling.

Overalls and bloomer straw hats, the latter buckled under their chins, served many of the men and boys for bathing suits. When every one was oufitted they formed in lines of fifty or more, held hands, took a run and all hit the water at the same time. After that the fun was fast and furious until the revellers were too tired to splash one another.

WED WHILE ON A DAY'S OUTING

Miss Florence Neal and Arthur Williams Married at Asbury Park, Saturday.

SURPRISE TO FRIENDS

Rev. Dr. W. H. Bailey Performs Ceremony at Trinity P. E. Church—Supper Follows at Ocean Hotel—Couple to Live Here.

Miss Florence Marian Neal and Arthur Julius Williams, both of this city, were quietly married in Asbury Park at 7 o'clock Saturday evening. The young people had gone to the shore for the day and only arrived at their decision to wed without unnecessary formality or delay, after reaching there.

Dr. and Mrs. E. Burton Allcutt, of Truell Court, this city, friends of both contracting parties, accompanied them to Trinity P. E. church on Asbury avenue, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. W. H. Baily, rector of the church, using the Episcopal ceremony, with one ring.

Dr. Baily, whose distinguished personality is familiar to numerous local people, learning that the bride-elect wished the ceremony to take place in the church, removed his vestments and with great cheerfulness opened the church himself, the verger being absent. The shadowy interior of the beautiful little church, the glow of the lighted chancel and the robed dignity of the officiating clergyman combined to eliminate the atmosphere of haste so common to informal weddings.

After the ceremony the happy young people were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Allcutt, who tendered them a quiet supper at the Ocean Hotel, their usual summer home for years past.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Harriet A. and the late Frank S. Neal, and has resided from babyhood at the present home of her mother, 556 West Front street. Mr. Williams is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius M. Williams, of 603 West Front street, and is also a Plainfielder born and bred. He is connected with a large New York manufacturing concern in an executive capacity and owing to the present being his busiest season of the year the question of a honeymoon trip has been deferred indefinitely.

The couple had intended remaining at the shore over the week-end, returning today, but the telegram announcing the wedding proved such a shock to Mrs. Neal, Mrs. Williams' mother, that they were recalled at once by wire, making the journey by auto at considerable risk because of the thick mist which was encountered during the greater part of the trip. Mrs. Neal is today greatly improved, although quite exhausted from the extreme heat, which really caused her collapse under the surprise.

FLOWER GUILD TO MEET.

The Plainfield Plant, Flower and Fruit Guild, will hold their regular monthly business session at the Friend's Meeting House, Watchung avenue, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. Frederick L. Greene, pastor of Hope chapel, will be present, and deliver a short address. Those interested in the work of this organization are invited to attend.

NEWLYWEDS RETURN.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mernagh have returned home after a honeymoon trip to Atlantic City and Washington. Mr. Mernagh, who is a patrolman in the local police force, concludes a two weeks' vacation today.

TAKEN TO JAIL.

Bernard Geary, an incorrigible who has been giving the police of the city considerable trouble of late, was taken to the county jail in Elizabeth Saturday afternoon, to begin a sixty day sentence.

BOY ARRESTED TWICE WITHIN A HALF HOUR

Motorcycle Speeder Sentenced to Pay a Fine of $20 In City Court, This Morning.

Arrested twice within a half hour for speeding his motorcycle in excess of the city limit yesterday afternoon, Raymond Cole, colored, was arraigned before Judge DeMeza in the city court this morning and sentenced to pay a fine of $20. He was first apprehended on West Fourth street by Patrolman Harry Brower, who caught him hitting a clip of thirty miles. The youth was brought to headquarters and later released to appear for a hearing this morning.

Fifteen minutes after his discharge from custody he was re-arrested by Roundsman Saffron and Patrolman Martin Flatley, on West Fourth street near Plainfield avenue. At that time he was running a thirty-five mile an hour gait, according to the officers and was attracting considerable attention from the colored residents along that avenue. His "dare devilry" appeared to be the source of considerable admiration in that part of the city and from all indications the speeder was "showing off."

His second arrest resulted in his remandment to a cell as a means of preventing further violations of the law during the remainder of the day. The two arrests made yesterday are his second and third offenses for this infraction and he has also been before the court for violating the bicycle ordinance.

A. L. CASE ALONE PASSED THE "EXAM"

Appointment of Two Applicants Who Failed Sought By Commissioner.

Arthur L. Case, of Lafayette place, was the only one who passed the State examination held recently for position on the steam engine and boiler operators licensing bureau, and accordingly was appointed a member of that board by Commissioner Lewis T. Bryant, of the department of labor. William Weir, of Newark and W. S. Price, of Atlantic City, took the same examination, but their averages were considerably below the usual passing mark.

Now Commissioner Bryant is endeavoring to have the Civil Service Commission reconsider its action in rejecting Mr. Weir and Mr. Price on the grounds that both are efficient and qualified for the position. Mr. Price is engineer at Haddon Hall, Atlantic City, where he has been for eighteen years. Mr. Weir occupies a similar position in the establishment of L. S. Plant & Co., in Newark.

In taking the civil service examination each of the three appointees was required to formulate five questions which might be given in an examination of candidates for engineers and boiler operators' licenses and to answer fifteen questions thus prepared.

BLOCKADED STREET.

Street Commissioner Andrew J. Gavett preferred charges against Johnston Brothers, contractors, in the city court this morning, alleging that this concern blockaded a portion of Richmond street where they are erecting a new house. Judge DeMeza instructed the defendant to remove the obstruction and with this understanding sentence was suspended.

DID NOT VISIT EUROPE.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Towner, of 118 East Seventh street, wish to deny the report that they have just returned from Europe, being pleased that they did not decide to cross the big pond this year. Instead they spent their vacation fishing in Northern Minnesota. During their sojourn West they caught a twenty-one pound muscallonge. Their trip also included a sail on the Great Lakes.

FAMILY RETURNS TO FIND HOUSE LOOTED

Rutherford Towner Home On East Seventh Street Ransacked By Burglars.

Sometime during the past two months, during which time the family has been absent from the city, burglars entered the home of Rutherford Towner, 118 East Seventh street, and ransacked the place from cellar to garret. Entrance was gained by prying open a window on the first floor and marks indicate that the work was done with the aid of a "jimmy." After finishing their job the intruders closed the blinds and this fact accounts for the robbery not having been discovered sooner.

It is the opinion of the police that the job was done at the time several other big hauls were made from this city, and the fact that the burglars have had so great a start makes their apprehension doubtful. Articles of value, including silverware and other household valuables were included in the list stolen, but the exact extent of the loot cannot be ascertained at the present time.

PLAINFIELDERS ARE SAFE IN NAPLES

Cheering News Received From Rev. Dr. Snodgrass In Charge of Tourist Party.

Through information contained in a cablegram received here today, it was learned that one of the Honeyman tourist parties, which is in charge of Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, formerly of Plainfield, but now of Paterson, is safe in Naples, Italy. Just when the tourists will be able to proceed is not known, but the fact that they are safe is a source of much satisfaction to relatives and friends here. The Plainfielders in the party include Mr. and Mrs. William M. Sandford, Jr., Miss Pauline Sandford and Miss Florence G. Burt.

Among the Plainfielders now reported to be in London are Miss Marie Adams, Mrs. William Brown, Miss Agnes Brown, Miss Clara J. Churton, Miss Ethel Colton and Mrs. E. H. Cory. Miss Helen Besler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Besler, of this city, is now thought to be in Paris, having gone abroad several weeks ago with a New York party of friends.

According to a story in a New York newspaper today, Robert W. DeForest, president of the Board of Trustees of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, accompanied by Mrs. DeForest, has arrived in London from Ghent. Their automobile was commanded by the Belgian authorities and they had just enough money to pay for their passage to England. They are the parents of Henry L. DeForest, of this city, who with Mrs. DeForest, their two children, Miss Ina Rudd and Miss Dorothy Leal, are in Munich, but the latest cable says that the parents are anxiously awaiting news from their son and his family, they evidently not hearing of their safe arrival in Munich. No further word has been received today from any of the other Plainfielders abroad.

Henry Haurand is watching the progress of the war with great interest for he has a brother who is captain of one of the German companies of infantry supposed to have been engaged in the fight at Liege. Former Councilman Fred Endress also has relatives in the German army.

Mrs. John J. Coard, formerly of Plainfield, has been a resident of Berlin for several years, living there with her daughter. Another daughther, Mrs. Harry Johnson, of this city, has received no word recently from her mother.

COUNIHAN WILL MANAGE THEATRE

Proctor & Sanderson to Give Up Second St. House At Expiration of Lease.

RETURN TO VAUDEVILLE

This Popular Form of Entertainment Will Be Staged On a Large Scale—Many Innovations and Pleasing Features to Be Introduced.

Announcement was made this afternoon, by Harry S. Sanderson, of the firm of Proctor & Sanderson, that the Plainfield Theatre will be turned over to William Counihan at the expiration of the lease now being held. A five years' option will be concluded August 15 and although Proctor & Sanderson have the privilege of another contract for a similar length of time, they have decided to give up this project. Concentration will be the keynote of the policy under which the popular motion picture and vaudeville house on West Front street will be conducted in the future and many pleasing innovations are pending.

The Front street house will continue under Mr. Sanderson's management and will be devoted to vaudeville and motion pictures. Some time ago the bi-weekly vaudeville bill was abandoned and since then pictures have comprised the entire program. There has been a great demand locally for a return to vaudeville and it is with a view to meeting this requirement that Mr. Sanderson had definitely decided on the change. No date has been set as yet for the re-introduction of this entertainment, but a tentative program, including many of the larger metropolitan vaudeville stage hits, is being compiled by the manager and his assistant.

The company's connection with the largest booking agency in the United States, the United Booking office, and Mr. Proctor's own vast organization of booking facilities enables this company to present attractions that will probably not be surpassed. Some alterations have been arranged for in the theatre and due announcement will be made of innovations and changes.

In speaking of the abandonment of the West Second street house and the return to vaudeville in the Front street house, Mr. Sanderson said: "The Proctor house is by far the more valuable of the two to us and we take this step in order to make it possible for us to give out entire time and effort to the promotion of the best entertainment in our theatre. There is keen competition in the motion picture and vaudeville business and careful thought and consideration is required. The return to vaudeville will be introduced on a large scale."

Mr .Counihan is well known in this city, having managed the Plainfield Theatre for several years prior to the acquirement of the lease by Proctor & Sanderson. All of the bookings thus far arranged by Mr. Sanderson will be turned over to Mr. Counihan in the fall and extensive improvements will also be made in this theatre.

100 MEN PICKED FOR NIGHT GANG

Levgar Structural Iron Works Finds It Necessary to Increase Force.

The management of the Levgar Structural Iron Works today employed one hundred additional men who will comprise the night force which begins work tonight for the first. The large number of orders received by the concern recently for heavy iron work has made this step necessary. When it became known that the company intended to put on a night gang there were many applications received for positions. More than four hundred men appeared at the works this morning, seeking employment, and from that number one hundred were chosen, mostly Dunellen men.

It is reported that the company has enough orders on hand to keep the plant going day and night for an indefinite period, and this is certainly good news to the many men employed by the concern.

BORO IMPROVEMENTS.

The streets of the borough are undergoing, at present, extensive repairs. The work of regrading and macadamizing Somerset place has been completed. The re-setting of crosswalks are engaging the attention of the street department this week.

DECISIVE BATTLE PENDING AT LIEGE; GERMANS THREATEN TO SHOOT 17 BELGIAN PRISONERS

Have Taken Bishop of Liege and Others and Will Kill Them Unless Belgians Stop Firing--Germans Arrest Grand Duchess of Luxemberg, But Later Release Her--Neutrality of Italy Believed to Have Been Declared -- Dead Bodies Clog the River Meuse--Bavaria Enters Strong Protest.

Amsterdam, Aug. 10 (Central News Cable)—Everything points to the fact that a great and decisive battle between the united French and Belgian forces and the German invading army is likely to take place in the neighborhood of Liege either today or tomorrow. Authentic reports received here state that the defending forces are full of enthusiasm and confidence whereas the German troops are considerably exhausted by their terrific attack on Liege.

It is stated that a large proportion of the German forces has been constantly under arms for nearly three days and that the men are suffering terribly through lack of food and sleep.

Confirmation of the fact that the German forces under General Van Emmich have occupied Liege is contained in the announcement that the Germans have placed under arrest seventeen Belgian notables, including the Bishop of Liege and have declared their intention of shooting them if the forts which still remain in Belgian hands continue to fire on the German positions.

London, Aug. 10.—(Central News Cable.)—It was announced at the Belgian legation here this morning that up to the present everything is all right at Liege. The forts, the legation said, were still holding out. It is officially announced that Switzerland has been declared in a state of siege.

Premier Asquith officially announced in the House of Commons, this evening, that no declaration of war has been made by Austria-Hungary against Great Britain.

The Stock Exchange committee resumed meetings today and discussed the question of re-opening the board. Opinion was divided as to the desirability of an immediate resumption. The recovery from the shock of the declaration of war is progressing in the financial district. There is a larger number of bill buyers and bill sellers in evidence and the banks are facilitating bill operations, having reference to commodity shipments.

Paris, Aug. 10.—(Central News Cable.)—An official statement made today says that the French losses at Altkirch were less than a hundred altogether.

President Poincare has decreed that a military medal be presented to King Albert, of Belgium, for the conspicuous valour of his troops during the siege of Liege.

German troops are attempting to inundate the Seille valley south of Metz.

A French aeroplane, which had been reconnoitering over the German position, reached the ground again at Belfort in Eastern France, riddled with bullets, but the aviator escaped with slight wounds.

Brussels, Aug. 10.—(Central News Cable.)—It is reported here that following the capture and occupation of Luxemberg, the general in command of the German forces, placed the young Grand Duchess, Marie Adelaide, the ruler of the Grand Duchy, under arrest.

In consequence of her vigorous and persistent protests against what she characterized as Germanys' gross and scandalous violation of treaty rights, the Grand Duchess was later set at liberty.

The newspaper "Vingtiomo Siecle" asserts that the Bavarian government sent to the Kaiser a strongly worded protest against Germany embarking on war on the ground that the reduction of Servia is not of vital interest to Austria and that there existed no cause calling for the interference of Germany.

Rome, Aug. 10 (Central News Cable)—A despatch recorded here today from Basle, Switzerland, states that the French has occupied Kolmar, a town of considerable importance lying about twenty miles to the north of Mulhausen on the direct road to Strasburg. It has a population of 37,000, and is noted for its tanneries and its textile manufacturing.

A Basle despatch to the Tribuna states that the Germans have shot Madame Favre on the ground that she was caught in the act of attempting to blow up a bridge near Leopoldohe, with the object of embarrassing the German troops.

Maestricht, Holland, Aug. 10.—Hundreds of dead bodies of Belgian and German soldiers are constantly floating down the River Neuse from Liege. The bodies are being brought ashore by boatmen for burial.

Vienna, Aug. 10.—(Central News Cable.)—A force of Montenegrins has bombarded a town situated on the Gulf of Cattaro in Dalmatia Austria with unknown results.

A rigid quarantine against cholera has been established here by the Government. The disease is said to be prevalent among Austrian and Servian troops.

Belgrade, via. London, Aug. 10.—(Central News Cable.)—Your correspondent has just inspected the deserted capital of Servia, which for eight hours Wednesday underwent a terrific bombardment by the Austrian attacking force. While the city itself was little damaged, the forts suffered considerably. The British legation was damaged by Austrian shells. The Servians claim that their losses during the fighting were insignificant.

The Hague, Aug. 10.—The American Minister to the Netherlands, Henry Van Dyke, indignantly repudiates the report that his son has volunteered for service in the German army.

Washington, Aug. 10—A number of belated messages from Berlin and Vienna, last night, and today poured into the State Department, as the result of the re-establishment of communication with the German capitol. All last night the translaters worked to put the code despatches into plain English for the scrutiny of Secretary of State Bryan. Much of the matter, it was said, was old and already had reached the department through other sources, but the officials refused to make known the nature of the remaining despatches until they had time to examine them carefully.

Representation has been made by Ambassador Herrick to Germany for the release of Archer M. Huntington and his wife. Confirmation of the report of their arrest and detention at the Grande Hotel at Neuremburg reached Ambassador Herrick through Rome.

Official notification of the neutrality of Italy is believed to have reached the State Department, but Secretary Bryan today said he was not positive that such was the case. It is understood that Italy has clearly defined her position, rejecting her obligations to the Triple Alliance on the Ground that Germany and Austria are concerned in an aggressive war.

If Italy is invaded by Austrian troops, which appears more than likely, the invasion will be resisted by force of arms, according to a reported statement to the President.

The German cruiser Karlsrhue, which will finish coaling at San Juan, Porto Rico, today, is being carefully watched by the officials of the United States government for fear that it will move South from there and precipitate warfare in West Indian waters. It has been allowed to load only enough coal to get it to Bremen, the nearest German port.

The battleship Maine, now in European waters, was ordered today to remain there until further orders in

The convention will be in session at the Breslin for three days, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. On Friday, the members of the association will be taken by special train to Duke's Park, where they will spend the day. Saturday will be spent at Asbury Park. On account of the railroads of this country and Canada deeming it wise, owing to the present business depression caused by the European war, including even at this season of the year, a good many gardeners, Mr. Vail expressed the fear on Saturday evening that the members of the association, who still have employment, will find it difficult on account of the extra work thus imposed, to attend the convention and he looks for the smallest attendance in years.

TRADE CONDITIONS AFFECTED.

The effects of the European war are commencing to be felt in this borough. Although the action of the Hall Printing Press Company in laying off half of its 250 employes on Friday was offset to a certain extent on Saturday by the news that the Levgar Structural Company had decided, commencing with this week, to employ a night force, the action of the Central Railroad in laying off a considerable number of its maintenance of way force and reducing the time of those to whom they still give employment by one day a week, has turned the tide the wrong way again. The action of the Central has thrown nineteen residents of the borough out of employment and reduced the time of a hundred or more one day a week. Owen Mohan's track gang was reduced from 30 to 15; the park force under Fowler W. Vail was reduced from 17 to 8, three of the nine men let go being Dunellenites; the force in the local freight house was reduced by one, and John Cope, of Fairview avenue, foreman of the painters, was obliged to let ten of his men go, none of whom, however, were residents of the borough. The action of the railroad was faced by the fact that the principal factories along its lines have either closed down entirely or are working on reduced time by reason of the fact that the European orders, that have not been cancelled, cannot be filled owing to the paralyzing of the shipping. When interviewed on Saturday evening as to how long he thought present conditions would continue, a prominent Dunellen railroad man said, "until a decisive naval battle has been fought and won by one side or the other, present conditions, in my judgment, cannot improve, but will rather grow worse."

George K. Post, of New Market road, was able to return to his duties in the city today after an illness of a week with lumbago.

Mrs. J. Newton Apgar and daughters, the Misses Ruth and Deveral, leave on Wednesday for a two days' stay at Atlantic City.

Miss Agnes Crook, of Flatbush, is spending a month as the guest of her sister, Mrs. H. G. Tuttle, of Greenbrook road.

Fortunately for Randolph the car was not going fast at the time and he got off with slight bruises about the face and limbs.

Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Tuttle, of Greenbrook road, tendered a harvest supper and dance to twenty of their friends on the grounds of their home, on Saturday evening. The guests arrived at 4 o'clock and spent the two hours before supper was served in wandering about the place and admiring the work of the Tuttle horticulturists. The dancing was commenced at 8 o'clock on the recently erected dancing pavilion and continued until 11:30. The pavilion was lighted with electric lights and Japanese lanterns. The music was furnished by a Victrola. Refreshments were served during the evening. Despite the high humidity a very pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

Paris, Aug. 10.—The victory at Alsace has roused all France. The people are exultant at the prospect of revenge after forty-four years of waiting, and the French army is on German sail on the anniversary of the battle of Wissembourg, the first big engagement of the Franco-Prussian war. Wissembourg, Frieschviller and Forbach, the French defeats of that first week of the last war with Germany ,are matched now with Liege, Altkirch and Muelhausen.

Frenchmen today already see the German empire tottering. That their military strategists have found the weak place in Germany's frontier defense seems certain. The French army has discovered the obscure valley of the River Ill, through which to attack the Kaiser's legions. The speed with which the French have attained their brilliant successes gives some indication that the famed organization and morale of the German army is already broken.

WAR NEWS IN BRIEF.

France.

The French army which is invading Alsace after capturing Altkirch and Muelhausen has advanced to Colmar, twenty-two miles beyond Muelhausen and forty miles from Strassburg, the Alsatian capital. Reports of the fighting of Altkirch indicate that the French routed the Germans there after a succession of bayonet charges and the Germans fled in disorder to Neu Brisach. The Belgian war office hears that the Germans lost 30,000 men and the French 15,000 in the fighting. Muelhausen was occupied without serious resistance, the Germans having abandoned the earthworks in front of the town. Clashes are reported between French and German cavalry in the Belgian province of Luxemburg.

Belgium.

The Germans have made a peaceful occupation of Liege, but the forts around the city are still holding out. The German attack upon the forts has been suspended. Threats have been made to the Liege inhabitants by the German commanders that they will mount cannon on the old citadel and bombard the civilian inhabitants if there is any revolt against their occupation of the city. German soldiers tell the citizens of Liege that they have been without food forty-eight hours, showing that the German commissariat has been badly handled.

It is reported that a large French army and the 22,000 British troops which landed in Belgium yesterday have joined the Belgians, but it is uncertain whether they will assist in the further defense of the forts of Liege or will prepare to resist the Germans at Namur, where the fortifications are much stronger than at Liege.

England.

The British admiralty announces an engagement in which a flotilla of German submarines attacked a British cruiser squadron, presumably in the North sea. None of the British ships was injured, the admiralty reports. One of the German submarines was sunk. News of British military movements are carefully guarded, but Paris hears that the transportation of British troops to the relief of Belgium continues.

Germany.

The German operations against Liege apparently have been suspended for the moment while a great German army is being concentrated in Alsace to repel the French invasion. The kaiser is on his way to the front.

Austria.

An Austrian force of 40,000 troops is reported to be nearing the French border just above Basel, Switzerland, to co-operate with the Germans against France, although Austria and France are not yet at war.

Abandon Liege Attack.

London, Aug. 10.—Germany is massing her main army above Basel, Switzerland, to strike with all her vast forces against a great French army advancing victoriously through Alsace and already seventy miles beyond the frontier. The movement is fraught with such importance that Emperor William has left Berlin for the front. The campaign against Liege has been suspended for the time being until this great battle, which may be fought at any hour, has been decided.

Austria is sending re-enforcements by the thousand and the total Austrian allied force may exceed 15,000. A Berne dispatch says that already 40,000 Austrian troops are concentrated near Basel. Forty-eight trains loads of troops from the Tyrol arrived at Leopoldshoehe, in Baden, northwest of Basel. Several other Austrian corps, 40,000 each, are being organized at Innsbruck to re-enforce the Germans.

The troops invading Alsace are believed to be the main French army directed by General Joseph Joffre. Advance detachments are reported at Kelmar, forty miles from Strassburg and a few miles west of Neu Brisach, where the repulsed Germans are reorganizing.

As Austria has not declared war on France, the French government has asked the Austrian ambassador to explain the dual monorchy's intention in mobilizing along the Swiss border.

The French advance began Friday night. Opposed at the small town of Altkirch the French in magnificent fashion carried the German field intrenchments at bayonet point. Both sides lost heavily.

Saturday the French occupied the great fortifications of Muelhausen, ten miles to the north. Since then they have been pushing toward Strassburg.

Paris, Aug. 10.—The German assault on Liege has been suspended for two days because of preparations for more momentous events. French and British troops have joined the Belgians there and the garrison has taken advantage of the respite to put 38,000 civilian laborers at work night and day throwing up intrenchments between the forts. The German forces are reported concentrating beyond Liege.

Another Waterloo.

London, Aug. 10.—For the moment attention is directed from Belgium to Alsace-Lorraine, which the French have invaded, driving the Germans back with heavy loss, and to Warsaw, the ancient capital of Poland, which, the state department at Washington reports, the Germans have entered like a lightning flash from a somber sky.

Long dispatches from Berlin reveal how seriously the Germans regarded the check in Belgium. In these telegrams Germany asserts she has captured Liege. The chancellor congratulated the emperor, the emperor congratulated Germany. Newspapers declared that the reports of German reverses were a pack of lies. This German report originated in Amsterdam, which said that the citadel of Liege had been captured by the Germans, but not all of the forts.

This news is not believed here, all the information from British sources being that the Belgians hold the victory, that a very large portion of the French army has been co-operating with the Belgians for a full forty-eight hours and that everything is ready in the cockpit of Europe for somebody's Waterloo.

All eyes continue to be focussed on Italy. Two days ago she was prepared to cast her lot with the allies. Germany and Austria descended on her with combined representations threatening a joint attack if Italy didn't declare war. The Italians may well ask, "War on whom?" since Austria has declined to assist German ships in the Mediterranean against the French and English and has only declared war on Russia. I have information that if the king and cabinet should decide to return to the triple alliance they couldn't take the Italian people along with them.

Rome for the next few hours will be the great field of the diplomatic stress and storm of Europe.

London is quiet and as calm as she ever was in history. There is absolutely no excitement, but of course great eagerness, especially for naval news. The kaiser has his ships seemingly well out of danger in the Baltic.

The Royal Automobile associations have offered 10,000 automobiles to the British government.

The question has been asked in the house of commons as to whether there is a sufficient number of censors to prevent delay in the transmission of news to friendly America.

Throughout Europe the hoarding of gold for war uses continues. In London the cry is, "Bank your gold and use money orders, ten shilling and one pound notes." France has decided to issue a sum total of legal paper money of $2,400,000,000 and compel its circulation. Russia has just authorized the issuance of 1,000,200,000 rubles above the amount permitted by the law of 1903.

SIMPLE SERVICES FOR MRS. WILSON

Thousands of Flowers Sent to White House By Friends of President's Wife.

Washington, Aug. 10.—Blossoms by the thousand almost inundated the White House today and the East room of the historic residence in which lay the body of the first lady of the land, was transformed into a bower. A corp of White House attendants under the direction of Secretary Tumulty, took charge of the floral pieces and early in the morning the last arrangements for the simple ceremony also had been completed.

Neither President Wilson nor his daughters were visible during the morning. They kept closely to their rooms until nearly noon, when they stole downstairs to take a last farewell of their dead before the funeral, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The President was the last to leave the East room, and the doors were closed in order that he might be alone in his grief.

Rev. Sylvester Beach, of Princeton, conducted the simple Presbyterian service, without music or singing. Rev. J. A. Laylor, of Washington, assisted the Princeton clergyman.

Prof. Stockton Axson, because of whose inability to reach Washington earlier, the funeral was delayed, arrived shortly after 10 o'clock. More than a score of other kinsfolk of the Wilson family also were in the capital, called here by a common sorrow. Aside from these, the cabinet members and a few personal friends of the President and Mrs. Wilson, none were present in the great East room when the last rites were spoken.

It was declared today that the same simplicity that marked the funeral services here will be observed in Rome, Ga., whither the body will be taken on a special train leaving here at 4:10 o'clock. The train will be met there by a hearse and carriages sufficient to transport the Presidential party, the Congressional committees and the other mourners to the shady cemetery, where the wife of the President of the United States will be laid.

Word has reached here that the progress of the funeral train will be marked by the tolling of church bells, one village or town taking up the mournful duty as the train speeds South. There will be no official demonstration when the funeral train arrives in Rome. This was assured at the urgent request of the White House authorities.

Besides the President, Miss Margaret Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Sayre, and Secretary and Mrs. W. G. McAdoo, those in the funeral party will be Prof. Stockton Axson, Mrs. Wilson's brother; J. R. Wilson, the President's brother; George Howe, the President's nephew; Secretary Tumulty and Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N. James Woodrow, a cousin of the President, will join the train at Spartansburg, S. C., and Miss Alethes S. Axson and Miss Carrie Bella Axson, cousins of Mrs. Wilson, at Atlanta.

Long before noon a respectful crowd had gathered around the big iron fence that abounds the White House grounds. The throng was increased as the government employes, many of whom knew Mrs. Wilson by sight and many of whom appreciated her kindly interest in their condition left their desks to pay their last tribute. Most of them were bareheaded and many of the women used their handkerchiefs from time to time.

The government departments were all closed at noon and the machinery of the government virtually came to a standstill for the rest of the day. The departments will close at noon again tomorrow, when the interment is taking place in Rome.

Many of the shops and stores likewise will put up their shutters during the funeral and flags all over the city fluttered at half mast.

Governor and Mrs. Fielder, of New Jersey, arrived from Trenton shortly before noon to attend the services. They will not accompany the funeral train South, but will return to the New Jersey capital tonight.

The fleet was proceeding at twenty knots an hour, with battle flags hoisted, and it is supposed the ships were searching for the German cruisers Goeben and Breslau.

WAR AND THE NEWSPAPERS.

In these war times, when the nation is eagerly seeking more news about the war, and the extras of the metropolitan newspapers are putting in an appearance every few minutes, those employed on the Daily Press and other newspapers, are frequently asked if the war is not welcomed from a profit standpoint. The general reading public has no idea of how far from welcome is a war, aside from a humanitarian standpoint. The general public has no idea of the extra cost and labor, even on the smaller dailies such as those in Plainfield, of recording such a stupendous and horrible event as the European war.

The Editor and Publisher, a trade paper, calls attention to the fact that the popular idea is that the increased circulation due to the important news makes newspaper publishers rapidly rich, when the contrary is really the case. It takes a lot of money to pay cable tolls alone, and the getting out of extras is never profitable. Expenses increase out of all proportion to return from sales or advertising, but the people want the latest news and papers must give it, and they cannot increase their subscription price, even for the single issues sold by the boys on the streets.

The real strain, in small offices like those in cities the size of Plainfield, comes upon the editorial staff. Vacations have been suspended, everyone is driven by the additional duties in keeping up to schedule, and it is even necessary to overlap into the business office and other departments in order to properly gather together the news for a systematic presentation of the occurrances of each day, not only during the hours preceding publication, but in order to intelligently answer telephone queries until late in the evening.

There is one other feature which makes the work difficult. On the big daily newspapers, with their scores of editors and reporters, it is usually possible to find members of the staff who are familiar with the language of the various nations which are struggling. But with the smaller papers, it is different. As an exchange says, "just think of being compelled to handle copy with the mercury at 100 in the shade, full of names like Herzegovina, Salonoff, Soukhomlinoff, Lazarovich, Kronprinzessin, Hrebelianovich and Radimor Putnik."

No, the war is not welcomed by the newspapers. Not only are the men who publish them peace loving citizens when their own country is concerned, but they breathe sighs of deep regret at the thought of all Europe struggling.

One of the best things which the Board of Freeholders has ever done was to reduce the salary of the members of the County Board of Elections from $800 a year to $400, and to reduce that of the clerk from $800 to $100. This body met about six times a year, which would make the rate paid $133 a meeting, which is going some. $200 would be ample pay for the work done, and there are undoubtedly plenty of upright public spirited citizens who would serve on the board fully as satisfactorily as those now doing the work, without recompense. When one sees the names of the men acting as members of the boards of managers of the various State institutions, without pay of any kind other than traveling expenses, and giving four or five times the time required for the election board work, it is hard to conceive how the freeholders figure that the job is worth $400, or a quarter of the sum. But then, of course, it takes care of political henchmen.

Congressman Tuttle, of this district, is one of the five representatives from New Jersey who have demanded that an amendment to the postoffice bill be killed, which was said to be a direct slap at civil service. It will, if passed, take assistant postmasters, clerks and all postal employes, irrespective of any Civil Service law, out of the protected class, and make it possible to make complete changes every four years, in case the politics of the postmaster changes. In this enlightened age, when an effort is being made to improve the public service, it is hard to believe that in their desire to get office for henchmen, any political party would go as far as this, and we congratulate the Fifth District representative for his stand on the matter.

MANY ATTRACTED TO CONFERENCE

Christian Workers Gather In Large Numbers at Northfield.

The beginning of the second week of the General Conference for Christian Workers, at Northfield, finds the conference in full swing and with its usual crowds. Every day last week new visitors arrived and still more are expected for the second week. The list of speakers is as usual, made up of about equally of specially invited prominent English divines and leaders of religious thought and work from this country. President M. R. Moody, son of Dwight L. Moody, presides at all meetings. In the afternoon many are taking advantage of the varied opportunities of out-door sports of all kinds including boating, bathing, tennis, and golf on the new 9-hole golf links of The Northfield Hotel. Baseball teams are being organized and a series of games is planned.

On Sunday the principal speakers were Dr. F. B. Myer, whose power over his audiences seems if anything to increase with each of his visits to Northfield, and Prof. J. Hope Moulton of Victoria University, Manchester, England, and son of Dr. James Moulton, famous as one of the committee which prepared the Revised Version of the Bible. Looking ahead it is seen that some of the strongest speakers of the conference will be heard during the second week. Among these are Rev. Robert F. Y. Pierce, of Plainfield, N. J., famous as a blackboard illustrator of Bible lessons. Rev. Charles Inglis, author of "Bible Themes for Busy Workers," Rev. J. R. Davies, of the Bethlehem Presbyterian church of Philadelphia, and the Rev. John Thomas Liverpool, Eng. Dr. Thomas who stands out as one of those who has made a lasting impression on Northfield audiences in previous years will also remain after the close of the conference, and conduct a series of Bible studies and addresses which he calls "The Four Great Christian Foundations." Many visitors who have not been attending the conference as well as a number who are already here are expected for this series of Bible lessons. John La Matty, superintendent of the Plainfield Rescue Mission is in attendance.

DECLINES THIRD TIME TO BE CANDIDATE FOR NEW CHARGE

Rev. George H. Donovan, well known here, and now pastor of the Reformed church, Rocky Hill, declined an invitation to preach yesterday in the Reformed church, New Hackensack, N. Y., as a candidate for that charge. The invitation was extended by the consistorial committee of the New York church, which is seeking a pastor.

This is the third invitation of like nature which has been extended to Mr. Donovan since beginning his ministerial career in June, 1910. All were declined. On his graduation from New Brunswick Seminary four years ago he went direct to his present charge. Previous to entering the ministry he was engaged in newspaper work.

An endorsement by Spanish War Veterans of ex-Congressman Charles N. Fowler, candidate for the Republican Congressional nomination, appeared in the Dover Advance a few days ago. It was headed, "Why We Are Going to Vote for Fowler," and was signed by Captain Andrew B. Byram, ordnance officer, and Private J. Leo Baker, Company G, First New Jersey Volunteers. It read as follows:

"We, the undersigned, former members of the First New Jersey Volunteers (Spanish-American War), take extreme pleasure in telling the Republican voters of Morris county why we are going to vote for the Hon. Charles N. Fowler at the Republican primaries on September 23.

"The First Regiment Volunteers of New Jersey went into camp at Alger, Va., on the fifteenth of May, 1898, with 1,400 officers and men, in the latter part of June. After we had been eating pork, beans and hardtack for three times a day for about three weeks, Congressman Fowler visited our regiment and found that typhoid and other sickness was breaking out all through the camps around us, as we had at that time thirty regiments stationed there. Realizing, as everyone did, that disease must certainly break out amongst us unless we had some change of diet, Mr. Fowler, at his own personal expense, sent to every man in the regiment a chicken, or 1,400 in all, and we had chicken in some form or other for the best part of a week, when the commissary department came to our relief.

"It is interesting and important to state that not a man, officer or private in the regiment came from Mr. Fowler's Congressional district. They were Jerseymen, and that was enough for him. He felt that it was necessary to break up the pork and beans and hardtack program to protect us from typhoid and other diseases that were spreading out around us.

"The members of the regiment have never forgotten his generosity, and whenever they have a chance to live in his district they will assist him in his campaign."

New York, Aug. 10—Miss Lucy Bigelow, the only daughter of the Hon. Mrs. Lionel Guest and a granddaughter of the late John Bigelow, will be wedded to Walter T. Rosen, of this city, tomorrow. The wedding, which is to be a quiet one, will take place in the village church at Ste. Anne de Bellevue. After the ceremony the bridal party will cross in boats to the Ile St. Gilles, the summer home of the Guests, which comprises twenty acres of wild and thickly wooded land, and which is near to the Trappist Monastry in the Lake of Two Mountains. Mr. and Mrs. Rosen will sail for Paris shortly after the wedding.

The "Alimony Club" that is restricted to men who have failed to pay alimony fixed by the courts and have thereby become deprived of their freedom temporarily, is soon to have a handsome clubroom and living quarters on the fifteenth floor of the new Essex Market Court Building. For many years the members have lived in the old Ludlow Street Jail and have enjoyed themselves as much as possible. But they often complained. No sheriff paid much attention to their complaints, but Sheriff Grifenhagen discovered that the site of the old jail could be sold for $250,000, and that it would be much cheaper to look after the members of the club in the new quarters.

The biggest suffrage auto procession this country has known is being arranged by the New York State Woman Suffrage Association, to be held in Rochester in October. The autos will come from all over the State. All of the twelve districts into which the State has been divided by the Suffragists will be represented, and there will be sixty cars from this city. The procession will be a feature of the State Woman Suffrage Convention, which will be held in Rochester in the week beginning October 12. This will close a two weeks' open-air suffrage revival all over the State, in which automobiles will play a prominent part.

The present week marks the twenty-fourth anniversary of the first execution by electricity in this State, and in this country. The first murderer electrocuted was William Kemmler, who passed through the "little green door" that leads from Sing Sing's death house to "the chair" on August 6, 1890. The law substituting electrocution for hanging was passed twenty-five years ago. Kemmler's attorneys fought it as "cruel and unusual punishment," and so unconstitutional, and for nearly two years saved the condemned man from his fate. In 1890 the law was upheld by the courts, and the doomed man was strapped into the death chair and thousands of volts of electricity sent through his body. Medical men declared the execution a complete success, but it was not until a number of years later that any of the other States followed the example of New York in adopting electrocution.

Mike, the mascot "fire dog" in the quarters of Engine Company 8, in East Fifty-first street, is the possessor of a special trolley pass on the Third Avenue Railroad which entitles him to ride on any car and at any hour of the day or night. The mascot uses his pass principally for visiting the homes of the members of the engine company for his meals, and occasionally for luxuries that he does not find at the firehouse. Mike never attempts to board a car when running to a fire, but races on ahead of the clattering horses and rattling engine when there is work to be done. Mike's street car pass is unlimited and will remain in effect so long as he continues on his good behavior. And as Mike is a high-bred Dalmation hound, bred in the Vanderbilt kennels on Long Island, his deportment and manners are regarded as the best to be found in dogdom. The original "dog pass," signed by the president of the railway company, is shown in a frame on the wall of the engine quarters, but an exact copy of it is reproduced in engraving on the brass collar of the mascot with his name.

Married men have been discharged and employment has been refused to married men since the Workmen's Compensation Act went into effect here a month ago by certain large employers, according to the complaints of the Workmen's Compensation Commission. The employers accused of following or threatening to follow this policy are those who, under the option allowed them by the law, have chosen to carry their own risks in the insurance of their employes. The compensation allowed a single man with no dependents in case of disability is smaller than that allowed a married man, and in the event of an unmarried man's death no annuity is necessary, as in the case of a man leaving a widow and other dependents.

John Kinney, a houseman at the Waldorf-Astoria, objected when he was ordered to sweep a sitting-room off his regular watch. True, the man who ought to have done it proved to be late only a few minutes, but Kinney was anxious to quit work, and it needed all the firmness the floor manager could exert to induce Kinney to take up the vacuum cleaner and go into the room. However, Kinney is now glad he did the extra work, and is willing to respond to another similar call. As his machine slid under the corner of the piano Kinney heard a metallic chink, at ano Kenney heard a metallic chink. At of order and bent over to find what was the matter. A $10 gold piece was being held by suction to the mouth of the cleaner. The coin was put away, to be kept for six months. If the owner does not establish a claim to it by the end of that time it will be given to Kinney.

With a dozen or her more intimate friends as companions, and six nurses and fifteen maids, Mrs. Isabella Lara, "South America's Hetty Green," has been making a brief sojourn in New York, on her way to Paris. Mrs. Lara is seventy-six years old. Her income is said to be $500 a minute. She made her money in Costa Rica real estate and farms. She allows no one but herself to manage her finances, and in her hands her fortune has mounted to many millions. For several years Mrs. Lara has been handicapped by failing eyesight, and has called upon specialists of South America to cure her, but without success. Within the last year her infirmity has grown worse, and as a last attempt she decided to consult some of the eminent French specialists.

TO HONOR SUBMARINE INVENTOR

Paterson, N. J., Aug. 10.—The Chamber of Commerce, of this city, has indorsed a project to raise the first submarine boat from beneath the river bed here, where it has lain for nearly fifteen years, and to place it on exhibition as a permanent memorial to the inventor, the late John Holland. While teaching school here in 1897 Holland tested his first submarine boat, sinking it in the Passaic river just above the Passaic Falls. The test was successful, but the original boat was left at the bottom of the river. Holland completed his invention at Elizabethport, N. J., and lived to see it adopted by the United States Navy.

WAR BOOSTS POSTAL SAVINGS

New York City Deposits Quadruple Daily During Last Week.

Washington, Aug. 10.—The European conflict has given a great impetus to the United States postal savings system, according to statements made by Postmaster General Burleson. Large numbers of wage earners of foreign birth are taking their savings to the postoffices, thus releasing enormous sums for commercial purposes when there is an urgent demand for every dollar. Many new accounts are being opened daily and the withdrawals, already below normal, have rapidly diminished.

During the last week in New York city the deposits quadrupled daily, while scores of other cities show surprising gains.

Greeks in the railroad construction gangs have asked to deposit $36,000 immediately in a small Illinois town.

German Losses Serious.

Paris, Aug. 10.—In an official statement issued by the war office it is asserted that the French losses were "not excessive" and that those of the Germans were "very serious" when the French army invading Alsace occupied Altkirch and Muelhausen. The estimate of the Belgian minister of war that the Germans lost 30,000 and the French 15,000 was based, it was said, on unofficial reports.

BOARD OF TRADE CLOSES.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—The Board of Trade will close at 1 p. m. today because of the funeral of Mrs. Wilson. The following statement was issued: "As a mark of respect and a token of deep sympathy for the President of the United States in the great loss he has sustained, the Board of Trade of the city of Chicago will adjourn at 1 p. m. today."

NICARAGUAN TREATY.

Washington, Aug. 10.—The proposed treaty between the United States and Nicaragua has been transmitted by the President to the Senate and may be taken up for consideration by the foreign relations committee Wednesday.

CHOSEN DELEGATES TO BIG CONVENTION

Samuel Rothberg and Harry Felter Will Represent N. J. at Y. M. H. A. Gathering.

The regular business session of the State executive council of the Y. M. H. A. was held yesterday, at Paterson, the local organization being represented by Samuel Rothberg and Abe Schwartz. Among the important features of the meeting was the election of the Passaic Y. M. H. A. to membership in the State organization, this being the twenty-fourth body to become associated with the State Federation. Samuel Rothberg, of this city, together with Harry Felter and Dr. B. Feltman, were appointed as delegates to attend the Pennsylvania State convention to be held August 23, 24 and 25.

The plans for the annual convention of the New Jersey State Association were discussed at length, and it was decided to meet at Trenton, September 27. The committee from the Trenton body indicated that plans for this convention were well under way. The next meeting of the executive committee will be held at Trenton, the date to be announced later.

The possibility of chartering a special car from New York to the San Francisco exposition late in July or early in August of 1915 was discussed at length, and a special committee was appointed to take charge of the matter. After the formal session of the gathering had been completed, the Y. W. H. A. entertained the delegates to a social hour, and an informal good time was held.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Holy communion was celebrated at Hope chapel last evening, at which time one new member was received on confession of faith.

The Hope Chapel Society, of Hope chapel, will have charge of the service at the Fresh Air Home tomorrow evening.

The Sunday services at the Congregational church during the remainder of the month are to be omitted.

The pulpit supplies of the local churches for next Sunday have been announced as follows: First Baptist church, Rev. William T. Dorwood, of Milwaukee; Park Avenue Baptist church, Rev. C. M. WARREN CHAPEL EXCURSION.

The annual excursion of Warren chapel to Asbury Park on Thursday, which will be the last of the season promises to be one of the largest. The committee in charge has engaged a number of coaches in anticipation of a record-breaking turn out of excursionists. The bathing season is now at its height and all the shore attractions are in full swing. The excursionists will leave here at 8:15 o'clock in the morning and returning from the shore will leave at 6:10 o'clock, stops being made at Netherwood going and coming.

MARKET IS IMPROVED.

Cleveland, Aug. 10.—The war caused quite a mixup in movement of export grain in the Lake trade the last week, but a number of tangles were straightened out during the last two days and the market is in better shape. It will probably be late in the month before the demand for tonnage is active. Chicago shippers cannot take care of all the tonnage chartered ahead and a number of contract boats could not get cargoes.

VICTIM COMFORTABLE.

Mrs. J. B. Scass, of Leland avenue, who took seven and three-tenths grains of bicholoride of mercury by mistake Thursday night, was reported as resting comfortably in Muhlenberg Hospital today. The woman suffered headaches and took the deadly poison from a bottle supposed to contain headache tablets. Her recovery is still a matter of grave doubt.

TO SELL COTTON.

Liverpool, Aug. 10.—The directors of the Cotton Association today decided that as financial conditions have improved cotton may be sold with the usual ten days allowed for payment, but, if any buyer is overdue with an earlier payment, he must provide a bank guarantee for the new business.

RESERVE BOARD ORGANIZATION

Washington, Aug. 10.—It was announced that the new Federal Reserve Board would organize formally next Thursday at 3 p. m., and at once plunge into the work cut out for it.

IN THE SPORTING SPOTLIGHT

IT TAKES A SUPERHUMAN BEING TO ESCORT A WOMAN TO A BALL GAME

A sage has declared that it takes a man with the wisdom of Solomon, the strength of Samson, the heart of a lion and the patience of a camel to escort a young woman to a ball game and sit through the full number of innings explaining the rules under which the game is played and the various situations as the develop on the field before them.

When the sage voiced his sentiments the time apparently had not arrived when women and young girls were sufficiently interested in the great national game to attend exhibitions and study the fine points, as they do at present. It is apparent even to those who attend ball games infrequently that more women are becoming interested in baseball and are showing a disposition to learn as much about the game as their male friends. No matter which section of the grandstand you visit in an effort to obtain a choice seat you behold women there before you, and it is no longer a novelty to overhear young women conversing on baseball with all the facts at their disposal which they gleaned through their perusal of the box scores and other baseball "dope."

While no one can deny the rapid advances made by the gentle sex during the last decade, one fact stands out in bold relief, and that is that someone had to teach the game to these young women and in the majority of cases their escorts were the persons who accomplished this task. Therefore, while many of the gentle sex already possess sufficient knowledge of the national game to attend exhibitions and really understand what they are looking at, there still remains vast numbers of fair maidens as yet unschooled in the rudiments of the game that Christy Mathewson, Hans Wagner and Ty Cobb made famous.

Although the conditions of affairs is deplorable, it is indeed very gratifying to know that hundreds of budding citizens are sacrificing the best part of their lives to escort these unsophisticated young women to the Polo Grounds and teach them the fundamentals of the game. When they learn the fundamentals the rest is easy.

Apropos of the woman who cannot tell the difference between a ball or strike, the young man who essays to take her and teach her must possess all the requirements mentioned by the sage—and then some. Also he should receive a Carnegie medal for his labor, and his name should be enrolled in the hall of fame.

To appreciate fully the difficulties which beset the young man who escorts to the ball grounds a maiden who does not possess the slightest idea of the principles of the game, it is but necessary to obtain a seat in front or behind the pair and listen to the conversation that goes on between them.

In the first place she declares on seeing the players batting numerous baseballs around the field in batting practice that it must be difficult to keep your eye on so many baseballs at the same time. She declares that watching so many baseballs flying around is just about as difficult as trying to watch the proceedings of a three-ring circus. And of course, everybody knows that that is a physical impossibility. "Yet," she says, "it wouldn't be so hard if all the baseballs were white, but some of them are dirty and should be cleaned with gasoline, the same as white gloves are."

Her courageous escort finds it difficult to make her understand that the batting is merely a preliminary to the game and the players are simply limbering up so they will be in condition when the game begins.

"Yes, that's all right," she declares emphatically, "but if they continue to exert themselves like that they will be all tired out when the game begins. Aren't they foolish?"

When the game begins she seems to be very much interested in watching the pitcher and catcher. Incidentally when the starting bell sounds she asks if the stands are fireproof, because, as she explains, she jut heard what she thought was a fire gong and she did not wish to get caught in the stands in a fire with such a mob in them. She overlooked the important fact that the stands are constructed of concrete and cannot burn.

However, she was interested in the pitcher and catcher.

"It strikes me as awfully funny to see such a mixture of uniforms on the field," she declared. "For instance, the other men on the team all have baseball uniforms, while the catcher, as you call him, has on a football uniform with a mask over his face, so they cannot kick him. I never supposed that baseball was such a rough game. It seems that all games are rough nowadays.

"What has he that pad around his chest for? So they cannot knock the wind out of him when they tackle and throw him? Oh! That's a chest protector? Well, it hardly seems possible that such a big, husky man as he would catch cold a day like today. He must be frightfully susceptible.

"Oh goodness! Look at that thrower. Oh, you call him the pitcher? Excuse me. What is the trouble; has he suddenly gone insane? Never in my life have I noticed a man throw his arms around like that fellow. If he doesn't stop swinging his arm around in a circle it will snap off him.

"Why doesn't he throw the ball and be done with it? What is the sense of his trying to make the ball dizzy by turning it around his head that way? The ball's inanimate.

"Good heavens! I never saw him throw that ball. Now, isn't that ridiculous! As long as he threw the ball at that catcher, why didn't that misguided person at the bat permit the catcher to get it without swinging that club at it and knocking it out in the field in that way? Some persons never seem to realize when they are butting in. That was an awfully smart piece of work.

"What's he running for? Is the catcher going to chase him off the field, for not permitting him to catch the ball, or is he chasing that young fellow away out there on the lawn who seems to be running off the field toward that house, which I believe you informed me was the clubhouse? I failed to notice that young fellow out there give that fellow with the club any provocation for chasing him in that way. Some men have to bully other persons because they are larger and stronger.

"Who's that officious-looking person out there in the field? Now he's running after the man in uniform who just threw down the club he hit the ball with. Is he a policeman? I hope there isn't any trouble here today. I imagined that these ball games were all peaceful, but on consideration I do remember my brother telling me that sometimes the spectators and players get infuriated at the referee and kill him. Is that so? Oh, beg your pardon, the umpire.

"Well, that certainly was a deplorable piece of work. Did you see what happened? That fellow who threw down the club was running toward that pillow out there in the middle of the field when somebody out on the lawn threw the ball to another man on the dirt part of the field near the pillow. The young fellow who had been running tripped and fell with his hand stretched forward. Then the fellow with the ball made a dive at him and struck him violently on the back with the hard ball. It must have hurt.

"Now he's walking up the field. I don't blame him for quitting. I'd do the same myself if they struck me."

DENNY VS. DENNY, HIGHLANDERS WIN

Netherwood Aggregation Best the Canadians On Hyde Oval By a Score of 3 to 1.

The Canadian A. C. baseball team suffered its first defeat of the season at the hands of the Highlanders, Saturday afternoon, when they lost a fine game to the Netherwood aggregation on Hyde Oval, by the score of 3 to 1. The boroughites showed lack of practice and booted the ball around the lot seven times, all of which proved disastrous at the plate. The visitors were only guilty of four misplays and gave Denny good support in tight places. Dan Denny was on the firing line for the home team and only allowed four safeties as did his opponent.

The Canucks were weak with the stick throughout the game and only one man saw first base until the fifth inning. The Highlanders used the willow to good advantage in the early part of the game and scored once in the first inning. Kyle singled and went home on two errors. The other two runs came in the third when with two on, two wild throws gave the visitors the game, Young, a catcher that Taylor imported from Westfield, threw to Bailey at third to catch a man napping and the ball went over his head. Dunning backed up Bailey and in an effort to get the man at the plate threw wild and both men scored. This ended the scoring of the visitors.

The lone tally of the Canadians came in the fifth, when Dunning made first on an error by the shortstop and went to third on a passed ball. Jimmie Weaver, another imported player, who comes from a foreign country, Rutherford, because of the war, was "Johnny on the spot" and hit over second base. The baseman touched the ball, but could not hold it and one run was scored. The home batters did not hit safely until the seventh inning and then made four hits in three frames. Two of these came in the ninth.

BAPTISTS HIT IN EIGHTH AND WIN

Independents Defeated After Tying Score In the Eighth Frame By Timely Hitting.

The First Baptist baseball team won another game at the expense of the Independents, Saturday afternoon, on the West End avenue field, the final score being 6 to 4. Both teams played good ball and the scoring was nip and tuck until the eighth inning, when the Baptists clinched the battle by scoring two runs. Mills pitched a steady game and was given good support, and Terry also had something on the ball. Waller, playing center field for the church team, proved himself a hero by smashing out two hits that scored the last four runs for his team and practically won the game.

The Independents were first to bat and they scored two runs for a starter. Smith drew a pass as a lead-off, and M. Terry singled. Both romped home on Compton's single to center. Compton was doubled up on second when Fountain nabbed J. Terry's fly. The homesters also scored twice in the opener, and neither side scored again until the sixth. The Baptists took the lead in this frame when Barnes and Downs both singled. Waller then came in for a hand when he doubled and both runners scored. In the first half of the eighth the visitors tied things up on a pass, an error and a sacrifice. Pierson and Downs were on the bases in the last half of the eighth with one down and Waller again won the game with a single which scored both runners. Only three men faced Mills in the ninth. The winners hit safely eight times and the Independents seven. Savidge, Barnes, Downs and Waller each were credited with two hits.

LOCAL TWIRLERS WIN AND LOSE IN METROPOLIS

Warry McLaughlin, pitching for the Trentons, in New York, yesterday, lost a hard game to the Lincoln Giants, by the score of 5 to 2. Both teams were guilty of many errors, there being nine accounted for in all. Warry struck out six and passed three during the game, and also had ten assists and one error to his credit. The Trentons took the lead in the first inning, but the Giants soon found the local pitcher and pounded him for eleven safeties.

Ernie Lindermann, who pitched a number of times for the Pets when they were fighting for the Central New Jersey League pennant, now pitches for the Suburban team, and yesterday won his own game in the ninth when he hit safely for the fifth time and sent in two runs that won the game. Lindermann was the whole show, and besides his excellent batting he pitched a fine game, striking out ten batters and passing only three. He was given poor support in the pinches and two errors in succession almost lost the game. The former local player made two of his teams four runs and hit safely each time he batted. He was credited with one assist. When Lindermann hit in the ninth there were two on and two out and was what the spectators call a hair-raising finish.

NEWARK AND ELIZABETH POLICE AT IT AGAIN

Members of the Newark Police baseball team will go to Elizabeth this afternoon and meet the Betseytown coppers in the second game of a series, the first contest having been won by the Newarkers two weeks ago in Newark by a score of 1 to 0, and the Elizabeths will be out for revenge.

Judging by the ability shown by the Union county guardians of the peace in the first game, when Newark's "finest" got only one hit, it appears that they will be able to put up a stiff argument on their home grounds. Jack Leary and Phil Langheld will form the Newark battery, while Brennan and Kilmett will probably work for Elizabeth.

BRITISH TENNIS TEAM SAILS FOR ENGLAND

Boston, Aug. 10—Three members of the English Davis Cup tennis team, which lost to Australasia at Longwood last week, sailed Saturday night on board the steamship Franconia of the Cunard line for Queenstown and Liverpool, it became known today

The party consisted of J. C. Parke, A. H. Lowe and T. M. Mavrogordato. The fourth member of the team, Lieutenant Kingscote, sailed a few days ago on the St. Paul to join his regiment.

The departure of the other members was somewhat unexpected, as they had been entered in various tournaments in this vicinity.

DEALAMAN-WICKHAM DUO ARE PROBABLE WINNERS

The last matches of the bowling tournament, that has been in progress in the Presbyterian alleys, at Dunellen, will be played tomorrow night when three of the teams will fight for honors. The tournament has been a success throughout and all of the eleven teams that have been playing have made good showings and the race has been close from the start. Several of the women that have participated in these events have showed remarkable talent in knocking over the pins and some excellent scores have been made.

This is the first year that this feature has been held in Dunellen and it has proven so popular that the same will probably be held next year with added features. The schedule has been twenty games for each of the teams entered and the present leaders have a very good standing having won thirteen games and lost three. This team plays tomorrow night and stand a fine chance of coming out a winner.

HACKETTSTOWN LOSES TO WASHINGTON BALLISTS

Washington, Aug. 10—Washington surprised Hackettstown, the league leader, by falling upon "Doc" Scanlon for six runs in the first inning and winning the game from them here, Saturday, by 6 runs to 2.

The locals collected four hits in the opening session, two of which were good for three sacks, the triple men being Fitzhenry and McGarry. Two errors and a pair of sacrifice flies helped in piling up the six runs. Scanlon tightened up after the explosion of hits in the first inning and pitched well, but he lacked the support of timely hitting. McGarry, in addition to masterful box work, scratched two hits.

HIGHLANDERS FALL BEFORE LAURELS' CRACK COMBINATION

The Highlander A. C. baseball team, of Netherwood, met defeat at the hands of the strong Laurel aggregation on the former's diamond, yesterday afternoon, by the score of 2 to 1. With Conshay and Mullin as a battery the Highlanders had no show and the batting of this pair aided the team to win.

The Laurels scored in the second inning and both teams scored in the fifth. Conshay was supreme at all times and only allowed five hits. Denny allowed eight hits, two of which went for extra bases. Both teams made one error. The score:

VISITORS ALMOST WIN FROM PETS

New Brunswick Batters Start Things In the Ninth, But Fall One Run Short.

A ninth inning rally by the New Brunswick team on Parker Field, Saturday afternoon, almost proved fatal to the Plainfield Pets, and they barely survived a one run lead, the final score being 4 to 3. There were errors galore on both sides and the best players on both teams were guilty of bad miscues. The visiting batters outhit the locals eight hits to five, but a fine double play cut off runs that would have won the game.

The double play came in the second inning, when the bases were filled with one down. Giddes and Nelson caught a man between third and home and after retiring him another was caught napping between second and third on the same play. Plainfield's first run came in the first inning and they also scored one in the fourth and two in the fifth. The visitors were held scoreless for five innings and then they broke into the scoring department with a single tally. They started a batting rally in the ninth which was helped by a bad error and they almost tied matters up. The first man flied out to Dorman, but the second man hit through short. Townley passed the third batter and hit the fourth, filling the bases. Then came a timely single and two runs crossed the plate. The other two men were put out before home was reached again.

Dixon made two doubles and Mullin one. Towney struck out nine men men and passed one, while Townley fanned four and passed three.

LOCAL ANGLERS FIND FISH PLENTIFUL OFF KEYPORT

James Ennis and George Summers spent yesterday fishing at the banks off Keport in the vicinity of the monument, bagging a big mess of the finny tribe. The day's sport netted the local anglers sixty two weakfish, one eel and one bluefish.

The catches were all good sized and furnished some good sport for the fishermen. They left Keyport in a rowboat in the morning, spending the day on the water and returning with their catch at night.

SEVERAL MORE GAMES FOR LOCAL COPPERS TO PLAY

The local cops baseball team will occupy Parker Field next Thursday afternoon when they will play the All-Stars from the borough. This team will be composed of High School players and a good game is expected. The bluecoats are figuring on a big crowd as Thursday is a half holiday in this city and fans will get a chance to see a good game.

Connie McCarthy has been elected advertising manager by the association and has already started his work. Next Wednesday the locals will have their hands full when they go to Newark to tackle the cops of that place. That team is composed of fast men and are about the best in the State. The day after the locals will meet the Plainfield firemen on Parker Field.

P. M. C. SPARKS

Ed. Gowdy had to discard his motor pet at Matawan yesterday while enroute to the Atlantic Highlands with other members of the Plainfield Motorcycle club. A broken belt was the cause this time.

Al Bowlby's smile was chief topic of conversation among the motorists yesterday. In the opinion of his friends Al has become a modern "Sunny Jim." This adds wonderfully to the enjoyment of the club's outings.

Jack Horner was the man to pick up yesterday's prize. It came in the shape of a wire nail hailing from Keyport. The object lodged securely in his tire and it took considerable coaxing to get the thing out.

A new job has been found for Ed Gowdy, the club having run out of titles ranging from president to thirty-second sergeant-at-arms. He has been elected master of aquatics and took up his new duties at the Highlands yesterday. In Gowdy's opinion several of the members can swim better now than when they left Plainfield.

Ralph Auerbach mistook Jack Horner for a Mermaid in the water. Jack objected to being accosted and the result was a black eye for the club's leader.

The motorists were kept busy dodging home talent on the beach yesterday. Several other Queen City-ites were noticed on the sands.

The club met Gus Johnson and Miss Baker going down on the way home. (If you translate that correctly you will see that Johnson and company were the ones that got the late start and not the club.)

A private dining-room in the Mansion House, New Brunswick, was arranged for by some of the members on the return trip and the squad divided into two parts at that place.

The run for August 16 is slated for Palisade Park, one of the beauty spots along the Hudson.

A dinner for club members and friends is being planned for August 20 at Hotel Nelson, New Market.

Al Herrlich is expected back by that time and the affair will be in the nature of a reception to that well-known consumer of foodstuffs.

MOTORISTS WENT TO ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS

Fine Trip Enjoyed By Members of Local Organization Yesterday.

Plainfield Motorcycle Club members escaped the effects of the sultry city atmosphere yesterday by motoring to the Atlantic Highlands, where they encountered a cool sea breeze and several hours of keen enjoyment. Many took advantage of the excellent bathing facilities and others enjoyed the other amusements at the popular resort. The party left Plainfield at 9 o'clock and arrived at their destination shortly after noon where they enjoyed a fine mid-day meal.

Those who went along were Miss Ball, Miss Siggins, Herbert Alberts, Ralph Auerbach, Edward Gowdy, Al Bowlby, Clarence Giles, Henry Ruppert, Mr. and Mrs. Kenner, Mr. and Mrs. Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Hampson and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Horner. The trip both ways was made in excellent time and few delays were encountered by the party.

This was one of the numerous fine runs planned by the club for the summer season as weekly events and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The party found the road conditions excellent and consequently some good time was made.

Instead of having the field day in the middle of September the committee will recommend to the council tonight that it be postponed until the first or second week in October so as to give the scouts an opportunity to develop certain lines of their work.

HOSPITAL CORPS HAD A PROFITABLE WEEK

Local Members of State National Guard Unit Returned Home Saturday.

Plainfield members of New Jersey's First Field Hospital, Sanitary Troops, National Guard, with Major Harold D. Corbuiser commanding, returned to their homes in this city Saturday night after breaking camp at Sea Girt. Collis Case and Cedric Ostrom are the two local boys attached to the troops which is recently formed unit of the State Militia. It was organized in 1912 and is one of the most efficient organizations in the guard. All of the officers are graduate physicians, Dr. Corbusier, of this city being the head of the troop.

By the work of the field hospital during this past week it was demonstrated that in about two weeks the organization will be ready for any military emergency. The hospital detachment went into camp with practically a full complement. It has thirty-one tents, with a capacity for caring for 108 patients. The command consists of fifty-seven officers and enlisted men.

During the week the men engaged in the practise of the school of the soldier, litter and the ambulance, under the direction of Captain P. P. Rafferty the executive officer, and a Senior Sergeant, Richard F. Doran. On Wednesday the command went on a 24-hour hike to Belmar, where the field hospital was set up on a lot in Ocean avenue. Thousands of persons visited it and learned how it operates.

The hospital consists of operating tent, eighteen wards accommodating 108 patients, a dispensary and office in charge of a graduate pharmacist, supply tent, where the medical supplies are stored; kitchen, with four cooks quartermaster department tent and officers and enlisted men's quarters. The whole equipment is carried in light army transport wagons, drawn by thirty-two horses.

The splendid showing of the sanitary troops in the review by Governor Fielder was one of the features of Governor's Day. The command marched in the rear of the Third Brigade in platoon formation, carrying litters and followed by the transport wagon.

Major Corbusier is a former regular army surgeon. Captain Rafferty has served over fifteen years in the National Guard and Captain Kraker served in the United States Navy.

DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA OBSERVE ITS ANNIVERSARY

Martha Washington Council, No. 23, Daughters of America, met in regular session Saturday evening, in Coward Hall, and observed its twenty-seventh anniversary. Fraternal addresses were features of the evening, Mrs. Eliza Apgar and staff, of Newark, being present. During the business session, several matters of importance were discussed at length, and plans for the winter work were made. A social hour followed.

REV. DR. PHILIP B. STRONG RETURNING FROM EUROPE

Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, of the First Baptist church, who the last week in July sailed for England, is now on his way back, according to an announcement made by Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, who occupied the pulpit of the church, yesterday morning. After reaching England and learning of the present conditions he decided it to be unwise to attempt to travel abroad, and therefore immediately booked passage for home. It is not known what steamer he is returning on to America.

MRS. FLORENCE HOWE HALL ACTIVE IN SUFFRAGE WORK

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Prescott Hall, of Columbus, Ohio, has taken the Shipley cottage at Newport, R. I., for the month. In addition to her honorary office as honorary president of the New Jersey Woman's Suffrage Association, Mrs. Hall is now leader of the Woman Suffrage party of New York city, for the Twelfth Assembly District. She is doing active work in New York, and has just sent out an appeal to voters. Mrs. Hall also expects to assist in the suffrage work at Newport during her stay.

In an appeal made by Mrs. Hall to fellow-workers, she states that the question of giving the suffrage to women will be voted upon this autumn in Ohio, Missouri, Nevada, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota and Nebraska, and she predicts that victory in those States means victory in New York in 1915. Lucy Stone's birthday, Saturday, August 15, has been appointed as self-sacrifice day all over the United States.

LODGE NOTES.

Union Lodge, No. 4026, Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, colored, will meet tomorrow evening, and Noble Grand John Gates desires a full attendance.

LOCAL DEMONSTRATOR FOR LIFE PRESERVER

New Device Tried Out In Wesley Lake and In the Ocean, Asbury Park.

Thousands of week-end visitors at Asbury Park and Ocean Grove witnessed the initial trials of a new life saving device conducted by Don Lyon, of Twin Falls, Idaho, the inventor, with William Bush, of this city, as his assistant. The beach front at the popular New Jersey resort was thronged with curious witnesses when young Bush dropped into the ocean garbed in a queer costume, designed to save human life in boat wrecks and other water catastrophes.

The trials were given for the benefit of a motion picture concern, and Henry Brynairski, of this city, was the operator in charge of the exhibition. The new life preserver is so designed that the person using it is protected from both moisture and cold while in the water, and the entire body is kept dry. Bush donned the uniform, for it strongly resembles a baggy suit of clothing, on the beach and floated out past the breakers, bobbing on top of each breaker like a barrel of cork.

Four air chambers, anyone of which is large enough to float the body, keep the wearer on top like cork. The methods of fastening the equipment on the body and its advantages over the ordinary life boat were also demonstrated.

MANY WENT TO THE SHORE ON HOPE CHAPEL OUTING

Twenty-four hundred excursionists from this city enjoyed an ideal day's outing at Asbury Park and Ocean Grove Saturday under the auspices of the Hope chapel Sunday-school officers who conducted the annual excursion of that institution. Encountering the best of weather for such an event the pleasure seekers had one of the best days of any of those who have gone from Plainfield this season.

Excellent bathing attracted many of the local excursionists and all of the new amusement parks at the resort were also well patronized. The day's trip included twelve hours and the trip both ways was made without incident.

LOCAL SAILOR RETURNS FOR FURLOUGH AT HOME

Alfred Patterson, of West Front street, a sailor on board the steamship New Hampshire, has arrived home to spend a shore leave with his parents here. He will report to the ship September 26, having re-enlisted in the service of Uncle Sam.

Patterson was one of the American sailors who saw some real fighting on the Mexican border, the New Hampshire having taken a prominent part in the skirmishing. Five sailors on board that ship were numbered among the lost after one of the skirmishes and according to Patterson, his boat was in the thickest of the fray.

SUFFRAGE OPEN-AIR MEETING ATTRACTS MANY

Mrs. Helen Hoy Greeley, of New York, was the principal speaker at the second of the series of suffrage open-air meetings, held Saturday night at West Front street and Madison avenue, addressing a large crowd of both men and women. She followed up her arguments of the previous week, showing the advantages to be gained by giving the vote to women.

Mrs. Greeley continued her review of the work being accomplished in suffrage States in her efforts to prove that "votes for women" would be of great benefit to the women of New Jersey. Mrs. Greeley is an attractive speaker and she will again be heard at next Saturday's meeting.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Included among the scheduled political events of the week in this city, is the first meeting of the season of the First Ward Republican Club, to be held tomorrow evening at the law offices of V. W. Nash, Jr., North and Park avenues. The annual election of officers, together with other important business will be considered. John J. Carroll, chairman of the City Executive Committee, and Frank H. Smith, chairman of the County Executive Committee, are expected to be present and aid in making the preliminary plans for the local and county fall campaign.

Elias H. Bird, who has been referred to as a possible candidate for the Republican nomination for Mayor, to succeed the present incumbent, stated to a representative of the Daily Press, Saturday afternoon, that he was not to be considered, under any consideration, as a candidate for any office. Next!

Four weeks from tomorrow, September 8, is the first registration day. The Boards of Registry and Elections ask you to register early.

JOSEPH KNOWLES IN WILDERNESS GARB

GOING into the Maine woods last summer naked, weaponless, companionless and without food or fire, Joseph Knowles lived as a primitive man for two months.

How he secured food and fire, procured clothing, shoes and weapons and so greatly improved his health that his physical measurements compare favorably with those of Sandow forms one of the most interesting human documents ever published.

BATISTE FROCK.

Quaint Design Suitable For the Small Girl's Summer Wardrobe.

BATISTE FROCK.

Quaint and old fashioned are the lines of the frock in figured batiste, valenciennes and net footing which is illustrated here. Such a gown would be charming for church and for occasional informal parties. There is no reason why the small girl should not have many replicas of it in printed crape or voile and in sheer flowered muslins or linens, for it is easily made just a kimono cut upper portion, including bell elbow sleeves banded with valenciennes and edged with footing.

The square neck is defined with two bands of lace insertion, and so is the footing edged high waist line simulation. She wears socks, bows on her sandals, and loops of ribbon hold back her locks above the brow. Care, however, must be taken not to have the loops too large for the face below them.

VOGUE FOR COLORS.

Rainbow Tints Combined in Necklaces of the Season.

All the colors of the rainbow are to be found in beads nowadays – pink, purple, green, yellow, lavender, red, orange and blue.

A quaint conceit in necklaces is the "tango," which is a combination of satin ribbon and beads. The ribbon, about half an inch in width, is long enough to be drawn around the collar, tied in a small bow with long ends hanging. These ends are festooned in harmonizing or contrasting glass beads. The effect is very chic, and still another recommendation is that the tie is very cheap.

Most of the pearls seen nowadays are very excellent imitations of the real thing, so excellent that only an expert can tell the difference. Shops which make a speciaity of these gems have so perfected their work that many women who can well afford real pearls prefer to purchase a string of these imitation jewels so that they may wear them every day without fear of forfeiting a small fortune should the pearls become lost.

Spanish Combs.

We have Spanish capes and Spanish toques; now we find the high Spanish comb the most fashionable hair ornament of the season. Three big combs are wonderfully decorative.

The Parisiennes are wearing these high combs instead of giant aigrettes or ospreys. They arrange them coquettishly at the side of the head, jutting out beyond the coils of hair, and in some cases the carved designs are outlined with delicate silver filigree. Apropos of evening headdress natural hair is once more coming into fashion. Powder and patches may continue to be worn, but only by the less conservative women.

NEEDLECRAFT.

The latest bath slippers are of white Turkish toweling. They are embroidered in blue in a French knot design.

Long, pointed bags of white ratine show a design of blue French knots. Women can easily embroider one of these.

The dainty Mosaic embroidery is still popular. Its airiness and its pretty colorings as well as by the ease with which it may be worked recommend it to women.

Fillet lace is the thing nowadays. Baby Irish may be bought for a song, but fillet is growing gradually more expensive every day. Even the tiniest medallion of it makes a gown, while for the table it is being much sought after by women with long purses.

FASHION HINT

By JUDIC CHOLLET

It would be difficult to find a prettier or smarter evening blouse than this one. It means almost no trouble or time for the making, inasmuch as it is cut in kimono style, with the trimming portions arranged over it.

Beneath it there is a plain lining, but this also is cut with body portion and sleeves in one and serves to hold the portions in place.

In the picture the materials are crepe de chine and taffeta, and there is a little rosebud banding that finishes the neck and sleeve edges, but net, lace or any soft material can be used for the blouse, with the skirt and trimming portions of taffeta, charmeuse satin or indeed any material adapted to evening wear.

For the medium size the blouse will require two and five-eighths yards of material twenty-seven inches wide, five-eighths yard forty-four inches wide for the pointed over portions, with two and one-fourth yards of rosebud banding.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes from 34 to 40 inches bust measure. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 8331, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

MONTANA GOLDEN JUBILEE.

Great Falls, Mont., Aug. 10.—Great Falls today entered upon a week of festivities in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of Montana Territory and the twenty-fifth anniversary of the admission of the State to the Union. Saturday saw the conclusion of preparations which have been going forward for many months. The local supply of flags, bunting and other materials used for decorations is practically exhausted. Streets, public buildings, business houses and residences in all parts of the city are resplendant in the national colors. Handsome arches span the intersections of the leading thoroughfares. This morning's trains brought the advance guard of an army of visitors that is expected here for the celebration. Special trains are to be run from every section of the State. The Governor of Montana and the executives of the neighboring States, together with railroad presidents and other leaders in the industrial world, are to take part in the program. In addition to a series of elaborate parades and pageants, historical exercises, outdoor sports and other features, there will be held during the week a number of conventions and conferences to discuss good roads and other matters relating to the welfare and development of this section of the country.

RESIDENTS ABROAD.

Bound Brook, Aug. 10.—Concern is felt here for school teachers who sailed early in June for a trip abroad. They are Miss Sue Corson, Miss Florence Opdyke, Miss Grace Kurtz and Miss Alma Worden.

A postal card July 24, and mailed from Amsterdam to Miss Opdyke's mother was the last heard from the party, which was booked to sail for home next week.

Henry Ballinger is another resident abroad, who, when last heard from, was in Berlin. A postal card dated July 26, to his son, told of the many patriotic demonstrations that occurred nightly on the streets of Berlin in anticipation of an outbreak.

Russell F. Stryker is presumably in Paris. As far as known Henry Y. Opdycke is in Russia, while his wife and son are in Germany.

Roger Nicolet, manager of the Pathe Feres plant in East Bound Brook, made his first trip in five years to his native land on July 1, and being a reservist, is now with the French army.

Some Cookery Suggestions

PORCH DRINKS.

FRUIT drinks are in demand for garden fetes and veranda parties. These beverages may be made with any of the fruits now in season, and the recipes given may be varied to suit the taste.

Pineapple Lemonade.—Boil two cupfuls of sugar in a pint of water. When it cools add to it the juice of three or four lemons and a grated pineapple. Let stand for an hour, then add to it a quart of water. Chill and serve at once.

Berry Beverages.

Raspberry Shrub.—Take one cupful of raspberry juice, one-half pint of white vinegar and two cupfuls of sugar. Put the fruit juice over the fire and boil until a thick sirup is formed. Strain and bottle. When served use one-fourth portion of fruit juice to three portions of ice water.

Blackberry Nectar.—To each quart of water take one pound crushed berries, a sliced lemon and a teaspoonful of orange flower water. Mix and let stand in earthen bowl three hours. Strain thoroughly, squeezing all juice from fruit. Dissolve one pound sugar in the liquid, strain again and put on ice until ready to serve. Any other berries may be used in their season.

Summer Punches.

Fruit Punch.—Cut up as many different kinds of fruit as desired and mix well. Make a rich sirup of sugar and water, boiled. Pour over the mixed fruit and flavor to taste with lemon juice. Cool and let stand in icebox for several hours for the fruit flavors to develop and blend; then add plain cold water and serve. A solid quart of mixed fruit will serve, with use of six lemons, twenty people.

Orange Punch.—Boil one pound of sugar and one pint of water with the grated rind of one orange for five minutes. Take from the fire and strain. Add juice of three oranges and two lemons and stand aside to cool. When ready to use add a pint of shaved ice and a quart of water.

Anna Thompson

"Don't get up," he said.

Daddy's Bedtime Story— The Monitor, The Imp and The Little Boy.

"TEACHER was telling today about every child having a 'dual personality,' daddy," said Evelyn, with a puzzled look. "What did she mean by that?"

"Why, didn't she explain it?" asked daddy, rather surprised.

"No, daddy; she went on talking about something else."

"Well," said daddy, "I think I can explain by a little story what she meant.

"This little boy was about Jack's age. Everywhere he went he had two little companions, though you could never see them. Every boy and every girl is the same way and every man and every woman. Everybody that live goes around, wherever they may be, with these two companions whom you cannot see."

"What do you mean, daddy?" asked Jack, very much puzzled.

"Do you have a monitor in your grade? We used to have at school."

"We have one!" cried Evelyn. "The best behaved child in marks of deportment is monitor for a month, and the rest of us are supposed to look to the monitor as an example."

"Well," continued daddy, "that's the way it is. This little boy went around always with these two companions that lived inside of him. I think they used to run around between his heart and his mind. One of these little creatures was a monitor, and the other was an imp, and the imp was always contradicting everything the monitor said for the little boy to do and trying to get him to do just the opposite.

"For instance, when mamma would call the little boy in the morning the monitor would say, 'Now you get right up now!' but the imp would chuckle and cry, 'Don't you get up; don't you get up!' and if the imp made him late for school the imp was tickled to death. Why, the imp would even try to get the little boy to play truant and go fishing instead of to school, and if the boy refused to give in that much—and he never really played 'hookey' but once—the imp would try to get even for the rest of the day by whispering to him not to study his lessons and to be late for supper, and somehow everything would go wrong, and he would go to bed at night an unhappy boy.

"But on some mornings the monitor would tell him to get up when he was first called, and he wouldn't pay any attention to the bad little imp at all, but would spring right out of his bed and come downstairs with a cheerful smile and get to school on time, and he'd enjoy every minute of the day, with all its work and play, and he'd go to bed happy. And, Evelyn, it was just the same way with this boy's sister. It's the same way with everybody that lives."

SCOOP, THE CUB REPORTER — THE JOKE IS ON THE BOSS — BY "HOP"

WEATHER AFFECTS THE ATTENDANCE AT HOME

Because of the threatening weather only a small number of people attended the regular Sunday services of the Netherwood Fresh Air Home yesterday afternoon. The meeting was in charg of J. F. Parker, of the borough, who made the address to the children on the subject "The Big Shepherd." His talk was of a very stirring nature and all of the little children listened with interest. J. D. Loizeaux opened the meeting and in the absence of Clifford A. Braider, the music was in charge of Mrs. William Hadley.

After Mr. Parker's talk three of the boys of the home gave a pleasing selection. They were Herman Ott, Robert Traynor and Willie Baker. Margaret Wisslet, one of the children in the home, and the children's choir sang, and Mr. Parker called upon the little ones to recite several familiar Bible verses. The children are all taught to like music and the way in which they sing is remarkable. Next Tuesday evening George E. Hall will have charge of the meeting and the Friday night entertainment will be in charge of one of the societies of the Hope chapel Sunday-school.

U. S. ATTORNEY ACCUSED.

Honolulu, Aug. 10.—Jeff McCarn, United States district attorney, was arraigned today before Judge Sanford B. Dole, of the United States district court, to stand trial on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. McCarn is accused of attacking Claudius McBride, an attorney, with a revolver. His own account of the affair is that he was attacked by several men, and, when lying on the floor, attempted to draw a weapon in self-defense.

The Keynote of The August Furniture Sale

(which enters its second week at the Wanamaker Stores this morning) is that any home-maker who really wants to buy furniture will find here the furniture desired

For the BEDROOM

(where a third of life is spent)

we have, at reductions of 10 to 50 per cent. from our regular year 'round prices—

Dressers from $10.25 upward
Chiffoniers from $6.25 upward
Dressing tables from $9 upward
Wood bedsteads from $10 upward
Somnoes from $4.25 upward
Chairs from $2.45 upward
Rockers from $3.15 upward

in maple, birch, mahogany, Circassian walnut, white, cream, ivory and French gray enamel, two-tone enamel, oak in wax, fume, golden and forest green finishes, and hand-painted woods.

Here is a six-piece bedroom suite with features expected in $1,500 suites, but which are in moderate-price suites. Its August price is $365; regularly we sell it for $406. The dust-proof drawers run on center lines—one hand pulling from the side on one handle will open a drawer with ease; the division between drawers does not extend to the edge, so that the line of moulding is unbroken. In this suite, of mahogany dark brown finish, are twin beds, triplicate mirror dressing table, dresser, chiffonier and desk.

A similarly constructed suite of six pieces, in mahogany with a satin finish and inlaid linen—a very pretty suite — is $328.50; its regular price is $365.

A seven-piece mahogany suite at $476 is made so well that one who could afford to buy a $3,000 suite might well be satisfied to stop at this price. Its regular price is $596; a few years ago such a suite sold for more than $700.

A Few Other Bedroom Suites

At $362.25 — Our $402.50 grade — Six-piece Circassian walnut suite; twin bedsteads, dresser, chiffonier, dressing table, and night stand; all pieces made of beautifully figured select walnut and well finished.

At $282—Our $353 grade—Four-piece Circassian walnut suite; full size bedstead, dresser, chiffonier and dressing table, in Louis XV design.

At $262.50—Our $396 grade—Seven-piece cream enamel suite, splendidly finished and rubbed dull. Full size bedstead, dresser, chiffonier, triplicate mirror dressing table, writing desk, and night stand.

At $154—Our $171.50 grade—Three-piece cream enamel decorated bedroom suite. Full size bedstead, dresser and chiffonier. A charming little suite on simple straight lines.

At $247—Our $274.50 grade—Six-piece Sheraton mahogany suite, with inlaid lines. Twin bedsteads, dresser, chiffonier, dressing table and writing desk.

At $329—Our $492 grade—Three-piece mahogany suite Sheraton design, with inlaid lines. Full size bedstead, dresser and chiffonier.

At $207—Our $311 grade—Five-piece mahogany suite. Twin bedsteads with cane panels, dresser, chiffonier, dressing table with triplicate mirror.

Brass Beds

A satin-finish brass bed may be bought in any furniture shop—but not always a hand-rubbed satin-finish bed.

Every satin-finish bed in this August Sale is hand-rubbed. You won't have any trouble with the wearing of it.

Either in satin or polish finish, the brass beds in the Sale range from a polish finish at $10.75, regularly $14.50 to a satin finish at $51, regularly $68

Bedding

The purchase of 200,000 pounds of hair at a special price permits us to offer five grades of hair mattresses, full size, made by us, for $19 to $28.25, instead of our regular prices of $24 to $38.50.

Please Note—The exporting of hair from Buenos Ayres, where the best horse hair comes from, has temporarily stopped, so we are informed; all the shopping available being required for the shipment of food-stuffs to Europe. If this continues, there will be a shortage of good hair, which will command higher prices. So that you may profit more than you think by buying mattresses now.

LADS ACCUSED OF MOTOR CAR THEFT

Plainfield Boy Said to Have Confessed to Taking Machine.

HAD AN ACCOMPLICE

Both Are Being Held in the Freehold Jail to Await Arraignment On Serious Charges—Parents' Objection to Marriage Caused Him to Leave

Finding business poor in his newly established automobile agency in Asbury Park, Ralph Seals, of this city, with R. W. Gildersleeve, of Center Valley, N. Y., as his accomplice, it is alleged stole an automobile from "The Camp," conducted by Joseph Murphy, at Pleasure Bay, last Thursday afternoon and sold the car to Gildersleeve's uncle in Center Valley. As a consequence the Plainfield youth, who is twenty years of age, and his companion, are occupying cells in the Freehold jail awaiting trial on the charge.

Arrested by County Detective John M. Smith, of Freehold, Seals broke down under the "third degree" and, it is said, confessed to stealing the missing car, which was a 1914 Buick owned by James L. Ansboro, of Keyport, who was a boarder at "The Camp." Seals is said to have related how he had driven the car to Center Valley and turned it over to R. F. Wagott, Gildersleeve's uncle. The county detective is now enroute to that place to bring the car back.

Seals and Gildersleeve, who is ninsteen years of age, have been rooming together at the "Trogan," an Asbury Park boarding-house in Lake avenue. Seals says that his parents objected to his proposed marriage to a young woman in this city and that she advanced him $500 with which he planned to start out for himself in the automobile line. He says his funds soon became exhausted and the amount he got from the stolen automobile he intended to use in his business.

The youth is well known in this city where he has lived all his life and has been popular in the younger set. He is a member of Company K and formerly drove a car for the Plainfield Transit Company.

His confession has been instrumental in getting a line on the stolen property and it will be restored to its rightful owner. Some of the money that Seals is alleged to have obtained from the sale has already been spent. Automobile thievery is a seroous offense and the New Jersey statutes provide for a long term of imprisonment which the two boys now face.

BAND CONCERT.

Weather conditions permitting, the Dutch Arms Band, of the Trinity Reformed church, will give another of its concerts at East Front and Church streets tomorrow night, and previous occasions under the auspices of this progressive musical organization have proved to be enjoyable to hundreds of citizens of the city. An excellent program of popular and classical music is promised to those who attend.

TEMPERATURE REPORT.

The temperature report from The State Trust Company today is as follows: 9 a. m., 78 degrees; 11 a. m., 78 degrees; 1 p. m., 84 degrees.

RUBBER INDUSTRY AFFECTED BY WAR

Century Company, of This City, Reduces Working Force 40 Per Cent.

With the stopping of the importation of rubber into this country from various parts of the world because of the European war, the Century Rubber Company, of this city, which has a large plant on North avenue, in the eastern end of the town, has reduced its working force forty per cent. within the past few days, laying off about eighty men. This plant, which has been running on a twenty-four-hour a day schedule, will, until further notice, work but ten hours.

An official of this company stated to a representative of the Daily Press this afternoon, that the concern's supply of rubber, both at the local plant and the New York warehouse, would last until October 1 on the reduced working schedule which has already gone into effect. If the international commercial activities are not resumed by that time, the plant will have to close down entirely, as it is impossible, even at this early date, to buy rubber, either in New York, or at any other point in this country.

Nine of the twelve rubber plants located at Trenton have already closed down, as has plants at New Brunswick, this State, and Akron, O. The local concern will in all probability keep open as long as any of the rubber manufacturing concerns. The officials of the Century concern agree that the demands for rubber goods are heavy, and that orders for the output are sufficient to keep the shop running for some time, but the scarcity of rubber would mean the closing of the entire rubber industry of the country, should the war continue for any length of time.

COAL THIEVES HAD FUEL STORED IN THEIR CELLAR

Arraigned in the Middlesex county court on a charge of stealing two tons of coal from a Central Railroad train near Lincoln, William Wagner and Peter Rigio, of the latter place, were fined $10 each and the costs of court. The men were arrested by Central Railroad Detectives Laverett and Hiney, following some clever detective work on their part.

The Central officers were notified that coal was disappearing in large quantities from trains near Lincoln and when Hiney and Laverett ran down clues that led them to the home of Wagner in Lincoln they discovered about a ton and a half of the fuel in his cellar. The railroad repair gang was pressed into service in carting the coal back to the train and a large part of the stolen fuel was recovered. The incident caused quite a stir in Lincoln where the offenders are well known.

WOULD-BE SUICIDE CROSSED BY LOVER

Colored Girl Tried to Buy Carbolic Acid For Suicidal Purposes Yesterday.

Declaring that she was tired of life and was going to kill herself, Madeline Cox, an eighteen-year-old colored girl, left her home at 303 East Front street, yesterday afternoon, ostensibly for the purpose of finding some means of ending her worldly existence. A friend, who had overheard her vows, followed her to the central portion of town, where she proceeded to make a canvass of the drug stores. Her friend inquired at one of the stores the nature of the woman's errand and was informed that she asked for five cents worth of carbolic acid, but had been refused.

She was followed into and out of six other drug stores, being refused her demands when her pursuer made known what she wanted the acid for. She at last gave up her task and proceeded down West Second street, where her friend placed her in the custody of Patrolman Meyers, who brought her to police headquarters.

Arraigned before City Judge W. G. DeMeza in the city court, this morning, the woman related a pitiful tale involving a lover who had jilted her and married another. According to the girl, she and her former admirer had been friends since their school days and she displayed an engagement ring given her by him. She came to this city from Richmond county, Va., when the man she loved married another, bringing with her a baby.

Securing employment in this city the woman managed to live and try to forget her love affair. Out of the $20 a month which she made she paid $12 for the support of the child, and finding it impossible to live on the balance decided to do away with herself. After spending a night in the police station the girl seemed to have taken a different view of the matter and upon her promise not to attempt self-destruction again she was let go by the court.

WHITE BULLDOG, RABIES VICTIM, HAS TO BE SHOT

One shot from a Colt revolver operated by Patrolman McIntyre put an end to the ravings of a big white bull dog belonging to R. S. Rowland, of Stelle avenue, Sunday afternoon. The canine, which was a family pet, was suddenly seized with the rabies, thought to have been brought on by the hot weather, and ran wild about the property.

McIntyre was sent from police headquarters to shoot the dog and when he arrived at the Rowland home he found the frothing animal on the lawn. He chased it into a barn and closed the door. In order to shoot it McIntyre was compelled to open the door again and as he did so the dog made a dive for the open space. The officer acted quickly and slamming the door the head of the canine was caught between the sash and the door proper. Holding it in this position he emptied a chamber into its brain.

BOYS THREW STONES AT PASSING RAILROAD CARS

Central Railroad Detective Laverett appeared in the city court, this morning, as complainant against four small boys who were charged with throwing stones at passing trains. The boys, Randolph Washington, Benjamin Starr, Joe Manhattan and Thomas Prentiss, were caught by Laverett on the tracks near Washington street after they had thrown a stone through the window of a passenger train.

All but Manhattan appeared in the city court, this morning, and were severely reprimanded by City Judge W. G. DeMeza. Parents of the wayward youngsters were also scored for allowing their charges to frequent the railroad tracks. Starr and Washington were allowed to go on suspended sentences and Prentiss was instructed to be in court with his parents, tomorrow morning, when some disposition will be made of his case. He is recognized as the ringleader.

CONSUMMATE BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL

PLAN IMPROVEMENTS

Extensive Alterations to Be Made to Building Which Wil Be Turned Into a Model Film House—Concern Affiliated With Universal Co.

One of the largest real estate deals consummated in the business section of the city, in a long time, was affected yesterday afternoon, when a Paterson interest purchased the Astor Theatre, on West Front street, from Morris Abrams and Harry Dreier. It is rumored that the property sold for $2,200 a front foot. This is considered a record price for local real estate, although the property is peculiar and stands alone, being the only property on West Front street that has an entrance on the Second street side.

The buyers are making preparations for extensive alterations and will open the amusement center as soon as the work is completed. It is planned to give Plainfield a modern motion picture house, the new owners beign affiliated with the Universal Film Company, one of the best known makers of motion pictures. Owing to the elaborate scheme upon which the improvements will be based it will be impossible to open the place until the first part of the year, the intervening time being given over to re-decorating and remodeling.

Last week local contractors were acquainted with the plans for altering the structure and asked to submit bids for the work. Thousands of dollars will be expended in the work and one of the most pronounced changes will be a new entrance on the Front street side which will be made of marble. The floor of the interior will have an entirely new pitch and the present roof will be raised. Edward V. French, of North avenue, is the architect.

The attention of the new owners will be devoted exclusively to the presentation of motion pictures and some of the finest films will be shown. The Astor Theatre was finished last summer and opened for the purpose of conducting motion picture shows. The performances were discontinued in the fall as a direct result of trouble that had been brewing since the place was built, with the Building Trades Council of this city. The work was done by a contractor who employed non-union helpers from out of town. The present ceiling is too low for motion pictures inasmuch as the top of the film strikes the iron girders that hold up the ceiling.

London, Aug. 11 (Central News Cable).—An official statement issued this afternoon by the Government Press Bureau states that three German army eorps are still opposite Liege. Other German troops are authentically reported to be entrenching on the line of the River Aisne.

"The bombardment of the forts at Liege is progressing unceasingly," says the official statement. "Yesterday one of the forts suddenly ceased firing. The German commander, thinking that the fort had been silenced by his artillery, sent forward a large force of infantry to occupy it, whereupon the Belgians in the fort opened a terrific fire, compelling the Germans to retire precipitously with heavy loss.

"Another large German force is authoritatively reported to be moving through northern Luxembourg, the advance guards of this force being now on the Belgian frontier.

"Another official statement issued by the government states that an Austrian army corps is advancing from Krakon, in the direction of Kielee, in Russian Poland, and that a large Russian force is advancing from Rovo, in the Russian Province of Volphynia, up the Styr River, towards Lemberg, in Galicia.

The Mayor of Birmingham has been notified by the Admiralty that it was the cruiser Birmingham, put in commission last February, that recently sank the German submarine U—15.

A special commission appointed by the government in Germany reports that the country has a sufficient stock of food to last for a year.

A despatch from Basel, says: That Swiss and German troops are near the frontier and close to each other near Basel.

Amsterdam, Aug. 11 (Central News Cable).—A despatch from Cologne received here by an indirect route states that three French automobiles, heavily laden with gold intended for Russia, have been captured by German troops and the whole of the specie confiscated.

A despatch fromt Krakon states that the Austrian forces have occupied Mjechow, in Russia Poland. In their attack the Austrians were opposed by a Russian force comprising a thousand Cossacks and in the fighting the Austrians lost 140 killed and wounded ,the Cossacks losses being 400.

A Vienna despatch quotes Neue Frie Presse for the statement that the Austrians, after occupying Mjechow, continued their advance Northward, and captured the town of Ksiaz ,after a severe fight.

Paris, Aug. 11 (Central News Cable)—An official announcement was made today that a considerable force of Germans from Mulheim and Neu Breisach attacked a French guard at Gernay, ten miles northwest of Muelhausen, but were subsequently checked by the French army which had concentrated behind Muelhausen. The Germans, who outnumbered the French, tried to reach Rogerwillers and Hablinville, but were unsuccessful. The French army remains complete master of Upper Alsace.

A proposal to make allowances to foreign families whose supporters are serving in the allied armies against Germany and Austria-Hungary is to be adopted by the French Government.

Brussels, Aug. 11.—(Central News Cable.)—Further details of the circumstances under which Prince William Von Lippe and his son, were killed on the occasion of the desperate attack made by the Germans on Fort Seraing, at Liege state that durin the fighting a hand encounter ensued in the course of which Prince William and his son fell side by side. Finding themselves in danger of complete annihilation the Germans hastily retreated and it was not until they were back within the German lines that the Prince and his son were missing. The markings of the warship correspond with those of the British cruiser Essex. The Steamship Cedric which arrived here early this morning, was being taken care of by the Essex when she left Halifax.

Washington, Aug. 11—Complaints at the Postoffice Department that communication with France by mail was intermittent and unsatisfactory drew from the officials today a statement that all mails arriving in the United States were delivered promptly and that no mail matter intended for France was being held back on these shores. The mails to this country, it was said, were necessarily slow because few liners have left France since the outbreak of hostilities, but the postal service from the

Warren Township Against Giving Summit Concern Long Lease.

Because the Commonwealth Water and Light Company, of Summit, want a fifty year franchise in connection with a contract to light the highways of Warren township, and many of the citizens are opposed to such an arrangement, a commission comprising Edward E. Cooper, A. E. Binz and Arthur Hoffheimer has called a special meeting for Thursday night, August 20, at 8 o'clock, to discuss the situation.

There was a special light election on June 6, when the residents of the eastern district of the township voted in favor of making a contract with the company for lights. Twenty citizens voted for and six against the proposition.

At the same time the residents of the western district of the township voted against lights. After the eastern district voted for lights bids were invited and that of the Commonwealth Company was the lowest, that concern offering to furnish one hundred lights for $1,700 a year, but accompanying the bid was a request for a fifty year franchise to prevent some other company coming in and underbidding the Summit concern. It was on this provision that the protest was made and it is the present opinion that a fifty-year franchise will be denied the Summit concern.

A peculiar condition exists in Warren township for the reason that there are not more than twenty-five residents in any of the small villages of the township, and those in the western district claim that there is not enough travel at night to warrant an expenditure of electric lights.

The residents of the eastern district appear to be more progressive, believing that the lights will afford much-needed protection to travelers.

WILL CONSIDER BUDGET.

TRADE IN PLAINFIELD CONTEST WILL CLOSE TOMORROW NIGHT

At midnight tomorrow the Trade in Plainfield contest, which has been conducted by the Daily Press for the past three weeks will be brought to a close, and the results will be finally announced in the Press of Saturday. The contest has created much interest among Plainfield shoppers and storekeepers, and among the scores of answers received are many reasons strongly in favor of trading at home, so that the person who says he or she must go out of town to purchase goods will have no arguments left.

Since the Business Men's Association added fifteen dollars in cash to the $24 offered by the Press in cash and merchandise, and the five dollar offer made by Samuel Rothberg, in case a prize winning letter relates to a purchase at his store, the interest in the contest has greatly increased. Nearly every mail has brought more replies, and many who have not been heard from as yet have signified their intention of striving for one of the offers.

The list of prizes appears in the advertisement of the contest, which appears on page five, of today's Press. The conditions are also set forth on the same page.

The Trenton Times recently completed a similar contest and it was successful from every point of view. As an example of the kind of letters which are being received, the Daily Press herewith reprints one which was used in that contest as a guide for contestants:

Gentlemen—I have been interested in the "Shop in Trenton" contest which you have been advertising and ask you to consider me as a contestant.

———'S advertised a sale of "crepe de chine waists for $2.45 each, worth $3.75." Saturday morning I went to the store and asked to see the waists.

I found that they were the same style and quality that I have paid $2.98 for earlier in the season, in the same store, and that I had later seen priced $3.95 in a Philadelphia store.

There were several different shades to select from and the garments were all that the advertisement claimed for them. I bought one of the waists for $2.45 and am very pleased with the purchase and wish that all Trenton women could know of the saving from this one instance of shopping in Trenton and in response to advertising in the Times.

Yours very truly,
JENNIE SMITH.

United States to Europe, France included, has suffered little by the war thus far. Although the French mails to this country are more or less crippled, delivery of letters from this country to France is said to have been unimpaired.

Conditions of Americans in Europe with the exception of the lack of transportation, which is causing some inconvenience, are more nearly normal today than at any time since the outbreak of hostilities, Secretary Garrison today declared. Most of the tourists are amply supplied with funds, the Secretary said, and those who are not will be the first to be brought home.

"There is no change in the status of the proposal to neutralizie Chinese waters," Secretary Bryan today declared. He refused to comment on the report that the German fleet is bottled up in Tsing Tau.

It was learned here today that the European war had caused a serious situation in the finances of the Philippine Islands. Under existing law the Island government may not tax any imports from the United States or any exports to the United States. All customs revenue is derived from goods imported into the islands from Europe, mostly from those nations now at war.

As a means of taking advantage of present trade conditions, the building of a fleet of fast merchant vessels for the South American trade is provided for in a bill introduced today by Representative Stanley Bowdle, of Ohio. The bill specifies the proposed ships must be of not less than 15 knots speed and not under nine thousand tons net registered carrying capacity, with passenger accommodations that will be justified in the service. The vessels would be a part of the naval reserve and must be "manned and officered by American citizens."

A resolution directing the Secretary of Commerce to make an inquiry into the cause of the advance in the prices of foodstuffs and particularly flour, was introduced in the House today by Representative Farr, of Pennsylvania.

London, Aug. 11.—A despatch from Brussels this morning says that it is officially announced the German losses during the siege of Liege were 2,000 killed, 20,000 wounded and 9,700 captured by the Belgians.

A Central News despatch from Semlin, near Belgrade, received here by an indirect route states that three Servia vessels laden with corn and coal have been confiscated by the Hungarian authorities there. The crews of the vessels, composed of 222 men, have, says the despatch, been placed under arrest.

Montreal, Aug. 11.—It was stated officially today that the steamships Alsatian, Victorian and the Corsica, of the Allen Line, had been taken over by the government for the purpose of sending Canadian troops and supplies to England.

Forty-six ocean liners are tied up here.

The Princess Patricia, Canadian light infantry regiment, which Hamilton Gault, the Montreal millionaire, has offered to raise at his own expense from men who have been in actual war service, has been accepted by the Canadian government.

New York, Aug. 11—The Italian steamer America, which arrived this morning, reports that she was spoken to by a British cruiser at 5 p. m. Monday, when about 180 miles east of Sandy Hook.

The White Star Liner Cedric, from Liverpool, via. Halifax, arrived in Quarantine at 2.34 this morning with 1,000 passengers of all classes. At 6:32 the steamer was cleared by the health officer and shortly before eight o'clock all her passengers were landed.

The Cedric will book passengers until midnight on Friday, and will sail any time after that hour at the option of the Captain.

The Calamares, of the United Fruit Company, flying the British flag, arrived in port this morning, from Colon, Costa Rica and Jamaica. Officers of the ship reported they had not seen a vessel flying the German flag moving in southern waters. There are several, however, tied up in neutral ports, according to the ship's officers. In the port of Colon are the Prinz Sigsmund, of the Hamburg-American Line; the Grunewald, the Saxonwald and the Savoi at Santa Marta. At Columbia is the Prinz August Wilhelm, of the Hamburg-American, and at Cartagena, Columbia, is the steamer Albingia.

The Red Star steamer Kroonland from Antwerp, arrived in Quarantine early this morning, and her passengers were landed at 8 o'clock.

WAR NEWS IN BRIEF.

France.

The French army of invasion, which has taken Altkirch, Muelhausen and Colmar, in Alsace, is facing the German army at Neu Breisach. Both armies have received re-enforcements, and a battle is now on. French forces took the passes of Bonhomme and Sainte Marie, in the Vosges mountains Saturday night and on Sunday morning occupied a position dominating Sainte Marie-aux-Mines. The taking of the mountain positions was accomplished only after desperate fighting, with serious losses reported on both sides. The Germans inundated the valley of the Seille in an effort to hold back the invaders, but there was not sufficient water. It is reported in Paris that France has declared war on Austria as a result of Austrian concentration on the Franco-Swiss border.

Belgium.

The forts at Liege are still holding out at last reports. The French and Belgian armies are reported to be driving the Germans back toward Luxemburg and their own border and to have cleared most of the country south of the Meuse of the invaders. The Belgian field army at Liege is believed to have retired from the city to effect a junction with the French and British forces. The first expeditionary force of British troops is reported to be at Namur. French troops are reported to have forced their way to the east of the invading Germans at Liege, cutting off their retreat. The Germans are said to have lost 8,000 killed and wounded and 1,700 prisoners in the operation.

England.

The British admiralty has ordered the North sea fishing fleet to remain in harbor, indicating that the German ships have left their base at the eastern end of the sea and that a naval battle is expected. Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons that Field Marshal Lord Kitchener had called for an additional army of 100,000 volunteers. It is believed that the greater part of the British troops already mobilized have been landed on the continent.

Austria.

An Austrian army from the Tyrol of 30,000 men under command of the Grand Duke of Tuscany is proceeding to the aid of the Germans in Alsace by way of Lake Constance and Basel, Switzerland, and is reported to have violated the neutrality of Switzerland. A strong Austrian fleet is speeding toward the strait of Otranto supposedly to rescue the German cruisers Goeben and Breslau.

Germany.

Emperor William is reported to be at Aix-la-Chappelle preparing to take supreme command of the German army operating in Belgium. The German army in Haut Alsace is concentrating at Neu Breisach to hold back the victorious French. Groups of German Uhlans and other German troops in Belgium have been captured by the Belgians and French after little or no resistance because weakened by lack of food, and military experts criticise the German lack of provisions.

Italy.

Italy still maintains her neutrality.

Switzerland.

The republic is preventing all automobiles from leaving the country in case they may be needed for military operations.

Brussels, Aug. 11.—French and Belgian cavalry, supported by field artillery and mounted infantry, are attacking the German invading army north of the Meuse.

They are reported here to have penetrated the German line of communication at several points and to have blown up bridges, destroyed the railroad tracks and so interfered with transportation that the German army corps at Liege is in danger of being cut off from all supplies.

Fighting at Liege itself, the war office says, is confined to a long range artillery duel between the forts and the German siege guns mounted in a circle in front of the forts. According to the Belgian officials here, the Germans have apparently abandoned the plan of carrying the forts by storm.

By a series of dashes the French and Belgian cavalry and their supports have penetrated far north of the Meuse, with the result that they are harassing the German base toward the Dutch border. The Germans because of this have been compelled to abandon their attack along the river Ourthe, which joins the Meuse a mile from Liege, and are concentrating to oppose the raiding columns.

It is believed here that the allied army is about to assume the offensive.

Fall of Forts Denied.

The war office announced that the reports of the fall of the Liege forts were absolutely untrue.

"All the forts around Liege are still intact," said the statement. "They can hold out indefinitely. All are well supplied with food and ammunition.

"The allied Belgian and French army is moving forward methodically and driving the Germans back. The Germans are still in Liege city, but they will be unable to advance from there as the forts command the roads and the Belgian-French army is in position to cut them off even though the forts should finally be carried by storm.

"The allied army is also moving to attack the German re-enforcements coming up from Cologne."

Cut Off Germans.

London, Aug. 11.—French troops have arrived in the rear of the German army investing Liege and have cut off its retreat, according to a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Charleroi, Belgium. The Daily Mail's correspondent says that the French got to Liege in time to join with General Leman's Belgium troops in a fine success over the Germans and adds:

"The French succeeded in reaching the town of Liege and, working behind the Germans, cut off their retreat. The Germans are said to have lost 8,000 killed and wounded, while 1,700 of them were captured. I give these figures under reserve."

The Belgian main army is advancing from Louvain, fifteen miles east of Brussels, on the way to Liege. The distance from Louvain to Liege is a little over forty miles by direct railroad.

The occupation of the city of Liege by the German troops has had no influence on the strategic situation, the Belgian general staff asserts, and so long as the forts hold out as they are at present they can command the three principal roads by which German reenforcements or supplies could reach Liege. While these forts are in the hands of the Belgians, according to the general staff, it will be impossible for the invaders to receive either ammunition or supplies.

That both are needed badly by the invaders is insisted by the Belgians, who say that the Germans, expecting to take Liege in a few hours, provided themselves with only enough food for a few days and with little ammunition. The Belgians say that every railroad between the Belgian frontier and the German bases across the German border has been cut off by the Belgians and every bridge, culvert and tunnel on these lines has been destroyed with explosives. Advices from Belgian sources say that the lack of food and the incessant fighting has so weakened many of the 180,000 German troops now at Liege that they are in no physical condition to make an effective attack on the fortifications.

Reports from German sources that 4,000 Belgians have been taken prisoners are denied by the Belgians.

Forts Still Hold Out.

Brussels, via Paris, Aug. 11.—Official advices received here say that the French cavalry is pushing back the German advance at many points and French infantry is backing up the cavalry in driving back the invaders. Much of the territory invaded already has been cleared. The forts at Liege are still holding out and there has been no further attack on them, according to these official advices.

The Germans are developing their offensive campaign on the north of Liege, dispatches from the front say, and have abandoned for the time being at least their advance by the Mourthe valley.

Le Soir publishes the following account of the occupation of the city of Liege by the German forces:

"The Germans on seeing spaces between two forts open before them entered in small groups on Thursday evening. Among those who entered were General von Emmich, commander of the Tenth army corps, and his staff. At the citadel, which is the barracks, the governor and the burgomaster of Liege were informed that unless the town and forts surrendered the Germans would bombard the town and raze it completely. On orders from his government the governor then left the town.

"On Friday night seventeen notables of Liege, headed by the bishop, burgomaster and sheriff, with some deputies, proceeded to the citadel and begged General von Emmich not to bombard the town. The general replied that the town and forts must surrender or he would begin the bombardment. The Germans asserted that the peasants in the district had committed hostile acts against them.

"All the members of the deputation were detained as hostages, and it is not yet known whether they have since been liberated."

Announcement was made by the minister of war that 40,000 volunteers have presented themselves at the Belgian enrolling stations.

The Belgian war office declines to affirm or deny the reports of a Franco-Belgian victory at Liege. The war office denies a report that Uhlans have entered Terbueren, fourteen miles southeast of Brussels. It is officially announced that a state of war exists between Belgium and Austria.

Cover Entire District.

Paris, Aug. 11.—Official statements made at the war office are to the effect that French army patrols have covered the entire district of Elfel, south of Cologne, in Rheinland. Similar patrols have found traces of the Germans along the valley of the Mourthe river and east of Neufchateau, in the Belgian province of Luxemburg.

A large body of German cavalry squadrons which gave way before the French advance is now in the vicinity of Tongree, twelve miles northwest of Liege.

The German forces at Liege are recovering from the continued fighting and are reprovisioning.

A number of German prisoners have been sent from Liege to Namur and Charleville.

France conferred a military medal on King Albert of Belgium.

France Wars on Austria.

Paris, Aug. 11.—France declared war on Austria following the failure of the Austrian government to make satisfactory explanations of the movement of Austrian troops from the Tyrol through Switzerland to the French border.

When the explanation was not forthcoming at the expiration of the time set the foreign office handed passports to the Austrian ambassador, and at the same time the French ambassador at Vienna asked the Austrian foreign office for his passports and received them. The French ambassador left Vienna immediately.

It is presumed that Germany and Austria will now try to bring Italy into the war under the German-Austrian interpretation of the treaties by which Italy became a member of the triple alliance. France, however, while taking the initiative in a declaration of war, acted only after her frontier was threatened by Austrian troops. Italy, it is believed, may take the position that it was Austria, through the movement of her troops, which assumed the offensive and that France's declaration of war was only a defensive measure against an Austrian attack. If the Italian government, which so far has refused to be drawn into the conflict, takes this position it is assumed that she will repeat her statements of neutrality.

SABBATH CALM ABOUT WHITE HOUSE TODAY

Washington, Aug. 11.—An air of Sabbath calm wrapped the White House today. The great gates giving to the drives and paths were still closed and the windows of the big white mansion remained darkened. The same atmosphere of quiet shrouded the executive office, for secretary Tumulty accompanied the Presidential party on the funeral train on its way to Rome, Ga., where the body of Mrs. Wilson will be laid to rest.

Flags throughout the capital fluttered at half mast and bulletins of the progress of the Wilson train were eagerly scanned on the bulletin boards of the newspaper offices. The great army of government employes were dismissed for the day at 1 o'clock, and during the funeral services at the grave in Georgia the wheels of the government virtually ceased to spin. All of those from out of town who attended the services in the White House yesterday, were preparing today to leave. The wives of the members of the cabinet with the exception of Mrs. Houston, wife of the secretary of agriculture, who is ill at Wood's Hole, Mass., made plans to return to their interrupted vacations.

Watchung.

The Noth Plainfield Township Improvement Society held its monthly meeting last evening, in the town hall. The meeting was one of the most interesting and successful ones the society has ever had. A great deal of business was transacted and several new members were added to the list. After the business meeting Edward F. Bodin sang two songs which he recently composed and which were set to music by Charles E. Spier. The members then enjoyed an interesting address by Rev. Dr. Charles A. Eaton. After the address refreshments were served by the women.

The campaign for "Get-the-Tuesday-Night Habit" is still being carried on in the Mary E. Wilson Memorial Union church. As usual, the leader will be Harold W. Scheneck. His topic will be "Spiritual Dispeptics."

FAILED TO GET LICENSES.

Three North Plainfielders were hailed into the borough court, this morning, and were arraigned before Recorder Fred Hand on the charge of having failed to take out licenses for their dogs. They were John Mackay, of Steiner place; Mr. Hoff, of Stone street, and Mr. Colloney, of Duer street. Sentence was suspended in each case with the understanding that they secure the proper license. This is the opening of another campaign to have licenses taken out for all dogs in the borough. Marshal Pope is in charge of the movement.

WILL SUE JAMES SMITH, JR., FOR GIFT

Newark Y. W. C. A. Seeks to Recover Balance of His Subscription.

James Smith, Jr., former United States Senator and present Democratic boss of Newark, has been sued by the Young Women's Christian Association of Newark, for $300, unpaid on a $500 subscription for a new building. He is going to fight the case.

Change of plans for the location of the structure caused Smith to change his mind about the subscription.

"Here they put their building in a handsome residential section, destroying its beauty," he said.

"After I had agreed to the amount, the association went to Washington street, where they destroyed my children's property. Now they want me to pay for it."

The ex-senator subscribed to a building to be erected on Broad street, between Fulton and Lombardy streets. The new building adjoins the property of Peter Houck, Jr., his son-in-law.

THE SHERIFF'S JOB.

What is there about the sheriff's job that makes it so attractive, any way? Certainly the actual duties are about as unpleasant as any that can be undertaken by a public official, and yet here in Union county there are eight or nine who want this place, and are seeking the nomination in one party or the other.

The contest in this county is certainly not unusual, in view of the fact that elsewhere it is said that several are seeking the place. Over in Middlesex the scramble has brought forth fully a dozen candidates, some of whom probably will not be able to get signatures enough on their petitions to have their names printed on the ballot; in Camden seven Republicans want the job; Gloucester has a dozen candidates; Mercer nearly as many; Monmouth four or five; Hunterdon a half dozen, and even in little Ocean, with about 25,000 inhabitants, over half a dozen are striving for the title. The new jury law lessens their powers, but that does not seem to worry the candidates, for isn't the salary the same?

Certainly the new primary law has made a deep and lasting impression on the politicians. In the old days, when the county boss picked out the candidates, and had them nominated at cut and dried conventions, it was different, but now the party members select the best men from those who seek the office, and altogether it is a great improvement over the old method.

The New Brunswick Home News calls attention to the fact that Congressman Scully, of the Third district, is not one of the 200 members of the House who have deserted their posts in order to get a summer respite. Just add Congressman Tuttle, of the Fifth district, to the honor roll, for he has been steadily on the job all summer. In fact, all of the New Jersey representatives as well as Senators Martine and Hughes seem to have remained where they could be of assistance to President Wilson.

There is certainly one disadvantage in Senator Martine's having been chosen United States Senator. It keeps him away from home, and there are a whole lot of people in the city who would like to hear him discuss the present situation in Europe. We are also sure that if he was at home the campaign would have many bright spots in spite of the overshadowing influence of the European war.

The Knights of Columbus of Plainfield, conducted an excursion to Asbury Park, and carried 2,500 people, which establishes a new excursion record for that city. The Knights of this city will conduct an excursion to the same resort on baby parade day. Here is a chance to show Plainfield that the Knights here can establish a new record for New Brunswick.—New Brunswick Times.

They will have to go some to catch up to Plainfield in anything.

If the newspapers in New York city continue to get out extras with as little foundation in fact as some of those which were published on Sunday to be sold to a gullible public, the next thing we read will be that "it is rumored" that Englishmen in New York attacked a German picnic.

Few of us realize the great work being done by the Boy Scout movement in Plainfield. It has developed great proportions, and draws a cosmopolitan membership. The work should receive the active support of every person who has the best interest of the youth of the city at heart.

It is fine to read about a United Ireland ready to assist the English forces, but somehow or other that story about 3,000 Irishmen meeting in New York to extend to Germany their best wishes does not seem to be in tune with the stories from the "old sod."

In these days when local manufacturing plants are laying off men, it is gratifying to know that business has picked up at the Levgar Structural Iron Works so that it has been necessary to start a night shift of 100.

Who cares whether or not there is trouble in getting Swiss cheese because of the war, when such fine fresh tomatoes, corn and other garden stuff can be had at prices which defy the high cost of living?

As yet we have failed to see the present war in Europe blamed on the Democratic party. About everything else bad that has happened during the last couple of years has been charged to them.

The general impression in this country seems to be that the proper place for the Kaiser just now would be in a similar institution to that at Morris Plains.

Even the space usually given to the baseball games is being cut on account of the war news.

PLAINFIELD WILL SHARE IN CAMPAIGN

Local Suffragists to Take Part In "Sacrifice Day," August 15.

August fifteenth has been appointed by the National Woman Suffrage Association as a general sacrifice day for the seven western States that are working to secure "Votes for Women" on election day in November. These are North and South Dakota, Montana, Nevada, Nebraska, Missouri and Ohio.

Every one must recognize how much the success or failure of New Jersey next year depends upon the results in these western States. The women of the west are showing a magnificent courage in the face of great obstacles. The women of New Jersey are asked to come to their aid. It is fitting that Self Denial Day should be held in memory of Lucy Stone whose whole life was one of self-denial and devotion to the suffrage cause.

To New Jersey suffragists the name of Lucy Stone is especially endeared by the fact that the first State suffrage organization, the New Jersey Woman Suffrage Association, was founded by Lucy Stone in 1867. The Massachusetts Woman Suffrage Association was formed three years later, in 1870. On the death of Lucy Stone, her husband, Henry B. Blackwell, felt that his most sacred duty was to keep her flag flying.

"Our business now is to help it to fly in triumph in the States where the battle today is actually on, and where women are waging their fight as earnestly and unselfishly as the pioneers did long ago," says her daughter, Alice Stone Blackwell. It is in this spirit that the Equal Suffrage League, of Plainfield and North Plainfield, are asking for contributions from every man and woman who believes in the political enfranchisement of women. Offerings in money from ten cents to ten dollars are earnestly requested and may be sent to Mrs. F. O. Ball, Treasurer, 44 Washington, avenue. These contributions will be forwarded to the campaign States.

PATRIOTIC SOCIETIES MEET.

The Union County Association of Patriotic Societies met in Elizabeth last night, with a large attendance of representatives from all parts of the county. There was a delegation of fifteen from this city. The whole evening was given up to a discussion of plans for the coming fall and winter to further the interest of the association. The executive committee will meet in Garwood, Tuesday night, August 18.

JERSEY FRUIT CROPS TO BREAK ALL RECORDS

Canneries Will Be Big Contributors to War-Time Demand for Food.

Camden, Aug. 11—War-time demands for food in tins will find New Jersey canneries big contributors, as there promises to be a record-breaking crop of tomatoes and other canned goods this year.

While canneries are profiting by the glut of tomatoes shippers are suffering losses. It is figured the returns to growers in the early tomato centre for this State will drop nearly $800,000 below last year.

Fruit growers from every county in New Jersey, meeting for the eighth annual summer convention of the State Horticultural Society, brought news of ripening crops of peaches and apples that will break all records for the State's fruit production.

South Jersey growers, it was stated, will double last year's shipment of peaches.

William D. Mullen, one of the leading wholesale growers of Wilmington, Del., and a member of the National Board of Trade, says the price of foodstuffs will be cheaper as a result of the European war.

THE COUNTY CLERK A BUSY OFFICIAL

Some of the Important Matters That Come Up In His Office Daily.

It is inevitable that in an office as busy as County Clerk James C. Calvert's there should be some duties performed with greater frequency than others. As a result they do not attract more attention than is necessary for their proper performance. It is also just as inevitable that there should be some duties which are performed so seldom they are out of the regular routine and attract a lot of attention.

This is particularly true of the approaching election, at which Mr. Calvert himself happens to be a candidate for nomination on the Republican ticket. Election comes only once a year and yet it is one of the most important functions the County Clerk has to perform. The responsibility for the correctness of the ballots, the legality of the various notices, advertisements and other things pertaining to the selection of officials by the voters, rests upon him.

Elections, however, are not the only thing that seldom needs Mr. Calvert's attention, and moreover he knows they are coming. But in the case of handling condemnation proceedings, and getting them properly filed and recorded, remittiturs from the upper courts in civil and criminal suits carried upon appeal, and filing the official death certificate of executed murderers, as was done some week ago—these are duties not anticipated and which he is not often called upon to perform.

In the filing of tax discharges, contracts, papers in law suits, incorporation certificates, judgements from the lower courts, mechanics leins and issuing certificates for papers executed by notaries public and others having authority to take affidavits, he is likely to be called upon many times a day and it is from these things that the revenue comes to the office and county, although naturalization also yields a goodly sum in a year's time, but there is more expense attached to handling that work.

"SOUVENIR SUNDAY" PROVED POPULAR

Unusual Interest Shown In Temple Baptist Bible School.

The Temple Baptist Bible School, of East Third street, had another of its special services Sunday last, August 9th. A special program has been arranged for each of the Sundays of this month. The one for last Sunday was designated Souvenir Sunday. A red card was distributed to all the members of the school who were in attendance, which had on it displayed in an artistic manner, this message:—

"Present this card during the week ending August 15th, at the store of L. W. Randolph. It will be an invitation for you to accept a refreshing drink from the beautiful soda fountain."

Needless to add, the cards were quite popular, and were received with general appreciation. Rev. W. T. Dorward, of the Tabernacle Baptist church of Milwaukee, Wis., was the speaker of the day. Mr. Dorward is the pastor of one of the large and successful Baptist churches of that city, with a membership of over four hundred.

He is peculiarly happy in his ability to secure and hold the attention of the young people. His subject was "Truth" which was illustrated with numerous stories and acts, which made the discourse all the more attractive and interesting. Whitney Frazee, one of the members of the orchestra, rendered two pleasing cornet solos, and other selections were supplied by the orchestra.

The secretary's report gave some satisfactory figures, showing an attendance of 133, which is considerably in excess of last year's attendance, and is above the general average for the summer season. Two new members were also reported. In collections and attendance, the school is showing a decided increase over a year ago.

Rev. E. C. Conover is spending his vacation in Asbury Park, and Superintendent L. W. Randolph is enjoying the attractions of the Adirondacks.

Next Sunday the school is to observe "White Sunday," and the program as arranged, will carry out the detail to exemplify the designation. Just what the program will be, however, has been left to the anticipation of the school. George V. Taylor has accepted an invitation to address the school. Mr. Taylor is a prominent and successful Sunday-school superintendent of Brooklyn, and an expert in Sunday-school work. A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to participate in any of the services of the school, which begin promptly at 9:45 a. m.

ROD AND REEL

It was estimated that 3,280 weakfish and croakers were landed within a half mile radius off Keyport Harbor over the week-end and it was not a big day at that. And they are still catching them in large numbers.

Anglers who try their luck in Raritan Bay are reporting large catches of large weakfish and that there are plenty of them.

Bass, pike and pickerel are still the main biters in Greenwood Lake and there is an abundance of these that are being caught daily.

Crabs are beginning to fatten up now and large quantities are being landed in the Shark River at Belmar. Fishermen catch bags full in a short time.

The best catch brought into Morgan Station was recorded last week. A trio of fishermen went out and fished off the net stakes in front of Seidler's Beach, and their total catch was 110 weakfish and croakers. The fish bit on all stages of the tide.

Fishermen who have been going out on the Long Branch fishing pier will be glad to learn that a building is to be erected on the outer end, with lockers, where the fishermen may keep their rigs. Accomodations will also be provided for women.

The fishing on the whole has been good from the pier during the past week. Catches of croakers, weakfish and a few fluke have been made.

A new run of weakfish has made its appearance at the Raunt, according to a report that came in yesterday. The fish were first picked up at Valentine's Point, and are now all over the bay. They are big yellow-fin tiderunners, and are larger than the first run.

The striped bass fishing along the Asbury Park section is picking up. More than ten stripers have been caught in the last three days. One man caught a twenty-two pounder from the beach and another landed an eighteen-pound bass, fishing from the Asbury Park pier last week. Others have brought in striped bass weighing eight, ten and twelve pounds apiece, and a few that ran smaller.

Great Kills fishermen must have slaughtered the fish Saturday and Sunday. Many of the men brought home basketfulls of weakfish and big lafayettes. The latter seem to be feeding along the sandy bottom of the Staten Island shore and nowhere else in the bay.

WOMEN'S EVENT FOR BALTUSROL COURSE

Foursomes' Golf Tournament in Sept. of Unusual Interest to Followers of Game.

The announcement that a foursomes tournament for women would be held over the links of the Baltusrol Golf Club, beginning Wednesday, September 9, the week previous to the women's national championship at Nassau, is likely to produce considerable interest in the realms of women's golf.

In the first place, Mrs. J. V. Hurd, better known as Miss Dorothy Campbell, former British and American champion, as well as present holder of the Canadian title, will be among those to compete. Baltusrol is a course which is attractive to golfers from all parts of the country because it is one of the truest tests of golf in the metropolitan district.

The fact that the tournament will be run off, under the auspices of the Woman's Metropolitan Golf Association gives it an official flavor and stamps it as one of the important events of the year. Furthermore, a tournament of this kind is something entirely different from anything that has been run off in this region in several years.

LAUREL A. C. PLAYERS HITTING HARD IN LEAGUE

One of the reasons why the Laurel baseball team is making such a good showing in the Parker Field League, is that it is composed of a bunch of sluggers. Nine members of the team are batting far above the .300 mark and all of these players have taken part in at least five games. Boos leads the pack with an average of .562, and he has played in every game. Out of twenty-one times at the plate he has clouted out twelve hits and has scored five runs.

Butler is second with a percentage of .520. Brennan is the last of the .300 hitters, but his mark is thirty-three points above this and his nearest rival is Kyle who has .280.

The team batting is .277 which is considered good. It totals 252 times at bat and 92 safeties. The standings to date are as follows:

Players	G.	A.B.	R.	H.	PC.
Boos	6	21	5	12	.562
Butler	5	19	7	10	.520
Mills	6	8	3	4	.500
F. Kline	5	20	5	10	.500
T. Snyder	5	10	4	5	.500
E. Venable	5	12	2	5	.450

F. Mullin	5	24	3	8	.333

ENGLISH CRITIC THINKS AMERICAN GOLFERS ARE MINUS INSPIRATION

That America's leading golfers are not the equal of the topnotch British players, that they have so much to do before becoming so; that there is lack of variety to the shots of American players, and that they have neither the instinct nor the trained ability to alter their methods to suit circumstances, are some of the assertions of R. E. Howard, the latest British writer to attempt to analyze the game of those United States players who visited Europe this year. Howard doesn't hesitate to "rub it in," but the frank criticism may not be harmful, after all.

Howard explains that since the return to the United States of transatlantic visitors, the American papers have sought in a variety of ways to show how the three men of amateur golf in the new world came to fail so sorrowfully to realize their hopes, or even a fraction of their hopes, in the British championship at Sandwich. It has been said that the invaders spoiled their chances by arriving too early, and that they were handicapped by conditions of weather and law. "The prohibition of the Schnectady putter naturally affording a solution to the breakdown of Jerome D. Travers," says Howard, "it has been widely contended that the leading Americans are just as good as the best British amateurs, so that the Sandwich struggle, which was regarded by so many people as a test of the relative abilities of the stalwarts of the two nations, really proved nothing.

"For the Americans, however, to consider that things in general during the stay of the United States players in this country indicated that they were as good as the best British amateurs is the forced philosophy of the party politician, who sees in every election defeat a moral victory. There may be comfort in it, but it is certainly not the path of progress.

"Truth to tell, the American golfers, with the exception of Mr. Evans, were disappointing and one would hint that the reason was that they played stereotyped games and exhibited neither the instinct nor the trained ability to alter their methods according to circumstances.

"One regretted the fact the more so on reflecting that such a player as Francis Ouimet was obviously intended by nature to hit a golf ball. He made it quite clear that the rythmic swing was part of his birthright; that he had a perfect eye and that he enjoyed an inborn capacity for striking a putt truly and cleanly, and following through in just that easy manner which is the ideal of our dreams.

"He failed because, so far as one could judge, he had never tried to play his shots in other than one way. When that was proved unsuited to the occasion, he was nonplussed. Very many amateurs in this country could show greater adaptability, and yet I am sure that as a natural golfer, Mr. Ouimet has few parallels.

"He needs to be a little less faithful to a set system which maybe serves him well at times, and a little more expansive in his ideas.

"So it is, too, in regard to Mr. Travers, who has just one method of executing every shot, although it is a different method from Ouimet. It would be unwise for the Americans to suppose that they had attained the highest standard when their golf lacked the studied and well applied variety of the best British players.

"The game of the links is not by any means to be compared with such strenuous and muscular pastimes as high jumping or hurdle racing or throwing the hammer, or any other diversion which one can pursue with the assurance that the dove-tailing of a set of principles will produce the desired effect. Success at golf depends largely on inspiration and adaptability, and these are the qualities which the Americans seem to be ignoring in their quest of supremacy."

ATHLETICS MAKING A JOKE OUT OF RACE

Connie Mack's Crew Is Far Ahead of All Other American League Clubs.

The Athletics are rapidly taking the "race" out of the American League. For a month they have set a clip that has had few parallels in baseball. Their winning streak started in the second game with the Browns on July 11. Since that time they have won twenty-three out of twenty-five.

Only two little defeats in nearly a month! That reflects the irrestible march of the Mackmen to their seventh American League pennant.

The monarchs of baseball turned the West inside out. They won three out of four from Detroit, four straight from the Browns, three out of four from Chicago and have whipped the Naps four games in a row.

For a long time the Red Sox clung tenaciously to the leaders. In their long winning streak the Mackmen found it difficult to increase the distance separating the pair. Finally the pace became too stiff for Boston. It couldn't keep it up and started to flag. As a result, the kings of the diamond started to push away from Carrigan's men, and are leading by nine and a half games, the biggest lead they have enjoyed this season.

It will be almost a miracle for any of the contenders to overtake the champions of Christendom, who are now traveling at torpedo-boat speed.

PLAINFIELD MOOSE TEAM SCHEDULED TO PLAY TWO

The local Moose baseball team is scheduled to play two games at Rahway, Sunday, but there is some question now as to whether the contests will be staged as the Rahway management is in the same fix as several other clubs in this vicinity, thinking seriously of disbanding. Rahway does not seem to be a baseball center anymore and this team cannot draw. Should the Rahwayites drop out of the league this week the locals will probably be idle next Sunday.

The walloping the Plainfielders received last Sunday in the doubleheader lowered their average considerably and now they will have to win the majority to regain their position. They were playing fine ball for several weeks and won games from the leaders of the league. Sunday was apparently an off day and they will try hard to take the two games next week.

BIG LEAGUE SCOUT IN THIS VICINITY

One of Connie Mack's Men Was at New Brunswick Last Saturday.

A big league baseball scout made a visit to New Brunswick last Saturday and looked over some material that he thought was worth a little consideration. Three of the men that he mentioned to one of the managers are not unknown in this city as ball players. The scout seemed favorably impressed with the actions of Charles Crabiel, outfielder of the Michelin team of the Manufacturers' League. Although Crabiel has never appeared on a local diamond in a baseball suit, he has appeared on a local basketball court and is considered one of the best centers in this section of the state. He has played against the Hope chapel team a number of times and besides being a basketball player is an all-around athlete. This boy seemed to know that he was being watched last Saturday, as he pulled off his best tactics, tearing off four hits for seven bases and he also made some fine catches in the outfield.

Jackie Hayes, another person who is known as a pitcher here, was under the careful observation of the scout and he did some clever work in the outfield, where he was placed Saturday. When Eddie Tomney came to Plainfield Saturday to pitch against the Pets, he had no idea that he was missing the chance to perform before a scout and that man stated that he wanted to see Tomney pitch. Tomney twirls for the Refrigerating team but as that nine cancelled its game he decided to come to Plainfield to play.

FORMER R. G. E. TWIRLER IN BRUNSWICK LEAGUE

The Simplex team, of the New Brunswick Manufacturers' Baseball League has a man on its pitching staff that was considered one of the best twirlers in the Plainfield Manufacturers' League two years ago, and his name is Fleming, who did the mound work for the Rushmore-Garwood-Electric team, winners of the Daily Press trophy, which was offered to the winning team. Fleming was a puzzle to all of the other teams and he pitched every game in the local league, only losing one to the Commercials.

Now pitching for the Simplex team in the New Brunswick, Fleming has made a good record and has won the majority of his games. In the game with the C. F. J. team last week the former local player was chosen to work but poor support caused his defeat by the score of 6 to 3. His teammates made five costly errors behind him and he only allowed eight hits. Fleming made one hit and was credited with one assist, one putout and one error in the score. While he was pitching in the local league Fleming had everything that a pitcher needs and was gifted with a large amount of steam. Polinsky, the New Brunswick High School's crack third baseman, plays that position on the Simplex combination and Manley, another school boy athlete, plays on the C. F. J. nine.

QUIT THAT SQUEALING.

A patched up team of factory leaguers met the Plainfield team Saturday, and lost a 4 to 3 decision. Tomney and Samuels was the battery for the local team, while Townley and Walter Nelson was in the points for the Plainfield team. The local boys put up a good game against the more experienced players, and several questionable decision by the umpire helped Plainfield in the scoring of some of their runs.—New Brunswick Home News.

BIG GAME IN CAPITOL.

Annapolis, Aug. 11—The athletic authorities of the Naval Academy are now quite certain that the football game between the teams of the Army and Navy will be played in Washington on November 28 next. Information received here makes it practically certain that the Washington Polo Grounds, near the White House, will be put in shape for the game and that a sufficient number of seats will be arranged.

NEW BRUNSWICK IN LINE.

The New Brunswick policemen's baseball team has endorsed the idea of the formation of a State cops' baseball league next year. All of the teams mentioned have expressed their desire to enter and Manager Schuler, of the Elizabeth force, who was the instigator of the movement, will probably take the lead and start matters going.

CHALLENGER ARRIVES.

The cup challenger Shamrock IV, is safe at Bermuda. She sailed into St. Georges on Sunday afternoon, and the Erin, her convoy, went to Hamilton. Col. Duncan D. F. Neil, who is in charge of the yacht for Sir Thomas Lipton, cabled to the New York office of Sir Thomas at once, and the cablegram was received yesterday morning.

LESLEY CUP MATCHES.

With the tri-city matches for the Leslie Cup only six weeks or so away, plans are already being made for the arrangement of a team which is more than likely to carry off the much coveted prize as against the efforts of both Massachusetts and Pennsylvania. The tournament will be held this year in the Metropolitan district, and Baltusrol will be the scene on Sept. 25 and 26.

CROSS EXPECTS TO WIN.

Leach Cross anxiously expects to knock out Joe Rivers in their twenty-round bout at Vernon, Cal., tonight and thereby win the right to challenge Freddie Welch. Cross and Rivers have met before, but their previous engagements have not resulted satisfactorily to Cross. Cross believes that he will secure a knockout on this occasion and settle all doubts as to which is the best man.

STRONG ALL-STARS WILL MEET COPPERS

Good Game Scheduled For Thursday, When Cops Will Have to Play Ball.

The local coppers have a new pitcher to spring on the All-Star aggregation Thursday when these two teams meet on Parker Field. The cops have triumphed over one team of stars already this season but those who have charge of this combination claim that the cops will meet their Waterloo. Nine of the present and former High School stars of both the city and borough will be on the scene. This new man, who has just enrolled as a cop, must be a wonder because his teammates are praising him to sky limits. They say the boys will not have a chance against his pitching and the game is going to be a shutout.

Dan Denny, the borough twirler, will pitch and he will have a rival from across the brook to catch him. Kyle, of Plainfield High School, will be on the receiving end. The borough school will be represented in the outfield by George Townley, Carroll Taylor and Bob Hebert. The four infield positions will be played by Victorsen and Rosenson on first and second respectively and Townley and Dilts will cover third and short.

The policemen will use Fritts on third and their new man in the box. McCarthy may be back behind the bat, after a long vacation, but Mullin may be called again for that duty.

CHAMPION COMING.

Another development of yesterday was the revival of the report that Miss Cecil Leitch, the new British golf champion, would come to America in September in an attempt to repeat the success of her countrywoman, Miss Gladys Ravenscroft, in winning the American championship last Fall. MONSTER MEET FOR BOY SCOUTS

Local Troops In Event to Be Held On Parker Field First Part of September.

PLAN NEW FEATURES

May Organize a Troop In Delinquent Class Being Conducted by Board of Education—Will Co-operate With Work of Charity.

The first announcement of the events that the Boy Scouts, of this city, will compete in for the Paul R. Collier champion scout patrol pennant at the annual scout field day in October, was made at the scout council meeting in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A., last night, when, despite an oppressively humid evening practically a full council membership was present. Judge William N. Runyon presided and Dr. George T. Moore was secretary.

There will be a scout parade starting from the center of town at 1:30 in the afternoon and, led by the Scout Fife and Drum Corps, the scouts and their guests will march to Parker Field where there will be a grand ensemble. Next will follow an exhibition of rope casting, knot tieing, barrier climbing, gambol of clowns, first aid and ambulance drill, pyramid building, making fire without matches, scout pace ¼ mile in three minutes (one boy from each patrol competing), tilting, wireless telegraph signalling, water boiling contest, pancake cooking, semaphore andheliograph signalling, centepede race, aeroplane contest ,special demonstration for troop honors and carrying race.

All the Boy Scouts of Plainfield were appointed a guard of honor for the King's Daughters' Day Nursery, on West Front street, at the request of Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., and Senator Charles A. Reed. It seems that those in charge of the nursery have been annoyed for some time by minor depredations on the premises by small boys. None of these offenses were of sufficient importance to warrant police action and so the Boy Scouts were appealed to to lend a protecting hand in ferreting out the offenders and reporting their names to their scoutmasters for action by the commissioners.

The application for scout co-operation made by Joseph M. Harper, of the Plainfield Plant, Fruit and Flower Guild, was received and referred to the commissioner with power. All scoutmasters will be asked to invite the scouts to do all they can to give pleasure in this way to the sick poor of this city.

A. B. Beers resigned as chairman of the field day committee on account of pressure of other duties, and while he will remain on the committee, J. W. Oughiltree was elected chairman. The committee recommended that the field day be held on the first available Saturday in October at Parker Field.

Christian Kroener, second class, Troop 5, made the first formal application to the council for promotion to rank of first class scout. The application was referred to the court of honor which will examine the applicant and report to the council for action at its next meeting, Monday evening, September 14. L. M. Leek was chosen chairman of the court of honor, last night, and passed Irving D. Manley, second class, Troop 11, to first class scoutship. It also received merit badge applications from Colin Millard, first class honor scout, Troop 5, in personal health, and Irving D. Manley, first class, Troop 11, in astronomy. These applications will be acted upon at the next scout meeting.

A new scout troop will be organized on Saturday evening at the home of Rev. E. S. Ralston, pastor of the Netherwood Reformed church, 222 Leland avenue, when the commissioner and champion Wolf Patrol of Troop 5 will be present in uniform to institute the new troop. F. M. Tomlinson has volunteered to serve as scoutmaster. Reports were also received regarding the progress being made in scout extension work in other churches. A troop probably will be formed in the delinquent department of the public schools.

A formal invitation was extended to the Dunellen scout council and troops to participate in the field day parade, and to be guests of the local council and scouts at the competition. A tract 50x100 feet was set aside for the use of the Dunellen troops at Camp King, the local Boy Scout training field, and a formal letter of thanks for the use of the tract was voted to Mrs. Quinn and John King, owners of the property loaned to the scouts, for their generous help in the Boy Scout work here.

SEEK TO END INTERNAL STRIFE

President Wilson Sends Commissioners to Santo Domingo As Peacemakers.

FOLLOWING ARMISTICE

Former Governor Fort, James M. Sullivan and Charles C. Smith Are Chosen For An Important Government Mission.

Washington, Aug. 11—Another attempt is to be made by the United States to set up in the revolution ridden Dominican Republic a government which will be accepted by all factions.

Announcement was made yesterday that a special commission has been appointed to go to Santo Domingo City and present to the Government in power and the revolutionist leaders the plans of President Wilson for bringing internal strife to an end. The commission consists of ex-Governor J. Franklin Fort, of New Jersey; Charles C. Smith, lawyer, of Portsmouth, N. H., and Boston, and James M. Sullivan, of New York, present minister to Santo Domingo.

Announcement of the appointment was delayed until after the commissioners left for Key West. They will sail for Havana, then go by rail to Santiago and there board a naval vessel for Santo Domingo City. It is expected they will reach the Dominican capital on Saturday.

The United States Government brought about an armistice last week. An extension of this armistice will be one of the first things the commission will seek.

Then it will propose the establishment of a provisional Government to be supported by all factions pending elections for members of Congress and President, in accordance with the constitution of the republic. It is believed the commission has authority to offer United States assistance or supervision in the conduct of the elections so as to assure absolute fairness.

This is the second time in two years that the State Department has attempted to patch up a Government in Santo Domingo. Two years ago a commission was despatched to stop a revolution and bring about a compromise Government. This effort resulted in a cessation of fighting and the installation of Archbishop Noel, an eminent and respected man, in the Presidency.

Dissatisfaction developed, however, and the Archbishop, disgusted with the political leaders by whom he was surrounded and their jealousies, and fearing for his personal safety, gave up the job and fled to Europe. He was succeeded by President Bordas, the incumbent, who is charged with holding office illegally, in that he is continuing beyond what was held to be his legal term. The State Department has not committed itself on the legality of Bordas' tenure beyond June 1.

The Dominican situation has been admittedly a "hopeless mess" since the assassination of President Caceras in November, 1911. Officials of the administration are satisfied that it never will be permanently satisfactory until the United States has control of the expenditures of the Government as well as of its revenue collectors.

NEWARK COPS HAVE EASY TIME WITH ELIZABETHANS

Without "Hank" Brennan on the mound, the Elizabeth policemen's baseball team had a small show of defeating the Newark coppers for the State baseball title at Elizabeth yesterday, and the Newarkers hammered "Hooks" Vossler for eleven hits and won the deciding game of the series by the score of 10 to 3. Leary pitched a fine brand of ball for the winners and only allowed eight bingles. For some reason Brennan, the stellar twirler of the Betsytown force, could not play and his absence was greatly felt.

The contest went for seven innings and had to be called after the home team had made their only three runs of the game in the last. Vossler fanned out eleven batters and was effective for the first three inning but in the fourth his opponents scored once. The fourth frame reaped four more tallies and as a final climax they scored five times in the sixth. This gives the Newark cops the right to claim the State championship and they will meet all challengers alike.

MARTIN'S GOOD SHORTSTOPPING

Martin's playing was one redeeming feature of an otherwise gloomy P. M. He has never looked better at short than he did yesterday, covering wide swaths of territory and making a few sensational stops and throws. In addition, he was a power with the bat and but for a sensational throw by Joe Kelly, he would have tied up the score in the latter half of the first. With Byrne out, he poked one all the way to the clubhouse gate. It looked good for a triple, but Kelly plucked it off the wall and made a wonderful throw to Mowrey, nailing Martin Becker followed with a single,which would have scored Martin had fate been kinder.—Philadelphia Record.

ALONE IN THE WILDERNESS

BY

COPYRIGHT, 1913, BY SMALL, MAYNARD & CO.

PROLOGUE.

Here is a notable story of a man who went alone into the vast wilderness of northern Maine and without food or clothing lived for two months, using his ingenuity and strength to supply his wants. He became a primeval man, just the sort of human being that many scientists argue was the ancestor of the educated races of today. You will be fascinated by the narrative of Joseph Knowles, artist, student and philosopher, and marvel at his hardihood, his perseverance and his practical, intricate knowledge of woodcraft. He shows you how resourceful man can combat and overcome the powerful forces of nature. He gives you a down to date, true to life picture of the conditions that confronted our forefathers in the remote ages. He teaches in words that will long live in your memory the great human lesson that hope is the salvation of the soul. The action in this remarkable document is continued and engrossing. The episode of the white fawn and the battle of the moose are vivid portrayals of animal life that carry with them the realism of actual truth. Read to the end this graphic reminder of the times when men and women existed without the artificial aids that contribute to their needs and desires today.

CHAPTER I.

The Birth of an Idea.

ON the Saturday afternoon of Oct. 4, 1913, just at the time when sunshine marked the end of two days' heavy rain, I emerged from the Canadian forest on the shores of Lake Megantic, having lived the life of a primitive man for two months in the wilderness of northern Maine.

I was tanned to the color of an Indian. I had a matted beard and long, matted hair. I was scratched from head to foot by briers and underbrush.

Over the upper part of my body I wore the skin of a black bear, which I had fastened together in front with deerskin thongs. My legs were incased in crudely tanned deerskin chaps, with the hair inside. On my feet I wore moccasins of buckskin, sewed together with sinew. I wore no hat. On my back was a pack made from woven lining bark of the cedar, in which I carried various implements from the forest.

I had a rude bow and arrows, and a crude knife made from the horn of a deer dangled at my waist.

It was thus that I entered the little French-Canadian town of Megantic—back to the civilized world.

I received a welcome that I had not dreamed of, and I was very happy, for it proved to me at that time that the people were really interested. However, as the hours went on I began to realize that they considered that I had done a wonderful thing.

It is because of this impression, which seems to have taken hold of many people since my return, that I will begin this narrative by saying that it was not wonderful. Above all else I want to emphasize that my living alone in the wilderness for two months without clothing, food or implements of any kind was not a wonderful thing. It was an interesting thing, but it was not wonderful.

Any man of fair health could do the same thing provided he meant business and kept his head. But to the best of my knowledge no other man in the history of civilization ever did what I did.

The idea of this experiment came to me about a year ago while I was spending a few weeks at Bradford, Vt. At the time I was painting pictures of outdoor life in a little log cabin on what is known in that locality as Saddleback mountain. I was painting a moose, and as I added a touch of color to the canvas I began to wonder how many people would notice that particular bit of color, which from a standpoint of faithful portrayal was as important as the eye of the creature itself.

From this thought my mind wandered on to the realization that the people of the present time were sadly neglecting the details of the great book of nature.

And as I thought I forgot the picture before me. I said to myself, "Here, I know something about nature. I wonder if it would not be possible for me to do something for the benefit of others."

Then I would laugh at the idea of my doing anything for the world! Probably all of us have wild dreams now and then. I am beginning to think that wild dreams are wonderful things to have. I have always hoped, more than anything else, that I might sometime do something which would benefit mankind, even in a small way.

I believed there was too much artificial life at the present day in the cities. I found myself comparing our present mode of living with the wild, rugged life of the great outdoors. Then all of a sudden I wondered if the man of the present day could leave all his luxury behind him and go back into the wilderness and live on what nature intended him to have.

In that thought came the birth of the idea.

That night I went down to the hotel in Bradford and began talking it over with several of my friends. At first they all laughed at the absurdity of a man of today going back to the life of the primitive man of yesterday. I remember as we sat around the fireplace they asked me all kinds of questions.

I told them that in order to make such an experiment interesting it would be necessary for a man to enter the woods entirely naked, without even a match or a knife, and live a stipulated time without the slightest communication or aid from the outside world.

"What would you do for fire?" one man asked me.

I replied to that very quickly.

Another wanted to know what food I would be able to get in the wilderness and how I would get it without weapons. I mentioned a dozen ways.

Then the conversation became like a game. Every one wanted to see if he couldn't stick me in some way.

That night I couldn't think of a single thing that would keep me from undertaking such an experiment.

In the busy days which followed I promptly forgot all about the idea, just as nine-tenths of all ideas are forgotten. Not until the beginning of last summer did the thought take hold of me again.

From time to time my friends would jokingly inquire when I was going to leave them and become a wild man.

Then all of a sudden it hit me hard. Another mood seized me like the one I had felt in the cabin while painting the picture of the moose. I said—and this time I meant it, "I'll try this stunt and demonstrate to the people that there are marvelous things to be derived from life in the great outdoors."

When I told my friends that I really was going to try the experiment during the months of August and September they became serious indeed. They were not joking now when they cried, "Do not think of such a thing!" They reminded me that it might be easy enough to answer all their theoretical questions satisfactorily, but to actually find fire and food and clothing would be impractical and, indeed, utterly impossible.

But my mind was fully made up. I left Bradford immediately for Boston to make preparations for the trip. By preparations I do not mean that I went back to the city to train for the trip. I went to Boston simply to discuss with other friends the plans that were in my mind.

First of all, it was necessary for me to choose a location for the experiment. This was some task, inasmuch as I desired to enter a wilderness far away from civilization, where I would not be bothered by people from the outside world.

Finally I decided that I would go into the forest on the 4th of August, in what is known in the northwest Maine country as the Dead River region.

This country is covered with heavy black growth timber. Directly north is Bear mountain, below which stretches Spencer lake. To the east is Little Spencer, with Heald mountain just beyond. Horseshoe pond and the Spenrer stream lie to the southward, and the domain is bounded on the west by King and Bartlett lake.

I selected this particular time for the experiment because I wanted it to be the most severe kind of a test.

I was handicapped by civilization's habits and comforts. My skin was not tough. My muscles were not firm, and my stomach was used to seasoned and well cooked food.

However, I still retained my knowledge of the woods, and it was on that alone I placed dependence. It is in the mind, I claim, the mind that has been trained to know nature, that the spark of complete independence is retained down through the ages.

As Aug. 4 drew near some of my closest friends literally begged me to abandon the idea. They warned me that I might become ill and wreck my future health, or even lose my life, and all that kind of talk. They were good to me, and I appreciated their feelings, but I knew they did not understand.

I knew better. I was confident.

I left Boston for Bigelow, Me., which is the end of the railroad in that part of the country. From there I took the stage for eight miles to Eustis, a village of fifty inhabitants, situated on the edge of the foerst.

Then came something worse than living two months alone in the forest—a ride for sixteen miles over the King and Bartlett buckboard trail. The terminus of this road brought me to the King and Bartlett camps.

Directly in front of these camps is the King and Bartlett lake. It was a mile across to the opposite shore where, in the presence of professional men and sportsmen who were stopping at the camps in the vicinity, I disrobed and started for the wilds, leaving my clothes behind and taking absolutely nothing with me.

Now just a few words about myself. I had traveled nearly all over the world. Later I entered the United States navy, where I served enlistments for a number of years. After that I decided I would like to try sailing on the fresh water lakes. So I left the coast and sailed on the great lakes for another twelve months.

It was while I was in that country that I became acquainted with tribes of Sioux and Chippewa Indians. They were scattered all along the west coast of Michigan. I gave up the sailing and went among them. That year I went back into the mountains and hunted and trapped with them. Of course I picked up valuable knowledge about the woods under these conditions.

To go back to the beginning of my life in the wilderness, heavy skies and a steady drizzle of rain greeted me on the morning of Aug. 4 when I awoke in the King and Bartlett camps. However, the weather didn't bother me.

The sportsmen and professional men who were interested in my departure joked with me and laughingly said that they would see me back again that night. Shortly after 9 o'clock we all left the camps for the opposite side of King and Bartlett lake.

The drizzle had increased to a steady downpour, and the brown suit of clothes which I wore became wet through.

The time for my entering the forest was about 10 o'clock.

The boats landed at the foot of what is known as the Spencer trail, which rises straight up the side of Bear mountain and winds its way up over the crest and down the other side for five miles through the woods to Spencer lake.

"Here's your last cigarette," cried some one, offering me the smoke as I began to take off my clothes.

I took it and lit it and then went on undressing. Presently I stood naked.

I took two or three final puffs of the cigarette, tossed it to the ground and began to shake hands with every one.

My body was already glistening with the rain, but it didn't bother me any.

I waved my hand as a last farewell to human companionship for two months and started up the trail. At the top of the incline, where, in another moment, I would be out of sight among the trees, I paused and waved once more to the waiting crowd below. Then I struck out straight along the trail.

I had left civilization!

I don't remember a great deal of that five mile trip. My mind was filled with all kinds of thoughts. I kept saying to myself, "I shall keep on going straight ahead into the woods, where I shall not see any one or talk with any one for two months." Then the realization would come over me that what food and comfort I obtained would have to come through my own resourcefulness.

By now I had reached the ridge of Bear mountain and swung along down the other side, where I easily recognized the lay of the land, though I had not seen it for ten years. Presently I saw the surface of Spencer lake through the trees below me.

In order to avoid the Twin Camps I swung off the trail to the right, crossing over deadfalls and plunging through the tangled underbrush.

When I reached Spencer lake I looked across that sheet of water, with its background of endless trees that rose up, up, up, and then to the sky line, way beyond, and saw a rugged picture. The sweep of rain hung like a filmy curtain between me and the distant mountain forest, softening the lights and shadows of everything.

For fully fifteen minutes I stood there in the rain and studied that wild stretch of nature. Three ducks flew around in a circle over the water.

I wasn't cold even then. Unconsciously I began to walk slowly along the Spencer shore, wondering just what I should do first.

To save my life I couldn't seem to make any connected plans. So I wandered aimlessly along for some time, finally reaching a point some distance below the Kempshall camp.

Then I faced the heavy growth of woods and plunged in. I had no particular destination; I was just going anywhere.

Perhaps I had gone two miles when I found myself in a spruce thicket. By now the afternoon was well along, and I hadn't done a thing but wander about.

I had thought about building a fire, but saw there was little chance with everything dripping wet about me. However, I decided to make a try. First I hunted for a good piece of pine root to be used as a base, then a stick for a spindle. Next I ripped off a piece of bark of the cedar. I tore the inner bark into small strips, which I braided into a kind of rope. This I looped about the spindle, tying the ends to a bow stick I had snapped off a dead tree.

I had to get my fire through friction, caused by whirling the spindle on the pine base by sawing back and forth with my crude fire bow.

In vain I hunted in every crevice and log for dry punk. Everything was soaked through. I then saw the absolute foolishness of it all and straightway gave up the task.

It was now dark, and here I was in this spruce thicket without food or fire, naked and miles from a camp.

I made up my mind that I would stay out one night anyway, even if I went back and called the stunt off early in the morning.

I found a place where I could walk back and forth a bit to keep warm, so I started in. With the darkness the air grew colder. The rain continued unabated. I ran back and forth until I was tired and breathing heavily; then I would stop for a moment to rest, sitting down on the wet ground with my back against a tree. Of course I couldn't sit there very long without catching cold, so after a little I would get up and begin walking again.

I must have run miles that night in that little space in the spruce thicket. I would stop to rest only to start walking again.

It must have been early the next morning, about 3 o'clock, I guess, when it began to get very cold. The rain had stopped. I increased my pace back and forth. Thus running and resting I spent the first night alone in the wilderness.

Daylight came very slowly, but with it I was on the move.

Not a thought had I given to food since I entered the forest. I wasn't hungry.

I struck a natural game trail and followed it along, not knowing where I was going.

Presently it began to rain again, and, while I got used to it later, I did not welcome it just then. My thoughts were the same jumbled thoughts of the day before.

As I roamed along my resolve to leave the forest and call the experiment off did not figure particularly in the morning's mood. I somehow didn't care where I was going, and I did not feel the cold to any great degree.

At last I reached Lost pond. I had never seen it before, although years ago I had been well acquainted with the country thereabouts and knew this must be it. It looked very small to me, and for a moment I wondered if it really were Lost pond.

It helped break the monotony of that dark, rainy day.

I never knew what I went to that pond for, but I think there is something that draws a man or an animal to a place of relief in the woods—any opening, any sheet of water or spring or anything that is different from the miles and miles of trees which become so tiresome.

FASHION HINT

By JUDIC CHOLLET

This blouse with chemisette and flaring collar is a very new and charming one. In the picture it is made of crepe de chine with lace and designed for a separate blouse, but the model is equally appropriate for the entire gown and is suited to any seasonable fashionable fabric, organdie and the like quite as well as the soft silks.

At the moment crepe de chine is exceedingly well liked for separate use, and taffeta is greatly in demand for gowns, but faille and bengaline are both promised for the autumn, and the blouse could be made from either of these to serve admirably for cooler weather.

For the medium size the blouse will require three and five-eighths yards of material twenty-seven inches wide, with three yards of lace five inches wide.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes from 34 to 42 inches bust measure. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 8240, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.—Adv.

PUTTING UP STRAWBERRIES.

WILD strawberries, when they can be obtained, make the best preserves. Various ways of putting up this delicious fruit are suggested here:

Strawberry Jam.—To each quart of berries take one cupful of sugar. Wash and hull the berries, add the sugar, cover and place in a warm oven thirty minutes or on the back of the range. Remove the cover and crush the strawberries and then boil or simmer slowly fifteen minutes. This makes a nice consistency. If you like it stiffer boil longer.

A Popular Conserve.

Strawberry Preserves. — Take one and one-half cupfuls of sugar to each quart of berries. Wash and hull the berries, cover with the sugar and let them stand two hours. Put in preserving kettle and boil slowly thirty minutes. Skim frequently, being careful not to break the berries. Put into jars or tumblers.

Canned Strawberries.—First cap the strawberries, wash and put in a pan or bowl a layer of strawberries, or about two quarts of berries. Sprinkle a teacupful of sugar over and put layer of berries and sugar until all are used. Let the berries stand overnight and next morning juice will be on the berries. Add no water. Put on and cook as any fruit and you will have no trouble in keeping your strawberries.

Using the Juice.

Strawberry Jelly.—Wash and hull the strawberries. Crush and put on top of double boiler. Boil slowly until soft. Rub through strainer, then strain through cheesecloth or jelly bag. To each cupful of juice add one cupful of granulated sugar, which has been heated in the oven, slowly stirring until the sugar is melted. Only let it come to the boiling point. Put into jelly glasses which have been dipped in boiling water. When cold cover with waxed paper and put on the tin cover.

Strawberry Fruit Sirup.—Cook the strawberries in a granite or porcelain lined kettle until the juice flows freely. Mash, strain the juice through cheesecloth or cotton batting; then measure. Allow a pound of sugar to each pint of juice, boil together five minutes, then bottle. When ready for use add a few spoonfuls to a glass of cold water or in more liberal quantity to the contents of the punch bowl.

Indian Boy Tried to Pull Me Up.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — The Story The Two Trees Told.

"THEY have chopped down the great elm tree by the Methodist church," said mamma as Jack and Evelyn prepared to hear daddy's evening story. "I used to play under it when I was a little girl like Evelyn."

"That is too bad," said daddy. "Why did they do it?"

"Oh, I know!" cried Jack. "It was badly broken in the last storm, and they were afraid it would fall down on people and kill them. I heard Mr. McIntyre, the policeman, say so."

"That was an old, old tree, children," said daddy. "I used to play under it too. It was so old I shouldn't wonder if it had begun to die, so that is why it was broken in the storm. Did I ever tell you the story the young tree told the old tree and the questions it asked and the answers the old tree gave?"

"Oh, no!" cried Evelyn, while Jack said, "Tell it, daddy!"

"Well," said daddy, "this young tree was one of a big family of youngsters that had all been planted at the same time on a new street. This particular little tree happened to be growing right next to the only big tree on that street. It was a great big tree, very solemn and dignified, and the little trees, of course, all looked up to it very much and thought they would like to be like that when they were grown up."

"Yes," said Jack; "just as I want to be like daddy."

Daddy winked at mamma and continued: "One day this little tree got to complaining, talking to himself, and the big tree. 'What's the matter, little fellow?' asked the big tree.

"The litle tree was much abashed to be noticed by such a grand fellow. 'Oh, nothing much,' he answered; 'only a naughty little boy bent me over today and hurt my insides and tried to break me, but a lady in this house made him go away. Please, sir, did they treat you like that when you were little?'

"The big tree laughed, as trees will when the breeze rustles in them. 'Oh, my, yes!' he said. 'But that was a long time ago. There were only woods here then, and Indians roamed through them and built their wigwams and carried their papooses on their backs. I remember once that an Indian boy tried to pull me up by the roots when I was much littler than you, but his papa made him stop because he said one day I'd be a heap big tree. And I am,' he said proudly.

"'Shall I ever be big like you?' asked the little tree.

"'Oh,' answered the big tree, 'you will be larger, for you are a different kind. Don't you mind the little boy trying to hurt you. You'll get even. By the time he has a little boy of his own your trunk will be too big around for him to shin up it. Then you can have a good laugh at his daddy.'

"Come, kiddies; I am going to put you to bed now."

SEAL UNABLE TO GET $1,000 BAIL

Alleged Automobile Thief Held In Freehold Jail to Await Arraignment.

ACCOMPLICE RELEASED

Gildersleeve's Father Becomes His Bondsmen—Stolen Machine Recovered at Center Valley, N. Y., By County Detectives Yesterday.

Efforts were made by relatives, yesterday, to have R. W. Gildersleeve, the youth arrested with Ralph S. Seal, of this city, as an accomplice to an alleged automobile theft at Point Pleasant, released on $1,000 bail and Prosecutor Lawrence made an order to that effect yesterday afternoon. The stolen machine was recovered by detectives yesterday and turned over to James L. Ansboro, of Keyport, the owner. The auto is of the 1914 Buick model and is alleged to have been stolen from "The Camp," at Point Pleasant by the two boys who it is said, have made complete confessions.

After taking the machine the boys it is said, drove it to Center Valley, N. Y., and sold it for $200 to R. F. Wagott, an uncle of young Gildersleeve. They also received in return it is asserted, a second-hand car which the boys had stored in the garage opposite the Neptune township firehouse in Asbury Park, when arrested. It has been brought out according to the police, that Seal, who ran automobiles in this city as a chauffeur before going to Asbury Park, took the car in order to get funds to return a loan of $500 to his fiancee.

Nothing has been done by Seal's relatives, who live in this city, to bring about his release and it is probable that he will have to remain in the Freehold jail, where he is now confined, until the hearing is held. Gildersleeve, Sr., returned home with his son last night. Gildersleeve is eighteen years old and Seal is twenty.

Edward Starken, of Metuchen, chauffeur for a Mr. Moran, of Third avenue, Asbury Park, was taken into custody following the alleged theft of the Ansboro car after being implicated by Gildersleeve and Seal. When later examined by Prosecutor Harry Sexton, of Long Branch, the two boys exonerated the chauffeur and he was released. Ansboro, who had gone to "The Camp" with a party of Keyport firemen, believed he was the victim of jokers when he could not find his machine and did not notify the authorities until two days after the deed had been committed. Clues led to the apprehension of Gildersleeve and Seal but they were later released but kept under the surveilance of county detectives. Starken, having been implicated in the alleged theft by the two boys, a fact which helped materially in getting for them their release, was arrested and for a time occupied a cell in the Neptune township jail. After Starken had been taken into custody the other two boys were arrested and when arraigned together Seal broke down and made his confession, it is said, which was followed by one made by Gildersleeve. Starken was then released.

The wrongly accused chauffeur said that Seal had approached him with a plan to steal automobiles in order to make money, offering to split the profits 50-50. Seal declares his troubles arose when his parents objected to his marriage to a Plainfield girl with whom he had been keeping company for three years. According to Seal the girl advanced him $500 early in the summer and he used this to make a payment on an auto he secured to do business in Asbury Park as a demonstrator and salesman. Business was poor, he said, and realizing he would be unable to make another payment September 1 he conceived the idea of taking an auto and selling it.

WAR COST OF LIVING FELT HERE

Sharp Advance In Prices of Commodities Leads to Strict Economy.

EVERY LINE AFFECTED

Possible That Many Small Dealers Will Have to Shut Down If Present Conditions Continue—Merchants and Consumers Pessimistic.

European war conditions which have caused the prices on nearly all commodities to take a big jump, has had a tendency to alarm people. There is a well founded opinion that in many cases the advance in prices is largely due to an advantage taken by some dealers. During the past week prices have risen to a point higher than recorded for many years and there is no doubt but that if the present conditions continue some of the smaller grocers and butchers will have to close up shop.

In Plainfield as well as other parts of the country there has been a decided jump. The grocers who make specialities of fancy imported goods are unable to buy such goods. When interviewed by a reporter for the Daily Press today, one of the leading grocers stated that the French products are the hardest to get and the price in consequence has gone up. Flour and sugar are among the staple articles that have been raised and are still going higher.

The butchers have been hit especially hard. Good cuts of meat are very scarce and the prices are advancing every day on the poorer cuts as well. One of the borough butchers in discussing the situation today, said that in 1911 a leg of lamb sold for sixteen cents retail and today dealers are charged twenty cents a pound wholesale. Two years ago a shoulder cut could be bought for ten cents and the present price is fourteen cents. Special cuts of meat have been raised to a price higher than it has been in fifty years.

Those who are in the grocery and butcher business on a small scale will be affected the most and if conditions become much worse it will mean that all of the smaller stores will close. Even if they were able to pay the high prices the retail prices would either be too high for the consumer or they would not make any profit. A Metuchen woman came to this city today to buy her meat because at home good meat was scarce and the prices very high. Until imports can be secured from foreign countries the high prices will continue and when the present supply of foreign goods is exhausted there will be no way of securing more.

Clifford Applegate, when interviewed by a reporter for The Daily Press, was inclined to take a rather pessimistic view of the present situation. He predicted that lamb would be selling for 25 cents wholesale within a week, which he said would mean 50 cents a pound for lamb chops and that all other cuts of beef would take a proportionate jump in prices. Chuck steak, which not so long ago sold two pounds for 25 cents, is now bringing 22 cents a pound, while lamb chops now are selling for 25, 30 and 32 cents a pound, according to the cut. It is the opinion of Mr. Applegate that unless there is some relief soon many butchers will be obliged to go out of business.

The local druggists are also among the first to feel the advance in prices. Nearly everyone in the city and borough has received long lists from the wholesale houses quoting increased prices on countless articles, while some are reported as being unobtainable at any prices owing to the fact that there is no importation at present. The advance prices are chiefly on drugs, perfumeries, chemicals, etc., which have heretofore come from foreign markets. The druggists here will maintain old prices on the goods in stock, withholding the advance prices until they are compelled to pay more for further shipments.

Further information as to the advance in the cost of crude rubber was received today by Morris Abrams, the West Front street shoe merchant, who was officially advised that the product had jumped from 55 cents a pound last week to $1.15 a pound this week. Mr. Abrams being a wholesaler in rubbers was among the first to get word of the increase. This change in the market will have a marked effect on the price of rubbers, as well as all other products of which rubber is a component part.

GIRL ADMITS SHE STOLE VALUABLES

Colored Servant Makes Confession to Police When Accused of Robbery.

Alleged to have stolen $5 in cash, a gold locket valued at $100 and a belt from the home of Charles Eoff, on Crescent avenue, Marjorie Brooks, colored, of East Fourth street, was arraigned before City Judge W. G. DeMeza in the city court, this morning, and remanded until tomorrow morning, during which time an examination will be made. The girl was employed by the Eoff family as a servant, coming to this city from Newark four months ago.

She was arrested by Sergeant Higgins, this morning, and although she at first denied all knowledge of the thefts, a confession was finally obtained, it is said. Higgins went to her home to make the arrest and while there noticed the locket lying on a bureau. When confronted with this evidence the girl broke down and admitted her culpability, the police say. The locket was valued greatly by Mr. Eoff, inasmuch as it contained strands of his mother's and father's hair.

RAYMOND B. FORCE DIES AT OCEAN GROVE

Popular Young Man Passes Away After a Lingering Illness.

Raymond B. Force, aged about 22 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Force, of Mountain avenue, the borough, died last night at Ocean Grove, where he had been under treatment for a few weeks. Death was due to Bright's disease with which the young man had been a sufferer for about a year. During that time he went to Maine, but found the climate unsuited for his condition and he had been under treatment of several physicians and specialists, but without any result.

Mr. Force was born in North Plainfield and attended the North Plainfield High School. He did not graduate, leaving school to learn the plumbing trade. He was not able to continue the work very long and since then had been trying to regain his health and strength. He had a large circle of friends and acquaintances with whom he was popular.

Mr. Force attended Trinity Reformed church, where he was interested in the various departments of work, including the Sunday-school. His death will be a source of deep regret to many friends. There survives the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Force, a sister, Miss Elva Force, who was graduated from the North Plainfield High School last June, and a brother, Ray Force. The notice of funeral will be announced later.

TROLLEY HITS AUTOMOBILE, LOCAL OCCUPANT IS HURT

An automobile party, among whom was Leo Berse, of this city, was struck by a Paterson trolley car between Paterson and Belleville, last night, narrowly escaping serious, if not fatal, injury. The four passengers in the Oakland touring car were hurled to the roadbed and the driver was rendered unconscious. First aid treatment was administered on the scene and the unfortunate automobilists were later removed to their homes. Berse, who lives on East Fifth street, was injured internally and is at present at his home here. He was thrown from a rear seat to the macadam roadbed.

The accident happened in a place in the thoroughfare which is being reconstructed and the machine was traveling at a slow rate of speed when the crash came. The trolley came up behind without warning and hit the rear part of the lighter vehicle.

GERMAN NATIVE KILLS HIMSELF

Emil Eick, Brooding Over European War, Is Successful at Self-Destruction.

DETAILS ARE MEAGRE

Information Given Out By New York Police Leads to His Identity Here—C. W. Krausse, of Vine Street, Is Only Relative In This Country.

Brooding over the trouble existing in his native country, Emil Eick, who came to this city from Lubeck, Germany, seven months ago, committed suicide in New York city, yesterday afternoon, following a visit to the German Consulate. The man, who was a chemist, came to Plainfield, where he had relatives and located at Greenbrook road and Rock avenue. The local police were acquainted with the sad news this morning and conveyed it to the man's home. C. William Krausse, of Vine street, is the dead man's uncle, and as far as can be learned he is the only relative he leaves in this country. Mr. Krausse left at noon today for New York for the purpose of ascertaining the manner in which the man killed himself and to make arrangements for the funeral.

It was stated here this morning that Eick worried considerably over the internal conditions now existing in Europe, especially those that involved German, and he has on several different occasions expressed a desire to return to his native country and enlist in the cause. He was a former member of the German army and it was for the purpose of learning whether or not he would be called back that he went to the metropolis yesterday. The German Consulate, it has been learned, informed him that he would be called when the Kaiser issued a call for reserves and he was told to watch the columns of the daily papers for further information. The man could speak very little English and this also preyed on his mind as he had considerable trouble in getting the news he desired.

Since coming to Plainfield he has been employed as a gardener, not being able to secure employment as a chemist because of his unfamiliarity with the English language. He was of an energetic nature and anxious to make a reputation for himself in this country. The man was known to be despondent at times, but had never intimated that he intended to make an attepmt at self-destruction. The information coming from the New York police was meagre and gave no details concerning the man's rash act.

H. C. RUNYON MAY BE A CANDIDATE

Reported He Will Seek Councilmanic Nomination In Second Ward.

Among the political rumors heard about the city today was one to the effect that Harry J. Runyon, the former Fourth ward assessor, now a resident of the Second ward ,would seek the nomination for Common Council on the Republican ticket to succeed Cornelius van Herwerden. When interviewed on the subject, Mr. Runyon said that he had been urged to enter the race, but had as yet reached no decision. J. Henry Crane, also a lawyer residing in the Second ward, has been prominently mentioned for the nomination, but neither has he given any definite decision.

Following the announcement today that Councilman A. D. Edgar would seek the re-nomination in the First ward, comes the information that James P. Homan, of Sandford avenue, a former member of the Common Council, is being considered as a prospective candidate on the Democratic ticket. Councilmanic candidates are scarce in the Third ward so far as all parties are concerned, while in the Fourth ward there is only one candidate who has "thrown his hat into the ring."—Francis J. Blatz.

MARINES FOR WEST INDIES.

Washington, Aug. 12.—The regiment of marines ordered to Haiti and Santo Domingo, will not land there, it was declared by the Secretary of the navy today, without further orders from Washington. The regiment is sent merely as a precaution and at the insistence of naval experts who have pointed out to the Secretary that in the event of a fight the United States must see to it that the first engagement is an overwhelming victory for the American forces.

A. D. EDGAR WILL SEEK NOMINATION

First Ward Republican Club Meets For Organization and Election of Officers.

The First Ward Republican Club held its third annual meeting, last evening, at the offices of V. W. Nash, Jr., and received reports of the various officers for the past year, which showed a membership of forty with which to start the new year. John J. Carroll, chairman of the City Republican Executive Committee, made a short address, referring especially to the need of a strong organization and workers throughout the city. He strongly commended the spirit which prompted the attendance of thirty-five men who were in attendance in spite of the inclement weather.

Plans for the pre-primary campaign were discussed at length, and the work was outlined to some extent in detail. The councilmanic situation in the ward received its share of attention owing to the widespread opinion that A. D. Edgar, the present incumbant, whose term expires January 1, would not seek a re-nomination. A committee composed of Elias H. Bird, James F. Buckle and Albert I. Littell was appointed to take up the question of his becoming a candidate. Mr. Edgar was seen later in the evening and after considerable urging on the part of the committee, he agreed to enter the race.

Mr. Edgar has served but one term in the Council, having been elected to the office in the fall of 1912, being a candidate on the Progressive ticket after having been defeated for the Republican nomination by U. B. Crane. He is at present chairman of the councilmanic committee on fire and buildings, and is a member of the committees on streets, sewers, police and auditing. Mr. Edgar is well known throughout the city, and has been recognized as a thorough and business-like official while in the Common Council.

The following officers were elected to serve during the coming year: President, Walter L. Hetfield, Jr.; district vice-presidents, first district, V. W. Nash, Jr.; second district, Elias H. Bird; third district, William L. Gloak; fourth district, Caspar Stadele; treasurer, Robert McCormack; secretary, Walter I. Firstbrook. The next meeting of the club will be held at the office of Mr. Nash, Wednesday, August 19. A campaign for an increased membership will be carried out prior to this meeting, in which those who have heretofore not been actively associated with politics and first voters who expect to become affiliated with the Republican party will be invited to attend.

London, Aug. 12.—(Central News Cable.)—It is officially announced that all the forts along the entire line from Belfort, on the Eastern French frontier, up to Liege, are intact and fully prepared to withstand German attack. It is also officially stated that only small bodies of Germans entered Liege and are causing little trouble to the Belgians.

A despatch from Brussels says that the German troops are being detached from their positions before Liege and are moving forward through the heart of Belgium. The main body of the German cavalry is engaged in an advance all along the front of the allied forces.

A despatch from Amsterdam indicates that the German northern army of invasion has temporarily abandoned its attack on the forts of Liege and is continuing its advance across Belgium by routes lying to the north and the south of that city. The main body of General Von Emmich's forces is being concentrated at Herstal, which lies on the River Meuse, about seven miles northeast of Liege.

Working under a heavy and continuous fire, the Germans yesterday succeeded in constructing a pontoon bridge over the River Meuse near Herstal. By means of this bridge a number of siege guns were brought across the river. Some of these guns have already been placed in position for bombarding the forts at Liege, but the majority of them have been sent by road in the direction of Namur, where a decisive encounter between the Germans and the allied forces is fully expected before the end of the week.

Another German division supported by heavy artillery is authoritatively stated to be advancing towards Namur by a route lying to the South of Liege. The despatch says that the number of Germans advancing on Namur is enormous, being estimated at from 400,000 to 600,000. The number of Germans remaining in the city of Liege is stated to be comparatively few.

A despatch from Nish, the temporary Servian capital, states that Prince George, of Servia, was wounded by an Austrian shell yesterday. The Prince was standing in an exposed position on the fortress wall watching the Austrian bombardment when a shell exploded a few feet away from him and he was struck on the head by a large piece of stone. The Prince fell down unconscious but an examination by surgeons revealed the fact that the wound, although an ugly one, was not grave. The Prince is now reported to be progressing satisfactorily.

The Times this morning states that a German destroyer has been sunk through striking a floating mine laid by Germans, with the object of blowing up British warships. The report does not give the location of the disaster nor any further details.

The Times today publishes a despatch from Paris which says the report that Montenegrins occupy Mount Tarabosch dominating Scutari, is confirmed.

The Russian commander of the Fortress of Sveaborg, Finland, has ordered all the inhabitants of that place and Helsingfors to leave as a battle or a bombardment is believed to be imminent.

The Gazette today publishes details of the negotiations between England and Germany regarding the status of their merchant shipping in ports of the enemy. It appears that Germany on August 4, proposed to the British government the mutual liberation of interned ships. A reply within 48 hours was requested. No reply was made to the German communication but the British government through the American Ambassador, Walter H. Page, made known to Germany the decision of the government regarding treatment of enemy ships, and asking whether this would meet the views of Germany. The negotiations continued but the British government has no knowledge of the treatment being accorded to British ships and cargoes in German ports.

The Bank of England has made arrangements to receive gold in Ottawa and make payments against it in London. The gold will be deposited with the Minister of Finance at Ottawa. The effect will be to provide means of remittance from North America to London without shipment of gold across the Atlantic. The plan is capable of extension to other places outside the regions under the control or which might come to be under the control of the enemy.

Rome, Aug. 12.—(Central News Cable.)—News of the complete wiping out of an Austrian cavalry brigade by Russian Cossacks at Rietgerai near the Russian frontier is contained in a despatch to the Cerriere D Italia from Triesta. The despatch states that the Austrial brigade had invaded Russian territory when it was attacked by a large force of Cassacks, supported by artillery. The Austrians finding themselves outnumbered sought to regain the Austrian frontier but their horses floundered hopelessly in the intervening marshes.

A despatch from Basle states that in their desperate efforts to dislodge the French forces from Mulhausen the Germans suffered enormous losses, the 169th and the 112th regiments being entirely wiped out. The despatch asserts that a number of prominent German officers fell in the fighting, amongst them being the commander of the famous Fribury corps.

Washington, Aug 12.—Instructions were wired to all American Embassies today, to make inquiries into the available number of commercial steamship lines to bring Americans out of Europe. Where such steamships cannot be found ,the diplomatic officers abroad will be instructed to arrange the charter of steamers flying neutral flags, giving the government guarantee of payment for all passengers at regular rates. Americans will be required to pay for these accommodations unless they are unable to do so, in which case the war department will pay in case steamship owners refuse to consider such arrangement. The Ambassadors and Ministers are authorized to arrange for the charter of the ships needed at the lowest figure possobile, which they will submit to the home government for ratification.

London, Aug. 11.—A news agency despatch from Brussels tells a story of feminine heroism that parallels anything in history. It says that the women employes of the Belgian National manufactory at Herstal, a suburb of Leige, held the factory building for hours against German assault.

When the German attack began the women were alone in the factory with the exception of a few old men. The able-bodied men had rushed to defence of Liege. The women determined that the arms factory should not be taken, armed themselves with rifles and automatics. With these weapons they repulsed a charge on the building by a company of German infantry. This was renewed and the women again repulsed the foe.

Finally when their ammunition was exhausted the women used boiling water and poured it on the soldiers in the street below, the Germans finally abandoning the attack for the most serious business against the Liege forts. According to the report two thousand Germans were killed, wounded or scalded.

London, Aug. 12.—English refugees who have just returned from Berlin, brought along a Berlin newspaper containing a report of the German chancellor's speech in the Reichstag on August 4, a speech that newspapers outside Germany did not get, but which is of considerable interest as showing the ruthlessness of Garmany's campaign plans. The speech reads in part:

"We are now in a state of necessity and necessity knows no law. Our troops have occupied Luxemburg, and perhaps we are already on Belgian soil. That is contrary to the dictates of international law. It is true that the French government has declared at Brussels that France is willing to respect the neutrality of Belgium as long as her opponent respects it.

"We knew, however, that France stood ready for invasion. France could afford to wait, but we could not wait. The French government upon our flank on the lower Rhine have been disastrous. So we were compelled to override the just protest of the Luxemburg and Belgian governments.

"The temporary wrong which I openly speak of, we will endeavor to make good as soon as our military goal has been reached.

"Any one who is threatened as we are threatened; any one who is fighting for his highest possessions, can have but one thought—how he is to hack his way through."

New York, Aug. 12.—Incoming steamers this morning reported the British cruiser Suffolk, off Sandy Hook near Ambrose Channel.

The Suffolk is cruising to and fro off Ambrose Channel just beyond the three-mile limit. The Royal Mail Steam Packet Danube arrived from Kingston, Jamaica, this morning. Capt. S. W. Plunkett said that a heavy fog and darkness prevented his seeing the Suffolk when he came through but at 1:30 and 4 a. m. the Suffolk had come up to Ambrose Channel lightship, according to unquestionable information he had received.

Acting British Consul Nosworthy, this afternoon said that he had been advised by Rear Admiral Cradock, on board the British cruiser Suffolk, that the Western Atlantic ocean is clear of warships hostile to British shipping in the area as far south as Trinidad. The admiral informed the Counsel that there were five British warships in the Western Atlantic ocean which has been thoroughly patrolled. British shipping agents have been advised that there is no danger to their ships.

Although Standard Oil Companies are expending all possible energy in the effort to retain employes, the interruption to shipping has forced a reduction in working days, in some cases, and in others a complete discharge of large numbers of men. The Standard Oil Company, of New York, has completely shut down its Devoe canning works, employing 500 men and women, also the canning factory at the Pratt Works in Brooklyn, including 300 employes. The Standard Oil Company, of New Jersey, is apparently in a more serious position than the other Companies as what little fleet it has is under the German [illegible]etary McAdoo has invited a n[illegible]er of local marine underwriters to a conference to be held in Washington tomorrow, when it is expected that plans to facilitate the movement of grain and cotton will be discussed. Leading marine underwriters are now in conference at the Chamber of Commerce.

Washington, Aug. 12.—With the exception of Genoa, Italy and certain portions of Sweden, Americans in Europe are suffering no great hardship from lack of funds, Secretary Garrison declared today. The deposit of $50,000 to the credit of the Swiss banks made by the State department has greatly alleviated the troubles of Americans there, and the trouble in Rome of a similar character was likewise relieved by the deposit of half that sum to the credit of Rome bankers.

It was strongly intimated by a high government official that the administration was considering seriously lodging a protest with the powers on account of the apparently reckless planting of mines in the North Sea and the English Channel

The Charge d'Affaires of the British Embassy Colville Barclay, in a memorandum addressed to the Secretary of State yesterday, set forth the fact that Germany has been engaging in this practise, and that England was prepared to follow this example.

As a result of this information the course of the cruisers Tennessee and North Carolina, which had intended to go first to Falmouth, England, through the waters so mined, will probably stop at an Irish or Scotch port, or else proceed directly north from Scotland to Norway.

The mines, it is understood, are unanchored, and may float many miles, endangering the vessels of neutral powers. It is on this ground that a protest from the United States will be based, if one is made.

All communication with Germany is again cut off. For the past few days some despatches have reached the United States by way of Copenhagen, but last night this channel of communication suddenly failed. No explanation has been found. The State department is working frantically to re-establish communication.

Secretary Bryan declared today that the plan of approaching the powers with a proposition that the integrity of China be respected, had not yet been acted upon finally, but admitted that the subject was under hourly consideration. He intimated that a definite announcement might be expected at any time. It is believed the matter will be finally settled when President Wilson arrives late today.

The executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the U. S. It was announced today will meet in the Merchants Association headquarters in New York tomorrow to consider questions of shipping foreign trade banking and co-operation with the government.

Paris, Aug. 12.—(Central News Cable.)—The report that the Germans had violated the neutrality of Holland by crossing the frontier and massing troops on Dutch territory, has been officially denied by the Dutch legation here.

Brussels, Aug. 12—Badly fitting shoes are said to be one of the causes for the German failure at Liege. The shoes provided for the soldiers were new and, lamed many of the men. All the prisoners who arrived here limped and complained of their footgear.

There was a scarcity of provisions also, evidencing the unpreparedness of the commissary department of the German army. These conditions are responsibile for numerous desertions.

Cologne, Aug. 12—In the establishment of defences against air craft the spires of the Cologne cathedral are being utilized. Other churches are forming part of the works too, aeraplane guns being mounted in the belfrys.

Cape Town, South Africa, Aug. 12—Germans have abandoned the port of Swakopmund, German Southwest Africa, it is said, and have gone to Windhoek, in Little Namaqualand. Before they left they dynamited the pier, dismantled the harbor works, and sacked the warehouses.

The abandoned port is a mission and trading station a short distance from Cape Colony, a British possession.

Copenhagen, Aug. 12—There are serious riots in Germany because of the enormous rise in food prices, according to travelers arriving here from Berlin. They report the arrest of many shopkeepers and the closing of their stores. Paper money is going out of circulation because no one will accept it.

Berlin via. London, Aug. 12.—It is reliably stated that the German government has confiscated Russian money in German banks amounting to no less than a hundred million marks.

Honolulu, Aug. 12.—A cable message received today from Yokohama says the Pacific Mail Liner Nile, which has just arrived from Honolulu, has canceled her trip to Hong-Kong and back to the United States, owing to a report that a German cruiser is in the Straits near Kobe, Japan. The Nile is a chartered British vessel.

Philadelphia, Aug. 12.—Two American steamers, the Berwild and the Lorelzo, have been chartered to carry coal from Atlantic coast ports to Buenos Aires. These are the first American steamers to be engaged to carry coal direct to the River Platte.

WAR NEWS IN BRIEF.

France.

The French army and the German of the Moselle are facing each other along a line extending from Stenay, Marville and Montvedy on the west to a point well east of Longwy, in the gap in the French line of fortifications north of Verdun. The two armies are in contact along almost the entire line, and skirmishes are reported from several points, the French, according to the reports, more than holding their own in these preliminary encounters. A great battle is expected.

Belgium.

The forts at Liege are still holding out, and the German army of the Meuse is still being held back by their unexpected resistance. A strong combined French and Belgian army is southwest of Liege, and another great battle is expected in that district between the allies and the army of 125,000 Germans which is intrenching itself there.

Germany.

The German troops having their bases at Strassburg and Neubreisach have checked the French invasion of Alsace, and the French have evacuated the unfortified town of Muelhausen and have fallen back to their line of defense to the south of the town.

Great Britain.

The British expeditionary force is reported to be intrenching itself at Namur, in Belgium, in readiness to join the Belgians and French in holding back the German army of invasion should it pass Liege on its way to Brussels and France by the Meuse valley. No information is obtainable from the British admiralty regarding the movements of the British fleet in the North sea.

Russia.

Russian troops are reported to have occupied the town of Zaloozc, in Galicia, and it is reported that the Russian invasion of Austria is now begun.

Austria.

Austrian troops are reported to have occupied Miechow, in Russian Poland, after defeating a considerable body of Cossacks.

Servia.

Servian reports say that not an Austrian soldier remains on Servian soil. The combined Servian and Montenegrin attack on Bosnia continues. The Servian army is reported to have reached Sarajevo, the Bosnian capital, where the Archduke Ferdinand was assassinated.

Italy.

Italy is reported to have demanded an explanation from Austria of the bombardment by Austrian ships of a large Italian manufacturing plant at Antivari over which the Italian flag was flying.

London, Aug. 12.—Intense excitement prevails here, as it is believed that a great naval battle is already in progress in the North sea. Owing to the absolute lack of information, coupled with the announcement that the North sea has been closed to shipping, it is thought highly probable that an engagement between the English and German fleets is being fought.

Various reports have come to London from seacoast towns along the northern part of the English channel that firing has been heard distinctly. Some of these reports are classed as pure fiction, yet the silence maintained at the office of the British admiralty is taken by the public to mean that something is happening between the Scottish coast and the North sea entrance of the Kiel canal.

Whether it is of any significance or not, a dispatch from Rotterdam today says that the Holland-American steamship line has placed its premises on the Hook of Holland at the disposal of the Dutch Red Cross society, with a special view to the hospital needs in case of a naval engagement in the North sea.

French Fall Back.

Paris, Aug. 12.—The war office announced that the French army which is invading Alsace has fallen back before superior forces to the plains south of Muelhausen. It is reported that a battle between the Germans advancing from Neubreisach and the French army of invasion is now in progress at that point.

The movement indicates that the French have evacuated the unfortified town of Muelhausen, as did the Germans at the French approach. The Germans moved to Neubreisach to the east, where there are strong fortifications. The French are now throwing up intrenchments to the rear of Muelhausen to make their stand there.

The check administered by the Germans in compelling the evacuation of Muelhausen is the first report received in Paris of a German victory in the campaign. Earlier reports said that the French had reformed their lines outside the city and had checked the German advance. It is stated in the official announcement that the French met with "an overwhelming force" in the advance on Neubreisach and fell back upon Muelhausen.

Half Million Men.

The German army which is seeking to stem the French advance includes a part of the troops concentrated at Strassburg and is said to number nearly half a million men. It is said here that this army originally was intended in the German plan of campaign to lead an invasion of France from a point near the Swiss border, but was held back because of the French movement against Alsace.

Whether Kolmar, too, has been evacuated by the French is not known here. If the French army defeats the Germans in the battle which is believed to be in progress between Muelhausen and Neubreisach the next German stand probably will be made at Strassburg, which is heavily defended.

The war office also announces officially that the French troops around Spincourt, in the department of the Meuse, have repulsed an attack of German cavalry supported by artillery and has forced the enemy to retreat. Spincourt is just south of Longuyon and about equally distant from the Luxemburg frontier and from the German frontier near Metz.

Military trains continue to disembark German troops at Gerolstein, to the northeast of the Luxemburg frontier, but the bulk of this German army has been unloaded from the trains in the rear of Metz and Thionville. The work of fortifying Luxemburg and the country south of Metz has been completed by the Germans.

In spite of the check received at Muelhausen the French claim still to be masters of Haute Alsace. The Germans attacked the French advance guard at Cerney and Muelhusen Sunday night. Although the Germans were superior in number the French established their lines in the rear of Muelhausen and withstood the attack.

An assault by the Germans on Rogervillers and Hablinville was repulsed by artillery from Manonvillers.

German troops are moving toward Morhange, twenty miles southeast of Metz, and in the vicinity of Blamont, in the department of Muerthe-et-Moselle. French aviators are doing constant scout duty over the territory in which the Germans are operating in spite of heavy artillery fire which is directed against them.

Word has been received that Lieutenant Baron Marschall von Bieberstein, son of Baron Marschall von Bieberstein, former German ambassador at Constantinople, was killed in fighting near Genaville, in the department of Meurthe-et-Moselle on Aug. 5.

Reports received in Paris from Belgium say that Belgium has now been cleared of Germans with exception of the territory around Liege and to the south of that city, and with the exception of wandering cavalry detachments, many of whom have lost their way.

London, Aug. 12.—The mayor of Birmingham has been notified by the admiralty that it was the cruiser Birmingham, put in commission last February, that recently sank the German submarine the U-15.

DOLLAR DAY BUYERS WILL BE PROTECTED

Merchants' Association Plans to Take Steps Against Any Imposition that May Arise.

Additional plans for Plainfield's second annual "Dollar Day" were were made at a meeting of local business men held this morning and present indications point to a banner day, September 2, the date that has been selected for the event. Arrangements have been made to thoroughly advertise the project both in this city and other parts of the State and the publicity campaign in other towns will undoubtedly bring into this city a big influx of shoppers on that day. Special care is to be taken by those in charge that no mean advantage of the public be taken by any merchant. Should shoppers have any just reason to believe that they have been imposed upon by any merchant upon this day, or receive any goods which are not as advertised, they are requested to report the matter to the Association and the proper action will be taken.

Several sub-committees have been appointed as follows: to solicit subscriptions from all merchants to meet expenses of the advertising, A. E. Force, Jacob Tepper, and M. C. Van Arsdale; to secure muslin posters and have same placed on automobiles and other vehicles, Henry Rosenbaum; printing, George Ballantine; committee on advertising, Samuel Rothberg. These committees, as well as the general committee of arrangements will make reports at a special session of the Business Mens' Association to be held next Monday evening.

AMERICA'S CHANCE.

Besides forcing home to us the lesson of the value of the merchant marine, the European war ought to show us the way to depend more upon America and Americans and less upon Europe and Europeans. That may make us more national, may even make us insular, like the British, but if it teaches us that we may at all times live within ourselves the insular slant of character may be softened by time and experience.

Whether we like it or not, we are being taught that very lesson now. We have been shut off from contact with Europe and European business by the act of Europe itself. She doesn't care whether we like it or not. Europe didn't ask what America thought of her act. She didn't ask what is to be the effect of all this international confusion upon America and Americans. Europe doesn't care what the effect will be upon us. So, no matter what we think, or what the effect, the hard fact is we are forced at this very minute to fall back upon ourselves and depend upon ourselves.

And if the lesson of the war is that if we can do that now, we also can do it when Europe is ready to resume her broken relations with us. By that time we might be able to advise Europe that we can get along very well by ourselves and for ourselves which would be a lesson that would serve Europe along with the United States. BaDt:outpAglan dlaSz nu nu nu

The lesson that, if necessary, we can get along for ourselves is one that Americans can learn with profit. If this war teaches us that lesson so well that Europe loses the American market for hundreds of millions of business each year, so much the better for Americans and so much the worse for Europe. The lesson might be to Americans that if we can get along during the war without all those articles which we have been importing from the several European countries, we can get along without them when the war has ended.

Americans don't need imported fashions. Americans can design our clothing just as well as Parisians. If we can get along with American fashions now we can get along with them all the time. And while American cheese and those other articles of so-called delicacy are here ready for Americans at home we can manage to get along very well without the European articles.

It is Hobsons choice anyway. We can't get the European stuff and we can have the American products. So while we are drilling ourselves to depend upon America and Americans for some of these things because we can't get them we can also train ourselves to get along entirely upon what is produced in America. While we are at the job let us accustom ourselves to using everything American. If we learn that lesson real well this war, horrible as it is, shall have brought us something of genuine value. We need to learn more of this lesson, and this is a good time to begin to pick up more of it.

THE UHLANS.

In the accounts of the battles abroad, frequent reference is made to the German Uhlans. The Elizabeth Journal explains the type editorially, and readers of the Press will undoubtedly be interested because of the almost continued repetition of the word in the news dispatches. As the Journal says, many people have supposed them to be troops of a special family or tribe, as are the Russian Cossacks. Some have applied the name indiscriminately to all German troops. The word Uhlan, however, is applied to a type of German cavalrymen. The Uuhlan was originally, at the time of the Franco-Prussian war, a Prussian lancer, used largely for scouting.

There are twenty-six regiments of Uhlans in the German army. They are peculiarly well mounted and equipped. They are ranked as heavy cavalry, or heavy dragoons. They are armed with lance, sabre, carbine and pistol. These cavalry regiments are used, as were the cavalry of our own country during the Civil war, for quick action, as army vanguards on the march, as a rear guard on retreat and for raiding expeditions.

Guesses as to the outcome of the war in Europe are many, but how anyone expects to figure out what will be the result is beyond belief. Up to the present time practically all of the war news has come from Brussels, Paris and London, and they are the capitals of three nations warring on Germany. It is safe to predict, however, that whatever may be the effect on the map of Europe, the Kaiser is going to have a pretty tough time of it, with such nations as England, France, Russia and Belgium opposed to him.

There need be no occasion to fear for Americans abroad. Thus far the authorities of the belligerant nations have done everything in their power to care for them and see that they are placed in safe positions, or shipped from the fighting zone. Reports have come that they now can get sufficient funds in almost every country affected, and when they get home they will be envied by all of their neighbors and friends because of their experiences.

If you have not already sent in a letter in the Trade-in-Plainfield contest, there are only a few hours left, for it closes tonight, and the judges will complete their work between now and Saturday. A large number of very satisfactory arguments, which show the advantages of trading at home, will be presented in the letters as they are published during the next week or two, and they should prove a valuable stimulus to home trade.

Just why the price of food stuffs should go up, when the European markets are virtually cut off from this country is hard to understand. Perhaps the extra two or three cents a pound on meat is added to make up for the profits lost by the dropping off of the foreign trade.

An official of the paper trust says that the country faces a news print shortage if the war keeps up. Perhaps if a few of the unnecessary extras, carrying fake stories, were discontinued by the New York papers, the supply could be made to last indefinitely.

The editorial on Saturday should be a "corker." It has been prepared by a resident of this section whose fame has gone for many miles beyond the United States, and who is constantly in demand as a public speaker.

RECREATION NOTES

The Folk Dancing Class will meet tonight in the Bryant School at 8:15. Miss Morris has charge of the class work and so far this summer there has been taught about five folk dances, and with these, for the sake of variation, are danced social dances. Quite a number have joined the class as beginners and for those who are interested at all in dancing the folk dance offers many advantages in that most of the movements involved in doing them are large movements and easily learned. The active and wholesome exercise resulting from the dancing is the means of great pleasure and enjoyment. As the class is better represented by boys Miss Morris would be very glad to have more girls come out tonight and even the numbers up.

The Italian Social and Educational Club will meet tomorrow night in the Lincoln School.

Value of Newspaper Advertising First Recognized 250 Years Ago

Advertising, now the main prop and support of a vast majority of newspapers and periodicals, was given little consideration by early publishers, and the vast publicity industry is a growth of the last century. Indeed, it may be said that modern advertising had its origin in 1814, when the application of steam-power to printing enabled the London Times and other journals soon afterward, to attain circulations beyond the few hundreds of copies to which they had been restricted.

In the days of the Stuarts in England no industry could succeed without the approval and patronage of royalty, and today marks the 250th anniversary of the first kingly recognition of the value of newspaper publicity. In the Kingdom's Intelligencer of that date, Charles II. announced that on certain days "his sacred majesty" would "heal his people" of the king's evil by the laying on of royal hands, and would at the expiration of the period discontinue the treatment "till Michaelmas next." The announcement was made so that the afflicted ones "may not come up to town in the interim, and lose their labor."

A few advertisements had been printed in English journals and news-letters before that time, but the recognition of the king gave a great impetus to the industry, and in 1664 and succeeding years many "ads" were printed in the Intelligencer of Sir Roger L'Estrange, and its successor, the London Gazette.

Many of the advertisements of that period dealt with strange and magical practices and drugs for the cure of various ailments, so King Charles II. was not the only advertising "quack."

From the earliest period of American journalism, which had its beginning in the United States at Boston and in Canada and Halifax, the publishers solicited advertisements. The Boston News-Letter, the first regularly published newspaper in America, in its initial number, April 24, 1704, carried an appeal for "ads." John Campbell, the editor and publisher, and also postmaster of Boston, announced that "all Persons who have any Houses, Lands, Tenements, Farms, Ships, Vessels, Goods, Wares or Merchandise, &c., to be Sold, or Let; or Servants Runaway, or Goods Stole or Lost, may have the same inserted at a Reasonable Rate, from Twelve Pence to Five Shillings, and not to exceed." Advertising rates were not very definite in those days, and the Virginia Gazette, established in Williamsburg in 1736 as the first paper in that Colony announced that "Advertisements of a moderate length for three shillings for the first week, and two shillings each week thereafter," would be accepted.

Among the advertisements published in the English press at about the time of King Charles's announcement were those of "a physician of known integrity" who promised "the certain cure of agues of all sorts;" a coffinmaker who offered "very fashionable laced and plain dressings for the dead of all sizes, with very fashionable coffins;" one Joynts, who offered necklaces "which absolutely eases children in breeding teeth;" a maker of "the right drink," which was alleged to "help digestion." "dissolve congealed phlegm upon the lungs," "hugely corroborate the brain and memory," and perform other wonders; and a museum providing "a rare collection of curiosityes," among them "a choyce Egyptian Mummy; the Ant-Heare of Brazil; a Remora; a Torpedo; the huge Thigh-bone of a Gyant; a Moon-Fish; a Tropick-bird, &c."

MIDDLESEX FINANCES GOOD, IT IS SAID

Freeholders Face Crisis Caused By War With Easy Minds.

In view of the financial flurry caused by the European war, the position of Middlesex county at the present time is a highly satisfactory one. The county's credit is rock-bound as was shown at the recent bond sale for the courthouse improvement, when New York bankers, who are looking askance at securities of their own municipality, clamored to make the Middlesex loan.

With the exception of the Amboy bridge issue, there are no bond sales necessary at this time, and this will be for less than $34,000. If the money market tightens so as to put interest rates up unreasonably, this sale will undoubtedly be postponed.

In every department the county is in splendid financial condition. Careful management by the Freeholders and the county collector has given Middlesex an enviable position at this time. There is an ample balance in every appropriation to carry through to the end of the year, unless unforseen expenses are necessitated.

The Freeholders are being congratulated upon getting their big undertakings under way before the present scare came on. If they had dallied with the courthouse improvements, for instance, they might now find it impossible to do the work at all, or else be obliged to pay $1,000 a year more interest to get funds for the undertaking. Their refusal to be delayed in taking up this work has meant a big saving to the county.

Meanwhile other counties and municipalities are finding themselves obliged to stop improvements because of the financial situation. Middlesex, backed by its splendid credit and the forthought of its officials, is going straight ahead.

SUNDAY RECORD AN IDEAL NEWSPAPER

As Clean As It Is Conscientious In the Presentation of the News.

In every home, where keeping abreast of the world's progress day by day is regarded as an educational duty as well as a pleasure, the Sunday newspaper ought to be a welcome visitor. In discriminating homes, particularly where there are young people whose tastes and opinions are largely molded by what they read, as much care and judgment should be exercised in the selection of a Sunday newspaper as in the choice of books. We commend "The Philadelphia Sunday Record" to our readers as a paper that is as clean as it is conscientious in the presentation of the news; as varied in its appeal to every member of the family as it is vigorous, and as indispensable as it is interesting.

The characteristics that have popularized the daily issue of "The Record" are the back bone of the Sunday issue. Its new pages cling to "Record" standards of accuracy, conciseness and readability. The features that give the daily its place of pre-eminence in the household are enlarged and amplified on Sunday; the columns devoted to woman's interests, fashions, science and domestic arts grow into pages, and new departments, covering the best of current humor (in black and white and color) and fiction, are added. The illustrated Sunday Magazine alone, with its weekly grist of high-class stories and articles by leading writers, is worth more than the price of the paper.

"The Sunday Record" is a bigger and better daily "Record," built up on the sanest and soundest lines of Sunday journalism, with the idea that the intelligent reader, having more leisure for literary entertainment on Sunday than any other day, looks to its quality as well as its quantity. When we say that daily "Record" quality is maintained in "The Sunday Record," that is the highest praise we can give it.

NO ACTION TAKEN IN SCHOOL MATTER

Taxpayers' Association Also Defers Discussion of Telephone Ordinance.

Owing to the small attendance due to weather conditions, the Piscataway Taxpayers' Association took no action on the school matter at its meeting, last night, deferring the proposition until another time. There was an informal discussion of the new telephone ordinance, but no action was taken on that matter.

This being the annual meeting, officers for the coming year were chosen, as follows: President, F. P. Vail; vice-president, Everitt Marshall; secretary-treasurer, Frank C. Peck.

After the business, the members enjoyed an interesting talk by former Mayor George Viehman, of New Brunswick, who spoke along the line of civic enterprise. During a social session the members enjoyed a smoker.

The question of a new school is one that will have to be settled within a short time, and while the Tax payers Association has no authority in the matter, its opinion will doubtless have some influence. This will also be true regarding the telephone ordinance which is before the Piscataway Township Committee for action. The telephone company is seeking certain rights so that it will be enabled to improve its service not only in South Plainfield and vicinity, but in the adjoining towns.

IN THE SPORTING SPOTLIGHT

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN AMATEURISM AND PROFESSIONALISM?

There has been so much that is disturbing and so little that is enlightening, written about the line drawn between amateurism and professionalism in golf, and about R. C. Watson's efforts in this direction, that the matter now demands serious consideration.

When you consider that in all sports he who claims amateur rank would seem to be in a definite contractual relation with somebody or something, for he suffers a detriment—he cannot compete for money—and he enjoys many privileges; that is to say, there would seem to be a well-defined consideration entitling him to legal rights, it is surprising to know that the word "amateur" has never been judically defined, and I have no doubt that though it has not yet been done, somebody will some day on the basis take an appeal from the decision of an athletic association to the Common Pleas Courts. So, too, the word "professional" has never been considered in the courts in its specific athletic meaning, though on the general aspect it has been defined in 163 U. S., Rep. 266, as "one who places his knowledge acquired from a study of a science to the use of others as he may be employed to use them, and at a vocation for the purpose of his own maintenance."

This shows us that the various amateur athletic associations throughout the world have always been a law unto themselves and made their own definitions of the word, which, of course, differed accordingly.

Way back in the days of "Piltdawn" man an amateur was simply one who played his game for love of it alone, with never a thought of money, and no one ever questioned his intent. The next step was the recognition that it was not fair to allow some who were even in a strict sense amateurs to compete with the general run of amateurs. For example, in England the oldtime boat builder incidentally learned in the pursuit of his daily occupation the handling of boats and oars and acquired a skill and endurance quite impossible to the amateur of school or college or leisure, and he was accordingly barred from amateur ranks.

The vast increase in the popularity of sports and athletic contests and the abuses of amateurism that inevitably crept in soon made the old understanding of the word absurd and obsolete. On both sides of the Atlantic the various amateur associations governing the different branches of sport found it necessary, in order to keep their ranks free from professionalism, to surround the amateur with such safeguards and restrictions as were demanded by the varying conditions, tendencies and temptations peculiar to each sport. Hence it became impossible to give a satisfactory universal definition to the amateur, and the laws relating to his status are by no means accordant.

The ruling of the Amateur Athletic Association of Great Britain is as follows: "One who has never competed for a money prize or staked bet, or with or against a professional for any prize, or who has never taught, pursued or assisted in the practice of athletic exercises as a means of obtaining a livelihood." The ruling of their Amateur Rowing Association is considerably more strict, while those relating to some of the other sports are corespondingly lax. For example, many leading cricketers as "secretary" or "treasury," or the like, while devoting all of their time to acquiring skill at the game; cash payments to "gentlemen riders" are but flimsly disguised, and "out-of-pocket expenses" allowed to other amateurs border very closely on what is generally recognized as professionalism. In rugby football the Northern Union has gone furtherest of all in allowing payment to amateurs for time lost from their trades while playing, provided always they are regular employes in good standing.

In the United States most athletic sports are controlled by the Amateur Athletic Union, which bars from its ranks anyone who has "received or competed for compensation or reward in any form for the display, exercise or example of his skill or knowledge of any athletic exercise or for rendering personal service of any kind to any athletic organization or for becoming or continuing a member of any athletic organization or . . . has knowingly entered any competition open to any professional or professionals or has knowingly competed with any professional for a prize or has issued or allowed to be issued in his behalf any challenge to compete against any professional or for money or has pawned or sold any prize won in athletic competition."

Golf, tennis, cricket and baseball each has its separate association and its distinctive regulation.

What is it then that Mr. Watson, president of the U. S. G. A., has been trying to do? He wishes to change the ruling as to amateurs as it now stands in order to purify the ranks of those men who, he feels, are indulging in professional practices. He has back of him that uncertain history of the amateur status which pretty well allows any association to make any kind of a restriction that the moment may seem to demand regardless of its permanent advisability.

Section 7 of U. S. G. A. laws reads as follows: "No person shall be considered an amateur golfer, or shall be eligible to compete in the amateur championships of this association, or in any event for amateurs authorized or held by it, who accepts, directly or indirectly, any fee, money or other consideration for playing or teaching the game of golf or who personally makes or repairs golf clubs, golf balls, or other golf articles for pay, or who after the age of sixteen years has received pay for services as caddie, caddie master or greenkeeper, or who is or has been a professional in any other branch of athletics, provided, however (here follows clause of reinstatement)."

The most material and far-reaching changes proposed by Mr. Watson and the only ones I think that cannot fairly be brought within the above ruling—are that amateurs who receive pay for laying out courses, suggesting changes, etc., and those who are remunerated for writing articles on how to play the game, should be deemed professionals. If the changes proposed are in the nature of specific legislation, that is, directed to remedy some particularly flagrant instances of abuse (and there are some who feel this to be the case), they should never for an instant be seriously considered and should come at once under the ban which the history of all laws has shown to be proper to all specific legislation. It corrects a momentary and transient evil at the expense of what is good and desirable and permanent. But if these changes are really needed, they should be adopted.

In my opinion, to bar from the ranks of amateur golfers those whom a love of the game has led, through long and arduous study, into a knowledge of its theory and practice attained by but a few, is to do much harm and no good. It is to take away completely, for, of course, they will not become professionals, men who by their exceptional opportunities for intercourse and observation and by their mental make-up, training and education, are better qualified than any other type of persons—professionals included—to advance and uplift the game in every way, and incidentally to uphold the highest moral status of the amateur.

A man who writes on golf, looks for the sale of newspaper articles for money or who lays out a course for pay may be a professional writer or a professional architect, but he certainly is not a professional golfer. He does not "place the knowledge acquired from a study of the science to the use of" teaching others, "as he may be employed by them," and as a vocation for the purpose of his own maintenance. Intent is as material here as it is in the distinction between murder and manslaughter; and there is no reason why you should taint the whole man with professionalism in golf because in some action money has been involved.

BASEBALL NOTES

Larry Lajoie is now commanding the French Reservists of the Napland division of the American League.

Steve Evans, of Brooklyn, and Benny Kauff, of Indianapolis, are still topping the list of Federal League hitsmiths.

Max Carey, of the Pittsburg outfield, is so fast getting down to first that few players even try to double him up.

Rumor has it that Doc Johnston of the Cleveland Naps, is to be traded to the St. Louis Browns within a short time.

Rube Bressler, the youngster uncovered by Connie Mack, is working like a top-notch pitcher with the Athletics.

Twenty-two players in the Georgia-Alabama League are batting for .300 or better. Smith of the Rome team is leading with .356.

Eddie Collins, of the Athletics, and Fritz Maisel, the Yanks' infielder, are distancing all rivals for base running honors in the American League.

After a brilliant record of victories at home, the St. Louis Cardinals ran into a string of defeats in the East, that came very near putting them out of the race.

George Stallings surely has three crack gunners in Rudolph, Tyler and James. The Braves' great climb is due chiefly to the air-tight pitching of this trio of slabsters.

The tight race in the Federal League is attracting considerable attention. Chicago looked like a sure winner a few weeks ago, but now the Tinkerites have to fight hard to keep in the race.

Despite the fact that the Brooklyn Superbas are headed the wrong way in the National League pennant race, the team is giving the Giants a run for the club batting honors in the old league.

Champ Osteen, the well-known minor league player, who performed in the American League once upon a time, has succeeded Douglas Harbinson as manager of the Columbia South Atlantic League team.

Scouts are giving Jack Knight and Harry Wolter the double O and the chances are that the two former Yanks will again be seen in fast company. Knight, with the Cleveland A. A. team, and Wolter, in the Pacific Coast League, have both played brilliant ball this season.

Outfielder George Burns is proving to be the sensation of the season in New York baseball circles. The Giants' gardener is a .300 hitter, a brilliant outfielder and one of the best base runners in the major leagues.

Manager Clark Griffith figures that Walter Johnson will sign an ironclad contract for several years, before the big Washington pitcher leaves for his home in Kansas at the close of the season.

The Federal League and the American Association seem to have the class in heavy artillery, The Feds boast of 30 players and the A. A. of 25 performers who are hitting for .300 or better.

WAR DOESN'T BOTHER HIM.

Boston, Aug. 12.—Sam Richards, the South Boston distance swimmer, is not going to let a little thing like a European war interfere with his scheduled attempt to cross the English Channel this summer. Richards, who has been planning the feat ever since he swam from the battery to Sandy Hook last year, announced today that he would sail for England on Saturday provided he could get the necessary passports in time. He has sought the aid of Congressman James A. Gallivan in obtaining papers proving his American citizenship, and with these he expects to have little difficulty in carrying out his program.

COBB SIGNS FOR 3 YEARS.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 12.—Tyrus Cobb, prize centre fielder of the Detroit American League team, yesterday set at rest reports that he intended jumping to the Federal League, by signing a contract to play three more years with the Tigers. The contract does not contain the maligned ten day clause. Neither does it carry an increase in his salary, which is said to be $15,000 a year.

LAST BOWLING GAMES PLAYED IN TOURNEY

Miss Dealaman and Mrs. Wickham Have No Trouble In Winning Dunellen Event.

The Dealaman-Wickham team, of the Dunellen Presbyterian Two-team Bowling Tournament, that has been in progress for the past three months, had no trouble in maintaining their hold on first place, last night, in the final matches of the tournament. This team has been far ahead of their opponents all during the contests and have only lost three games out of twenty played. In last night's play the leaders made a very exciting finish by winning all of the four games they played, raising their team average to .850, one hundred points above their nearest rival and two hundred points over the holders of third place.

In last night's play the Smith-Arrant team broke even and the Kelley-Craig combination dropped all four. The former team raised its average seventy-five points and the latter team dropped from .187 to .150. In the individual standings the members of the winning team have finished among the highest, Miss Dealaman ranking fourth and her partner sixth. The others who took part last night placed near the other end of the list.

The winners pinned the best they ever have during the tournament and in all four of their games they hit above the 200 mark. In their first match, Miss Dealaman scored 136 and Mrs. Wickham hit for 138 for a total of 274, which breaks the high score record of the tournament. The former made the best score of the evening, toppling 486 pins in all. This is the first year that this feature has been held and it has proven so popular that it will probably be held again next season.

The final and official standings and the results of last night's play follow:

NEWARK MAKES BID FOR WORLD'S CYCLING EVENT

America has made application for the world's bicycle championships. Floyd MacFarland, manager of the Cycle Racing Association, which controls tracks in Philadelphia, Newark, New Haven, Boston and Brighton Beach, received a cablegram from Copenhagen, Denmark, where the world's title races were to be held Aug. 2 to 9, stating that the meet had been called off on account of the war, the riders representing France, Germany, Belgium and England having left to join their various armies. MacFarland immediately made application through R. F. Kelsey, chairman of the National Cycling Association, of America, for the world's championship franchise. If a sanction is granted the world's meet will be staged in Newark at the Velodrome track.

A big meet, called the world's cycle derbies meet, in which $5,000 will be put up in prize money, is scheduled for the latter part of this month, and if the International Cyclists' Union, the supreme cycling body, will grant the sanction, this meet will be converted into the championship meet.

LOCAL SHOOTERS IN NATIONAL TOURNEY

Major William B. Martin, of Elizabeth, and Lieut. Arthur Phillips to Shoot.

Lieutenant Arthur Philips and Major William B. Martin, formerly of this city, but now of Elizabeth, will represent Company K at the National Rifle Association matches which will be held at Sea Girt, beginning August 24. The matches will be conducted under a new system this year. Instead of having the tournament in one place for all of the States in the country, it has been decided to divide it into five divisions and hold national and N. R. A. matches in each division. In former years when the event was run off at one place there was too much of a crowd and it was hard for those in charge to keep matters straight. The new way will be much more simple and also more interesting.

Sea Girt was the place decided upon for the matches for division A, which includes thirteen States and the District of Columbia. The States that will take part with the local company are Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

A new departure is the throwing open of the matches to teams and individuals from institutions of learning having military departments. There will also be a competition for civilian rifle clubs. This class has grown greatly in the last few months owing to the recent act of Congress authorizing the free issue of rifles and ammunition.

ROD AND REEL

The catches of weakfish last week were about equal to those of the previous week, especially in the waters of Raritan bay and Staten Island sound. In the sound, from Seawaren to Perth Amboy, many weakfish were taken by men fishing from rowboats. The oyster beds west of the Great Beds light house and the shoals along the Staten Island shore, where safe anchorage is to be found, were dotted by rowboats and powerboats from sunrise to long after sunset. Further down the bay, opposite Morgan, the larger boats could be seen, and off Keyport the steamers had to pick their way through the boats anchored in the channel. East Point and Keansburg fishing grounds were well patronized Saturday and Sunday, as many boat owners, taking friends from Newark and Elizabeth, found the fishing to their liking. Over in Jamaica bay the fluke and weakfish with a few bluefish, kept thousands of rod and line fishermen busy, while the fishing banks along the shore were more than attractive because of the possibility of catching a glance of the battleships reported as being close at hand. Sea bass, blackfish and fluke rule at the banks, while a few weakfish were caught from the boats that do not go far off shore.

The weakfish seem to be in the bays only, as few of them are caught along the coast these days. It is a funny year for weakfish, as the big ones are mixed in with the small school fish. First a pound-and-a-half fish will be caught, followed by a three-pounder with yellow fins. Bluefish are as scarce as oil on the Middlesex county roads, and there is nothing but scarcity to that. One automobile fishing party said they wouldn't go fishing again until the bluefish were biting and the roads oiled, and we promised to let them know if either happened. As long as the weakfish and croakers remain, the boys won't miss the blues very much.

Yesterday was the banner weakfishing day of the season in Raritan Bay. Boats out from the Amboys, Morgan Station and Keyport, to the number of more than 200, and carrying close to 1,000 anglers, all get big catches of fish. Individual catches ran all the way from half a dozen to more than a score. A few croakers were picked up with the weaks, and one angler who was located near the monument, got a sea porgy. A heavy fog early in the morning kept many of the fishermen from making an early start, but once on the grounds, the fish began to come into the boats in earnest.

Many parties are stopping at Keyport to fish and croackers and weakfish are the main catches.

The fishermen have found that chumming has brought the best results. At Morgans Station yesterday, one man used this method and caught a large number of weaks, croakers and fluke.

Blackfish are plentiful at Seabright and those that are caught are pretty big.

Newark Bay is literally full of crabs and it is an easy matter to get a bushel basket full in a short time.

Fishermen along the Jersey coast know that a shark will take advantage of a crippled fish or one that is unable to help himself because he is fastened to hook and line. Several anglers have landed fish that have been partially eaten by these sharks.

GOOD beer has been a delight to mankind for more than 2,000 years. We are glad we make it.

The Gas Kitchen Is The Sanitary Kitchen

In the management of a home, economy and comfort are naturally given much consideration, but the preservation of health is the most important factor of all.

To preserve the health of the family the home must be sanitary and good sanitary conditions must prevail in the kitchen, where the food is cooked, above all other places.

The real SANITARY KITCHEN is the GAS KITCHEN, and it has the added advantages of being, at the same time, MORE COMFORTABLE and MORE ECONOMICAL than the old style, dusty, smoky, coal stove kitchen.

There are no ashes, dust or dirt to the Gas Kitchen and the fuel is always ready at the turn of a valve.

Anybody can have a Gas Kitchen. Every home should have one. Has yours? The cost is not great; the benefits are.

THREE CONVENTIONS TO BE HELD SEPT. 29

Democrats, Republicans and Progressives Will Meet at Trenton Same Day.

Trenton, Aug. 12—In conformity to the Geran election law, the three principal parties of New Jersey—the Democratic, Republican and Progressive—will have State conventions here on Tuesday, September 29. The places and the hours are to be fixed by the State committees five days in advance.

The Socialists and Prohibitionists have not enough votes to entitle them to State conventions.

The Democratic convention will be composed of Governor Fielder, eight hold-over Senators, from Bergen, Cape May, Cumberland, Hudson, Hunterdon, Essex, Middlesex, Passaic and Sussex counties; the candidates for Senator from Camden, Essex, Gloucester, Monmouth, Salem, Somerset, Union and Warren; sixty candidates for Assembly and twenty-one members of the State committee, making ninety-eight delegates.

The Republican convention will be made up of the five hold-over Senators from Atlantic, Burlington, Mercer, Morris and Ocean counties, eight candidates for Senator, sixty candidates for Assembly and twenty-one members of the State committee, making ninety-four.

The Progressive have no members in the Senate.

Governor Fielder, it is anticipated, will not give enthusiastic support to the Wilson faction because of the break with State Chairman Grosscup, who is with the Wilson-Wittpen element. The convention will indorse President Wilson and the Fielder administration.

Among those from Plainfield on the petition are George H. Batchelor, Walter I. Firstbrook, Andrew McCardell, Harry H. Pennoyer, George A. Ballentyne and Herbert Buxton. The names of a large number of representative citizens of Elizabeth also appear, including those of Robert B. Cisseli, of the Board of Education; Alderman G. Bartram Woodruff, Edward J. Miller, formerly president of the Carpenters union, Spencer A. Vanderveer and Elias D. Smith.

John Prout, chief deputy United States marshal for New Jersey, will be a candidate for the county supervisor nomination in Hudson county next month. He will have the support of the Wittpenn faction. Archibald M. Henry has announced his candidacy in opposition to Prout, and Patrick H. Sullivan is also mentioned as a possibility.

Recent quiet in Bull Moose circles in the county does not mean that the county organization was reconsidering its determination to run a full ticket, the leaders declare. That petitions are in circulation in the county for their candidates they also state.

BY

COPYRIGHT, 1913, BY SMALL, MAYNARD & CO.

CHAPTER II.

First Days In the Wilderness.

THE rain seemed to be increasing. I saw a deer on the opposite shore, and I thought how comfortable she looked. Then I thought how easy it would be to make plans to catch that deer, or any other deer that came down to the water. I envied her hide that morning. I can tell you!

Then there came into my mind my promise to live within the game laws of the state of Maine. It made me sore to remember how the fish and game commission had refused me a permit to kill the game I actually needed. They had a perfect right to grant that permit, according to law, but they didn't see fit to.

DRAWING OF BEAVER AT WORK MADE ON BIRCH BARK BY JOSEPH KNOWLES IN MAINE WOODS.

I grew revengeful at this thought because under the circumstances my lot would be ever so much harder than that of the primitive man of old. The first men of the forest were not handicapped by laws from an outside civilized world. If the game authorities had given me that permit my life would have been more comfortable during those first few days in the wilderness.

I didn't wish to harm that old doe across the lake, but at the same time I realized that her skin would have been a godsend to me just then.

As it was, I waved my hand toward her, shouting, "Go ahead, old girl! I'll get along some way." Then I turned my steps toward a beaver dam and left the old doe standing there alone. I watched the beavers at work, and later, after I had started a fire, I sketched a rude picture of one of them on a piece of birch bark, using a charred stick as a crayon.

The rest of this day was uneventful. I hadn't got my balance yet. My thoughts were still confused. As yet I did not feel any hunger, so made no efforts to get food, though I hadn't eaten anything since breakfast at the King and Bartlett camps.

I simply wandered around, not caring where I went. Because of the cold and rain I started back early along the trail for the spruce thicket, where I had spent the night before.

The second night was a repetition of the first, spent in alternately walking back and forth and resting. I didn't suffer terribly, but it was not altogether comfortable out there without any clothes.

With the morning came the sunshine. As I came out into the clearing the sun felt good on my body.

I hunted round till I found a partly shaded spot in among the trees. I needed sleep more than anything else just then, so I lay down and in the warmth of the morning sun forgot everything for a couple of hours.

When I awoke I felt the pangs of hunger for the first time.

I crossed over the beaver dam and followed down the outlet of the pond, keeping my eyes open for shallow pools, where, perhaps, I might land some trout.

I was headed for the burnt lands in search of my first food. I knew that I should be able to find berries there in abundance.

The burnt lands are those parts of the forest which have been swept by fire. The land is open and full of charred tree trunks here and there. Blueberries can always be found in such land.

On I went until I reached Little Spencer, on the other side of which lay the burnt lands.

I came upon bush after bush loaded with blueberries and raspberries. I gathered a handful and ate them.

After I had eaten my fill I headed for the thicker woods, where, with the help of sharp stones, I peeled some birch bark from the trees. Folding the bark into cornucopias and pinning the overlaps with split sticks, I soon had two berry dishes. These I took back to the berry patch and filled to overflowing, storing away the food for future need.

Once more I headed toward Little Spencer, but this time I followed the outlet, earnestly hoping to land a trout. At last I came to a shallow pool, in which I managed to round up a couple of trout.

The fish had come up stream seeking the cooler waters of the spring hole, and I simply shut the hole in from the stream by lowering the watef. With a little patience I dispatched the trout with a stick.

I was still pretty much in the open of the burnt lands, and the sun was already beginning to burn my tender back and shoulders. I knew that I must tan my body gradually or else I would suffer a great deal of pain and inconvenience. So I left the open for the shaded timber land, where I lay down and soon fell fast asleep. When I awoke it was late in the afternoon.

My first thought was of a fire and shelter for the night. A short distance away from where I had slept I found a spring. Here was the place for a camp so I started in at once making plans for my first home.

To begin with, I commenced to build some kind of shelter which would keep the wind away from me more or less.

I hunted around for some crotch sticks, and after finding two I drove them into the ground wide apart. Next I placed a stick across the crotches and had my framework. Two more dead sticks were placed slanting to the ground at either end, and then I began to gather quantities of dry sticks, with which I made a crude, slanting roof.

Over these sticks I placed fir boughs and bark. More fir boughs were stacked up against the sides, which were also banked with moss to keep the wind from whistling through. The front of this shelter was open.

During the day the wind had dried things quite a bit, so I began at once to try to make a fire that would burn. This time I found some punk in a crevice of a tree, which was dry.

I began sawing back and forth for dear life and soon my efforts were rewarded by a thread of smoke which rose from under my spindle. As soon as I thought the spark was there I snatched up the base and blew it toward the punk which I held in my other hand. Presently I saw a spark on the punk and nursed it carefully. Then with a little puff it burst into flame! This I applied to a little heap of other bark and punk and sticks, which I had all ready, and soon I had my fire. It was merry—that fire—just like a companion.

It was time to eat, so I ate most of the berries I had brought in my cornucopias from the burnt lands.

This simple meal was ample for me that night, especially with the prospect of fresh roast fish in the morning.

Just before settling down for the night I took the two trout I had caught and put them in the spring to keep them cool. It was the only refrigerator I had.

Then I went back and made up my bed. A man who doesn't know the woods would be surprised to learn what a really comfortable bed can be made by first putting down fir boughs and then covering them with dry leaves.

What a great comfort that fire was! I heaped it high with wood when I first lay down to rest and, with an occasional replenishing, managed to pass a comparatively comfortable night.

Even in the morning the coals remained, and I soon had it burning.

It was another fair day.

"Now for a breakfast of trout," I said as I headed for the spring down the slope about fifty feet away. But when I got there what was my consternation to find that the fish were gone! Fresh mink tracks all about told their own story. I had been robbed by some one else who was hungry!

Anyway, the spring was left, so I lay down and took a drink. Then I went back to my lean-to and ate the few remaining berries.

I decided to explore some more, so, after banking my fire, I started off in the direction of the burnt lands again. On the bank of the stream I found a few roots which were nourishing. They tasted something like celery, but I didn't like them. I went on to the burnt lands and finished up my breakfast with another course of blueberries.

There was one thing that had to be attended to at once, and that was to make some sort of covering for my legs. They were horribly scratched.

Some witch grass growing by the stream gave me an idea. I pulled up several handfuls, which I bound on to my legs, tying it around with pieces of the tougliest grass.

I mourned the trout I had lost for breakfast and determined to catch another, which shouldn't get away from me. I hunted everywhere for a shallow pool like the one I had found the day before, but met with no success.

Just as I was despairing about finding a fish in that vicinity I heard a splash in the water up stream. An otter was swimming for the shore, and in its mouth was a big trout!

I shouted at the top of my voice, at the same time hurling a stone into the water. I laughed as I saw the trout come floating down the stream, belly up. The otter had disappeared.

By robbing the otter I got square with the mink. I reached camp and roasted the trout. I can't say I enjoyed that meal. It tasted flat without salt. However, I felt the nourishment of it later. I needed it after my simple berry diet.

After the repast I sat looking into the fire and thinking. I finally decided to abandon the camp and strike out for a better section.

The idea of going out of the forest had left me. I began to go about things as if I were a part of the forest itself.

Stamping out the smoldering embers and taking my fire apparatus with me, I struck off in the direction of Big Spencer stream.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Conducted by the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

(Editorial from the Woman's Journal of August 8.)

The Woman We Celebrate.

It is fitting that the week of Lucy Stone's birthday should have been chosen by the suffragists as Self Denial week. Her whole life was one of devotion and self-denial.

Lucy Stone was one of the most simple and modest of women. She had no "thirst for fame." She kept no record of her work, did not save her press notices, and when importuned to furnish particulars of her life for books of "Famous Women," etc., she refused almost with horror. For this and other reasons, no woman who took so large a part in the equal rights movement has left so small a record of her activities in easily accessible form. But this modesty was the crown of her strong and beautiful character. In the words of George W. Cable, "No splendor shines at last so far as a hidden splendor."

Lucy Stone died on Oct. 18, 1893, as calmly and fearlessly as she had lived. Her last words to her daughter were, "Make the world better." Her husband always spoke of her as "the greatest and most heroic of women." When he came down from her death chamber, he said to their daughter, "We must try to keep mama's flag flying." He continued to uphold it with voice and pen, until he too passed away. Into how many new States and countries has that flag been carried since! That Votes for Women banner is destined to go all around the world, even inti its darkest corners. Our business now is to help it to fly in triumph in the States where the battle today is actually on, and where women are waging their fight as earnestly and unselfishly as the pioneers did long ago.

Then and Now.

When Lucy Stone determined to go to college no woman in Massachusetts had ever taken a college degree. Her father asked in consternation. "Is the child crazy?" At sixteen she began to teach and at the low wages then paid to women teachers it took her nine years to earn the money to carry her to Oberlin—the only college that in those days admitted women. Once there she earned her way by teaching and by doing housework in the Ladies' Boarding Hall at three cents an hour.

"The faculty would not let the young women take part in the debates which were required of the young men as class exercises; and Lucy and Antoinette organized the first debating society ever formed among college girls. It held its meetings secretly, sometimes in the woods, sometimes in an old colored woman's cottage.

"At the end of the course Lucy was appointed to write an essay for commencement, but was told that one of the professors would have to read it for her, as it would not be proper for a woman to read her own essay in public. Rather than not read it herself, she declined to write it. Nearly forty years later, she was invited to be one of the speakers at Oberlin's great semi-centennial.

"She graduated in 1847, and gave her first woman's rights lecture the same year in her brother's church at Gardner, Mass. Soon after, she was engaged to lecture regularly for the Anti-slavery Society. She mixed so much woman's rights with her anti-slavery lectures that she was notified it would not do. She answered, 'I was a woman before I was an abolitionist, and I must speak for the women.' After that she lectured for the Anti-slavery Society on Saturday nights and Sundays—times which were looked upon as too sacred for a woman's rights meeting—and during the rest of the week she spoke for woman's rights on her own responsibility.

"Her adventures during the next ten years would fill a volume. She held meetings through a large part of the United States and in Canada. In most of the towns where she lectured, no woman had ever spoken in public before, and curiosity drew immense audiences. The speaker was a great surprise to them. They expected to see a tall, masculine, harsh-voiced virago. Instead, they found a small, gentle woman, with a singularly winning personality, and a most musical and delicious voice.

"At one open-air meeting in a grove on Cape Cod, the aspect of the crowd grew so menacing that one by one the speakers got down from the platform and slipped away, till only she and Stephen Foster were left. She said, 'You had better run, Stephen; they are coming!' He answered, 'But who will take care of you?' At that moment the mob made a rush, and the ring leader, a big man with a club, sprang upon the platform. Lucy turned to him and said without hesitation, 'This gentleman will take care of me.' He declared that he would. Taking her on one arm and his club with the other, he marched her out through the crowd, who were roughly handling Mr. Foster and such of the other speakers as they had been able to catch. Her representations finally so moved him that he mounted her on a stump and stood beside her with his club while she addressed the mob. She made them so ashamed that they not only desisted from further violence, but took up a collection of $20 to pay Mr. Foster for his coat, which they had torn in two from top to bottom."

As a contrast to all this here is an extract from a New York city daily of Saturday last; it speaks for itself as one of the fruits of the labors and self-sacrifices of such women as Lucy Stone.

WOMEN DELEGATES CHOSEN.

Records of Those Named for Constitutional Convention Show Interest in Social and Industrial Welfare

The four delegates-at-large to the Constitutional Convention, nominated by the Women's Temporary Committee for Representation in the Constitutional Convention, have evidently been named because they are already distinguished, not only for their sympathetic interest in social and industrial welfare, but also for their power to grapple directly with these problems, which they have already demonstrated in administrative offices. The individual record of each nominee speaks for itself.

Dr. Katherine Bement Davis was appointed Superintendent of the New York State Reformatory for Women in 1901, and is now Commissioner of Correction in New York.

Miss Josephine Goldmark was a member of the New York State Factory Investigating Commission, and is a close student of industrial conditions, especially as they relate to women. With Louis D. Brandeis, Miss Goldmark made the brief containing scientific statements as to the effect of labor upon the physical and moral condition of women, in preparation for the trials to test the constitutionality of the law prohibiting night factory work for women. The trial resulted in the State Supreme Court's finding the law constitutional.

Miss Frances A. Kellor, through her official work and her writings, has formulated an immigration policy not only for New York State, but for other States as well. She was a member of the New York State Probation Commission, appointed by Gov. Higgins in 1906; a member of the New York State Immigration Commission, 1908, appointed by Gov. Hughes; she was appointed chief investigator of the New York State Bureau of Industries and Immigration by Gov. Hughes in 1910 (being the first woman executive in charge of a New York State bureau.)

Miss Lillian D. Wald, in 1909, was appointed by Gov. Hughes a member of the New York State Commission of Immigration; she had already been appointed a member of the Mayor's Pushcart Commission in 1906, by Mayor McClellan. Miss Wald's power of organization, as shown by her work at the Henry Street Settlement, is well known throughout the country.

The delegates-at-large represent various political parties. Dr. Davis calls herself a "Republican Progressive," Miss Goldmark is a Democrat, while Miss Kellor and Miss Wald are Progressives.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Drink Lots of Water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which every one should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Adv.

WHEN EGGPLANT IS USED.

THIS wholesome vegetable may be prepared in a variety of ways. Fried eggplant is the average housewife's standby. There are, however, many persons who do not like fried eggplant who would possibly eat it served in some other way. Try some of the following methods and see if this may not be so:

Eggplant Fritters.—Boil eggplant in water with a tablespoonful of lemon juice or vinegar, then mash and drain. To a pint of eggplant add two beaten eggs, a half cupful of flour and salt and pepper to taste. Form into cakes and brown on both sides in hot fat.

A Dainty Dish.

Escaloped Eggplant.—The eggplant is combined with tomato in slices and baked escaloped, with oil instead of milk and with other additions to taste, or the cooked pulp, finely broken, is combined with grated breadcrumbs, well seasoned with a little bit of cream and finally a well beaten egg. It must only be heated through in the oven and not dried. No matter how eggplant is cooked it must not be too dry, although we cook it to dry it somewhat.

Baked Stuffed Eggplant.—An eggplant will taste better and give more nutriment baked than fried. Cut eggplant in half lengthwise. Scoop out, leaving a quarter inch shell. Chop up the eggplant and add equal parts chopped ham and toasted breadcrumbs. Add salt, pepper and butter or bacon dripping. Stuff each shell, rounding it over on top. Sprinkle with cracker crumbs. Add a dab of butter and bake.

Deliciously Flavored.

Eggplant With Sauce.—Peel and cut the eggplant into dice, place in salted water for one hour, drain; then cook until tender, but not soft. Chop finely a medium sized onion and cook until delicately colored in two tablespoonfuls of butter, blend in one and one-half tablespoonfuls of flour, add gradually one pint of well seasoned stock, stir until smooth and creamy, season with pepper and salt, strain over the prepared eggplant, cook gently for ten minutes and sprinkle with chopped parsley before serving.

Pan Fried.—The easiest and quickest way to prepare the eggplant is to fry or saute it in a pan with a little butter or oil. Cut the eggplant into one-third inch slices, season with salt and pepper which has been mixed together and then fry in a little oil or butter until soft. It also may be rolled in flour and fried in this way or even dipped in eggs and crumbs. Seasoned with salt and pepper only and then fried with tomatoes, which are served on the slice of eggplant, it is very good.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — The Big Rooster And the Plucky Little Bantam.

He Crowed Like a Horn.

"OH, daddy," cried Jack excitedly as he and Evelyn hopped upon daddy's knee for the evening story, "the funniest thing happened today! Lemmy Wilson is the biggest boy in my class, and he has been picking on every one else, and today little Louis Snyder licked him easy."

Daddy laughed. "That reminds me of a story, Jack. Your grandfather had the biggest, noisiest white rooster you ever saw and the biggest bully. He used to bully the hens so that the poor things were afraid to eat, and the other roosters were afraid of him too.

"He was terribly fierce and even used to frighten your grandmother and me, and if I had anything to eat in my hand he would chase me until I dropped it.

"Well, one day your grandfather, who never seemed to take very much stock in that strutting old rooster somehow, drove to town, and when he returned he brought back—what do you think? Why, the cunningest little red bantam rooster and hen that you ever saw in a funny little coop all their own! Then he called your grandma and me to come and see.

"Your grandpa was laughing quietly to himself when he went into the chicken yard with that coop and opened it. The little red rooster stepped out, ruffled his feathers and looked around. Then he threw up his head and made the funniest little squeaky crow you ever heard.

"The big white bully rooster heard him. He strutted up, ruffled his feathers and crowed like a horn. I forgot to tell you that he had a crow that was louder than any motor horn you ever heard, and he had used his voice so much that he sounded just as if he had bronchitis.

"Well, the little bantam crowed back in his droll squeak and ruffled his feathers. Then the big fellow jumped for him.

"But instead of running, as we all expected he would, that tiny bantam just stood still, his feathers all ruffled up, and never moved an inch. And now comes the funny part of the story. Instead of pitching into the bantam and giving him a terrible drubbing the white rooster stood still and looked at him. At that the bantam ran toward him, and as the bantam ran the big white rooster retreated.

"Your grandfather clapped his hands with glee. 'Go it, banty!' he cried. 'I always knew that bully of a rooster was a great fraud! If he ever saw any one who was not afraid of him I always knew he'd run. Go it! Lick him!'

"And banty did go to it. He chased him into a corner and pitched into him until the big rooster saw a chance to run out of the door of the hen yard, and if that big rooster hadn't dropped after awhile from sheer fatigue I think he would have been running yet."

NEW HAVEN YIELDS TO U. S. DEMANDS

To Sell Boston and Maine Within a Year.

Washington, Aug. 12.—An agreement has been reached between the government and the New Haven railroad for an immediate adjudication of the anti-trust suit against that big system filed in the United States district court at New York the last week in July. The New Haven will accept all the provisions of the reorganization agreement perfected last January, the later rejection of which resulted in the government's suit.

The only important change in the January agreement concerns the sale of the Boston and Maine stock now owned by the New Haven. Instead of the two years and a half allowed in the original agreement for the sale of this stock by trustees the New Haven has now agreed to the cutting of this period to one year.

It was the provision for the sale of the Boston and Maine which finally disrupted the negotiations and brought on the suit. The immediate cause of this failure was the action of the state of Massachusetts in insisting that every share of the Boston and Maine stock should be stamped with an agreement by the purchasers to sell it to the state on demand.

Under the agreement announced today the sale of the Boston and Maine is to be made within one year by the same trustees who were appointed under the old agreement. If at the end of that period the trustees have made no sale the matter is to be taken before the trial court, which will order its sale under conditions to be fixed by it.

The court then will face the problem of recognizing or ignoring the rights of the state of Massachusetts. In the event that the matter comes before it the court undoubtedly will give hearings to representatives of the state and the road.

HARMANS REACH HOME IN SAFETY

First of the Plainfielders to Return Since the European Troubles.

HAD GREAT EXPERIENCE

Family Had Been In Berlin Forty-eight Hours When War Was Declared—Fortunately Caught a Train and Secured Passage.

Included among the eleven hundred American passengers arriving in New York, last night, on the steamer Philadelphia from England, were Mr. and Mrs. John F. Harman and their daughters, the Misses Helen and Elsie Harman, of West Eighth street, and they were more than glad to reach American shores and their Plainfield home. When interviewed by a reporter for The Daily Press, this morning, the family expressed their great pleasure in getting home, adding that all were very tired after their unusual experiences. Otherwise the members of the family are well.

Mr. and Mrs. Harman and their daughters left here on June 16, expecting to spend the summer abroad. They had been travelling through Norway, Scandinavia and Denmark, enjoying the trip immensely, and returning had been in Berlin just forty-eight hours when war was declared.

Miss Harman, in speaking of the excitement and scenes which followed the declaration of war, said that it was almost impossible to describe them. Everyone seemed to be excited and people were running here and there, not knowing what to do. She said that they received word from the American Consul to leave Berlin and Germany with all possible haste.

Fortunately, they were able to catch a train which was just leaving Berlin, which they afterwards heard was the last one out of the city whereby Americans could get away. That they had the opportunity of getting out of Germany so quickly they considered a rare bit of luck.

Upon the arrival of the family in Southampton they learned that the Philadelphia was being prepared to leave for America and again fortune favored them in that they were able to secure passage and that in the second cabin. While this was not all that one could wish for, they being obliged to take state rooms with strangers, all made the best of it, and were fairly comfortable on the trip.

The first two days out the sea was very rough and many of the passengers were sick. Miss Harman said that for several days their ship was frequently held up by cruisers, but as soon as they found that the ship was flying the American flag and was carrying American refugees, there was no trouble and the ship was allowed to proceed. The Philadelphia left Southampton on August 5 and the trip was made longer by reason of the fact that it was held up so often.

With double the carrying capacity of people abroad the ship there was at first some doubt as to whether a sufficient amount of food was aboard to provide for all the passengers and crew during the trip over, but luckily there was plenty of food for everyone and no one suffered in this respect. There were a great many prominent and wealthy Americans aboard the Philadelphia and many of them were forced to make the trip in the steerage, which was far from being pleasant and yet they did not complain, being only too glad of the means of reaching home.

During the trip some of the more prominent passengers formed a committee for the purpose of taking such steps as may be possible to bring other Americans home from Europe. They will take the matter up with the authorities at Washington with view to adopting some plan to rescue the other Americans.

DRUNK LET GO.

Edward Mooney, who claims his residence as New Brunswick, was arrested on West Front street last night while rambling about in an intoxicated condition. When arraigned in the city court this morning he was allowed to go on a suspended sentence provided he got out of town immediately. According to the accused this was his first arrest but the Fanwood police court was favored with his appearance there last week on a similar charge. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $5 on that charge.

BORO COUNCIL MEETING.

A special meeting of the North Plainfield Common Council will be held tonight for the purpose of considering the budget for the coming year.

CITY WILL HAVE TO SHARE INCREASE

An Additional $27,000 For County Purposes to Be Raised By Taxation.

WILL BOOST TAX RATE

The Use of $48,000 of Last Year's Reserve Fund By County Will Require the Collection of More Money This Year.

The Union County Board of Freeholders have completed the budget for the present fiscal year and have announced that $577,000 is to be raised through taxes in the various municipalities of the county for current expenses. Some members have indicated that this is a reduction of $21,000 or saving over amounts raised for the same purposes last year, and that such a condition should be noticed by taxpayers of the county.

Upon investigation by a representative of the Daily Press, it was learned that the county budget for last year amounted to $598,000, of which $48,000 was taken out of the reserve fund, which has been accumulating during the preceding years and had been paid into the county treasurer by the taxpayers. The remaining $550,000 of the county budget was raised through taxes last fall.

With these figures in view, it is to be noticed that while the county budget is $21,000 lower than last year, the taxpayers will be called upon to pay into the county treasurer $27,000 more than was called for on last year's bills. This condition shows that the county expenditures will tend to increase the tax rate this year, although the expenditures are less.

The couny taxes as raised in this city in 1912 amounted to $70,135, while last year this city collected $96,845 of county tax, an increase of $26,710, in spite of the fact that the reserve fund was called upon to stand for $48,000 worth of current expenses of 1913. This year, this city will have to stand its share of the increase of $27,000 to be raised through the taxes.

MOTHER TO GO BAIL FOR RALPH S. SEAL

Alleged Auto Thief Will Probably Be Released From Custody This Afternoon.

Ralph S. Seal, the twenty-year-old Plainfield youth who is implicated in a Point Pleasant automobile robbery, will be released from the Neptune township jail, this afternoon, under bonds of $750 by Prosecutor Lawrence. The youth's mother, who lives in this city, went to the jail yesterday afternoon and made preliminary arrangements for his release and will return there this afternoon to sign the bail bond. R. W. Gildersleeve, his accomplice in the alleged theft, was let go yesterday when his father became his bondsman and took the youth back to Center Valley, N. Y., to await trial.

Seal has been confined in a cell in the jail at that place since apprehended by the police last Saturday, and both of the prisoners are said to have made confessions that cleared up the mystery surrounding the disappearence of the machine from "The Camp" and restored it to its owner, James L Ansboro, of Keyport. The Gildersleeve boy, it is said, had been instrumental in the sale of the loot to his uncle, W. G. Wagott, of Center Valley, for $200 and a second hand car to boot.

WILL SUPPORT FAMILY.

ASTOR THEATRE PAPERS SIGNED LAST SATURDAY

Payment Made On Deal to Purchase Propety — Local Architect Has Plans.

Notwithstanding an article published to the contrary in a local paper yesterday, documents have been signed which will result in the transfer of the Astor Theatre property to Paterson interests, as was exclusively told in the Daily Press of Tuesday. Neither Morris Abram or Harry Dreier, who are now the owners of the property, deny that negotiations have been under way, and a substantial cash payment was made last Saturday, in the office of a local lawyer, to bind the bargain, both Messrs. Abrams and Dreier signing the agreement to transfer the property to the Paterson man.

A local architect, E. V. French, has asked for bids on work which will probably cost $20,000 to alter the house to make it suitable for moving pictures, and it is said that an order has already been placed for an organ costing $5,000, to be used in the house. Unless some hitch occurs, the balance of the money will be paid, and the property transferred within a short time, when the alterations will be commenced. It is expected that they will be completed so that the house can be opened by the first of the year.

Mamie Booker, also colored, of 613 West Fourth street, was held in bonds of $200 as a material witness in the case. The latter is alleged to have disposed of a new born babe of which the Hatchett woman was the mother, by placing it in the toilet of a vacant house on East Third street, July 20, and is said to have made a confession which incriminates the defendant. Eleanor Hatchett has been in the hospital since the charge was first lodged against her and the hearing has been subject to a postponement owing to her condition. She was brought from that institution to the court room to a face trial this morning in the patrol wagon by Sergeant Maurice Higgins, who made the original arrest.

RELATIVES DOUBT SUICIDAL RUMOR

Say Negligence On Part of New York Police Was Responsible For Death.

FOUND DEAD IN CELL

Had Been Arrested While Acting Suspiciously On Twentieth Street—Heat Prostration Assigned As Cause of Demise.

According to a statement made this morning by C. W. Krausse, of North Plainfield, the death of Emil Eick was due directly to negligence on the part of the New York police and not to suicide as was originally reported. Further information sought by Mr. Krausse brought out the fact that the German, who came to this country seven months ago, died in a cell in one of the New York police precincts after being arrested on Twentieth street. As related in this paper yesterday, Eick, who had brooded considerably over the war troubles in his native country, went to New York on the 12:58 train from this city Tuesday afternoon, en route to Hoboken, where he sought a conference with the German consulate.

Relatives of the dead man say that he was a remarkable walker and it is the supposition of those surviving him that he attempted to walk uptown in preference to riding on the elevated or subway. He had reached Twentieth street when he was found acting queerly by a policeman, and when he could not satisfactorily account for his peculiar actions he was arrested and lodged in a cell. Sometime later he was heard moaning and an ambulance and physician was called. Examination by the physician upon his arrival at police headquarters, proved that life was extinct and the cause was assigned to sunstroke.

Mr. Eick's nervous condition, due to his worry over the war in Europe and the effects of the hot sun beating down on him during his long walk to Twentieth street, are thought to have brought on the peculiar coma in which he was found by the policeman. The information sent to the local authorities, yesterday, stated that the man had committed suicide and requested that his relatives in this city be notified at once. His address was found in a pocket of his coat after his death. Mr. Krausse, who is an uncle of the dead man, and his only near relative on this side of the water, went immediately to New York and identified the body which was later brought to the Krausse home on Vine street. Mr. Krausse is at a loss to understand why the New York authorities claimed he was a suicide and will probably make a further investigation following the funeral which will be held this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Inasmuch as he died shortly before 5 o'clock, it is thought that Mr. Eick had no opportunity to learn additional facts concerning the war and that he had no greater cause to brood than when he left this city. He was a chemist and his inability to talk or understand the English language caused him to seek employment as a farm hand after his arrival in Plainfield. He lived on Rock avenue and Greenbrook road.

PLAINFIELD TRUST COMPANY HAS NO CLAFLIN NOTES

In a report concerning the creditors of the Claflin stores in New York, which appeared in the New York Press this morning, it was stated that "it was learned yesterday that the Plainfield Trust Company, of Plainfield, N. J., holds $50,000 in Claflin notes."

DeWitt Hubbell, treasurer of the Trust Company, when seen by a representative of the Daily Press this morning, said that there was not one word of truth in the article. "We have had absolutely no losses on Claflin paper, and hold none of it at the present time," said Mr. Hubbell. "In fact it is a great pleasure for me to deny that story."

At the time of the failure the Daily Press interviewed all of the local banks, and learned that none of the Claflin paper was held in this city.

YOUNG MAN ADMITS FORGING $16 CHECK

Jay Van Arsdale Arrested, Charged With Passing Bogus Paper on Hotel-keeper.

After confessing to the forgery of a $16 check on the First National Bank in Dunellen, according to the police, Jay VanArsdale, a collector for a local insurance company, was taken to police headquarters, this morning, to await arraignment on the charge tomorrow morning. He was arrested on a warrant sworn out yesterday, and taken into custody by Patrolman Martin Flatley this morning.

The accused man was well known about Dunellen, where he frequently made collections and, it is said, had little trouble in getting a $16 check cashed. The alleged bogus order was made on Charles Thornton, a hotel-keeper, of South Plainfield, and was payable to Jay Van Arsdale. The check, it is said, was cashed by W. W. Wilson, a local grocer, and was returned by the bank.

G. O. P. PLANNING FOR BIG OUTING

Annual Trip to Witzels' Point Grove Will Be Made On Saturday.

Plans for the Republican outing on Saturday are complete and the annual affair promises to be one of the most successful in the history of the county organization. Witzel's Point View Grove, on Long Island, will be the objective point and there will be the usual dinner at the grove, with plenty of good things to eat going and coming on the boat. It is expected that a majority of the prospective candidates for county and State offices will accompany the "faithful ones" for the purpose of getting a line on their respective strength in the coming campaign.

New booms, contrary to the custom which prevailed for several years prior to the enactment of the Geran law, will not be heard from on this occasion, as there is already a waiting list for all offices for which nominations will be made at the party primaries on September 22. There will be, however, a number of local candidates seeking nominations, present on the outing, including John H. Cose and S. P. T. Wilbur, who want to be sheriff; Frank H. Smith, county chairman, who is seeking a renomination as county registrar.

Under the new order of things in the political arena, the best prospective candidates can do is to secure additional signatures to their petitions. It is said that while several booms may be heard of prior to the outing, the "boot" will be given to those who may start any on the trip. A large delegation of Plainfield Republicans will take in the affair.

LIMIT ON MONEY ORDERS TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES

War conditions have necessitated the suspension of money orders to Austria, Belgium, Egypt and the Sudan, and the amount of money orders issued to one person has been limited to $100. Parcels post has also been suspended to Germany and France according to announcement received from the postoffice authorities by Postmaster Alvin E. Hoagland, this morning.

All articles of commercial value in mails, exclusive of parcels post, to Bolivia have been barred and are confiscated at Bolivia. Anything sent by parcels post will be delivered upon the collection of customs duties.
